

THREE IMPORTANT BILLS RELATING TO COMMERCE INTRODUCED IN SENATE

One Affects Great Northern, Another Provides Freight Reductions.

Third Compels Reductions By Express and Telegraph Companies.

New Bill Adds Mayors To Those Removable For Malfeasance.

St. Paul, Feb. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Three bills of much importance in the regulation of commerce came into the senate this morning. Senator Wilson introduced one, aimed at the Great Northern situation, prohibiting the issuance of new stock by railroads except upon increased property. No stock is to be issued upon increased value of the property, or upon the dividend earnings. The bill also prohibits the consolidation of railroads or the control of one by another, except with the consent of the railroad commission.

Senator Canfield introduced the Minnesota Shippers' association distance tariff bill, which provides a mileage tariff based on five mile sections, making a reduction in existing rates of 25 to 30 per cent.

Senator Canfield introduced a resolution commencing La Follette's bill limiting the hours of employment of railroad trainmen, and Senator Calhoun sent it over to tomorrow on a notice of debate.

Senator H. E. Hanson called up the Peterson house resolution commencing Congressman McCleary's standard attitude, and, on motion of Senator Hall, it was referred to the Second district delegation.

FIERCE BATTLE WITH THIEVES

Police at Shelbyville Finally Succeed in Getting Them All.

Shelbyville, Ind., Feb. 5.—After a desperate pistol battle with a gang of four alleged thieves the police of this city captured every member last night at Aetons. More than ten shots were fired and one man was wounded. The prisoners belong to an organization, it is said, which had preyed upon towns in Shelby and Rush counties for months. The men with six dry goods boxes of articles, believed to have been stolen, were found at Aetons, and a running fight followed. Two of the men, George and John Roach, are in jail here, while two others, Daniel and James E. Johnson, are being held at Aetons.

EVERYBODY SURPRISED

By Reciprocal Demurrage Bill Being Made a Special Order.

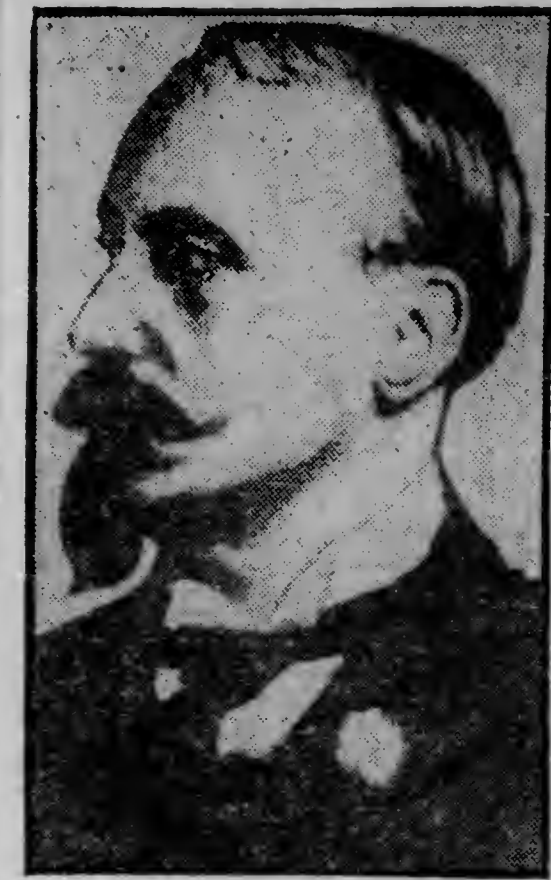

Capt. Randall Would Have Dogs Muzzled During the Summer.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Feb. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The manner in which the reciprocal demurrage bill advanced from a dubious situation in the railroad committee to the position of being made a special order for a week from Wednesday astonished everybody.

It was not even expected, when it was announced that there would be a public hearing on the bill before the house railroad committee yesterday afternoon, that there would be a quorum of the committee present, owing to the fact that the house was not due to meet until last evening, and because few members were in the city until late in the afternoon and in the evening.

But after a spirited hearing, the bill was recommended to pass, with John G. Lehman of Minneapolis casting the only negative vote.

First it was amended, on motion of L. C. Spooner of Morris, to cut out the provision that railroads should be allowed credit for reducing the time allowed them for delivering cars upon order. In the original bill they were allowed three days, that record, they were to be allowed the time saved as a credit against future days. Mr. Spooner did not approve of this provision, and said it was penalizing (Continued on page 12, third column.)

INCREASE THE TAXES

On Railroads and Provide for Local Improvement Assessments.

Bill to be Introduced by Clarence Miller of Duluth.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Feb. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Representative Clarence B. Miller of Duluth is preparing for early introduction a bill increasing the gross earnings taxes on railroads, from 4 to 5 per cent, and providing that the railroads shall pay special assessments for local improvements.

Representative Spooner of Morris last night introduced a bill raising the tax to 6 per cent, but his bill is very much inferior to that which will be presented by Mr. Miller, because it continues the old injustice of exempting the railroads from special assessments.

Both bills provide for a submission of the matter to the people, which is (Continued on page 15, third column.)

SIX MINERS KILLED IN A TRAIN WRECK.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 5.—At least six were killed and probably fourteen injured in a wreck on the Northwestern near Des Moines last night. The accident was caused by derailment. The majority of the victims are coal miners. Several of the injured are thought to be fatally hurt. The wreckage caught fire. Several are believed to be under the wreckage.

FIRE AT MOUND VALLES, KAS. Feb. 5.—Fire today destroyed the store building, causing a loss of estimated at $50,000. The town is without protection.

PROSPECTS GROW DIM

Of Reapportionment Being Made at the Present Session.

Senators Openly Assert They Will Not Reduce Their Terms.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
St. Paul, Feb. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Prospects of reapportionment at this session of the legislature are growing dimmer upon the distant horizon every day.

If there is no reapportionment at this session, there will be none for an indefinite period in the future. And it is getting to be practically a certainty that the senate will not permit any action at this time. The reason for this conclusion is to be found in a little joker in the constitution, which has been dug up with (Continued on page 6, seventh column.)

WILD SNOW STORM WITH SIXTY MILE GALE SWEEPS DOWN ATLANTIC COAST

Life Guards Doubled But Impossible to See Anything.

Much Anxiety for Shipping Known to be at Sea.

Streets of New York Are Badly Blocked by the Storm.

Chatham, Mass., Feb. 5.—A blinding snow storm, driven by a northeast gale of from fifty to sixty miles an hour, made this morning one of the wildest of the winter on this coast. Coast guards were doubled but the snow was so thick that it was impossible to see beyond the inner line of breakers, and until observation could be taken, it could be learned of the fate of the shipping, which left Boston yesterday bound south around the cape.

Highland Light, Mass., Feb. 5.—The worst storm of the winter prevailed here today, a gale of sixty miles an hour, with a thick snow, tying up all traffic on land and sea. The waves were running high and considerable anxiety was experienced for shipping. On land all highways were blocked, making traveling very difficult.

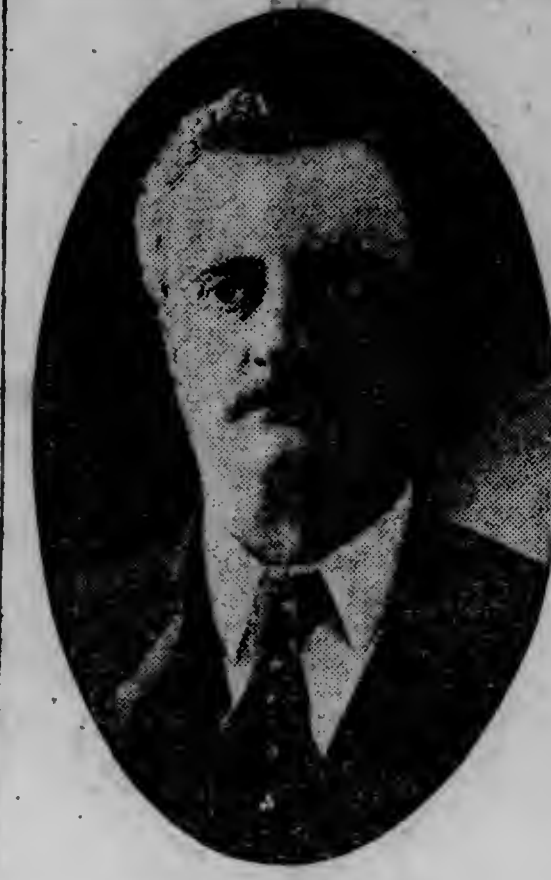

Boston, Feb. 5.—The traffic of Greater Boston was seriously hampered by the storm which developed last night and grew in strength during the early morning, bringing with it the heaviest snow fall of the winter. Street and railway men had out large gangs of workmen, but, despite their efforts, traffic was interrupted and few workers (Continued on page 9, first column.)

MYSTERY IN THE COURT-MARTIAL

Charges Against Capt. Charles Haight Not Made Public.

Salt Lake City, Feb. 5.—There is much mystery connected with the trial and court-martial of Capt. Charles Haight of the Fifth cavalry, which begins at Fort Douglas today. Even the nature of the charge against Haight is withheld from the newspapers and the trial will be held behind closed doors. Col. B. C. Lockwood, commandant at Fort Douglas, will preside. Haight is as follows: Corporal, Troop A, New York cavalry, 1888; second lieutenant, Fourth cavalry, 1890; captain, Fifth cavalry, 1905; honor graduate infantry and cavalry school 1903; graduate staff college, 1905; B. The Warren ran aground Sunday, and previous attempts to float her proved unsuccessful.

TRACTION QUESTION

For Chicago Will be Settled by People in April.

Council Provides an Ordinance to be Voted on.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—The city council, after a session lasting nearly all night, by a vote of 56 to 13, early today, adopted an ordinance which it approved by the votes of the April election will settle Chicago's traction question which has been before the people for more than ten years.

The ordinance adopted provides that the city shall issue twenty-year franchises to the Chicago Street Railway company and the Union Traction company, with the understanding that on six months' notice at any time the city may purchase the street railways controlled by these companies for $50,000,000 plus a cost of rehabilitation. The companies are at once to reconstruct and re-equip all the lines under the supervision of three experts, one to be appointed by the city and the other two by the two street railway companies. Under the new ordinance the street railway companies for the usual fare of 5 cents will grant unlimited transfers to all parts of the city. The city will receive 55 per cent of the net income of the street railways in question.

COAL HARBOR HAS BAD BLAZE

Principal Business Section of the Town is Destroyed.

Blismarek, N. D., Feb. 5.—The principal business portion of Coal Harbor, a small town on the Soo road north of here, was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. The fire originated in the Coal Harbor hotel, and as there was no fire protection, the flames swept one side of an entire block. People on the other side of the street saved their buildings from destruction by keeping the roofs covered with snow and hanging wet blankets over the sides of the buildings. The loss is estimated at $80,000.

HEAVY SNOW AT CHICAGO

Cold in Kansas and Other Sections of Middle West.

Chicago, Feb. 5.—The heaviest snowstorm of the winter commenced yesterday and continued today. The Western railroads were delayed, the through trains from California arriving five and six hours' late, and on the shorter runs trains were from one to four hours' late. Very little drifting has been reported so far.

Kansas City, Feb. 5.—During the night 5 dogs, below zero was recorded here, and 4 dogs, below at Topeka, the lowest in that part of the southwest during the winter. Today there was a rapid rise in the temperature, with little snow falling. Trains were still delayed today.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 5.—Advices from Middle Tennessee report a deep snowfall, followed by bitter cold weather. In Nashville the ground is covered with ice, sleet and snow.

Lincoln, Neb., Feb. 5.—The heavy snowstorm which began yesterday still continues. More than a foot of snow now covers the greater part of the state. The temperature here today was 10 degs. below zero.

St. Paul, Feb. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Street thermometers today registered all the way from 22 to 32 deg. below zero, according to the exposure to the cold of the instrument. A heavy fog partly obscured the sun in the early hours.

KILLS HIS SUPERIOR

Jackson, Mich., Police-Man Murders Captain, Without Cause.

Takes a Shot at Chief Boyle, But Misses Him.

Jackson, Mich., Feb. 5.—Policeman Isaac Lewis walked into the office of Police Captain Holzappel, in the station here today, without a warning or any cause, so far as can be ascertained, shot him through the heart, killing his superior almost instantly. He then fired a shot at Chief Boyle but missed him. Lewis, it is said, has been drinking of late and it is thought he must have become insane. In an incoherent statement later he said that he got tired of seeing Holzappel strutting around.

Every Question Shows Great Preparation for Insanity Plea.

Seems to Have Every Medical Authority at Finger Tips.

Dr. Wiley, the First Witness, Pronounces Thaw Insane.

New York, Feb. 5.—The defense of Harry Kendall Thaw, charged with the murder of Stanford White, was begun today when Dr. C. C. Wiley, an alienist from Pittsburg, took the stand and testified that in his opinion Thaw was insane the night of the Madison Square Roof garden tragedy. He based this opinion on the man's actions on the roof garden, and the fact that he had witnessed an act by Thaw in a Pittsburg street car, which impressed him with the belief that the young man was not of sound mind.

District Attorney Jerome put the witness through the most severe cross-examination ever heard in a New York courtroom. The prosecuting officer seemed to have every medical authority at his finger tips. The care with which he had prepared to meet Thaw's plea of insanity was evident in his every question, and at times the witness hesitated in his answers, as if completely baffled. Dr. Wiley was still under fire when the luncheon was ordered.

"Are you nearly through?" inquired Justice Fitzgerald of the district attorney.

"No, indeed, your honor," replied Mr. Jerome, "I am just getting interested in the subject."

New York, Feb. 5.—Experts on insanity and handwriting, witnesses and jurors came to the Thaw trial today muffled to the eyes in great coats and (Continued on page 8, first column.)

JAPS IGNORE TALK OF WAR

Stories in American Papers Cause No Excitement Whatever.

Tokio, Feb. 5.—The press is still silent over the war cry in some American papers. Not the slightest excitement was transmitted here, and it was generally ignored. It is believed that the anti-Japanese agitation by a portion of the American press will afford proof of the futility of an effort to shake the profound confidence which Japan reposes in President Roosevelt and in the American people generally.

Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 5.—"There will be no war, I would wager my whole fortune—if I had one—that there would be none between the United States and Japan," said Tatz Gore Nasse, Japanese consul general to Canada, yesterday, after reading press despatches suggesting the possibility of such a contingency over the San Francisco school question.

PARLIAMENT ADJOURNED.
Ottawa, Ont., Feb. 5.—Parliament adjourned yesterday without transacting any business, as a mark of respect for the bereaved family of Lady Grenfell, who died at the government house yesterday. The body of Lady Grenfell will be taken to England by the steamer Empress of Britain, from Halifax, next Saturday.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Senator Heyburn presented a resolution in the senate today providing for a special committee of five senators to "investigate the reorganization of the Northern Pacific railroad property, to ascertain what title and estates are owned by the corporation which was created by act of congress, on July 2, 1894, and if said federal corporation had no title or estates in any property, then what reason there is why said charter acts should not be fully complied by congress."

INQUEST IS BEING HELD

Coroner Hears Story of Youth Who Shot
His Mother.

The First Reports Received Were Very Much Distorted.

The details of the shooting affray at Tivoli, this county, last Saturday evening, as brought out in the testimony of witnesses at a coroner's inquest this afternoon, indicate that the first stories concerning the Aho matricide case were very much distorted.

Deputy Sheriff M. P. Morgan arrived in the city this noon with Daniel Aho, the young man who shot and killed his mother, Mrs. Louisa Aho, and the inquest was held over the body of the deceased at the undertaking parlors of Flood & Horgan, this afternoon. Coroner McCuen presided and County Attorney John H. Norton conducted the questioning.

According to the story of witnesses Daniel Aho and two neighboring farmers had a little social gathering at the Aho home, about four miles from the station at Tivoli, last Saturday evening and, during the course of events, they consumed a half a pint of alcohol.

About the time the two neighbors started to leave, Daniel Aho, armed with a powerful .38-caliber revolver, seized a 20-caliber repeating rifle and went outside, where he fired several shots into the air. He then rushed in the building and fired several more shots, the bullets passing through the windows and one even passing through one of the logs of which the cabin was constructed.

According to the testimony Mrs. Aho, mother of the deceased, was in the house in the attempt to quiet him down and entered just in time to encounter a bullet that hit her in the chest. The bullet struck her in the left side of the neck passing through the jugular vein and through the right shoulder, causing instant death.

Directly after the shooting, Daniel rushed out doors where he called to one of the neighbors that he had just shot his mother. The young man wanted the neighbor to take the rifle and kill him. Daniel, who is but 20 years old, is a grizzled, over the affair. All day yesterday he sat in the house and waited for the coroner to arrive.

A MINING EXCHANGE

May be Discussed by the Public Affairs Committee.

The Report on Harbor Improvements Will be Read.

The plan of establishing a mining exchange in Duluth will probably be discussed at the meeting of the public affairs committee, which will be held at the Commercial club this evening. For several months past the idea of having a mining exchange in Duluth has been more or less discussed among those who are dealing in mining stocks. The plan is made that at the present time the purchasers of mining stocks have no protection from the brokers, and that they have to take the brokers' quotations for the stocks which are traded in.

With a mining exchange there would be some means of fixing prices.

The report of the committee on harbor improvements will also be read.

NEAT FAKE CHECK GAME

Edward Barnes Charged With Passing Bad Paper on Merchants.

Claims Family in England is Wealthy and Sends Remittances.

What is evidently a case of a felon of a noble house fallen into disgrace was brought to light yesterday with the arrest in Superior of Edward Barnes, charged with grand larceny in the second degree.

Barnes' game is claimed to have been to pass a check on a man for $5 on some bank where he had no account. This money he would use, and about the time he heard that his victim would be returning back the check marked "no fund" from the bank, he would pass another check on another party and return and pay his first victim. Checks for $5 and $2 were passed on Superior merchants, and last Saturday he is said to have determined to extend the field of his operations.

He is charged with passing a check on the First National Bank of Duluth at Moscow, a West Superior street clothes, for $27.50, receiving its value in clothes.

At his hearing this afternoon before Judge Windom Barnes did not deny passing the check but the claim that he had a family in England, was wealthy and that he was expecting a draft from them daily with which to meet the bill. He was to enter a plea until he had secured a lawyer and been advised what plea to make.

His examination was set for tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Suffered Long From Chronic Catarrh— Pe-ru-na Relieved Him.

Mr. Craft Used Many Remedies and Doctors, but Found No Relief
Until He Tried Pe-ru-na.

Catarrh of Nose, Throat, Stomach,
Mr. Delbert B. Craft, Lowell,
Ind., writes:
"For a long time I suffered with chronic catarrh of nose, throat and stomach. I would continually take cold, and my stomach was in bad condition. I truly suffered untold misery.
I took various medicines and tried the treatment of several physicians, but I felt no better.
A friend advised me to take Pe-ru-na. I wrote to Dr. Hartman, who prescribed treatment.
As soon as I commenced to take Pe-ru-na, I was surprised at the relief it gave me. I kept on taking it until I had taken three bottles and was cured.
I would advise all those afflicted with catarrh to use your remedy."

Most cases of catarrh require a tonic to give strength and regularity to the circulation of the blood and invigorate the nerve centers. Local treatment cannot accomplish this. Nothing but the internal administration of a catarrh tonic fully reaches the cause.

Surprised at Relief Pe-ru-na Gave.
Mr. J. O. Dorsett, 24 Boyd St., Sampson Mill, Greenville, S. C., writes:
"I have tried many kinds of medicine that claim to do wonders as a spring tonic, but none of them did me any good."

"A friend induced me to try Pe-ru-na.
Of course I had no faith in it, and I tried it only to please my friend, but to my surprise it did all you claimed for it and even more.
I took this opportunity to add my testimony to that of many others, that Pe-ru-na is the best medicine on the market for the relief and cure of all catarrhs which it claims to cure."

No other catarrh remedy in the world has received so many unqualified endorsements for the restoration of catarrh invalids as Pe-ru-na. Thousands of unsolicited testimonials are awaiting publication in our files.

Hacking Cough, Pneumonia, La Grippe, David B. Williams, Easton, Mass.,

ago last winter. I had a hacking cough

MR. DELBERT B. CRAFT.
As soon as the frosty nights began, I think it was catarrh. Then I would have pleurisy or la grippe, and have a doctor. Last winter I took three bottles of Pe-ru-na. I have not had that cough since, and have been well all winter. It has helped me wonderfully."

Cough and Catarrh of Stomach.
Mr. Christian Herman, Slaton, Minn., writes:

"For many years I suffered with catarrh of the stomach. Was coughing day and night. After having tried many remedies, I bought some Pe-ru-na.
I have taken six bottles, and have not suffered with catarrh this winter. I am cured and Pe-ru-na did it."

HAPPENINGS IN THE DAKOTAS

School Building at Valley City Burned With $33,000 Loss.

NORTH DAKOTA.
Valley City—The grade building of the public schools was destroyed yesterday by a fire which is supposed to have originated from the heating plant, and had made some progress when it was discovered. It was beyond control of the firemen.
The building cost $33,000, and was valued at $32,000, making the total loss $6,000. There was $2,000 insurance on the building and contents.

Imperial—A. W. Tallman, a homesteader who lived six miles north, was suffocated while leading a cow. He was stacked while caved in upon him. His cow was killed and his body was found by a neighbor who dug out Tallman's dead body. Tallman was a young man and greatly respected in the community.
His relatives reside in California.

Miss Elizabeth Madden was frozen to death sixteen miles south. In company with four others she was on the way home from a country store. The team ran away, leaving the occupants on the frozen. All the others were badly frozen, but will live. She was a prominent young lady of the community. Other settlers have not been seen for many days, and more deaths are feared.

Jameson—Traveling men and other passengers on a Jamestown & Northern train were tied up for ten days at Seymour by snow blockades. In order to while away the time a newspaper was printed in a job office. It was called the Seymour Bizzard and contained, besides much prose and some "poetry," numerous witty allusions to the weather and the railroads. E. H. Mattingly of Jamestown acted as city editor, while Caroline Wells was editor-in-chief and Nellie Mc-Lean society editor. Two numbers of the paper were issued.

Bismarck—Rev. Robert George, pastor of the Methodist church at Dawson, was killed by a Northern Pacific snowplow at Steele, forty miles east of here, Saturday night. He was driving into a cut with a horse and cutter, and in crossing the track the plow struck the rig, killing the horse, smashing the cutter to fragments. Mr. George had both legs and one arm broken and was badly injured. He lived about two hours after the accident.
This makes the third fatality from snowplows at Steele within the past two years.

Fargo—The Presbyterians of the state are considering the establishment of a denominational college of their own in North Dakota. Plans for the proposed institution will be discussed at a meeting to be held Feb. 7 in Grand

HEALTH OF CITY NOW EXCELLENT

Four Cases of Diphtheria and Two of Scarlet Fever.

Duluth is now almost immune from contagious diseases, and the health of the city generally is reported as in a splendid condition by the health department.
Four diphtheria cards were removed yesterday, leaving but four cases quar-antined in the entire city. These are the last traces of the epidemic which threatened the city last fall.

There are now two cases of scarlet fever in the city and these cases up to the sum total of contagious diseases in Duluth at the present time.

NEWS FROM WEST DULUTH

BAILEY HAS LEFT TOWN

Larceny Suspect Forfeits
Bail by Non-Appearance
This Morning.

Lord is Fined $100 and Costs on Same Charge.

The examination of Carl Bailey and Henry Lord, charged with grand larceny in the second degree, was to have been held before Judge Windom in municipal court this morning.

Bailey, who was out on $100 bond, furnished by his father, had left town since his hearing, last week, and failed to show up for the hearing this morning. Judge Windom declared the bail forfeited.

Henry Lord was also out on bond for a portion of the time, until his bondsmen, alarmed at the rumored disappearance of Bailey, took him in charge and delivered him over to the police authorities Saturday. At the hearing this morning the state withdrew the charge of grand larceny, under which Lord pleaded guilty.

Judge Windom initiated the maximum penalty for the offense charged, $100 and costs, which the prisoner paid.

Bailey and Lord were charged with stealing goods aggregating $46 in value, from a Northern Pacific car at West Duluth, and the complaint was sworn to by Special Agent Shone of Superior.

ADDING TO CAPACITY

Many Improvements Being Made at Match
Co.'s Factory.

Business of Company
Very Good for Last Few Months.

According to Supt. Louis Blechel, many improvements are being made at the factory of the Union Match company, or will be made early in the spring, and the prospects are that the capacity of the plant will be more than doubled by early summer. Mr.
Blechel says that the company has had several very good months lately, and that the business of the plant has been so good that the improvements are necessary.

For the present the building in which the factory is located will not be added to, but many interior improvements will be made, and considerable new machinery will be installed. The output has been increasing slowly for the last two years, and additional machinery has been added as the business warranted it.

The company was organized and began the operation of the present factory about three years ago, at which time only a few match machines were installed. For a few months the business of the company was small, but under good management it has gradually picked up and the company is now in a very prosperous condition.

At present there are ten match machines, all of the latest design, and each having a large capacity. The company will probably install several more of these this spring, and later, if the business still improves, the size of the building will be enlarged.

"Clarice" is a beautiful little romance of the South, delightfully told.
Any person who looks for anything more in the play than just that will be disappointed. The plot is a simple one and calls for no emotional work of a heavy type, although there are several quite dramatic situations developed. The simple story, however, is most charismatically worked out. It will perhaps appeal more to the sentimentalist—and not the maudlin sentimentalist—for "Clarice" is not of that type—than it will to the practical, hard-headed man of the world.

It is the romantic yet simple love story of a pretty Southern girl that is portrayed—best that and no more.

The story of the play is that of a young doctor in the South who has fallen in love with his ward, a young girl who has grown up in his home. The aunt of the doctor, who had cherished an unreturned love for the doctor, plots to get her away, marrying her to a young man, a young Washington physician. She persuades the guardian that it is only proper that the doctor, who has been a physician for years, should now grow to womanhood, but Clarice is not so easily deceived. She discovers his love for her, which is returned, and refuses to go.

The saint and the Washington physician then plan to separate the lovers by telling the guardian that he is afflicted with tuberculosis, and that he endangers his ward's life by keeping her near him. He orders her to leave, telling her that he was mistaken in his love for her, and that he will never see her again.

The Washington physician, in an agony of fear and repentance, breaks into the house, where the guardian is waiting for death to come. In a very dramatic scene he discovers that the man has taken poison, and searches for an antidote, confessing his share in the plot.

The guardian is too weak to give directions as to the place where the antidote can be found, but Clarice returns at the crucial moment and finds the drug required. The curtain, of course, goes down on the reunited lovers.

It takes some time to adjust Mr. Gillette to his new surroundings. After his strenuous work in "Sherlock Holmes," he is at first somewhat disappointing. The new role of Dr. Carrington, the guardian of Clarice, would hardly seem to give him scope for his dramatic qualities. But his work is like the story—quiet, simple and natural. Mr. Gillette is a master of facial expression, and he uses his ability in this line to good advantage, making his impressive stage manner effective and intense.

His portrayal of the kind-hearted, simple-minded, young doctor is a fine piece of character declamation.

It would be hard to imagine any one else in the role of Clarice after seeing Marie Doro. The part seems made for her, and to her youth and very decided beauty is added a dramatic ability of no mean order. The work of Mr. Gillette, her work is charming and natural.

Lucille La Verne, as Judith Clancy, the old negress, and Frank Bubbeck as Dr. Trent, the uncle of the girl, have two very clever character parts, of widely different types, and between them they supply the comedy relief in a most admirable manner.

Francis Curlye as Dr. Denbigh, the villain of the play, if he can be called such, was passable for three acts, but when he broke his way through the window to reach the dying guardian, in the final scene, he seemed to have acquired new powers. His work in not yet having been made public.

this dramatic scene, where tortured by conscience and stricken with fear and remorse, he fights for the life of the man he has driven to an attempt at suicide, is upon the whole, most charismatically worked out. It will perhaps appeal
more to the sentimentalist—and not the maudlin sentimentalist—for "Clarice" is not of that type—than it will to the

The Superior Mining Company's property is located in the now famous Miller River District, King's Co., Washington, four miles from Berlin, on the main line of the G. N. Ry. This company is not a prospecting company, but owns proven property, on which a tunnel has been driven 140 feet into the side of the mountain where the last cross cut shows an eleven foot vein of ore, the assay of which shows $70 copper, $28 gold and $7.50 silver. This ore is of the free milling class and can be mined at a very small expense—an important factor in copper mining. In addition to the mining property the company owns a valuable mill site and water privileges of the Miller river, which is estimated to develop 400 horsepower. No officer of the company draws a dollar of salary until the mine is paying dividends and every dollar received for the stock issued is to be used for the property and vouchers are guaranteed to be on public file showing how every dollar is expended.

SUICIDE IS ATTEMPTED

Jacob Saari, an Insane Woodsman, Gashes His Throat Horribly.

Afterwards Tears Stitches Out With Old Case Knife.

After making two desperate attempts at suicide, Jacob Saari, an insane woodsman, with a gaping wound in his throat nearly four inches long, is confined in the county jail awaiting an examination before the probate court, which was expected to take place this afternoon.

Saari's case is pitiable. The wound in the man's neck is a horrible sight. The windpipe was nearly severed and has been stitched. His physical condition is such that the county physician who examined him this morning pronounced it serious and stated that something would have to be done immediately to see that he has the proper care.

Saari made the first attempt at suicide at Johnson's logging camp, about four miles north of Chisholm, last Thursday night. He was found in the woods after dark about fifty yards from the camp lying bleeding and unconscious in the snow. He had gashed his throat with a pocket knife found beside him.

The men at the camp stopped the flow of blood as best they could and hurried Saari to Chisholm for medical aid. Several stitches were taken in the windpipe and in the gaping wound in the flesh and Saari was held for safe-keeping at the village jail, as the authorities suspected that his mind was deranged. Saturday evening, after he had eaten his supper Saari took an old case knife that was given him with his food and tore open the stitches in his throat. He nearly bled to death before assistance could be summoned. He refused to permit any more stitches to be taken and the village authorities notified Sheriff Bates.

Deputy Sheriff Owen Gately brought Saari to the county jail last evening. The deranged man is so weak from the loss of blood that several times during the trip to Duluth Deputy Sheriff Gately thought that he was going to die on the train.

Saari made several attempts to tear the wound in his throat with his hands and the jail authorities had to put mitts on his hands and strap his arms down so that he could not reach his throat. According to the best information had

Duluth probably has 20,000 smokers within the city limits. At a conservative estimate they will average two cigars a day, making 40,000 cigars which are consumed in Duluth.

If every Duluth smoker said when buying a cigar: "It's made in Duluth," the cigar factories of the city would have to add greatly to their establishments, and employ more cigar-makers, meaning more names in the city directory.

M'GILLIS' CASE STILL ON TRIAL

Administrator Has Not Yet Finished Introducing His Testimony.

Evidence for the administrator in the McGillis damage case against the Duluth & Northern Minnesota Railway company is still being introduced in Judge Cant's room. The case is one in which Joseph McGillis, administrator of the estate of Gillis McGillis, deceased, sued the railway company for $5,000 for the death of the latter, who was run over and killed by an engine at Knife River while performing his duties as a brakeman.

At the first trial a verdict of $1,500 was returned in favor of the administrator. The company appealed from the order of the district court denying its motion for a judgment, notwithstanding the verdict, or for a new trial, and the supreme court reversed the decision of the district court, and sent the case back for retrial.

The supreme court's reversal was based principally on an error of the lower court in charging the jury. The higher court did not pass on the question of damages.

In charging the jury the district court stated that even if McGillis was negligent in going on the track in front of the engine, the company was liable if the engineer and fireman saw his danger and neglected to warn him. The supreme court held this an error, that a brakeman on a railroad assumes a certain amount of risk, and is supposed to exercise an ordinary degree of caution in passing in front of moving trains. The higher court said, further, that the facts might show that the engineer and fireman presumed that McGillis was exercising that degree of caution, even though they did not watch him. On the ground that the charge might have had some influence on the jury in arriving at the verdict, the supreme court decided that the case should be retried.

Articles of incorporation of the Glass Block Store company were filed with the register of deeds this morning by John Pantan, Joseph B. Cotton and James W. Scott. The company is capitalized at $100,000 and the limit of its liability is the amount of its capital stock. The company is incorporated to do business both inside the state of Minnesota and in other states. The directors are John Pantan, William C. White, J. W. Scott and George T. Miller of Duluth and John D. Gaudin of Calumet, Mich.

The new company will operate the big department store that Messrs. Scott and Miller, formerly buyers and department managers in the Pantan & White store in this city are about to open at Calumet, Mich. It is expected to make it the largest retail establishment of its kind in the Copper country.

EXHIBITION OF POULTRY

Duluth Association's Annual Show Will Attract Many Fanciers.

Will be Held From Feb. 11 to 16, Next Week.

Poultry fanciers from all over the Northwest will have birds on exhibition at the big poultry show to be given next week by the Duluth Poultry association. The association has received communications from poultry people in St. Paul, Chicago, Milwaukee and many other towns asking permission to enter their birds and from the present outlook the exhibition will be the greatest which has ever been given in Duluth.

The exhibition, which is the eleventh annual show given by the Duluth association, will be held at 514 West Michigan street from Feb. 11 to 16. For the last ten years the association has been giving annual exhibitions for the purpose of encouraging the breeding of a better class of poultry and more of it, in this vicinity and each exhibition has excelled the previous one.

The association announces that something over $500 in cash prizes will be awarded as premiums for the finest birds on exhibition. The first prize in the premium list for all classes amounts to $2; the second, $1.50; and the third, $1. While these may seem small awards it must be taken into consideration that each class and variety of poultry may take first, second or third prize, and that each exhibitor can enter any number of varieties. On the exhibition pens, the first prize is $4; the second prize $2 and the third $1. Prizes will be awarded on cock, hen, cockerel, pullet and pen, and on all varieties of poultry, ducks, turkeys and geese.

Prizes will also be awarded for the best display, the best general display and exhibition, getting $10, and the second best bringing $5. Premiums for display shall be governed by the following rules: All birds shall be counted $1 all seconds 2, and all thirds 1, and all birds scoring 90 points and over shall count 1. A display will consist of not less than ten entries. Cash prizes will also be given for the best eggs on exhibition, according to their color. These are two prizes of $2 and $1 for the best dozen brown eggs, and the second best dozen. Like prizes will be given for the best and second best dozen white eggs. There will be a pigeon department at the exhibition, and cash prizes will be awarded for these birds also.

A special prize, known as the "Quartette Cup," valued at $25, will be given to some member of the association exhibiting four fowls, one cock, one hen, one cockerel, one pullet, which have the highest aggregate score, all one variety. This prize is furnished by Theodore Hollister of this city. Another special prize, furnished by T. J. Davis, consists of two sets of sterling silver teaspoons, to be given for the best trio, cockerel and two pullets of buff birds. This contest is open only for birds raised and exhibited by persons employed, under civil service regulations, by the United States government. Mr. Davis furnishes this prize to encourage the poultry industry among men working under civil service regulations.

Anybody in Duluth can enter birds in the exhibition, and copies of the premium list and entry blanks can be obtained from J. H. Greenfield, in the Burrows building, or at J. W. Nelson's store, No. 5 East Superior street.

H. A. Nelson will act as superintendent of the exhibition, while F. H.

Shellabarger will be the judge. The judge will be here on Feb. 13, at which time he will commence judging the birds, and will continue until he finishes. Mr. Shellabarger is known as one of the best poultry judges in the country.

The association has issued a booklet, giving all of the rules and regulations for entering birds, and a list of the cash prizes and special prizes which will be awarded. The book also contains a list of the officers of the association and the executive committee in charge of the exhibition.

INTEMPERATE HABITS INCREASE THE LIABILITY TO CONSUMPTION

The susceptibility of people to tuberculosis is just about trebled by intemperance habits. This is the estimate of scientific men.

The disease is not caught as you catch scarlet fever or smallpox, but by germs from dried spittle getting into the lungs. If our bodies are strong and healthy the germs are resisted successfully by the operation of nature; if weakened and depleted the germ will make headway, and death is inevitable, unless proper methods of cure are followed. Temperance lectures could well make use of these facts.

Neglected colds are a peculiarly receptive condition for the tubercular germ. A simple remedy, which is said to break a cold in twenty-four hours, and cure any cough that is curable, can be obtained from any good prescription druggist at small cost. Take one-half ounce of Virginia Oil of Pine (Pure), two ounces of Glycerine, and eight ounces of good Whisky. Shake well and take in teaspoonful doses every four hours.

To avoid substitution, it is best to purchase the ingredients and prepare the mixture yourself. The Virginia Oil of Pine (Pure) should be purchased in the original half-ounce vial. The Glycerine should be purchased in the original half-ounce vial. The Whisky should be purchased in the original half-ounce vial. There are many rank imitations of Virginia Oil of Pine (Pure), which are put out under various names. Never accept these as a substitute for the Pure Virginia Oil of Pine, as they will invariably produce nausea and never effect the desired result.

FIX LIMIT FOR SPEED

Maj. Fitch Proposes Important Amendments to Harbor Rules.

Changes Necessary Because of Increased Commerce and Accidents.

The heavy increase in the shipping movement in the local harbor and the damage done last year to several of the railroad, team and passenger bridges across waters within the jurisdiction of the government, have resulted in the drafting of a number of new rules and regulations by Graham D. Fitch, United States engineer in charge of the Lake Superior district.

Copies of these proposed rules and regulations have been sent to a large number of the vessel interests and to railroad companies, which operate the bridges, with a view of learning of any changes or additions that might be suggested before they are put into effect. The proposed amendments to the chief of engineers at Washington for his approval or disapproval before they are put into effect.

It has been quite generally understood by the public, however, that the proposed amendments to the chief of engineers at Washington for his approval or disapproval before they are put into effect.

Under the proposed rules submitted by Maj. Fitch, vessels will not be restricted as to speed while coming through the harbor, but they will be restricted as to speed while passing through the harbor.

After passing the entrance piers it is proposed that vessels shall reduce their speed while coming in through the harbor basin at the inner end of either entrance pier, eight miles per hour, and that they shall not exceed that speed limit through any of the dredged channels of the harbor.

When vessels approach a bridge, excepting the aerial bridge, it is proposed that their speed shall be reduced enough to enable them to come to a dead stop in case the draw fails to open, and to avoid hitting the bridge.

It has been pointed out in case of all the bridge accidents thus far that the vessels could not be stopped in time to avoid a collision with the bridges, when it was discovered that the draws were not, or could not be opened. This new rule will necessitate the vessels running much slower than they have in the past when

NET EARNINGS FOR YEAR DOUBLE THOSE OF 1905

Water and Gas Departments Make Favorable Showing.

Profits Should Soon Provide Sinking Fund for Maturing Bonds.

The report in a nutshell:

The net surplus for the year was $47,572.97, compared with $25,574.04 in the preceding year.

Many expensive improvements were made, including the new water system, the new gas system, and the new electric system.

The city consumed nearly 2,000,000 feet of water during the year, and more than 150,000,000 feet of gas.

The city now has eighty-five miles of water pipes, and sixty miles of gas pipes.

The plant inventories about $90,000 above the bonded indebtedness.

The plant has saved the property value of $1,261,890.24 since its purchase.

The annual report of the Duluth water and light department has been completed, and was filed with the council last evening.

It should be of interest to every citizen of Duluth, and to every taxpayer is a stockholder in the water and gas plants.

The board's report is given in full below, and the most important and interesting tables from the manager's report are appended.

Copies of the report have been printed, and they can be secured free of charge.

Following is the board's report in full:

The detailed financial condition of the department and its earnings and expenditures for the year are shown in the report of the manager, which is herewith submitted.

From this report it will be seen that the earnings of the department from the sale of both gas and water have increased from $271,165.25 in 1905 to $399,456.83 in 1906.

The expense of operation, maintenance and depreciation has increased from $241,533.24 in 1905 to $261,883.86 in 1906.

The net surplus for the year is $47,572.97, as against $25,574.04 for the year 1905.

The consumption of gas has increased from 109,947,370 feet in 1905 to 151,094,300 feet in 1906.

There has been no change in the price of either gas or water during the last year.

In June a contract was entered into with the Great Northern Power company whereby the power pumping at Lakewood is to be done by electric power as soon as the necessary pump can be installed and the power company has its power plant ready for operation.

Under this contract the department has to pay for power on the basis of water pumped, the price being 1.5 cents per 100 gallons so long as the consumption does not exceed 6,000,000 gallons per day and to be graduated thereafter.

When the consumption shall reach 15,000,000 gallons per day the power company sought to make a contract whereby the city should pay for the amount of power consumed instead of on the basis of water pumped but the board declined to do so.

The board of directors has decided to accept the contract for the pumping of water for the city on the basis of present consumption.

At about the same time as the contract was entered into with the Great Northern Power company a contract was let to the General Electric company for constructing a centrifugal electric pump of 12,000,000 gallons daily capacity.

The cost of this pump and the necessary machinery and pipe to operate it will be about $25,000. This pump is to be completed and installed by May 1, 1907.

With a new pump at Lakewood and electric power to operate it the city will have a double source of supply for pumping water for the city.

water through this pipe is very slow and too much time is required in filling the reservoir. Some means will have to be devised by the board whereby a more rapid flow of water into this basin can be had, in order to make the reservoir a complete success and to have it do the work for which it was designed.

The Proctor Extension.

"Application has been made to the board by parties desiring to supply the village of Proctor with water, for a contract providing for the installation of 1,000,000 gallons per day from the West Duluth reservoir.

Owing to the fact that the flow of water into the reservoir is so slow the board finds itself unable to recommend such a contract at the present time. If the board is able to devise a plan, under which it will be able to furnish water to the reservoir to supply the needs of Proctor, it will be able to recommend such a contract.

Such an arrangement would be a double-edged sword, as it would serve to help build up what is practically a suburb of the city, and at the same time furnish a market for the surplus water of the city.

At the present time the department could supply without in any way interfering with the work of supplying the city with water.

built unless they can be supplied with water and gas. To stop making ordinary extensions is to stop building operations. Therefore, the first thought of this board in planning improvements and betterments must be to take care of the ordinary extensions.

It is probable, however, that the ordinary extensions can be taken care of hereafter from the surplus earnings of the department, and it is possible that before the hillside and Lakeside extensions can be completed the surplus earnings may be sufficient to make up any deficiency in the proceeds of the bond sale.

Department Making Money.

"So far as the operation and maintenance of the gas and water systems are concerned, this board is confronted with very easy and simple problems. Both systems are now money-making propositions, and notwithstanding the reductions in the price of both gas and water that have been made since the city acquired these plants, and notwithstanding the fact that during the last year the consumers of gas and water have had to pay more for their gas and water than they did last year, the department has made a profit of $47,572.97. It is only when compared to the systems demanded that grave problems confront this board. Under our system there is no way of getting the money except to borrow the money and bond the plants. The department can pay its way and earn money annually by sides to reasonably extend its pipe lines within the territory covered by its mains, but it cannot, unaided, extend its mains into the territory lying territory within the confines of the city of Duluth.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

The Manager's Report.

The report of Manager Case follows, it contains many interesting tables and the following introductory remarks:

"At the beginning of the year I estimated for the board that the surplus earnings of the department in 1906 would amount to $35,000, this estimate including any surplus that might be necessary in procuring the sale of the $250,000 of redemption bonds. When the year closed, however, the surplus was $47,572.97, which was charged to operation and maintenance. I reduced my estimate to $20,000, and by giving evidence of unusual gains, I thought possibly that the first estimate would be nearer correct. The truth, however, as to what this surplus was, could not be, and was not, ascertained until the year's business was closed. CITY COUNCIL DEMANDS IMPROVED CAR SERVICE

Endorses the Hugo Bill and Calls For Large Cars.

Company Submits Lengthy Communication Stating Its Position.

War has apparently been declared by the city fathers on the Duluth street railway company, and a discussion of ways and means by which the company could be required to furnish a more adequate service to its patrons took up most of the time at last evening's meeting.

In response to the request of the council, calling upon the street car company to state definitely and in detail their excuse for inadequate service on Saturday, Jan. 26, Manager Warren of the traction company submitted a lengthy and detailed statement of the troubles of a street car company, in a lively city like Duluth, and possessed of this city's topography.

Some extracts from this document are as follows:

"About the first of every year there is a shifting of the time of the greatest rush, both morning and evening, and we shift our extra service correspondingly. We have heretofore reduced it materially at this time, but this winter merely shifted it to the time it would do the most good. This annual shifting in the habits of our patrons, and consequent shifting in the service, necessarily takes a little time for adjustment. While for a year or more our extra car schedules have called for all the cars our power machinery would handle, we in common with all employers of labor, including the city's fire and police departments, have suffered from shortage of help, and have not always been able to get all these extra cars out, but the situation has improved since December, and we have recently had out the full extra service, and our patrons would have experienced great relief from crowding had not the unusually long, severe cold period come on us just at the time of this shifting and readjusting of the service. In such weather private conveyances are usually kept in, those who ordinarily walk take cars, and practically all the traffic on the streets at the rush hours is forced on to the street cars, and the burden of this abnormal rush is very naturally borne by the larger and warmer cars. For instance, on one of the recent cold mornings a single truck car came from West Duluth with sixteen passengers. It was followed in five minutes by a double truck car with ninety-two. This was followed by a single truck car with seven, and that by a double truck car with 107. We recently placed extra single truck cars two minutes ahead of some of the most crowded Lakeside cars, but find that East end people ignore them and crowd into the Lakeside cars. We do not blame the people for this in the least, but it accounts for the congestion of the large cars.

"Under normal conditions, about one-third of the passengers carried in a day of twenty hours' operation are carried in the rush hours, but during such weather as we have had during the past eleven days, while we carry many less during a full day, we carry many more during the rush hours, and we estimate that during such weather nearly two-thirds of the day's business is crowded into the rush hours. Not only that, but the bulk of this abnormal rush has been borne largely by the more comfortable double truck cars. During the year just closed, two-thirds of all our passengers were carried in cars not equalled in purely urban service anywhere outside of the Twin Cities. We now have built fifteen more of these elegant cars, and next season will carry 85 or 90 per cent, and ultimately all, our passengers in such cars. If your honorable body will investigate you will find cars inferior to our much decried and so-called 'old-fashioned' single truck cars in regular service in much larger and more important centers than Duluth.

"The part of your resolution referring to 'congestion occasioned by crowds which attend theaters and other public gatherings' we think is hardly warranted by the facts.

"On the Saturday evening referred to in your resolution, on which you state that 'no extra cars were furnished for the theater or the hockey game' twenty-two extra trips were run between 8:30 and 11:30 p. m., one being from the theater to East Fourth street. We admit that no extra cars were run to the East end or Lakeside from the theater of curling rink. Our man who was standing at the Lyceum reported that there was a very small audience, only about twenty-five alighting there from all cars from the East end and Lakeside. He frankly admits that he entirely overlooked the hockey game, and for this oversight we are very sorry. We have not felt that we could censure him very strongly as there have been very few of these occasions before when any considerable crowds have left the curling rink at the same time, the extra service has heretofore not generally been required at this time.

"The men whose duty it is to provide extra car service for gatherings in the evening are expected to keep thoroughly posted upon all such gatherings, but they are human and may occasionally overlook some particular gathering the same as was done in the case of the hockey game. When our attention is called to any such gathering, we always give it our extra service. Overcrowded cars cause loss to us, and while it may not be readily believed, we dislike overcrowded cars as much as the people who have to ride in them."

For some reason the arguments of the street car manager failed to convince the aldermen that the best possible service was being given, and the reading of the communication from Mr. Warren was followed by the following motion by Alderman Barnes:

"Resolved, that this council gives its unqualified approval to the bill introduced into the state legislature by Hon. N. F. Hugo providing that street car companies shall not be entitled to collect fares unless a seat is provided for each passenger.

"Resolved, further, that this council regrets its inability to legally pass an ordinance covering the situation on account of the unrestricted franchise granted for the street railway company in this city by the state legislature."

Mr. Barnes in support of his motion made some very forceful remarks, saying that he agreed with Mr. Warren that conditions as bad as those in Duluth were extant in a large number of our cities, but that he saw no reason why Minnesota should not be in the van securing better service. Street cars in our present-day life, said Mr. Barnes, are a prey to the conviction that making money is the only aim in life, and existing, not local conditions, are to blame for bad service in Duluth according to the aldermen from the Seventh ward.

Alderman Wilson then took a whack at the company and their excuses, by offering the following resolution as a result of the fact that the company admitted in its communication that the people refuse to ride on the "dinky" cars.

"Resolved, that it is the sense of this council that the street railway company will be required to place large cars on all lines not later than Aug. 1, 1907."

Both motions were passed without opposition.

A motion by Alderman Jordan providing that the board of public works circulate a petition among the property owners along Fourth street from Fifth avenue west to Eleventh street for the paving of the street with tar macadam, sandstone curb, awakened considerable discussion, as this method of procedure is a new departure. Upon the testimony of Mr. Jordan that the Massachusetts Real Estate company owned about one-fourth of the property along the street and had persistently refused to sign any petition for paving purposes, the motion was passed.

On motion by Alderman Moore, the city attorney was requested to prepare an ordinance prohibiting indiscriminate distribution of samples of patent medicines in the city.

The city engineer was directed to prepare estimates of the cost of grading, paving and parking, and furnishing with a sandstone curb, Third street from Nineteenth to Twenty-second avenues east, both with tar macadam and Teiford macadam.

Three more offers for a site for the West end police station were submitted. All were from Henry Guyer of the Guyer-Fritz company. Mr. Guyer will sell a lot 50 by 100 feet on Twentieth avenue west and First street for $3,000, and a 50 by 100 foot lot described as lot 213, block 72, Duluth proper, Second division, for $2,250.

The Duluth street railway company presented a petition calling for the vacation of the alley adjoining their barns at Twenty-sixth avenue east, as they wish to construct more extensive shops there.

MINNESOTA TAX LEAGUE

Holds First Meeting and is Addressed by Lawson Purdy.

St. Paul, Feb. 5.—The first meeting of the Minnesota Tax league was held yesterday in the old capitol, and it was attended by many interested in problems of taxation. The organization is just starting, and the meeting was largely for organization purposes. The purpose of the league is to foster the movement to attract members from all parts of the state and to stimulate study in questions of taxation. After the league has been placed on a permanent basis, an attempt will be made to disseminate literature throughout the state to interest others.

Lawson Purdy, president of the department of taxes and assessments of New York and for twenty years secretary of the New York Tax Reform league, was the principal speaker at the meeting, and told of the work carried on in New York. He spoke of the influence obtained by organizing tax leagues, which can be exercised in the legislature, and he also spoke of some of the legislation that has been passed in New York through the efforts of the tax society.

Governor Johnson spoke before the meeting at some length, heartily supporting the movement. He declared himself in favor of a permanent tax commission and also of a registry tax on mortgages. He assured the members of the organization that he was heartily in sympathy with their movement and that he would pledge himself to do all he could in an official capacity to aid in the establishment of a permanent league.

The election of officers will be held this afternoon, at which time Allan Ripley, Foster of Columbus, Ohio, and commissioner of the Ohio state board of commerce, will address the members. The session will wind up with a buffet luncheon at the Ryan in the evening, at which both houses of the legislature will be guests.

THE PERFECT WAY

Scores of Duluth Citizens Have Learned It.

If you suffer from backache, There is only one way to cure it. The perfect way is to cure the kidneys. A bad back means sick kidneys. Neglect it, urinary troubles follow. Doan's Kidney Pills are made for kidneys only.

Are endorsed by Duluth people.

L. P. Schneider, butcher at McAuley's Washington Market, and living at 220 West Fourteenth avenue, Duluth, Minn., says: "A statement I made in 1906, recommending Doan's Kidney Pills and which has been published in the local papers very mildly expresses my opinion of that remedy. After suffering for a long time with pain through the back and loins, which made it almost impossible for me to stoop and lift anything without torture, and after using various medicines and treatments without effect, I found Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and the lapse of six years has proved that the cure was permanent. I am sure that I suffered the worst tortures of kidney trouble, often the pain felt as if a sharp knife was piercing me. At night, although I tired out, I could not rest or lie in one position without getting sore all over. The kidney secretions were irregular and contained a heavy sediment. Since I found this cure I have time after time advised others to use Doan's Kidney Pills, and I never miss an opportunity to speak well of them."

WILD SNOW STORM

reached their places of business on time.

The worst accident of the day to be reported was on the Providence division of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, in which about a dozen men and women were shaken up and bruised, but none according to first reports, were seriously injured.

New Haven, Conn., Feb. 5.—The wild storm, which started late yesterday, and which continued well into the morning today, with steadily increasing fury, had a disastrous effect on traffic both on the steam lines and trolley roads all over the state. Not for several winters have the steam roads been so tied up as they were today.

In the western part of the state the storm developed into a blizzard, and in Winsted and vicinity it had reached a depth of thirteen inches at 8 o'clock.

New York, Feb. 5.—For more than twenty-four hours New York has been fast in the grip of a fierce northeast snow storm. Ten inches of snow fell in twenty-four hours, ending at 8 a. m. today equalling the snowfall within any similar period for several years. In Broadway and all the avenues and cross streets containing surface car lines, the snow was piled six feet high between the tracks and the sidewalks, but by hard work with snow plows and shovels, most of the surface cars were kept in operation, though at a snail's pace.

Although schedules were badly disrupted, trains were forced through the drifts, arriving at their terminals in New York and Jersey City from fifteen minutes to an hour or more behind their schedule. The snow was driven by a strong wind, which, in the suburban districts piled the snow onto the tracks into big drifts delaying trains until the snow plows arrived.

The roof of the New York Central railroad's roundhouse in the Bronx, near Sixty-first street, was crushed in by the weight of snow early today and the women who were at work within were injured.

Traffic in the harbor moved very slowly.

An army of snow shovellers, estimated at 50,000 men was put at work on the streets early today. Although the heavy snow fall continued this afternoon, traffic conditions gradually improved in the main thoroughfares.

Philadelphia, Feb. 5.—The snow storm which began in this vicinity early Monday morning, is the worst since February, 1899. More than twelve inches of snow has fallen and the high wind has drifted it in places to a depth of three or four feet. The snow has seriously interfered with all kinds of transportation.

Through trains from the North, South and West are three hours late. Street car traffic within the limits of the city is open, but very slow and irregular.

Because of the heavy weather, navigation on the Delaware river, with the exception of ferryboats, is practically at a standstill. A number of vessels bound to or from coast ports are stranded in the river, between here and the sea. The steamer Nordland, from Liverpool for this port, which passed in the Delaware capes at 7 a. m., yesterday, is anchored at the Reedy Island. Reports from Eastern Pennsylvania, Delaware and Southern New Jersey are to the effect that the storm is the worst in eight years. In many places the snow has drifted so badly that the county roads are impassable, trains are late, and freight traffic is almost at a standstill.

Electric railway service is either tied up or very irregular in many places. The fall of snow in the mountains of Eastern Pennsylvania, during the last twenty-four hours, has reached a depth of eighteen inches.

THE THAW TRIAL

fury. A severe storm which began early last night continued today with unabated fury.

The order for the exclusion of all witnesses which on yesterday drove Mrs. Harry Thaw and Mrs. William Thaw from the courtroom remained in force today with the result that the second row of four chairs just back of the prisoner's, which heretofore have been reserved for his family, had been turned over to those whose business gave them the privilege of attending the trial.

Joseph Thaw was the only member of the defendant's family in court at the morning session began.

Harry Thaw on entering, seemed to miss the smile of welcome which each morning in the past his wife had bestowed upon him. Yesterday, Attorney Jerome was late in reaching court owing to the storm, and the coming of the session was delayed ten minutes.

Dr. C. C. Wiley of Pittsburgh, the Thaw's family physician, and who is connected with the Dikmoot insane asylum, was called as the first witness for the defense. Dr. Wiley in response to a question by John Gleason of Thaw's counsel, said he had devoted much of his time to a study of insanity, and that he had served as an expert in a large number of cases. Dr. Wiley was asked to state his recollection of an incident in 1905 in which Harry K. Thaw was concerned.

"In the summer of 1905," said the witness, "I was a passenger on a street car of the Fifth Avenue line in Pittsburgh when Harry Thaw came in. With him was a woman, and they rushed for one of the blinds to a window, drew up the blind, slammed it down again and then drew it up once more. He had a quarrel with the conductor."

"What was Thaw's manner?"

"It was defiant, vague, and his eyes flashed from right to left in this way."

Dr. Wiley illustrated with his eyes.

"As an expert and from your personal observation, can you say whether his actions were rational or irrational?"

"Irrational."

Mr. Gleason formed a hypothetical question, in which he outlined Thaw's act of killing Stanford White on the Madison Square Roof garden, and coupled with the interrogation as to whether the witness could express an opinion of such an action committed by the person he saw in the Pittsburgh street car.

"I can," said Dr. Wiley.

"Will you express this opinion?"

"I believe that that man—"

CONSTIPATION

District Attorney Jerome objected. "You must not state a belief," said Mr. Jerome, "that is not evidence. You must give an opinion."

"My opinion," said Dr. Wiley, "is that the man who committed the act described was suffering from insanity."

The witness was asked to define hereditary insanity, which he did, but when a question by Mr. Gleason as to the influence of hereditary insanity was asked, it was objected to by Mr. Jerome, and the court sustained the objection.

The defense had no further questions, and the witness was turned over to Mr. Jerome for cross-examination.

Dr. Wiley said that in hereditary insanity the common blood would flow through brothers and sisters, and therefore, a cousin, the son of an uncle or the daughter of an aunt, might follow the same hereditary influence.

"Are you acquainted as you sit there with the forms of insanity which the law of this state defines as excuses for crime?" asked Mr. Jerome.

"Not entirely."

"Then your opinion on the hypothetical question you have answered for me as a scientific man, you had in your mind the various phases of mental aberration which scientific men meet together and discuss?"

"Yes, and from my own application of medical knowledge on the subject."

Mr. Jerome then asked the witness if he really considered himself an expert.

"I feel I have had experience."

"That is not the point," interrupted Mr. Jerome. "Are you an expert? We don't know whether you are or not."

"I think I am competent."

"Are you an expert?" shouted Mr. Jerome.

"I am an authority," Dr. Wiley replied.

During the testimony of Dr. Wiley, Thaw sat with paper in hand taking notes and consulting constantly with Mr. Peabody of his counsel. The defendant was paler today than yesterday, and seemed much more composed.

After Dr. Wiley had said he was an authority, he was asked by Mr. Jerome if he was willing to go on record before the world in this case as a scientific man, after merely witnessing Thaw's action on the street car in Pittsburgh and from a description of his killing Stanford White, as saying Thaw was insane?

Dr. Wiley replied with decision: "Yes."

Asked by Mr. Gleason if, in his opinion, the defendant at the time of the deed knew that it was wrong, the witness replied "yes," and stated an explanation, which was stopped quickly by Mr. Jerome and Mr. Gleason, the former objecting to the explanation, and the latter endeavoring to stop his witness, who had answered in a manner not intended by the defense. When the question was again put to him, he answered: "No."

Dr. Wiley here explained that a person might know what he was doing and yet be utterly in the control of an irresistible impulse.

"In other words," commented Mr. Jerome, "we have a sort of volitional insanity?"

"That is possible, coupled with a morbid impulse."

"An act is morbid if it is insane?"

"Yes."

"And a man may know the nature of his act, know that it is wrong and against the law, and yet be swept away by an emotional impulse?"

"Yes, by an impulse over which he has no control."

"What evidence of delusion was there in the hypothetical question put to you by counsel for the defense?" asked Mr. Jerome.

"Wait a moment," commanded the district attorney, "let's go over this thing again. Give us the substance of the hypothetical question on which you based so important an opinion in this case."

In repeating the question, the witness inadvertently admitted that he had taken into consideration his knowledge of the case outside of the question.

"Then you did not base your opinion entirely upon the question?"

"Not entirely. I based it on what I saw in Pittsburgh and what I know of the case."

"I move that the entire question and answer be stricken out," said Mr. Jerome, turning to Justice Fitzgerald. "This witness has transgressed the confines of the law by taking into account outside considerations."

Counsel for the defense objected, but Justice Fitzgerald said he thought it best to strike the matter out and go all over it again so to keep the record clear.

Attorney Gleason reformed the hypothetical question, this time basing it on the law of insanity as laid down by the statutes of the state of New York.

Dr. Wiley again declared he was competent to answer the question.

"What is your opinion based on the form of insanity as laid down by the law of this state?" asked Mr. Gleason.

"The act was that of an insane man," Mr. Jerome led the witness through a long series of questions dealing with his opinion of subjects and asking him his opinion as an expert on most of these.

The district attorney's purpose to break up as far as possible the doctor's influence with the jury was apparent.

"Are you a mythologist?" asked Mr. Jerome.

"No."

"Have you studied the subject?"

"Not extensively."

"As a matter of fact, do you know what mythology is?"

"Yes."

"Is mythology an act or a direct act?"

Dr. Wiley would not venture a decision.

"You say a delusion is the result of a pathological condition?"

"Yes."

"Then the defendant's delusion must have come from a pathological condition?"

"Yes, coupled with a functional condition."

"Is it possible for a function to be abnormal unless there is a disease?"

"Yes, a dilated artery for instance."

"But a dilated artery has nothing to do with the case of Harry Kendall Thaw, has it?"

"No."

Dr. Wiley then defined a delusion as an "erroneous conclusion arising from false premises."

Mr. Jerome wanted to know if Dr. Wiley believed in Christian Science.

The doctor did not answer directly, but was pinned closely to the question by Mr. Jerome. He finally replied that he did not.

Asked then if he did not think all conclusions, and suffering from delusions, were therefore insane, Dr. Wiley replied that "conclusions may be right, but their premises may be wrong."

This line of questioning soon led to a wordy clash between attorney and witness in which Mr. Jerome interjected the witness' replies with a loudly exclamation. "Did I ask you that? Did I? Answer me."

"No," witness confessed.

tion did you base your conclusion as to insanity?"

"By the fact that the man, sitting with a party, suddenly arose and without provocation."

"Is there anything in the question about provocation?" Jerome interrupted.

"No," Dr. Wiley replied with a show of feeling.

"It was the manner of the man, the witness went on, 'and the fact that he raised his hand in a peculiar way.'"

"Stop," shouted Mr. Jerome angrily. "Is there anything in this question about peculiar?"

The witness hesitated; then admitted there was not.

He again took up the line of his deductions of the hypothetical question.

"The remark to his wife, 'I have saved your life,' was another reason for the conclusion."

"Did it not occur to you that after firing three bullets into the body of his victim the man held his revolver aloft to indicate that his deed was done and that there was to be no further killing, and that he wanted to avert a panic on this roof garden where there were hundreds of women and children?"

"That entered into the calculation."

"Did motive have no bearing?"

"Yes, I read the papers and I deduced."

"Stop. Did the question of motive make so light an impression in your mind that when you come here to testify as a scientific man you want to impart into the case what you read in the newspapers?"

The witness was silent.

"Did not this man raise his hand and his revolver to indicate that there was to be no further killing?"

"Possibly, but as I was saying—"

"Will you please refrain from volunteering information for which I do not ask?" corrected Mr. Jerome. "Answer my question and nothing else. I have asked this many times and I don't want to have to do it again."

"When did you get here?" asked Mr. Jerome.

"Wednesday."

"And you talked with counsel?"

"Yes, about the case."

"About the hypothetical question?"

The witness fairly shouted the answer. He also shouted angrily. Thaw sat apparently unperturbed throughout the grilling of the witness by the district attorney. He kept his head bowed as he made notes on sheets of paper, lifting his eyes now and then to look at Dr. Wiley.

"Is not jealousy rage the dominant element in the mind of every man who kills from jealousy?" asked Mr. Jerome.

"There may be other elements."

"Stop that volunteering and answer my question."

"I'll come more of your conclusions from the hypothetical question," he requested.

"The time, the manner and the place chosen—"

"So," shouted the district attorney, "you think the place was chosen for the crime, do you?"

"No, my argument is that it was not chosen."

"I don't want your argument; keep it out of this. What is your opinion—was the place chosen?"

"Yes."

"Now, as to manner—do you think that because this man with malice and hatred walked over to him and fired three bullets into his body with the revolver held so close that the face was burned by the powder—do you think that was an act of insanity?"

"Yes."

"Then the killing of any person in a jealous rage is per se an act of insanity?"

Mr. Jerome took the witness over every incident of the night of the tragedy and asked him if in each case he thought Thaw's acts were those of an insane man.

The witness finally summed up his answers as follows:

"Taken alone, they do not impress me so, but taken together they do."

"We have gone over the entire case," said Mr. Jerome, "now tell me, did you arrive at your opinion that he was insane from the facts of that night alone?"

After a discussion as to the relative merits of opinion and impressions during which he was again taken to task by the district attorney, Dr. Wiley said the occurrences of the night of the tragedy had not wholly convinced him.

BIRDS' NESTS MADE ROUND.

New Orleans Times-Democrat: The little, abandoned nest had fallen from the tree. The nature student lifted it from the frozen ground.

"How round it is," he said. "No cup rim could be rounder. Don't you wonder how the bird, with neither rule nor compass, can make her nest so round?"

"Well, she does it easily. She builds the nest about her own breast, turning round and round in it, and its circular character comes spontaneously and inevitably."

"The circle is found everywhere in the buildings of the lower animals. The straight line, on the other hand, they can never achieve."

A PATRIOT.

"The late Gen. Shafter," said a soldier, "had a contempt for military posers. Those who flourished stumps and limps like medals got no sympathy from him."

"In San Francisco I once heard him ridicule these military posers. He said there was a general of volunteers who got his leg scratched by a cannon wheel in a retreat and forever after nursed and glorified the trifling wound, growing lazier and lazier as the years passed, in order that his bravery might never be forgotten."

"One day a young man from the West, calling on the general's daughter, met the old warrior."

"I see you're lame, sir," said the young man.

"Yes," said the general, pompously. "I am lame."

"Slip on the ice?"

"No, sir," said the general, with a frown.

"Not an automobile mixup, I hope?"

"No, sir; it was not an automobile mixup. The general spoke ferociously. 'The general rose. He set his lame leg tenderly on the floor, he hobbled to the door. Frowning back savagely from the threshold, he shouted: "Go, you young pup!" of your country, you young puppy!"

Omega Oil

For Rheumatism A good doctor says that while people are using Omega Oil for Rheumatism, they ought to drink two or three glasses of water at night and two or three more glasses in the morning. The Oil goes in through the pores, destroys the acids which cause Rheumatism, and the blood carries the destroyed acid to the kidneys, where it is filtered out. By drinking plenty of water, the kidneys are well washed out, and in this manner the rheumatic poisons are removed from the system. You have probably noted that in all sickness the simplest treatments do the most good. Nothing is simpler than drinking pure water, and rubbing the body and muscles, and tendons, and joints with Omega Oil. 10c., 25c., 50c.

DENIES THAT HE IS A SMUGGLER

Frank P. Hannifin Says He Will Clear Himself of Charge.

Benidji, Minn., Feb. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—Frank P. Hannifin, who lived in Benidji three years ago and was proprietor of the Markham hotel, and who is also well known in Wadena and other points near the latter place, has written a letter from Broken Arrow, Indian Territory, his present home, in which he gives an explanation of his recent arrest by a deputy United States marshal, on a charge of having smuggled wheat into North Dakota from Canada.

Mr. Hannifin states that when he was running a bank in a small town in North Dakota, three miles from the Canadian line, three years ago, a party of farmers brought in a carload of wheat. They asked Mr. Hannifin to advance them a certain sum of money on the wheat, which they were going to ship. Mr. Hannifin replied that he would not advance money that way, but he would advance the money if they would allow him to consign the wheat in his name. Upon receiving returns from the car, he would take out what he advanced, and would turn the balance over to them. This, Mr. Hannifin says, was done.

Some time afterward a new government customs inspector arrived in the town. He applied to Mr. Hannifin for a loan of $100 on his note, and Mr. Hannifin pressed the inspector to pay it. The inspector left the country owing Hannifin the money, according to the statement of the latter.

More than a year afterwards, Mr. Hannifin left the town for the sixth, and he was indicted for smuggling. He was not present, and did not appear at the trial, and the charge that had been made against him, Mr. Hannifin says he believes that the inspector whom he pressed on to advance the money to, was largely responsible for his arrest. He says he knows nothing about the wheat which he was charged with smuggling, and that he will clear himself of the charge against him.

Mr. Hannifin assures his friends that when he returns to Fargo, next spring, to answer to the charge of having smuggled the wheat, he will speedily put his accusers to flight, and that he will be able to positively and quickly prove the baseness of the charge against him.

TRIBUTE TO WADSWORTH

Every Member of House Joined in Remarkable Demonstration.

Senate Almost Certain to Decide in Favor of Smoot.

FROM THE HERALD WASHINGTON BUREAU.

Washington, Feb. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—There have been times in the past when the house of representatives has gone wild with applause, but on these occasions the outbreak has been usually confined to one side or the other. The outbreak which greeted Representative James W. Wadsworth, on Wednesday last, when he delivered his "valedictory" was unique in that every man on the floor, Democrats as well as Republicans, without a single exception, joined in the remarkable demonstration.

It was at the conclusion of the consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill, a measure of which Mr. Wadsworth has had charge.

His object was to show to his associates by the testimony of the authorities of the department of agriculture that the measure, as framed by Mr. Wadsworth and his committee, last spring, had accomplished exactly what it was intended to do.

Senator Beveridge and the people wanted. It has provided a complete and perfect inspection of meat food products, and has restored the confidence of the consumer in the cleanliness and purity of the meats which are sold.

Mr. Wadsworth will probably not again have occasion to address the house during the four weeks which he will remain a member. His closing speech was a well considered, dignified defense of the committee which he had presided over for twelve years, and as such met with the cordial and hearty approval of every man on the floor. It was a tribute to the man who has the good will of every one of his associates.

Nothing demonstrates the growth of the United States better than the enormous increase in the annual appropriations for the department of agriculture during the past twelve years, the period covered by Mr. Wadsworth's service as chairman of the committee on agriculture. The total amount carried by the bill in the first year of his service was $1,250,000, while the budget for the fiscal year of 1908 is approximately $1,500,000, an increase of nearly 400 per cent in twelve years.

On Feb. 20 the United States senate will take final action on the case of Senator Reid Smoot of Utah, and on that date it is expected that the senate will give the Utah senator a clear title to the seat which he has been occupying for four years. Never before in the history of the United States senate has there been a similar case. Senator Smoot took the oath of office during the special session of the senate in 1903. A protest was filed and the committee on privileges and elections was directed to inquire into his right to retain his seat. They examined a number of witnesses during the following December, and closed the case for his prosecution a day or two before Christmas. Chairman Burrows gave Mr. Smoot until June 1, 1904, to prepare and present his side of the case. But no attempt has since been made to get an expression of the senate during the present session. But no attempt has since been made to get an expression of the senate during the present session.

During the four years which he has filled the position of one of the senators from Utah Mr. Smoot has conducted himself in all respects as a dignified gentleman. Not an iota of evidence has ever been produced to show that there was any reason why he is not in every way qualified to continue in the position to which the Texans have been made during the past few years. The committee on naval affairs to adopt a new invention in the way of explosive shells. Briefly the invention might be described as an aerial loaded with dynamite. The idea is to send a charge of the highest known explosive against the hull of a ship, and to explode it on the outside. It is claimed by the inventor that the explosion of a large charge of dynamite against armor plate, no matter how thick, would result in shattering the protective belt, as well as the side of the vessel.

The committee on naval affairs has been asked to authorize an experiment of the battleship Texas as a target, and it is argued that if the invention is not all that is claimed for it, comparative tests will result. On the other hand, if the invention is as effective as claimed, it will demonstrate the comparative uselessness of vessels of the Texas type.

The Texas was one of the first battleships built for the navy. She is now sixteen years old, and has been a "hoop-doo" since her keel was laid. More accidents have happened on and around her than have occurred in connection with any other vessel in the navy. No officer cares for an assignment to her quarters and even the most experienced sailors are reluctant to go on board.

The vessel is obsolete, and the navy department, as well as the members of the naval committee of congress, are quite willing to permit the experiment. But it is feared that if she should be made a target for this new explosive shell, it would result in a severe setback to the naval program. The president, as well as the navy experts, have come to the conclusion that battleships are no longer a means of coast defense, but that they are a liability. legislature of Utah elected him. His personal life has been shown to be as clear as that of any of his colleagues.

He has conducted himself so as to command their respect. It is natural, therefore, that the impression should be made that the senate will sustain the senator in his seat, by a majority which will be emphatic, and it is the belief of half of the senate.

Beginning March 1, the salary of a senator will be $7,500 a year, and at the same time the members of the house of representatives will draw $6,000 a year.

This peculiar condition arises from the clause in the appropriation bill which provides that each member, not a chairman of a committee, may draw $125 each month for clerical assistance.

In the senate each senator has the privilege of appointing a member to be paid, upon signing the pay roll, by the disbursing officer of the upper house.

Up to the present time and for the past ten years, representatives have been permitted to draw $100 each month after signing a certificate in which they declare that he had paid or had agreed to pay that sum for clerical help.

Under the new law no such certificate is required, and a member can get a clerk for $25 or $50 per month—and many don't pay even that much upon that date.

It is estimated that fully 10 per cent of the membership of the house has so little to do that they refrain from drawing $1,500 each year for that reason.

Efforts have been made during the past few years to adopt a new invention on naval affairs to adopt a new invention in the way of explosive shells.

Briefly the invention might be described as an aerial loaded with dynamite. The idea is to send a charge of the highest known explosive against the hull of a ship, and to explode it on the outside.

The total receipts during the month, according to the receiver's report, amounted to $18,850.98, while the usual average amounts to about $20,000. Receiver Morrison says that the president's order coming as it did only a few days before the end of the month, probably cut down the receipts somewhere between $2,000 and $3,000, and there were several final proof hearings which could not be completed after the order was received.

From the sale of public lands the sum of $1,736.22 was realized. From the sale of Indian and Chippewa agricultural lands $538.52 was received, and the remainder, $848.28 came in from fees and commissions.

APPRECIATION OF DON H. BACON

Career of Former Duluth Man is Reviewed in Munsey's.

In the current issue of Munsey's appears an extensive article by Herbert N. Casson, reviewing the steel and iron industries of America, dealing particularly with the iron mining and manufacturing, and development of the Colorado. Pictures of a number of the men who have been prominent in the mining and mills in those states are given, among them being one of Don H. Bacon, who formerly was president of the Minnesota Iron company, and resided in Duluth until the time he became president of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company.

His advancement in mining work was rapid and he has shown exceptional ability in every field where he has been employed. He started to work at Ishpeming as a work in the Iron Mining and Iron Mining company's office, and within a few years was advanced to the management of the company's business in that city.

leaving there to come to Minnesota, where he was in charge of the mining operations of the Minnesota Iron company for some time prior to accepting the presidency of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company.

The following is Mr. Casson's reference to Mr. Bacon and his work:

"How the Tennessee Coal and Iron was reconstructed—how an old, strong, rugged man went down from Minnesota and back to Tennessee to take up his old life, and how he has been a great success in the Tennessee Coal and Iron company—this is a story itself, sparkling with adventure and drama, and it is a story that will interest every one who reads it."

"Don H. Bacon is the name of the man from Minnesota. Like 95 per cent of the steel kings, he was a graduate of the school of toil. He began in a mining camp in the state of Minnesota, where he was first employed by the iron mines of Minnesota were first uncovered. Bacon was one of the crowd that surged for the purpose of securing only one of the few 'wreck' and 'wreck' he had become president of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company."

"Bacon is a man of the 'Old Hickory' sort. He would sooner work than play, and he got his fill in Alabama. He found that the Tennessee Coal and Iron was an immense, loose-organized concern. Its ore and coal lands were vast, but they were scattered over a large area, and they were not allowed to have a free hand in his work of reconstruction. The company had passed into the hands of a group of financiers, and they were not allowed to have a free hand in his work of reconstruction."

The Beautiful Victor Victrola

The Finest Machine Made

Price $200

The cut is an exact photograph of this newest addition to the Victor family.

Just lift the lid and there is disclosed the turn-table of a Victor, with all the devices for reproducing song or speech.

But where is the horn? Perhaps you expect that from some corner of the room we must produce one and attach it as usual to the top of the cabinet.

But you are mistaken, for there is no horn; the instrument is complete in itself. There it stands ready to delight you, even as the regular types of Victors have done, time and time again.

Just open the two little doors and the melody pours forth. Don't you see we have simply reversed the ordinary practice? We take the sound, as it were, by the hand, and lead it down from the sound-box above the record through the tone tubes to a mahogany horn below rather than to a horn above, and modify the volume as we please by closing and opening, more or less, these doors.

And we get by this new process a mellow richness in the tones which comes nearer than ever to that goal of perfection which we seek in reproducing the voice or the musical instrument with all its natural color and feeling.

Where then is the record? Just here at hand, the large doors fly open and one of the albums of records is withdrawn and you are ready for an overture to your program.

We invite all to come in and hear this most marvelous (for marvelous it certainly is) of all Talking Machines.

Our $47.20 Combination

Consisting of Victor Machine No. 3—a fine quartered oak machine, new design, with 10-inch turn-table. Will play all size Records (as will all Victor Machines), with japanned brass-trimmed horn or No. 19 black flower horn, and 1 dozen 10-inch Records.

TERMS: $7.00 Cash, $6.00 a Month, or $1.50 a Week.

Our $57.20 Combination

Consisting of Victor Machine No. 4—fine mahogany cased machine, with 10-inch turn-table. Pays 5 10-inch Records with one winding, with black japanned brass-trimmed horn or black japanned flower horn, and 1 dozen 10-inch Records.

TERMS: $10 Cash, $6.00 a Month, or $1.50 a Week.

Our $107.20 Combination

Consisting of Victor Machine No. 6—a fine solid mahogany machine, gold plated mountings—12-inch turn-table, full ball-bearing—full 24-inch brass flower horn or mahogany horn. A superb machine—noiseless, and a magnificent reproducer; with 1 dozen 10-inch Records.

"Say, Bo, I don't mind my glad rags last night, blows up to the Armory, passed in a buck through the window, and draws a pasteboard good for passage on the ball at the door.

"Beat it," said the bull, when he claps his peepers on me. "This is no place for you."

"Nuttin' doin' tonight," says I. "I'm on the level here, and no light fingered work goes. You guys have pinched me so often, that it would seem like throwin' down a friend if I didn't patronize your hon."

"Is that on the dead level?" says the bull.

"You can bet your star on it," I says, and the bull passes me, telling me that if there was anything missed, he'd know where to look for it.

"So I slides in, passes over my horse blanket to the kid in the check room, and sizes up the bunch. They were all there. I didn't miss none of them. I left a few outside when I come in, but they must a come in right after me.

"The chief was there, looking as if he'd swallowed a feather duster and it was ticklin' him to death. He was shakin' his legs in a waltz when I first spotted him, an' he was gettin' younger every minute.

"Just then I turned around and found a fairy in pale blue standin' near me. On the level, Bo, I nearly took the count as soon as I fixed her with my blinkers. She got right to my mind, and had me going from the tap of the song. I stalled for about half a round, and then staked her to a wink. She blushed and looked the other way, but I could see she wasn't sore, so I braced up to her and tears of a line of talk like the "Advice to Young Girls" in the Sunday supplement.

"Just as I was waltzin' out a home, a guy with an ingrown face, comes up an' asks her if it wasn't his dance. Says, Bo, I just threw out my chest, and asked him if he hadn't got into the wrong flat. He looked me over and says he guessed there was a mistake somewhere, and the next one was his. I was the candy kid all right from that time on. I had the center of the stage and the spot light.

"Well, we had a waltz and a two-step, and then I figured it was time for the cats. And the guy they were serving it out, was sure there with the cook book. He passed us over some cold turkey, some potato salad, and a cup of coffee and I said, 'Can't you make it a couple of buckets of suds?' I says to the guy, and then I saw in a minute I had made a bum lead. She froze up like a statue, and I saw I was in for a chilly nut unless I covered pretty quick. There was nothing else for it, so I comes right down and hands out an apology, and she took it like a thoroughbred.

"Just about that time her mother wig-wags to her, and she says she has to go.

"I gets my blanket out of hock, hikes back to my room and hits the straw. But say, Bo, I got her name and address, and I'm going out to see her next week. She's got to be a good proper. I swallowed the bait and line and all, and this morning I'm looking for a job. Bein' bashful of the cops don't go with this boy any more.

"But say, I started out to tell you about the dance, and hit an open switch. It was all to the candy. There was nuttin' to it that's all. I didn't see me friend Mrs. Stivvy Fish there, but they didn't seem to be losing weight over her absence, and the crowd was as respectable as a Baptist church. They hit it up until 2 o'clock and never laid a hair."

the shipper and rewarding the railroad for doing what it was its duty to do, and the patron's right to have it do.

"This cuts some of the reciprocity out of the bill, for it still provides that the patrons, if they handle cars in less than the prescribed time, shall have credit for the time saved.

"When the bill was reported to the house by the committee last evening W. A. Nolan, its author, moved that the measure be made a special order for 2 o'clock on the evening of Feb. 13, and the motion was adopted.

Railroad matters were up before two committees at the capitol yesterday. The Sunday committee, formed to investigate the cost of railroads and to report during the session of the legislature heard a little about the magnitude of its task from the expert employed by the railroad and warehouse commission, D. P. Morgan, who has been working for a year and expects to keep on working for another year on the house committee on railroads took up the reciprocal demurrage bill again, and put in a busy and interesting afternoon thrashing over its provisions.

"The railroad committee hearing was adjourned as a public hearing, and it had been expected that the railroads would attempt to pick flaws in the bill were made by members of the committee.

"John J. Lennon, of the little ones, said that he was opposed to the bill because it was in the interests of the big shippers and against the little ones, and because it would form a beautiful means for the railroads to successfully give rebates. He said that if a big shipper wanted rebates, and the railroads wanted to give them, all the shipper would have to do would be to order a lot more cars than he needed, and then collect demurrage at the end of the month.

"W. A. Nolan, author of the bill, said that it was absurd to charge that the big shippers were for the bill, because they opposed it bitterly two years ago. He said that as a matter of fact the bill is against the interests of the big shippers, because it will force the railroads to give fair play to the little fellows, and supply them with cars when they want them instead of letting the big ones them all up.

L. C. Spooner of Morris, chairman of the committee, took exception to the clause giving railroads allowance for "free time." The bill allows a railroad three days in which to deliver a car after it has been ordered, and provides that if it is delivered within that time the unexpired period of the three days shall be a credit in favor of the railroads against further delays. Mr. Spooner argued that it was the duty of the railroad to furnish the cars, and the legal right of the shipper to get them promptly, and he did not see the justice in penalizing the shipper and rewarding the railroad for doing its plain duty. On the other hand, the shipper and the railroad, after which the committee voted to recommend it to pass.

Representative Randall of Duluth has another meritorious measure of vast importance which he proposes to introduce at an early date. It is designed to commence on May 1, and at all times when they are permitted to travel on the public highways. The muzzled muzzle of a dog, or a snarling dog, is not to be allowed a little time in which to buy muzzles, but the manufacturer may have to work overtime to meet the demand.

Randall says his bill will protect sheep, prevent rabies, and stop dog-fighting.

The usual dispute about when the legislature is to adjourn has been started, and it will be settled in the usual way. The constitution says that the legislature may adjourn for ninety legislative days. The dispute is over the question of whether that means ninety days on which the legislature actually does meet, or ninety days on which it might have met. This latter view cuts out only Sundays and holidays, of which there are two, and would end the session April 25. The former view would cut out all the Fridays, Saturdays and Mondays on which the legislature does not meet, and would run the session well over May 1. This view has never been accepted, however, the policy being to continue only "ninety legislative days" to mean days on which the legislature could have met had it been so disposed. The session will end April 25.

A bill based on the Kansas law against the Standard Oil company is being prepared, and will be introduced in the legislature some time this week. It will prohibit discriminations in prices against localities, thus doing away with the practice of the oil octopus of killing competitors in one section by lowering prices, while keeping up the price in other sections by maintaining the price. The bill would require that if any reductions are made they shall be the same all over the state, and the only difference between the prices of a commodity allowed in different places would be that accounted for by the differences in freight charges. A similar bill has been introduced before, but it has never met with success as yet.

Charges are being made in political circles, perhaps emanating from other possible candidates for the Republican nomination for governor, that the $50,000 contingent fund asked for the attorney general's office is likely to be used as a campaign fund to boost Attorney General Young's candidacy for governor. It is pretty well understood that he is nursing such an ambition. However, a pretty good argument is put up in favor of the need of such an appropriation, and certain it is that the general follows to a successful conclusion all the suits he has taken and he will need all the contingent fund he can get hold of.

Talk of a compromise on the 2-cent fare bill, referred to in this correspondence, does not sit well with those members who really want to see a bill go through. The railroads are understood to be willing to concede mileage books that would amount very nearly to a 2-cent fare, but the bill favors the measure are unable to see any reason why the rate should not be made for everybody, to every place in the state and at any time. While a 50-mile book at 2 cents a mile would be all very well, it would not help a man who intended to make a trip of twenty, fifty or a hundred miles, and who is not able to invest in a mileage book. And that man, friends of the bill protest, is an individual entitled to consideration as the man who has spare change to tie up in mileage books.

At last evening's session Representative Sawyer introduced a bill providing that there shall be held at each state normal school summer sessions of twelve weeks, under the supervision of the state normal board. The bill appropriates $30,000 to pay the expenses.

Mr. Sawyer also introduced a bill appropriating $15,000 for a college of education, to train superintendents of schools, high school teachers and principals of graded schools. This would form a sort of upper grade normal school. The bill suggests no location, but Mr. Sawyer is from Minneapolis, and it is supposed that the intention is to have the school located along side the state university.

The same author produced a bill requiring that physiology, hygiene and narcotics shall be studied in all the public schools of the state.

Representative Libby of Winona, offered a bill levied at the deadly automobile. It provides that upon a majority vote of the residents of a township, the authorities may close to automobiles any "road considered dangerous." And this does not mean dangerous to autos, either. It means that if a majority of the people decide that there is so much traffic on any road that autos are likely to stampede teams or run over people, it shall be "no thoroughfare" for the hunk wagon.

Dr. J. A. Gates introduced a bill providing a closed season on prairie chickens and quail during the next two years.

Speaker Johnson, by request, introduced a bill appropriating $75 for the relief of one John P. Elmberg. Two years ago Elmberg happened to be in the house gallery when a photographer was taking a picture of the statesman, and he claims that the picture-maker let off a sudden flash of calcium light that injured his eyesight.

Corporations must pay their employees at least twice a month under a bill offered last night by Representative Murphy of Minneapolis.

This afternoon the house railroad committee is to have a public hearing on the 2-cent fare bill. The railroads are expected to be represented by their attorneys, but they were expected to be represented by the reciprocal demurrage hearing and were not. However, in their absence the committee recommended the reciprocal demurrage bill to pass, and it is likely that that result will cause the railroads to waive the objection to coming up without a formal invitation, and will take judicial notice of the fact that there is a public hearing on.

Representative Libby of Winona has prepared for introduction a bill making it a misdemeanor to fraudulently brand gold or silver. That means that nobody will be permitted to brand a plated spoon "sterling silver," and that 3-cent gold rings marked "18-carat" will subject somebody to a peek of trouble.

In committee of the whole last night the house recommended for passage Bill number Adams bill abolishing private banks. There was no debate, and not a dissenting voice. After several immaterial amendments had been made, its author moved that when the committee arose it recommend the bill for passage, and his motion carried unanimously.

The house last night passed the Hicks bill providing that where a parent or guardian institute a personal injury suit for a child or ward, they must give bonds to the probate court before they are allowed to take the money that the verdict results in.

YOUNG ARTIST DIES FROM HER INJURIES.

Cleveland, Ohio, Feb. 5.—Mary Gardner Masterson, the young woman who was seriously burned by the explosion of a gasoline lamp in her home in West Twenty-sixth street, Sunday night, when her visitor, John Burke, was burned to death, died yesterday. Miss Masterson was an artist of considerable talent, and in the room where the explosion occurred were a number of paintings on which she had received substantial awards in this and foreign countries. These were practically ruined.

STEP 1: GET THE FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

THE people everywhere are tired and disgusted with the trusts' un-American methods. The most effective way to fight any trust is to refuse to buy their goods wrongfully acquired. Uncle Sam Oil Co. entered the arena of the fight at almost exactly the right hour. It has met with astonishingly rapid success from the word go. It has an army of over 100,000 men and women all over the continent. All this company has to do is to install its distributing stations all over the country and manufacture its oils and make sure of a certain sale. It has already installed more than four hundred main distributing stations, to enlarge capacity of all certain refineries to five thousand barrels per day or better, to finish main trunk lines and to build up a new company will sell five millions in bonds at par, which will also put in accepted the latter, and have been purchasing the same since they commenced. BILL INCREASING THE SALARIES OF JUDGES IS PASSED BY THE SENATE Provides $7,000 for Supreme and $5,000 for District Judges.

Large Counties Must Pay $1,000 Additional to County Judges.

Will Reduce the Amount Now Paid by St. Louis County.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

St. Paul, Feb. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The senate, this morning, passed the bill increasing the salaries of supreme court judges to $7,000, and of district judges to $5,000, with the provision that in counties of more than 100,000 population the county shall pay $1,000 additional annually to each judge. Senator Laybourn secured unanimous consent to make an amendment, putting the St. Louis county judges under the same provision as those in the Twin Cities, stating that the judges of this county had as much work to do as those in St. Paul and Minneapolis. If not more. There was no objection to the amendment, and the bill passed the senate by a vote of 38 to 21. St. Louis county is now paying its judges $4,500 each, in addition to the $3,500 paid by the state, so while this bill will raise their salaries $1,000 each, it will reduce the amount of it paid by the county to $300 each. Senators Sageng, C. A. Johnson, and Canestorp spoke against the bill. Sageng thought the legislature should not loosen the purse strings. Johnson thought it was too great a raise, and Canestorp said the people did not want the increase.

Senator Canfield called up his resolution urging the passage of the La Follette bill limiting the hours of railroad employment, and after a debate, it was put over to the next morning, the author's consent. First, however, Senator Seward moved that it be referred to the railroad committee, which motion was lost, 18 for and 37 against. The burden of the bill is that the senate had not seen a copy of the bill, and while it might accept the principle, it should not go on record in favor of details it knows nothing about. It was a copy of the bill of the bill could be produced by tomorrow, hence the postponement of action.

Senator Wilson offered a resolution.

DR. C. WILKINS DEAD.

Was Probably the Oldest Person in the Northwest.

Moorhead, Minn., Feb. 6.—Dr. C. Wilkins, who was perhaps the oldest person in the Northwest, died Monday at Moorhead at the age of 104 years. He was born in France in the days when Napoleon was just coming into power. For forty-five years he practiced medicine. The past two years he resided at the home of his son, N. W. Wilkins, of Moorhead. The funeral was held yesterday from St. Joseph's Catholic church.

WINNIPEG BONSPIEL

TESTS OF AIRSHIPS

Opening Delayed by the Slim Attendance of Rinks.

Less Than Ninety Rinks Will Start in Dingwall Event.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The bonspiel was scheduled to commence this morning, but, owing to the blockade of rinks, the initial drawing was not held until 11 o'clock this morning. The prospects could not be better for Smith and Myron, the two Duluth rinks, who feel confident of taking back some of the trophies. Less than ninety rinks will start in the Dingwall competition this afternoon. Owing to the blockade of rinks, many rinks are absent. To add to the inconvenience, interest in the bonspiel seems to be waning, the old time curler with his Tam o' Shanter, broom and his "hoot mon" being conspicuous by his absence this year. A large number of country visitors expected have apparently decided not to risk spending several days snow-bound in railroad cars. In short, no visitor would know a bonspiel is on. Play will start at 1:30 this afternoon in the Dingwall trophy. Myron of Duluth plays Nichols of the Civic Winnipeg. Smith is not in the first draw. Dunbar of St. Paul plays McIntyre of the Winnipeg Grantes.

RAILROADS STAND PAT

In Opposition to the Two-Cent Passenger Fare Bill.

Say Rates Cannot be Reduced Without Deteriorating Service.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

St. Paul, Feb. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The house committee on railroads took up the two-cent fare bill at a public hearing yesterday afternoon, at which the railroads were largely represented, and the railroad men promptly disposed of the idea that they are going to propose any compromise, as has been suggested frequently of late.

They stood pat on the present maximum rate of 3 cents per mile, and said that any reduction from that would cut into railroad earnings, and eventually, depreciate the quality of the passenger service in Minnesota.

The hearing was started in the house railroad committee room, but it had hardly begun before it became necessary to adjourn to the senate chamber, the senate not being in session, and the gathering filled that room comfortably.

The railroads were represented by L. B. Brown of Winona, a prominent attorney.

YOUNG MONEY ON TRIAL. Greenwood, Miss., Feb. 6.—The jury which is to try James D. Money, Jr., a nephew of United States Senator Money of Mississippi on a charge of killing L. J. Henderson, will be completed today. Four more jurors are needed, eight having been chosen yesterday.

Will be Made by Gen. Allen for the Army.

Most Extensive Experiments to Occur at Fort Omaha.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Quietly, but with a determination to satisfy himself on the subject, Gen. Allen, chief signal officer of the army, has been making preparations for most extensive experiments with balloons, airships and aeroplanes, with the view to settling upon some system of aerial navigation for use in operations of the army, either in times of peace or war. Recently there arrived in this country from France a type of balloon used by the French army, which was purchased by the signal corps in order that its merits might be tested in competition with balloons of American make, while in New York there is being constructed an immense balloon, in which it is proposed that the men of the corps shall make their trial ascents. It is the intention to conduct the experiments.

WITNESS TESTIFIES THAT WHITE HAD THREATENED TO KILL HARRY K. THAW

Threat Was Made at the Garden Theater in 1903.

White Had Called at Stage Door to See Evelyn Nesbit.

Angered When He Learned She Had Gone With Thaw.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Feb. 6.—Stanford White, displaying a pistol, threatened to take the life of Harry K. Thaw, according to the evidence of a witness introduced by the defense today. White had called at the Garden theater, where Evelyn Nesbit was playing, on Christmas eve, 1903, and it was after he had been told the young lady had gone away with Thaw that White, after saying: "Oh, that Pittsburgh," was heard later to remark: "I'll find and kill that — before daylight."

This testimony was offered by Ben-

FRANCIS P. GARVAN, Assistant to Attorney Jerome, Who Made the Opening Address For the State in the Thaw Trial.

Jamin Boman, who was the stage doorkeeper at the time of the incident. Mr. Jerome conducted a searching cross-examination, but the witness held to his original story in every detail. He answered with an emphatic "no" when the district attorney asked him if he had received Attorney Jerome Fails to Shake Testimony of the Witness.

Delphine Delmas Has Assumed Charge of the Defense.

District Attorney Finds in Him a Worthy Opponent.

Delphine M. Delmas, the California lawyer, today assumed active charge of the Thaw defense, and Mr. Jerome found in him a capable opponent. There were several interesting tilts between the two, Mr. Delmas always referring to his adversary as "the learned district attorney." The countess of Yarmouth and Mrs. George Lander Carnegie, sisters of the defendant, were in the courtroom today. Mrs. William Thaw accompanied them.

STEAMERS IN DANGER

Two Are Anchored Within 100 Yards of Breakers.

Both Apparently Disabled and Need Assistance.

Halifax, N. S., Feb. 6.—Two unknown ocean steamships, one of which is known to be disabled and the other is thought to be, are anchored in a dangerous position at Ketchikan harbor, a few miles west of this city and the lives of those on board are in peril. The ships are less than a quarter of a mile off shore and within 100 yards of the breakers. A tremendous sea is running and the spray from the surf has been dashing over the vessels, freezing as it falls. The steamers have fired several guns and are sending up rockets, but on account of the terrific sea no aid could be given the vessels tonight.

One of the Ketchikan pilots said that one of the steamers was the Mystic of the Dominion Coal company's fleet engaged in the Louisburg-Boston trade. The two steamers arrived at Ketchikan harbor, a small cove between Sambo Island and the entrance to Ketchikan harbor, during a thick snow storm yesterday afternoon. One steamer was towing the other. At dark they displayed signals of distress and guns were discharged at intervals during the night.

Two tug boats were sent to the scene from this city but they could render no assistance in the thick snowstorm and were obliged to return. Later the Canadian government steamer Aber-

FOREIGN COMPANY

Has No Right to Condemn Montana Lands, Says Court.

Important Decision is Handed Down in Stub Toe State.

Helena, Mont., Feb. 6.—A decision of far-reaching import was handed down yesterday by the supreme court when it held that neither by the constitution or the laws of the state is a foreign corporation authorized to exercise the right of eminent domain. The Helena Power Transmission company, organized under the laws of New Jersey, brought suit to condemn the lands belonging to Al Spratt, which are now submerged by the waters, backed up by the company's dam across the Missouri. The suit was decided in favor of the company, but Spratt won the case yesterday. The court holds that the lands were wanted for a public use, but the company had no right to condemn them. The court says the decision is only applicable to foreign corporations of the respondent's character, the question not being considered with reference to any other class or character.

The City of Racine and Iowa Are Missing Boats.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Two steamers of the Goodrich line due to arrive in Chicago yesterday morning, are believed to have been caught in the ice of Lake Michigan. The City of Racine, and the Iowa, bound for this city from Grand Haven and Milwaukee, respectively, have not been heard from since sailing on Monday night. The passenger list of each boat numbers between thirty and forty persons. All trace of the boats has been lost, but it is declared by the officials of the company that it is improbable that they have met with any disaster. Both of them are thought to be held in an ice field.

ENTER A PLEA IN ABATEMENT

Counsel for Walsh Claim Grand Jury Refused Evidence.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—The attorneys of John R. Walsh, former president of the Chicago National bank, and recently indicted on charges of mismanagement of that institution, today entered a plea in abatement.

The plea was filed in the United States district court on the ground that certain explanatory evidence offered by Walsh had not been taken before the grand jury. It was claimed in behalf of Walsh that John R. Walsh had been given to the jury, no indictment would have been returned.

M'KINLEY MEMORIAL

Association Holds Meeting at Washington Behind Closed Doors.

Washington, Feb. 6.—A meeting of the National McKinley Memorial association was held here today behind closed doors. Justice Day, president of the association, presided.

Among the trustees of the association present were Postmaster General Cortelyou, Vice President Fairbanks, Gen. Gary of Baltimore, W. Broomfield of New York, William M. McConway of Pittsburgh, R. J. Lowry of Atlanta, Alexander R. Revell of Chicago and J. G. Milburn of Buffalo.

The report of the architect showing the present condition of the McKinley monument at Canton, and what is necessary to complete it, was read. Good progress is being made in that direction.

A hearing was given to a committee of three, headed by Mayor Turnbull of Canton, who are co-operating with the association in regard to the plan for the dedication of the monument in September.

EMPEROR PLEASED

William in Great Humor Over Result of Elections.

Berlin, Feb. 6.—Emperor William today is described as being in great humor over the result of the reballoting of the reichstag elections which occurred throughout the empire yesterday, and which emphasized the government victory of Jan. 25. The government now counts upon 157 to 210 members of the reichstag to support the colonial policy upon which the house was dissolved. The present position of the parties is as follows: Center, 107; Conservatives, 80; Agrarian and Anti-Semetic group, 28; National Liberals, 55; Radical groups, 46; Socialists, 43; Poles, 20; Alsace for the Germans, 7; Independents, 10; Catholic party, 1; Danish party, 1. The defeat of the Socialists in the kingdom of Saxony, where they lost forty-six seats, causes astonishment. Among the new members of the reichstag is Lieut. Gen. von Liebert, Conservative president of the Imperial league against the Socialists, which has nearly 100,000 members and which, next to the naval league, is the most powerful organization in Germany.

HIS DREAM TOO TRUE.

Remarkable Premonition of Young Operator of Lincoln Assassination.

Kansas City Star. A remarkable story of premonition, in which he saw his friend, John Wilkes Booth, at the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, is related by W. D. Bassett.

"When I was a young man I was railroad telegraph operator in Cameron, Mo. That winter we had a terrific snowstorm and trains were blocked for days. During the storm the eastbound express arrived at Cameron from St. Joseph, but could proceed no further, nor could it get back to St. Joseph, and the passengers found themselves snowbound in the little town which was then but a small railway station, possessing only one hotel. Upon this train was John Wilkes Booth, the noted actor, who afterwards assassinated President Lincoln. With him was his theatrical company en route to St. Louis and the East from a professional tour in California. The next morning the storm had spent itself, but it was painfully evident to the strangers that they were in for a long siege. The one little hotel could not accommodate all of the passengers, and the citizens had to come to their rescue, and each family entertained as many as they could.

"I was a young fellow scarcely of legal age then, and Booth with his remarkable good looks and his attractive personality captivated me. I had a nice private room and invited the actor to share it with me. He accepted my invitation gratefully, and then began my acquaintance with one of the most fascinating men I have ever met in a somewhat eventful life experience. He was charming, intelligent, and full of wit, and his admiration for himself in a way that was entrancing, but seemingly without effort on his part.

"The long winter nights we spent with music and reading to each other. He could sing and play the guitar divinely.

A dispatch from Globe, Ariz., to Paine, Weber & Co., says: "Old Dominion has struck chalcophite ore on the fourteenth level, a continuation of the ore body first shot opened on the thirteenth two months ago. The cross-cut has passed through four feet of ore averaging twenty per cent copper and fifteen per cent sulphur. This is in vein material that has been in ledge matter carrying low values and in a few days should reach the surface. The ore body is estimated to be over twenty feet wide. There is some chalcophite in the fourteenth level strike indicating this will be found in primary ore at greater depth which is of great importance. This information is absolutely reliable."

"I have never had a child," said Adams. "I want a little boy and would love to make him my heir. I will make him owner of every dollar I possess, with the single exception of my wife's dower rights. I will treat him exactly as if he were my own son."

ROADS TO SOCIAL SUCCESS.

New York Sun. It has frequently been said by persons who should know that the road to social success is not a simple one. It is a long and arduous one, and it is not a matter of getting into society, but the possession of money. Many cases in which men merely through experience in sports, have won a place for themselves in the highest society.

"This has been especially true of tennis," said one of a group of men at a dinner party last night. "The process of becoming socially popular through this sport is not difficult to explain."

The men who play well take part in the tournaments at Newport, and other summer resorts. The victor, or runner-up, is a social success. They are very much of a boulder not to be welcomed at the first houses in these places. In this way they make friends that remove from their paths many difficulties in the social ascent. These men are always welcomed as members of good clubs because men who play games well are in demand everywhere.

"Good polo playing is a mighty asset to the socially ambitious. Men who are adepts in this game must have other very objectionable qualities not to be received cordially everywhere."

"It is such athletic prowess rather than to the ability to play or sing or tell stories that men must look for their most rapid social advance. Athletics will take one higher than these other talents."

"One great advantage of the man who succeeds socially through his skill in sports is that he arrives through the men rather than the women. Men of the set, which so many are striving nowadays to enter have much more respect for the newcomers that are introduced by men than for those introduced by women."

This was the opinion of a man who has seen many young men climb to the social heights on which they had aspired. He said that he had seen many a young man who, through his athletic prowess, had won a place in the highest society. He said that he had seen many a young man who, through his athletic prowess, had won a place in the highest society. ROMANS USED SAFETY PINS.

Many Other "Modern" Inventions Recorded in Ancient History.

Every now and then it is discovered that some extremely "modern" invention is in reality exceedingly old. For example, the safety pin, far from being a novelty or even of recent origin, is decidedly ancient—a fact made certain by the finding of a great many such pins, fashioned exactly like those of today, in old Roman and Etruscan tombs dating back to a period one good deal earlier than the birth of Christ.

The safety pin, in fact, was an article of common use in Italy long before the Roman empire attained the height of its glory. Some of them were exactly like those today, utilizing the familiar principle of coiled spring and catch, says the Scientific American, but the material of which they were made seems always to have been bronze. They took on a development, however, far more remarkable than the modern safety pins, many of them being quite large affairs, ten inches or so in length and hollow, as if designed to be attached to the gown in front and possibly to contain something or other conceivably flowers. Not infrequently they were ornamented with gems.

Another ancient invention was the collar stud. It is true that the ancient Romans did not have buttons on their garments, but for this very reason safety pins were more urgently required, and the latter seem to have been supplemented by studs of bronze, which were in fact like those of today. Of course, people in those times were no collars; but the little contrivance in question having been found in other ways. Probably—and indeed the assumption is to a reasonable degree—that early epoch the same habit as now of rolling under a piece of furniture on slight protrusion for the purpose of eluding observation and pursuit, with the difference of the use of the collar stud.

Of all modern inventions none seems to be more typically modern than the so-called McGill paper fastener—the small brass contrivance used to fasten a number of sheets of paper together. Yet, though it has been patented, it was well known more than 200 years ago, being used by the soldiers of Rome as an incidental part of their costume. The belt of thin copper was fastened to a small ring, which was attached to a small bronze clasp with a series of little bronze chains exactly like the fastener of today.

The Smithsonian Institution at Washington has got together a very interesting collection of such ancient inventions. Among them are a number of pins, some of which are of bronze and some of which are of iron. They are of various shapes and sizes, some being like the modern safety pin, some being like the collar stud, and some being like the McGill paper fastener. They are all of various shapes and sizes, some being like the modern safety pin, some being like the collar stud, and some being like the McGill paper fastener.

The women in those days had bronze bodkins, made like those in use now, and for toilet purposes they used small tweezers of a pattern that has not been altered 200 years. To hold their hair in place they had little bits of bone, which they used to hold their hair in place. They used to hold their hair in place with little bits of bone, which they used to hold their hair in place.

Of course, the gentleman of ancient Rome was obliged to shave himself, for this purpose he used a razor which must have made the operation decidedly severe. It was not at all like modern razors, but was made of a small piece of metal, which was used to shave himself.

When Delmas Calls for Note Written by Mrs. Thaw.

Dramatic Scene in the Court Room During Thaw Trial.

New York, Feb. 6.—There was a dramatic scene in the courtroom this afternoon when Mr. Delmas called upon Mrs. Thaw to produce the paper note which was handed to Thaw by his wife at the Cafe Martin the night of White's killing.

Thomas McCabe testified that he saw Mrs. Thaw pass her husband a note at the table at the Cafe Martin the night of White's killing.

New York, Feb. 6.—Immediately after the witness McCabe left the stand in the Thaw trial he was served with a subpoena for the prosecution. Counsel for the prosecution declared that McCabe was not permitted to leave the jurisdiction of the court if it can be prevented.

For the first time since the beginning of the trial, the courtroom during the afternoon session was crowded to its utmost capacity by the general public, around the room which was being used for the trial. The women were out in all the front lines displaying every color of costume imaginable.

As Harry Thaw entered the courtroom, accompanied by his guard, the women turned and craned their necks to obtain a sight of his pallid face and to hear him whisper and rustle of his dress. The trial had trouble in getting within the doors. The women were out in all the front lines displaying every color of costume imaginable.

Justice Fitzgerald's order that all persons not having business in the courtroom should be kept out had evidently been disregarded and during the recess the opportunity was taken to fill the courtroom with people. As soon as Justice Fitzgerald appeared for the afternoon session, Mr. Jerome took up the argument against allowing the witness, Green, to leave the courtroom.

Justice Fitzgerald overruled Mr. Jerome's objection, and Mr. Green was directed to answer the question. Thaw's actions were irrational, he declared.

Mr. Jerome took up the cross-examination. He asked Mr. Green if he had ever had any experience with insane persons. "No, sir," he replied.

Mr. Green said that he was at the Garden for pleasure, but that he had been there for a long time.

torney, who ran as Democratic candidate against Congressman Tawney four years ago. While the railroad attorneys were present, he conducted the case for all the railroads of Minnesota, assisted by the traffic managers of the various lines, whom he presented to the committee to furnish information about the matter under consideration.

First, however, he presented the railroad side of the 2-cent fare proposition, in substance as follows:

"In spite of press reports to the contrary, the railroads are not ready to stand any reduction, whatever in the passenger rates. At the meeting of the traffic managers recently held, they were unanimously of that opinion."

"There has been talk to the effect that if the passes were cut off it would enable the railroads to reduce rates and still make money. I think I can be able to show you that this is not true. In the first place, to cut off newspaper transportation would mean no gain whatever. That is all paid for in advertising, and if it cannot be paid for in that manner it must be paid for in cash. To cut off exchange transportation, that if passes held by employees of one road good on the lines of another, would result in no saving, because in that event the railroads would have to pay for the transportation of their employees on other lines. This cuts it down to strictly complimentary passes, and these, if paid for in cash, would amount to about 1/2 of 1 per cent of the total passenger receipts. To cut off these passes would not materially affect the revenues."

"The passenger trains are run at a loss now, or at best upon a margin so small as to leave no room for profits. The rates cannot be cut one-third without deteriorating the service. This is not a threat, but a prediction of something that cannot fail to come to pass. While under a reduced rate railroads might maintain the present equipment, they could not afford to make improvements."

"At present 2 cents per mile is the maximum, but it is not the average. If the maximum is made 2 cents, it will be very near the minimum also, because there will be few reduced rate arrangements under a 2-cent law. The exact average of this state now is 2.32 cents per mile. What makes this low average? Not mileage books, as some may imagine. The 2-cent mileage books account for only 12 per cent of this, and only 70 per cent of those that make up this 12 per cent are traveling men. Last year the Omaha road gave 111 reductions in rates on special occasions, and I have no doubt that the other roads averaged about the same. This state fair business, a large part of it, was done at 1 1/2 cents per mile. This was profitable because it brings large crowds. If Minnesota were dense with people, the railroads would be able to pay for the transportation of their employees on other lines. This cuts it down to strictly complimentary passes, and these, if paid for in cash, would amount to about 1/2 of 1 per cent of the total passenger receipts. To cut off these passes would not materially affect the revenues."

enough in population to make passenger business what it is at state fairs, the roads could stand a rate of 1 1/2 cents all the time.

It was up to the committee to investigate these things, with justice to the people and to the railroads. If it finds that a 2-cent maximum is just, the people should have it. If it is found to be unjust and confiscatory, the bill should not be adopted."

Following Mr. Brown's talk, several taxation measures were heard, and were questioned by members of the committee. Their testimony tended to bear out the claims of the attorney.

The hearings will probably be prolonged over several sessions of the committee before the railroads get their case all in.

The taxation of railroads is the subject of a number of bills now before the legislature, with more to come.

The most radical measure, in effect, is that of Senator Fossett of Minneapolis, who proposes an amendment to the constitution, leaving railroad taxation entirely in the hands of the legislature, which is to be free to fix the manner of taxation and the amount of taxes to be raised from railroads. At present railroad taxation is guarded by a constitutional provision that it shall not be changed without a vote of the people.

As The Herald has stated, Representative C. B. Miller of Duluth is preparing a bill raising the railroad gross earnings tax to 5 per cent, and providing that they shall in addition pay the local assessments for improvements.

Representative Spooner of Morris has a bill in raising the gross earnings tax to 5 per cent, but retaining the old objectionable feature exempting the railroads from special assessments for local improvements.

Representative F. E. Nimocks of Minneapolis has one bill in providing that railroads shall pay local assessments, which is undoubtedly unconstitutional, because it does not provide for a submission of the proposal to the people. For this bill he has substituted another providing for the same thing, but also providing that the bill shall be submitted to the people at the next election. He has also prepared and introduced a bill making the same requirement upon telegraph, telephone and other companies that now pay a gross earnings tax to the state. This bill will not have to go to the people, because the constitution does not require it.

Out of this list of bills some gain in railroad taxation ought to result. The railroad gross earnings tax is too low, and it should be raised. The principle of exempting the railroads from local assessments is pernicious and should be abolished. It would seem, therefore, that the best measure is that which Representative Miller is going to introduce, providing at the same time for an increase in the gross earnings tax, and for the payment of assessments for local improvements by the railroads.

The St. Louis county delegation, at its meeting yesterday afternoon, approved of seven measures directly affecting St. Louis county, and they will be introduced in the house this afternoon.

The bills relating to the salaries of county officers were put over until next week at the request of several county officers, who say they wish to be heard. The delegation decided, therefore, to hold an open meeting next Wednesday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, at which time anybody who has anything to present is invited to appear and make his case known.

The seven bills to be introduced this afternoon are as follows:

A bill providing the county attorney of St. Louis county with a contingent fund of $1,000 a year. This money is to be used in searching out and prosecuting blind pigs, with which rumor says the county is infested.

A bill providing for school facilities in unorganized towns, under a county board of education, of which the chairman of the board of county commissioners is to be chairman. At present there are no school facilities in unorganized territory, though there are many settlers with children that need education. Until they are numerous enough to form a township and school district organization, some method of providing them with schools is needed, and it is the purpose of this bill to accomplish that help.

Two bills refer to the new courthouse. One allows the board of county commissioners to levy a tax for courthouse purposes, and the other provides that the courthouse commission shall audit the bills, and that interest-bearing certificates, at 4 per cent, may be issued to meet the expenses of building the county capitol. It is also provided that the commission may hire such assistants as seem necessary.

In both bills it is provided that the amount to be spent on the new courthouse shall not exceed $800,000. Under the old arrangements, the limit was $400,000.

Another bill to be introduced this afternoon is that permitting cities of over 50,000 inhabitants to issue bonds for the purchase or construction of a municipal electric lighting plant. This bill goes in its original form as requested by the city attorney and the city council, putting no limit whatever on the amount of bonds that may be issued for this purpose.

The bill providing for a county examiner to keep cases on the books and accounts of townships, villages, school districts and lesser cities in the county, was also approved, and will be offered this afternoon.

The last bill approved, and to be offered today, is that giving the West Duluth justice court jurisdiction over criminal cases, to prevent the necessity of juggling petty offenders all the way down to Duluth for trial.

There will be a joint meeting of the St. Louis, Ramsey and Hennepin county delegations, the first of the session, this afternoon, to consider pending measures of common interest and application.

The new rate bill, framed by the Minnesota Shippers and Receivers' association and introduced in the senate yesterday by Senator Canfield, is revolutionary enough to suit anybody. As stated yesterday, it provides a reduction from present rates of an average of 25 to 30 per cent.

It establishes a new classification, also. Freight in less than carload lots is divided into ten classes, numbered from 1 to 10. Freight in carload lots is divided into twelve classes. A is to be 2 cents for acceptance, 2 cents for delivery, and 2 cents for terminal charges, or a maximum of 4 cents per 100 pounds for seven and a half miles, etc. Class B is to be 1 cent per 100 pounds, class C 1/2 cent, class D 3/4 cent, class E 1 cent, class F 1 1/4 cent, class G 1 1/2 cent, class H 1 3/4 cent, class I 2 cents, and class J 2 1/2 cents.

Shippers are to have the right to designate the routes over which their goods are to travel, and they are to be allowed

But they're worthy bargains—and there's the secret. to ship different classes of freight in one carload rates. This is a great advantage which the shippers have unsuccessfully pleaded with the railroads.

The railroad and warehouse commission is to classify all roads as standard main lines, branches and stub, as the facts show them to be. Over lines designated as branches by the commission, a charge of 20 per cent in excess of the maximum may be allowed. On lines designated as stubs 10 per cent excess is allowed.

It is provided that the shortest line between two stations shall be the basis on which rates are to be computed. Where the shortest line is by way of two or more railroads, the longest line is allowed for crossing a rate of 2 1/2 cents per 100 pounds for first class commodities, 1 cent on class A goods, and proportionately on lower classes. This must not exceed the maximum rate on the longer haul. Where the route designated by a shipper involves a transfer to other lines, a transfer charge of 2 1/2 cents per 100 pounds on first class, 1 cent on A class, and proportionately on lower classes, is allowed.

The house committee on education yesterday afternoon recommended for passage the following bills: By Representative Wells, providing for the distribution of colored charts showing injurious insects and beneficial birds among the public schools; by Representative Bouck, providing that part of the state aid to schools may be used to provide assistance for superintendents of public instruction; by Representative Sawyer, providing for the study of physiology, hygiene and narcotics in the public schools; by Representative Sawyer, providing for the erection and maintenance of a college of education for the training of county superintendents, high school teachers and principals of schools.

Representative Randall of Duluth, struck by the popular approval of Representative Hugo's proposed "no seat no fare" bill, said yesterday afternoon that he would shortly introduce a bill to compel street railways to sprinkle the streets between the tracks.

"I understand," he said, "that the Duluth system is equipped for such work, but there has been no move to compel the road to use its equipment, it has not been used."

George W. Buck of Duluth, was a capitol visitor yesterday.

The senate yesterday passed ten bills, none of them of importance. The house, owing to the taxation talk by Lawson Purdy, expert, did not reach general orders or the calendar.

There was much interest in Mr. Purdy's talk yesterday, though his ideas did not hit off with those of the radical members who are anxious to hurry into revolutionary movements on taxation.

He distinctly opposed hasty action in matters of taxation, and said that as the state had rested fifty years under the old system, it could afford to sit awhile longer before hurrying into untried systems that might be proposed.

Letters, lettered from A to M, excluding L.

The maximum rate to be charged on first-class matter is to be 5 cents per 100 pounds for acceptance, 5 mills for each five miles of the haul, and a terminal charge of 5 cents per 100 pounds, making a total maximum charge of 10 1/2 cents per 100 pounds, up to seven and a half miles, and 11 cents for seven and a half to twelve and a half miles, and so on. The second-class is to pay 90 per cent of this, third-class 80 per cent, fourth-class 70 per cent, fifth-class 60 per cent, sixth-class 50 per cent, seventh-class 40 per cent, eighth-class 30 per cent.

cent, ninth-class 150 per cent, and tenth-class 200 per cent.

The tonnage tax on iron mines was brought to his attention, and he condemned it as dangerous, experimental, and doubtful as to its results.

He favored a permanent tax commission, rather than a temporary commission to revise the tax laws.

Practically the only new tax law he advocated was a registry tax of 1/2 of 1 per cent upon mortgages in lieu of all other taxation. Several bills providing this are now before the legislature.

The presence of Mr. Purdy here is due to the formation of the new Minnesota tax league, which is to include members from all over the state. Last night the members of the legislature were present at a luncheon to meet Mr. Purdy.

Neighbors Got Fooled.

"I was literally coughing myself to death, and had become too weak to leave my bed; and neighbors predicted that I would never leave it alive; but they got fooled, for, thanks be to God, I was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery. It took just four one dollar bottles to completely cure the cough and restore me to good sound health," writes Mrs. Eva Unsworth of Grovetown, Stark county, Ind. "This King of cough and cold cures, and healer of throat and lungs, has guaranteed by all druggists, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free."

RICH COUNT A PAUPER.

Swedish Nobleman and Heir Dies in an Almshouse.

Allentown, Pa., Feb. 6.—Behind the bare statement of the death at the Lehigh county almshouse, in 1902, of Frank Axelsson, is a romance that is stranger than fiction. It has just been revealed that Axelsson was a count of a family close to Swedish royalty, and that there was an estate of $100,000 awaiting him.

Axelsson was a soldier of fortune, and served in nearly every European army. About ten years ago he came to America to engage in some manufacturing business. His family last received a letter from him while he was in Connecticut. It was to Connecticut that a Swedish lawyer first went when he came to America to hunt him up several months ago. There he found Axelsson had left for Eastern Pennsylvania to look into the iron business. Further search revealed he had come to Catawago, Pa., on a visit to a Swedish resident. While there he was taken sick with pneumonia. The Swedish friend took the man to the poorhouse, where he died the same day. Upon proof of death being submitted to the proper authorities, the title will go to the next heir and the estates to the proper relatives.

CONNECTICUT COURT

Frees Husband, Despite Wife's Dakota Divorce and Remarriage.

Stamford, Conn., Feb. 6.—Judge Ralph Wheeler of the superior court has handed down a decision in the case of Samuel A. Weed vs. Daisy C. Weed of Stamford, in which he gives the plaintiff a decree of divorce on the ground of desertion.

Mrs. Weed went to Dakota in 1895 and got a divorce from Weed and married again, but the first husband refused to accept the decree, and five years ago brought the present action.

After the Dakota divorce Mrs. Weed married Charles F. Bates of Stamford and has children by him.

Use a little Kodol after meals and it will afford a prompt and efficient relief. It refuses to accept the decree, and a guaranteed relief plan by all druggists.

HAPPENINGS IN THE DAKOTAS

No Truth in Six Deaths From Freezing at Goodrich.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Goodrich—A story without foundation, affecting this place and vicinity, was wired yesterday from Bismarck. It declared that an unknown woman and five children were frozen to death here on Sunday night. So far from being true was this story, that not even suffering is to be found in this place. There is a light mine only sixteen miles away which contains fuel enough for all the countryside for many years to come. So far Goodrich has not lacked for provisions; supplies on hand are ample for a long siege.

Grand Forks—Owing to the snow blockade there was not the attendance expected at the meeting and banquet of Philippine veterans Monday night to celebrate the eighth anniversary of the opening of hostilities in the Philippines. Among the guests were Col. Freeman, Captains A. I. Berg, Tharston, Johnson and various other members of the North Dakota regiment. The Devils Lake delegation was snowbound and did not reach here until yesterday.

Fulleton—When the eastbound Soo passenger train pulled into the station here Monday, the engineer discovered on the pilot of his engine the dashboard of a wagon and a sack of flour. The bars of the pilot were smeared with blood, and the engineer at once notified headquarters that an accident had happened, and an investigation was started. It was found that a farmer living several miles from Fulleton had been to town for supplies. As all the roads were impassable, he started his team down the Soo track on his homeward journey. Owing to a blizzard, neither the engineer nor the farmer was aware of their proximity. In the nick of time, however, the farmer realized his danger and jumped to save his life. His wagon was smashed to splinters, however, and his horses killed.

Bismarck—One of the most important measures coming before the legislative assembly at this session is house bill 82 for the encouragement of the rural schools of the state, which has passed the house in committee of the whole and is now under consideration in the appropriations committee. The people of the state are taking a wide interest in the measure. It practically gives to every school which employs a principal who is a graduate of a normal school or college and employs four or more teachers, with a first grade certificate, or its equivalent, and having two years of high school work and holding nine months' school annually, $15 annually to each rural school holding nine months' school and employing a teacher with a first grade certificate, $15 annually, and each school holding eight months' school and employing a teacher with a second grade certificate or better, $10 annually.

Provisions are also made for the transfer of a school to a higher class, on a satisfactory showing. The manifest idea of the bill is to encourage the school districts toward better equipment, longer terms and a higher standard of teachers. The bill has been approved by the state educational association.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Rapid City—A homesteader named Meyer and a shepherd, whose name is not yet learned, were found frozen to death, in the Cheyenne river country, having perished in the late blizzard. The shepherd belonged to Stueker's ranch.

Another herder with the Jay outfit on the Dakota City divide has been missing for four days, and it is feared he has met with the same fate. Meyer, the homesteader, and his son were cutting wood about a mile from their shack. The father started for home through the blizzard in advance of his son, who, upon his arrival at the house, finding that his father was not there, started back to find him. About a mile from the house, in an opposite direction, the father was found frozen to death.

Dewey—As a result of the explosion of the water front of a cook stove Mrs. Marion Willits, aged over 70 years, was seriously injured.

Sioux Falls—Damage to the amount of about $300 was caused by a fire early yesterday in the local yards of the Tut-till Lumber company. The flames were fought and extinguished by the fire department while the temperature was more than 20 below zero.

RAY JONES GOES WEST.

Former Lieutenant Governor Will Take Up Residence on Coast.

Minneapolis, Feb. 6.—Ray W. Jones, late lieutenant governor, and formerly associated with the Commonwealth Lumber company, will soon leave Minneapolis for the Pacific coast, where he will make his future home. Mr. Jones has become associated with a party of capitalists in the lumber business at Vancouver, the great and growing British Columbia port.

Although he is to leave Minneapolis after taking an active part in the city's development for the past thirty years, Mr. Jones does not propose to get altogether out of touch with local affairs in the future. To that end he will continue as an honorary non-resident member of the board of directors of the Commercial club and his friends take it for granted that whenever he can do Minneapolis a good turn by a friendly word spoken on a foreign strand he will not fail to do so.

Mr. Jones has for years been a conspicuous figure in the Minnesota political arena, and on several occasions has represented the Republican party as a delegate to national conventions. He was twice elected lieutenant governor during the Van Sant administrations. It is understood that Mr. Jones will be associated with Former Governor D. M. Clough, who now has extensive lumber interests in the Canadian Northwest, with headquarters at Vancouver.

HOCKEY FANS GET BUSY.

Are Raising Money to Pay Expenses of St. Paul Team.

Hockey enthusiasts begin hustling today for funds to defray the expenses of the Victoria hockey team which is coming up Saturday to play the Northern Hardware company's seven. The contest will be held at the curling rink, but the club has refused to allow the puck chasers to sell tickets for the game and charge an admission fee, so the money to pay for the St. Paul team's railroad fare and hotel bills is to be raised among the lovers of hockey. It is said that about $100 is needed. Two weeks ago tickets for the rink were sold, but many curlers objected to paying to gain entrance to a club wherein they were already in good standing.

Proctorities Will Discuss

mercial Club.

Many New Members
Will be Added This Week.

It is likely that the Proctor committee of citizens, which is pushing the street railway extension to the Proctor district, will be in attendance at the weekly meeting of the West Duluth Commercial club Friday evening, to confer with that body and make plans for the furthering of the extension campaign.

The committee from the West Duluth Commercial club has agreed to meet with the Proctor committee at Proctor last evening, but owing to a misunderstanding the conference was not held. On this account the members of the Proctor committee will be asked to attend the Commercial club meeting Friday evening, and there will then be a discussion of the prospects of getting an extension. Rev. Charles W. Kaushaw is at the head of the Proctor committee.

The members of the West Duluth Commercial club are securing many applications for membership in the club this week, and as many or more will be admitted Friday than at last meeting. Practically all of the members of the city council will be taken into the club, and several other prominent Duluth citizens are being persuaded to join. Broder and Carlton will also soon be represented at the meetings of the club.

At the Western Curling rink last evening Macaulay and Donald were matched against each other in one of the preliminaries for representation in the Smith trophy contest and Macaulay won by the score of 11 to 8. Another contest was played by rinks skipped by Scott and Boutin and Scott's rink won by a score of 15 to 10.

The line-up of the rinks for the representation in the Smith trophy was as follows:

from New York played here this week and offered $25 to any couple who would marry on the stage during a play. John Fisher of Tappan, Rockland county, appeared and said that he was to marry May Isabelle Sedlack of the same place on Jan. 28, but, in consideration of the $25 he would just as soon marry a few days sooner. He said that his bride to be was willing.

All the arrangements were made and Justice of the Peace E. E. Johnson was engaged to perform the ceremony. The stage was set for the wedding scene and the prospective bridegroom and the audience were waiting, but the bride did not come. Manager Hathaway called up the bride at Tappan on the telephone and asked her why she had not come. He received the reply that Miss Sedlack had married Fisher three years ago and did not intend to go through the ceremony even to get $25.

LINCOLN'S DAUGHTER SUED.
Beckwith, Who Eloped With Her, Now Seeks a Divorce.

Mount Pleasant, Iowa, Feb. 6.—Jessie Beckwith, daughter of Robert T. Lincoln, and granddaughter of the martyred president, has been sued for divorce by Warren Beckwith, with whom she eloped about ten years ago. The papers in the case have been so closely guarded that the grounds for the action are not known, but it is surmised that the decree probably will be based on the alleged desertion of Mrs. Beckwith.

The marriage of Jessie Lincoln and Warren Beckwith created a sensation at the time. The girl was attending college and fell in love with Beckwith, who was a baseball player. Failing to secure her father's consent, the couple eloped and were married.

FIRE DESTROYS FINE DWELLING

Park Point House of J. F. Stewart is Burned.

The handsome frame dwelling belonging to J. F. Stewart at Thirty-third street, Park Point, was entirely destroyed yesterday afternoon by a fire of unknown origin. The loss amounts to about $2,500 and is partially covered by insurance.

The house was standing empty at the time of the fire as the Stewart family had just moved out preparatory to going to St. Paul in the near future. Neighbors discovered smoke issuing from the windows of the lower story of the house, but before they could effect an entrance the lower floor was a mass of flames. The nearby residents could do nothing to stop the spread of the flames without the aid of firefighting apparatus and the fire department could not reach the scene to be of assistance until too late. The two children, Emma, sent away to a boarding school, and the mother, Mrs. Stewart, who was in the house at the time, escaped by jumping from the second story window. The fact that the water supply is cut off by the repairs being made at the canal had much to do with the inability to quench the blaze. In a little over an hour the house was nothing but a mass of ruins.

Mr. Stewart and his family had finished removing the household goods only a few hours before the fire broke out. Mr. Stewart stated that nothing combustible had been left in the house, and that he could not account for the origin of the blaze.

INCIDENT REGRETTED

Lord Beresford Says Swettenham Affair Was a Mistake.

New York, Feb. 6.—Ambassador Lord Charles Beresford arrived here from England yesterday on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. He has come to this country to settle the estate of his brother, Lord Delaval, who was killed recently on the Korean coast in North Dakota. He is sole executor of the estate and as it will be necessary for him to go to the powers in the several states where the property was held he expects to be in this country for some time. In an interview last night Lord Beresford, referring to the recent incident between Governor Swettenham and Rear Admiral Davis of the United States navy at King's Bay, said:

"In view of the fact that I have tried for so many years to bring about good feelings between America and Great Britain and to increase the cordial relations between the two countries, I think the little incident that occurred a few days ago is to be regretted. I am certain it was a mistake. Whatever it was I am certain that it was utterly unintentional and both the governor and people of Great Britain

PRICES ARE ADVANCING

Provision Market is Seriously Affected by Cold Weather.

Not Much Hope for Relief Until Weather Moderates.

The continued cold weather and the uncertainty of shipments from the packing house centers have resulted in a substantial advance in prices all along the line in the provision market. Prices have advanced not only on the best grade of beef and all hog products, but on even the cheaper grades and wheat. Carrots, potatoes, and other products have reached the highest point in the winter schedule of prices, and it seems quite probable that the prices will go even a little higher before they will be any lower.

Even sausages, that hog product which is supposed to have a little fluctuation of anything in the market, has lately been taking on prices that would tend to give the consumer the idea that some of the butchers are trying to get a corner on the market.

In spite of the advancing prices of provision, it is claimed that the market continues unabated and is even larger at this period of the season than it was a few weeks ago, when the market was much easier.

The camp trade is claimed to continue heavy, a fact that would disprove the contention that the market is not so good as it seems. The beef is being shipped out of Duluth every week to various points in the country, and the supplies are being taken from the railroads to their destination.

The usual price of camp beef, which is no more than the cost of the meat through the Duluth market, has been from 4 to 4½ cents, but at the present time it is selling at 5 to 5½ cents, with a tendency to go a half a cent higher.

A half a cent a pound on a carload of the staple, which is a considerable sum, would mean a difference of $100,000 in the price of the meat, and when the difference in price reaches as much as a cent a pound, the difference in the price of the meat would be $1,000,000. The price of the meat is now $1.00 a pound, and the price of the meat is now $1.00 a pound.

Just how long the present high price will prevail is hard to say, according to the opinion of the men, but the consensus of opinion seems to be that a decline will not occur until after a heavy snowfall, and the price will then be fed, however, and the companies have no alternative but to pay the price.

LOG CRUSHES TEAMSTER.

Winter, Feb. 6.—John Galt is in a critical condition in the hospital here as the result of injuries received while at work in a lumber camp. His shoulder and two ribs were broken and he is injured internally.

JAPS ARE SHIPPING ARMS INTO CHINA.
Victoria, B. C., Feb. 6.—Mail advices from Shanghai state that owing to an accident at the wharf there, the dispatch of arms has been made through Shanghai to the disaffected districts where rebellion is in progress. LIVE "SPIRIT" NABBED.
Officers Raid Seance and Catch Medium Talking Through Horn.

Pittsburg, Feb. 6.—The police Monday night raided a spiritualistic meeting in the Oakland residence district. The medium, the "spirit" and twenty-three other persons were hauled to the police station and locked up for a time, charged with violating a city ordinance. Soon all were out on bail.

The "spirit," who was over six feet high and weighed 180 pounds, put up a fearful battle when the light was turned on, and it gave the detectives all they could do for some minutes. The police got into the meeting in the dark, and at a signal turned the electric lights on the medium, who was caught talking through a horn impersonating the voice of a wealthy man some time dead. The man's son was almost delirious with joy at hearing "papa's" voice, but when he saw the deception he started for the medium with a chair leg.

circle today, the only absentees being Mrs. William Thaw, the mother, and Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, the wife of the defendant, both of whom are barred by the rule excluding witnesses.

When the court session began, Mr. Jerome stated that upon adjournment yesterday the point was pending as to the admission of certain testimony by a witness who was about to state a conversation held with Thaw in January, 1904.

The court had sustained the objection to the question interposed by the district attorney, but had invited the citation of authorities. Mr. Jerome was reading from a case which he had applied, when Attorney Delmas Delmas arose and suggested that a witness be placed upon the stand before the continuing of the proceedings.

It then became known that Mr. Delmas was to assume active charge of the defense, whose case was handled yesterday by Mr. Gleason.

It was said Mr. Delmas had delivered an ultimatum that he would withdraw from the case unless given a free hand in conducting the fight for Thaw's life. The result of yesterday's proceedings were anything but satisfactory to a concerned audience.

District Attorney Jerome replied to Mr. Delmas that the matter of allowing the witness Boman to state a conversation with the defendant was pending yesterday and should be finally decided before bringing in further examination.

Mr. Delmas thereupon said that he would withdraw the question asked the witness which caused the objection to be entered. This was agreed to.

Mr. Jerome said he would withdraw his objection to the introduction of evidence tending to show insanity in collateral branches of the Thaw family, provided certain questions asked the witness offered yesterday were withdrawn.

Mr. Delmas then directed that Benjamin Boman, whose testimony had been excluded yesterday, be recalled. Boman said that in 1903 he was a doorman at the Garden theater.

"Did you know Stanford White?" "Yes."

"And Harry Thaw?" "Yes."

"Did you ever hear Stanford White make threats against the life of any person?" "Yes."

Mr. Jerome objected to this, saying he was not assured the defense was to be one of self-defense.

Mr. Delmas declared that every defense the law allowed was to be taken and that he would not be deterred by the objection.

Mr. Jerome withdrew his objection. "A few nights after Christmas," the witness assumed, "Stanford White came to me after the show and wanted to know if Miss Nesbit had gone home."

Told him she had, he replied: "You are a liar. I told him to go back on the stage and see for himself."

"When he returned, and as he passed me, he drew a pistol from his pocket and muttered: 'I'll kill you.' The witness stated the man whose life he had threatened in a loud voice.

"Did you communicate this threat to anyone," asked Mr. Delmas. "Yes, I told a detective sergeant."

"What object to that," said Mr. Jerome. "Did you communicate the threat to this defendant?" asked Mr. Delmas.

"Yes, I told him I wanted to speak with him regarding Miss Nesbit. I then told him of the incident at the theater and of White's threat."

"What was Mr. White's condition when he made the threat?" "He was black in the face with anger."

District Attorney Jerome asked that the answer be stricken out as improper, and the court so ordered.

"What was Mr. White's manner?" asked Mr. Delmas. "He was very angry."

"You may take the witness," remarked Thaw's counsel to the district attorney, and the cross-examination was begun.

At the conclusion of Boman's direct examination, Justice Fitzgerald said: "There are two persons in the courtroom whose sense of propriety would be offended by the testimony of this witness. The court will give them an opportunity now to withdraw."

"We must ask the court to bear with us in bringing out this testimony," explained Mr. Delmas, "but it is essential."

"It is perfectly right and proper," Justice Fitzgerald quickly assured the lawyer. "There are ladies here, however, and I think they should be given the opportunity to withdraw if they so desire."

Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw and May McKenzie arrived at the courthouse some time after the morning session.

District Attorney Jerome took the witness, and for the better part of an hour questioned him closely as to his employment and places of residence for the last five years, attempting to secure house numbers and addresses. The witness said he was doorman at the Madison Square Garden theater from 1902 to February, 1904, after which he worked in New Haven and Long Island City. Before 1902 he had been employed as a brass worker. Between these employments he took odd jobs, ushering in theaters and other occupations, the details of which Mr. Jerome inquired into closely.

Thaw's sisters evidently became reassured during the long and rather tedious cross-examination, for, after George Carnegie had come to them and explained the character of the testimony, they returned to their places in the second row of chairs back of the prisoner.

Harry Thaw who had shown alert interest during the testimony as to the threats said to have been made against him by Stanford White gave evidence of becoming fatigued and yawning several times. The defendant today seemed paler than usual.

Boman said that he went to Long Island City "in the cold spring of 1905," but under questioning corrected the time to August.

"And you recollect that August, 1905, was in the cold spring of 1905?" asked Mr. Jerome.

The witness admitted that he had been mistaken.

"Have you received any compensation in this case?" asked the district attorney.

"No, sir; I have not," said Boman emphatically.

"Rec'd promised any?"

Referring to his statement that he had told Thaw of White's threat, he repeated the story as told on direct examination.

He said the incident occurred on Christmas eve, 1903.

"You are sure of that?" asked the district attorney.

"To the best of my recollection."

"Is your recollection good?"

"Pretty fair." The witness said that "The Girl From Dixie" was playing at the theater at the time and Evelyn Nesbit was in the case. She left the theater that night a little after 11 o'clock.

Mr. Jerome then took the witness carefully over every detail of his conversation with White at the theater.

"And when Mr. White said to you 'You are a liar' after you had told him Miss Nesbit was out, what did you do?"

"I told him to go back on the stage and see for himself."

"What time of the day was it?" "About eleven or half past eleven."

"When Mr. White returned from the stage, just what did he do?" "He went by muttering, but I could not hear him."

"What other conversation did you have with Mr. White?" "When I told him Miss Nesbit had gone home, he asked me with whom."

"Mr. Thaw?" "Oh, that Pittsburg," Mr. White said. "Had Miss Nesbit gone with Mr. Thaw?" asked Mr. Jerome.

"Yes, he came for her in an automobile."

Mr. Boman here told us everything Stanford White said that night.

"Then you never heard Stanford White say he would kill Harry K. Thaw?"

"No."

"Did he mention Thaw's name?" "No."

"When did you first tell this story to defendant's counsel?"

"I don't remember the date of the letter, but I think in December last."

"How did you do it?" "I wrote a letter."

On Mr. Jerome's demand, Attorney Hartridge promised to produce that letter.

"Did you think this story was of importance to the defense?" "Yes."

"And yet you waited from June to last December before telling his counsel?" "Yes."

Boman then detailed his visits to the Thaw counsel, and told of making an affidavit in relation to his story.

When the district attorney had concluded his cross-examination, Mr. Delmas took the witness in hand again on redirect.

Boman said he was a soldier in the United States war from 1898 to 1899.

"Were you in active service?" "Yes."

Mr. Jerome was on his feet with an objection, but the answer had been recorded.

Mr. Evelyn Nesbit, evidently satisfied, withdrew the question, remarked Mr. Delmas, evidently satisfied.

"I hope counsel will keep within the law," suggested Mr. Jerome.

"We hope to learn from you, Mr. District Attorney, replied Mr. Delmas suavely.

"How did Mr. White come to the theater the night of the incident as to which you have testified?"

Mr. Jerome's objection was overruled.

"In an electric cab."

"Were you advised by anyone to communicate Mr. White's threats to Mr. Thaw?"

The district attorney objected, and was sustained.

"But you wrote to Detective Sergeant Hurley at headquarters?" "Yes."

"That's all."

The witness was excused, William C. Howard, a piano dealer, succeeded Mr. Boman on the stand.

He testified that he did not know Stanford White, but that a man had been pointed out to him as Mr. White.

Mr. Delmas asked:

"Did you ever have a conversation with the man who was pointed out to you as Stanford White?"

"Yes."

"When and where was it?" "In Madison Square Garden, in the latter part of June, 1904."

"State the whole circumstances."

The district attorney objected on the ground that there had been no identification of Stanford White, as the man with whom Mr. Howard talked, Mr. Howard said he could not identify the man with whom he talked by a photograph unless the picture was taken of Mr. White.

"No, sir; I have not," said Boman.

"Rec'd promised any?"

Referring to his statement that he had told Thaw of White's threat, he repeated the story as told on direct examination.

He said the incident occurred on Christmas eve, 1903.

"You are sure of that?" asked the district attorney.

"To the best of my recollection."

"Is your recollection good?"

"After the shooting; he was standing over Stanford White."

"When did you next see him?" "In the hallway of the roof garden, near the elevator."

"What was his manner?" "Mr. Jerome objected that the ground that the question was too general.

He spoke in a low voice and Mr. Delmas did not hear what he said."

"I would suggest to the learned district attorney," he said, "that counsel can not answer his objection when it is impossible to hear what he said."

The objection was read by the stenographer and Mr. Delmas made the question more specific. He asked what was Thaw's manner just after the shooting.

"He had the pistol held above his head," said Mr. Green. "He was very pale, his eyes seemed about to pop out of his head, and his hair was hanging well down on his forehead."

"In your opinion were his actions rational or irrational?" "I object," shouted Mr. Jerome.

"That is for the jury to determine. If the witness is a competent expert, let the question be asked."

Mr. Delmas quoted an authority to support his question, but the district attorney contended that the character quoted has been superseded by later opinions.

Thereupon the court ordered a recess until 2 o'clock, during which time the attorneys were to consult authorities.

THREE WITNESSES
Called by the Defense Tuesday Were Quickly Excused.

New York, Feb. 6.—After the examination of Dr. Wiley was concluded Tuesday afternoon, the defense next introduced as a witness Benjamin Boman, who testified that in January, 1904, he had a conversation with the defendant. He was called by the defense to testify that when Mr. Jerome interrupted, declaring that a conversation so far back was not relevant or material, Justice Fitzgerald called upon Thaw's attorneys for citation of authorities covering the introduction of testimony of the character proposed.

"We did not expect to reach this point today," explained Mr. Gleason, "and I have not my authorities here."

Justice Fitzgerald now to Mr. Jerome's objection and the witness stopped aside.

Dr. H. Bingham of Pittsburg, who has been a family physician of the Thaws for 20 years, took the stand and testified that he had known Harry Thaw ever since his infancy. He had treated him once for St. Vitus dance. He seemed to be a lad of highly nervous temperament and slept badly at night said the witness.

Mr. Jerome's cross examination was brief.

"How old was the defendant when he had St. Vitus dance?" he asked.

"That is all, doctor."

The family physician of the Conyns, Mrs. William Thaw, the prisoner's mother, having been a Miss Carnegie, was the last witness of the day. He was called by the defense to testify that when John Ross, a cousin of Harry Thaw, when Mr. Jerome objected.

He testified that that until the defense's authorities on the introduction of testimony as to collateral insanity were presented, he thought it best to rule out all such testimony for the time being. It was at this point that the adjournment until today was ordered.

AUTHORITY IS LACKING

Congress Has No Control Over Woman and Child Labor.

Such Regulation is Within Police Power of Every State.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Chairman Jenkins of the house committee on judiciary submitted a report today in which it is stated emphatically that the committee is of the opinion that "congress has no jurisdiction or authority over the subject of woman and child labor, and has no authority to suppress abuses of such labor or to enforce conditions surrounding the employment of such laborers." The committee holds that the regulation of woman and child labor is within the police power of the various states.

This report was made in compliance with the resolution from the judiciary committee on appropriations asking for an opinion on the subject before the appropriations committee included an item in an appropriation bill to cover the expense of an investigation of woman and child labor in the United States.

In concluding its report, the house committee on judiciary says:

"The national government is too weak to undertake the exercise of the police power of the state. In a short time this great nation would be worse than a ship in mid-ocean in a great storm, and without a rudder of control. The division of power was wise and beneficial. Time, study and experience approve it, and we should not attempt in an unconstitutional way to invade the rights of the states, and to interfere with the exercise of their police power. If, then, these two great powers of police and commerce are separate and independent, the power of the state sovereignty, where is the authority for saying that congress can invade and impair that power, entire and independent, and take away the right and power of both the state and nation must be respected and upheld."

The committee also says that the power of the state sovereignty, where is the authority for saying that congress can invade and impair that power, entire and independent, and take away the right and power of both the state and nation must be respected and upheld."

The committee also says that the power of the state sovereignty, where is the authority for saying that congress can invade and impair that power, entire and independent, and take away the right and power of both the state and nation must be respected and upheld."

CAUGHT BY THE GRIP-- RELEASED BY PE-RU-NA.

La Grippe Is Epidemic Catarrh.

THE disease now known as 'grip' used to be called influenza. It is very closely related to a cold, but is more tenacious in its hold upon the system and produces more profound disturbances.

Grip is in reality epidemic catarrh. When it once begins it spreads over the country very rapidly.

People do not catch the grip from each other, but each one catches it from the atmosphere.

"Most Effective Medicine Ever Tried for La Grippe."

Robt. L. Madison, A. M., Principal of Cullowhee High School, Duluth, N. D., is chairman of the Jackson County Board of Education.

In speaking of Peruna, Mr. Madison says:

"I am hardly ever without Peruna in my home. It is the most effective medicine that I have ever tried for la grippe."

"It also cured my wife of nasal catarrh. Her condition at one time was such that she could not breathe through her nostrils."

"In consequence, an inflamed condition of the throat was brought on, getting worse and worse and yielding to no remedy until Peruna was tried."

Healthy Mucous Membranes.

Those who are fortunate enough to have perfectly healthy mucous membranes ordinarily do not catch the grip. The mucous membranes lining the nose, throat and lungs, when in a normal state, are an effective barrier against the invasion of grip.

But, if there happens to be the slightest catarrhal derangement of the mucous membranes, then the victim becomes an easier prey to the grip.

This in part explains why some people get the grip, while others do not.

The rational thing to do is to keep the system free from catarrh, and attempting to do this most people have found Peruna to be invaluable.

Systemic Catarrh, the Result of La Grippe, Peruna Receives Credit for Present Good Health.

Mrs. Jennie W. Gilmore, Box 41, White Oak, Ind. Ter., formerly Housekeeper for Indiana Reform School for Boys, writes:

"Six years ago I had la grippe, which was followed by systemic catarrh."

"The only thing I used was Peruna and Manalin, and I have been in better health the last three years than for years before."

"I give Peruna all the credit for my good health."

During an epidemic of grip Peruna should be used. The doses recommended on the bottle are sufficient.

After the grip has once been acquired, Dr. Hartman recommends the use of Peruna in teaspoonful doses every hour during the active stage, after which the directions on the bottle should be followed.

MRS. EVELYN NESBIT THAW TELLS OF WHITE'S ACTIONS

to see her at the hospital and said she could be taken abroad to recuperate. She went to Paris with her mother and Thaw, and it was in Paris that Thaw made his first proposal of marriage.

Going back to her earliest girlhood, the prisoner's wife told the entire story of her life—how she was brought to New York by her mother and posed for famous artists to earn money for the family support. She also took a place in the chorus of a musical show and it was while there she met White.

Mrs. Thaw was on the stand two hours, and her direct examination had not been concluded when the luncheon adjournment was taken. As she walked from the witness chair along the passageway of the jury box, she felt along the wall with her finger tips of her left hand as if about to faint.

From scarlet her face had paled to the whiteness of a sheet. Except when she broke down when going into the details of her experience with Stanford White the girl spoke in a clear soft voice. On the witness stand she appeared for the first time in court unveiled, and her beauty was remarked on all sides. It is a girlish type, a mass of black hair framing a face of daintily moulded features. She was accompanied to court today by Mrs. George Carnegie, the defendant's sister, and May McKenzie.

New York, Feb. 7.—The announcement that either the mother or wife of Harry Thaw had been the principal witness at today's proceedings brought out an unusually large crowd at the criminal court building. The corridors were filled and scores of people, many of them women, tied in every possible way to force themselves by the officers at the court room doors, but, after yesterday afternoon's laxity, the bars were put up again and very few

The Medical Profession Recognizes The Grip as Epidemic Catarrh.

Experience has shown that the people who use Peruna as a remedy for grip generally recover sooner and are less liable to the distressing and long-continued after-effects of the grip.

When Peruna has not been used during the course of the grip and the patient finds himself suffering from the after-effects of this disease, a course of Peruna should be resorted to.

Suffered Twelve Years From After-Effects of La Grippe.

Mr. Victor Patneade, 228 Madison St., Topeka, Kan., member of Knights and Ladies of Security, writes:

"Twelve years ago I had a severe attack of la grippe and I never really recovered my health and strength, but grew weaker every year, until I was unable to work."

"Two years ago I began using Peruna and it built up my strength so that in a couple of months I was able to go to work again."

Mr. Victor Patneade, 228 Madison St., Topeka, Kan., member of Knights and Ladies of Security, writes:

"I was allowed to pass. However, half a score of women managed to succeed. They were attired in their gayest costumes."

Justice Fitzgerald had just taken his seat on the bench when Mr. Delmas of Thaw's counsel requested the clerk to call Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw.

The familiar figure in blue, now for the first time without her veil, appeared from the judge's chamber. She stood near the jury box as Clerk Penny administered the oath.

"I swear," repeated Mrs. Thaw in an audible voice at the end of the formal declaration, which was made just a little more impressively than usual.

Mrs. Thaw took her place in the witness chair calmly. She looked steadily ahead at Mr. Delmas and gave her answers to his first questions in a clear and firm voice, which was soft in quality.

Harry Thaw smiled at his wife as she walked to the witness stand, but she apparently did not see him at the moment. After she was seated, however, she smiled faintly at the prisoner.

Mrs. Thaw's beauty was generally commented upon. The simplicity of her dress seemed to heighten the effect. Her long, dark and heavy eyebrows were noticeable now for the first time to those who have followed the trial.

In the excitement of testifying her paleness of the past two weeks fled before a rush of crimson tints in her cheeks.

In answer to Mr. Delmas' first question, Mrs. Thaw said she was born Dec. 1884. She told of going to the Cafe Martin to dinner the evening of June 23, with her husband, Thomas McCaleb and Truxton Beale.

"Where did you see Stanford White?" "Yes."

"At what time did you see him?" "I don't know; it was some time after we arrived."

"How long did you see him?" "I don't know. He passed through and went on to the balcony."

"What did you see of Stanford White?" "I saw him."

"What did you see of Stanford White?" "I saw him."

seats with Mr. Beale and Mr. McCaleb. Her husband went to the back of the theater, she said. He was away about fifteen minutes, when he returned and took a seat beside her.

"How long did he remain at your side?"

"About half an hour."

"What was his manner then?"

"It seemed to be the same as ever."

"Did he talk about anything special then?"

"No; just general."

"Who suggested going away from the garden?"

"I did."

"The play was not interesting to you?"

"Not a bit," said the witness.

"How did you start when you went out?"

"I think that Mr. McCaleb and I were in the lead and Mr. Thaw and Mr. Beale followed."

"How far had you gone when something happened?"

"Almost to the elevator. I had turned around to speak to Mr. Thaw."

"How far were you from Mr. White then?"

"About as far as the end of the jury box."

"You saw Mr. White sitting there?"

"I did."

"Did you see Mr. Thaw then?"

"Not until after a minute or so afterwards. He came directly in front of Mr. White, standing with his arm up in the air."

"Did you hear shots fired?"

"Yes, immediately that I saw Mr. White. I heard the shots."

"How many shots?"

"Three shots."

"What did you say?"

"I said to Mr. Beale: 'I think he has shot him.'"

"Did Mr. Thaw come over to where you were?"

"Yes, I asked him what he had done. He leaned over and kissed me and said: 'I probably saved your life.'"

"What happened then?"

"I left."

"You were taken from there?"

"Yes, I think with Mr. Beale and Mr. Beale."

"You left and did not return?"

"Yes."

"You said that you are the wife of the defendant?"

"Yes."

"When were you married?"

"On April 4, 1905."

"Where?"

"In Pittsburgh, at the residence of Dr. McIlwain, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church."

"Who were present?"

"I think Josiah Thaw, Mr. Thaw's brother, the witness went on, after a moment."

"When had Mr. Thaw proposed for his marriage?"

"In June, 1903, in Paris."

"At the time did you refuse him?"

"I did."

"Were the reasons of your refusal based on an event in your life with which Mr. White was connected?"

"Objected to and objection sustained."

"Did you state in explaining your refusal of his proposal that it had something to do with Stanford White?"

"State what happened."

"Mr. Thaw told me that he loved me and wanted to marry me. I stared at him for a moment and then he said: 'Don't you care for me?'"

"I said: 'No.'"

"What did he say then?"

"He said: 'Nothing.' Why would you marry me?" he said. He put his arm around my shoulder and asked: 'Is it because of Stanford White?'"

"I said: 'Yes.' Then he told me that he would not ever love anyone else or marry anyone else. I started to cry."

"We went up some steps to another door, which opened to some other apartment. I stopped, and asked the young lady where we were going, and she said: 'It's all right.' A man's voice called down: 'Hello.'"

"Did you see the man then?"

"No."

"When did you?"

"When we got to the top of the stairs."

"Who was it?"

"It was Stanford White," said the witness clearly.

"What did you find in the room or studio to which you went?"

"A table set for four."

"This is all what you told Mr. Thaw?"

"It was," said young Mrs. Thaw.

"There was a halt in the testimony here while Mr. Jerome and Mr. Delmas discussed the facts alleged."

"How were you dressed?" asked Mr. Delmas.

"I wore a short dress with my hair down, my hair fixed and my jewelry was simple."

The witness said they went up into another room, where a big Japanese umbrella was standing.

Mr. Jerome objected to the testimony on the ground that he would have no opportunity to prove or disprove the facts alleged.

Mr. Delmas said that the defense would offer no objection to the district attorney pushing the correctness of the facts.

She said that afterwards they went for a drive to the park and returned to the house with Mr. White. She said when she got home she told her mother everything that had happened.

"Did your mother subsequently receive a letter from Stanford White?"

"She did."

"What was in the letter?"

"It asked my mother to call on Mr. White at No. 160 Fifth avenue."

"Did you tell Mr. Thaw about that?"

"I did."

"When your mother returned did she tell you anything?"

"What did your mother tell you?"

"He asked her to take me to a dinner party. He said that he had fixed for her to have her own fixed, too."

"She said: 'No, that was a very strange thing.' Mr. White told her that he did that for the other girls."

"When did you next see White?"

"I saw him in the studio. I got a note from him previously inviting me to a party and saying a carriage would be waiting for me on the corner. Before that he had sent me a hat, a feather boa, and a cape. There was another man and girl with us."

Mr. Delmas mentioned the names of the other parties to Mr. Jerome.

"Where did you go?"

"To the studio in Madison Square town. We had a very nice time there. Mr. White said I was only to have one glass of champagne and that I was to be home early. I was only an hour home early to the door of my house."

I told Mr. Thaw that we had several parties of this kind in the town."

"Did you see Mr. White again?"

"Yes, he came to see my mother, told her that he was going to New York and that he would care for me."

Mrs. Thaw said she met White in September, 1901, in a studio in East Twenty-second street. The door opened, she said, and the house looked at first as if it were lived there. She said that she went upstairs and another man.

The witness whispered the name of the man to Mr. Jerome, who wrote it down.

"What did you see there?"

"There was a lot of expensive gowns there."

"What happened?"

"I went into the dressing room to get a note from Mr. White. He knocked at the door and asked if I needed any help."

She related her experience in the photograph studio and said she had posed until she was very tired, and that White, who had come in, ordered food and they had something to eat.

She testified that she drank but one glass of champagne and when she was dressed she got into a carriage and was taken back to the hotel.

"The next night," she continued, "I got a note from Mr. White asking me to come down to the studio for a luncheon after the theater with some of his friends. A carriage would call for me, and would take me home after the party, he wrote."

"I went down to the studio in East Twenty-fourth street, and found Mr. White and no one else there."

"What do you think," he said to me, "the others have turned us down. Then I told him I had better go home, and he told me that I had better sit down and wait. Mr. White told me he had other floors in the garden, and that I had not seen all of his place. He would take me around and show me, he said."

"So I took me up some stairs to the floor above, where there were very beautiful decorations and a piano. I played for him, and he took me into another room. That room was a bedroom. On a small table stood a bottle of champagne and one glass. Mr. White poured out one glass for me and I paid no attention to it. Mr. White went away, came back and said: 'I decorated this room myself. This is why I was not drinking my champagne, and I said I did not like it; it tasted bitter. But he persuaded me to drink it, and I did.'"

"A few moments after I had drunk there began a pinging and thumping in my ears and the room got all black."

Mrs. Thaw was almost in tears at this statement.

"When I awoke my clothes had all been taken off me. I started to scream. Mr. White got up and threw a kimono on me. As I sat up I saw mirrors all around the bed. I began to scream again, and Mr. White asked me to keep quiet, saying that it was all over."

"When he threw the kimono over me he left the room. I screamed harder than ever. I don't remember how I got my clothes on."

"He took me home, and I sat up all night crying."

"Where was Mr. White when you recovered consciousness?"

"He was on the bed beside me, undressed."

"What did he say afterwards?"

"He made me swear that I would never tell my mother about it. He said there was no use in talking, and the greatest thing in this world was not to get found out."

"He said the girls in the theaters were foolish to talk. He laughed afterwards."

"Was Mr. Thaw excited when you told him these things?"

"Yes, he was excited, and walked up and down the room. We sat up all night. He said it wasn't my fault, that no one could blame me, and that I was only an unfortunate girl, and that he did not think any the less of me; he would marry me anyway."

"Did he offer to marry you again?"

"Yes, and I told him that if I did marry him, the friends of Stanford White would laugh at him and laugh at me, as they suspected our relationship, if they did not know."

The witness told Thaw that it would not be a good idea to marry on account of his family. He persisted that he wished to marry her.

Mrs. Thaw recovered her composure after she had got over the most sensational part of her story. Many of the women in the court room were crying, and the most intense silence prevailed in the room.

Mrs. Thaw said that she had also told Thaw about her early life with her mother and of her financial difficulties. The money she earned as an artist's model she gave to her mother. That was their only means of support.

She sustained her mother and came to New York with letters of introduction, experienced some hard times.

"Finally," she said, "I met Carroll Beckwith, the artist, in December, 1900, and he engaged me to pose for him, sometimes twice a week. He gave me letters of introduction to other well-known artists and I posed for them."

Then the witness continued, she applied for a position on the stage, expecting to continue as a model while earning money as a dancer.

"I went to Paris; when did you return?"

"I returned in the end of October, 1903."

"When did you first meet Harry K. Thaw?"

"In 1901."

"How many times had you seen him between then and 1903?"

"I had only seen him once in the meantime."

Thaw, the witness said, opposed her going on the stage, saying she was too young, and offered to send her and her brother to school.

"You were sent to school later, however," asked Mr. Delmas.

"In 1902, about the latter part of October, I think."

"Were you ill during any of this period?"

"Yes, and I had to go to a hospital."

"The offer of Mr. Thaw to send you to school was refused?"

"Yes."

"When you saw Mr. Thaw in 1903, did you tell him about going to school?"

"I told him that Mr. White had sent me to school."

STEVENS IS OBDDURATE

Will Resign If Contract for Building Canal Is Awarded.

Believed That Government Will Continue Its Construction.

Washington, Feb. 7.—The administration has been brought face to face with the alternative of rejecting all bids for the construction of the Panama canal by contract or losing the services of Chief Engineer John Stevens. This is the reason for the delay of President Roosevelt, Secretary Taft and Chairman Shonts of the canal commission in acting on the Oliver bid. An effort was made to get Mr. Stevens to change his mind, but he has continued obdurate and the indications are that the administration will accede to his request and the construction will be continued by the government.

This information in regard to the position taken by Mr. Stevens comes from a source that cannot be doubted, but it has created some surprise on account of testimony given by Mr. Stevens before the senate committee on interoceanic canals a year ago. He then said that he favored building the canal by contract. He was of the opinion that contractors would be in a better position to deal with the question of laborers. Since then the canal has gone over the canal plans carefully and he expresses the belief that the canal can be constructed by the government within a period of ten years. His friends have advised him that if a contract is let for construction he will be robbed of the credit of building this great waterway. Frequent exchanges of cablegrams between Washington and the isthmus have resulted in a demand by Mr. Stevens for the acceptance of his resignation if the contract is awarded.

It is asserted by certain senators who have taken an unusual interest in matters relating to the canal that if one of the bids for canal construction is accepted it will mean that the administration has determined to discontinue the canal construction.

MYSTERY OF VIVIENNE

Duluth Singer is Reported to be Ill in Chicago.

No Explanation of Failure to Arrive is Obtainable.

Where is Rena? "Why she came yesterday. Why, yes, I know she did. I'm perfectly positive. Well, of course the only way I know is because a friend of mine who knows a sister-in-law of a girl that used to take lessons the hour before Rena had hers, said that she had heard it."

"No, I know she didn't get here yesterday. I heard that the management didn't want her to come and talk such a lot and everybody who knows Rena knows that no contract on earth could keep her from talking, and so the manager kept her and is going to let her come on with the company, not a minute sooner."

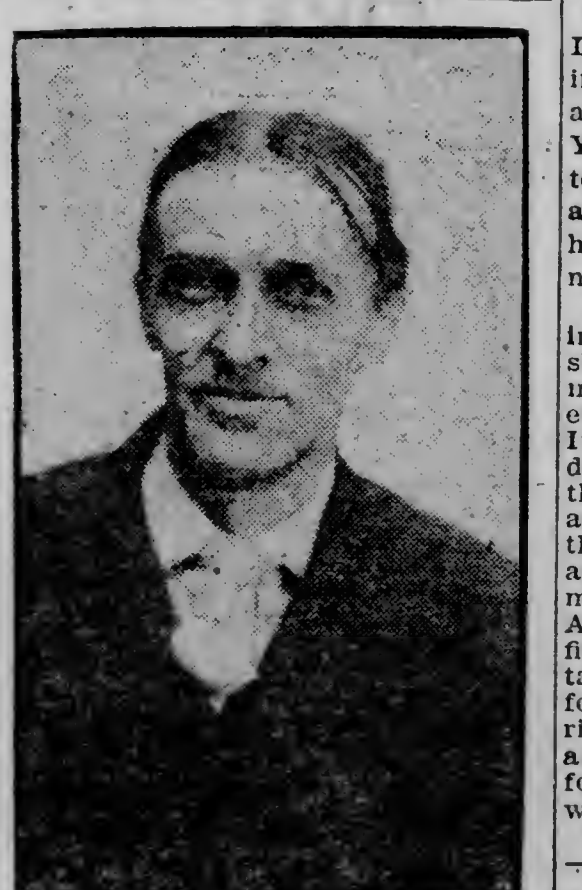

"Why, I heard she was sick and wasn't going to sing at all."

"O, mercy! How perfectly awful! Miss Rena Vivienne did not arrive on the Omaha train today as many people fondly expected. She did not come yesterday, but no conclusion, that therefore she will not come tomorrow, need be seized. A rumor was current this afternoon after the 11 o'clock train had arrived at 1:30 p. m. that Rena was ill at Chicago, but like the others, there is no sworn evidence from authoritative sources and Duluth may expect to hear the young Duluthian warble through the role of "White Butterfly."

Mr. Marshall was this afternoon asked for some information on the subject, but he could not explain why Miss Smith had not arrived. He stated that he had heard that the story of her illness had been started to explain why she did not appear in Milwaukee, and that it was likely that she would be on hand for the Duluth engagement, as announced.

Can Cure Cancer

At Home Without Pain, Plaster or Operation and Tell You How.

I have Proven Cancer Can Be Cured at Home. No Pain, No Plaster, No Knife. Dr. Wells.

I have discovered a new and seemingly infallible cure for the deadly cancer. I have made some most astonishing cures. I believe every person with cancer should know of this marvelous medicine and its wonderful cures, and I will be glad to give full information free to all who write me and tell me about their case.

Peter Kegan, Galesburg, Ill., had cancer of the mouth and throat. Doctors said: "No hope." Mr. Kegan wrote: "It is only a question of a short time—I must die." Today his cancer is healed up and he is well. My marvelous medicine cures it. It is just such cures to its credit. It is saving people every day and restoring them to health and strength. If you have cancer or any lump or sore that quickly and safely and at very small expense, no matter what your condition may be, do not hesitate to write your letter promptly, giving me full and complete information and proof of many remarkable cures.

MARSHALL TALKS CUBA

Went Hungry While He Was on the Island.

People Want American Rule—Poor Form of Government.

Charles A. Marshall, manager of the Lyceum theater, returned last evening from Cuba. On his way to the island he stopped for a time in New York, and while there was summoned to appear in a case concerning the theatrical trust, but managing to secure his release, so that his trip South was not seriously delayed.

"A good many Duluthians are visiting Cuba this winter," said Mr. Marshall today. "The island is becoming more popular as a tourist center, and every year shows an increase in travel. It is an interesting place for a few days, but I would not care to remain there for any length of time and try to subsist on the fare one receives at the hotels. The hotel accommodations are very poor, and fall far short of meeting the demands made upon them. After a certain length of time, a man finds it necessary, wherever he is, to take really nourishing food in some form or other, and when that time arrives, he is forced to leave the island after his arrival there, he has to start for the United States again. Cuban food will not satisfy him."

"While there are a good many Americans who permanently reside on the island, the amount of American capital invested there is not nearly so large as it would be if the Cuban form of government were more stable. Business men do not care to invest their money where there is an excellent chance that the very poor form of government may change in such a manner as to result in a heavy financial loss to them."

President Roosevelt has announced that the United States will give Cuba another election. People down there who own property all say this means another revolution. Many of the so-called Cubans will not work. They own no property and cannot read or write, and cannot be expected to vote intelligently. The Cuban negroes outnumber the whites, and residents of the island, who are of purely Spanish blood. Their ideal of liberty is very different from that of the ordinary mortal. They are unreasonable in their demands, and are more anxious for social equality than anything else.

It is the Cuban negro's ambition to live at the expense of the sweat of others, and to rule while others work.

The island has a peculiar system of taxation. Only that which produces is taxed. Such land as is not in the hands of the government, and it is the same with the house on the land. There is every reason why the United States should own and govern Cuba. No one questions the richness of the soil, or general productiveness of the country, and with the proper form of government, the present prosperity would be many times greater.

That which needed is a guarantee that property and investments will be protected. When this comes, Cuba will rapidly get ahead in a business way. Business seems to be pretty good there now, but it would be much better under different conditions.

"It seems funny to a Northerner to have the sun directly over his head during the middle of the day. His heat is something awful, about noon, and one look at the sun at that hour makes a person dizzy. The people do not work while it is so warm. They begin early in the morning, work until perhaps 10:30 o'clock, and then lie around in their homes and in the shade until about 2 o'clock, or a little later. It is a period of recreation as well as rest for some."

"The theaters down there are somewhat out-of-date, and of course, the attractions do not compare with those we have in the United States. An American company is playing engagements on the island now, however, and I guess is doing a fair business."

The seaports talked about so much in fiction and song are a myth. They are black, flat-nosed lumps, and to the average American there is nothing attractive about them. Morro castle is not built, so well as the Lyceum building. The buildings in Havana are of the low Spanish style. The town is 5,000 years behind the times, and everybody robs the Americans."

CHARLES A. MARSHALL.

Fargo.—Pure food has again triumphed in North Dakota. Judge Amidon of the federal court, has dismissed the temporary order restraining Prof. E. P. Ladd from publishing the results of his analysis of the whisky manufactured by the Paul Jones Whisky Co., of Louisville, Ky. Some time ago, while analyzing various intoxicants, Prof. Ladd came across a whisky which led him to believe that the whisky was not what it was represented to be, and he prepared a bulletin which he intended to publish in one of the official bulletins issued from the experiment station. Learning of his intention, the manufacturers brought suit in the United States court to prevent the publication of the analysis. Pending a further hearing, the case they secured a temporary injunction. Then they announced lost courage and consented to a withdrawal of the suit. The case is one of several of the same kind, in all of which Prof. Ladd has triumphed.

Knowing that her mother lay dying hundreds of miles away and that it would be impossible for her to reach her bedside, Miss Junita Russell, an actress at one of the local theaters, performed her part on the stage in a way reminiscent of the case they secured a temporary injunction. Then they announced lost courage and consented to a withdrawal of the suit. The case is one of several of the same kind, in all of which Prof. Ladd has triumphed.

THE RICH AND FERTILE LANDS OF CHISAGO COUNTY

Section of Minnesota Teeming With Natural Advantages, Beautiful Lakes and Streams--The Ideal Region for Farming, Wheat-Raising and Dairying.

By J. A. MONGER.

There is still room in Chisago county for thousands of settlers on improved farms and wild land, where the soil is rich and the climate bracing and health giving, where there is abundance of purest crystal water, the best of railroad facilities, good roads, unequaled school and church opportunities and where all the advantages of the older states are enjoyed, such as creameries, flour mills and cheese factories. It is the ideal land for the farmer; an unsurpassed agricultural, meat raising and dairy section of Minnesota. In a word, Chisago county has no superior. It is one of the leading potato markets of the Northwest. In 1906 the surplus crop of potatoes was 6,000 cars which found a ready market in Duluth, St. Paul, Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago and other territory, while 500,000 bushels were used in the manufacture of starch, there being three huge factories in the county. This product is sold in the New England textile factories where it is used for signing cloth. The soil is especially adapted to raising potatoes, being a rich sandy loam that yields 150 to 200 bushels to the acre, a sure crop with no failures, netting the handsome income of $1,000 to $2,000 for each 40-acre potato farm. There is a variety of soils, running from sandy loam to rich heavy woodland, that gives a marvellous yield of wheat, oats, rye, barley, corn, clover and grasses. This is the great dairy section of the state, there being eleven creameries in Chisago county which made the following record for 1906:

	Pounds.	Value.
Lindstrom Creamery Co.	278,563	$64,676.50
Chisago City Co-operative Creamery Co.	173,591	$38,273.31
Shafter Co-operative Creamery Co.	161,183	$45,156.34
Shafter Farmer Creamery Co.	131,211	$29,330.22
Falmouth Co-operative Creamery Co.	140,115	$30,127.40
Almauld Co-operative Creamery Co.	102,065	$6,214.00
East Co-operative Creamery Co.	131,600	$28,364.14
Rock Creek Co-operative Creamery Co.	124,617	$27,400.71
Stark Co-operative Creamery Co.	89,546	$20,273.64
Harris Creamery Co.	120,784	$24,364.00
Burnside Cheese Co.	2,046	$1,350.00

This report of creameries and cheese factories certainly tells the wonderful story of the fertility of the soil, its timothy and clover, better than we can write it. In the year 1906 Chisago county made greater strides along the more advanced lines than ever before in its history, having issued $40,000 in bonds and commenced the work of digging sixty-two miles of ditches, or thirteen in number, while surveys have been made for three others, covering ten miles more of territory. These sixty-two miles of ditches will reclaim 19,000 acres of the most fertile section of Chisago county, and will add to the earning capacity of the soil for hay land $30,000 annually. The communities to be benefited by these drainage ditches will be the North Branch, Rush City, Harris, Stacy, Wyoming, Forest Lake and Shafter. The man who has mapped out this benefit to the county is H. A. Swenson, county surveyor, an educated civil engineer of high standing.

Chisago county has long enjoyed a wide reputation for her beautiful ground lakes, the picturesque St. Croix and other streams affording excellent grounds for bass, pickerel, walleyed pike and sunfish, while in trout streams she leads the list in Minnesota. For an all-out-door playground, strange and beautiful scenery, none equals that to be found at Taylor Falls, at the head of Lake Umbagog, on the St. Croix river; Center City, on Chisago lake, and Lindstrom, a summer resort of great attraction. All these three localities possess their own peculiar charms, which are so widely contrasting as to give each an individual attraction that the other does not possess. In fact, they are a string of scenic gems, each with its own peculiar grace, that must be visited to be appreciated.

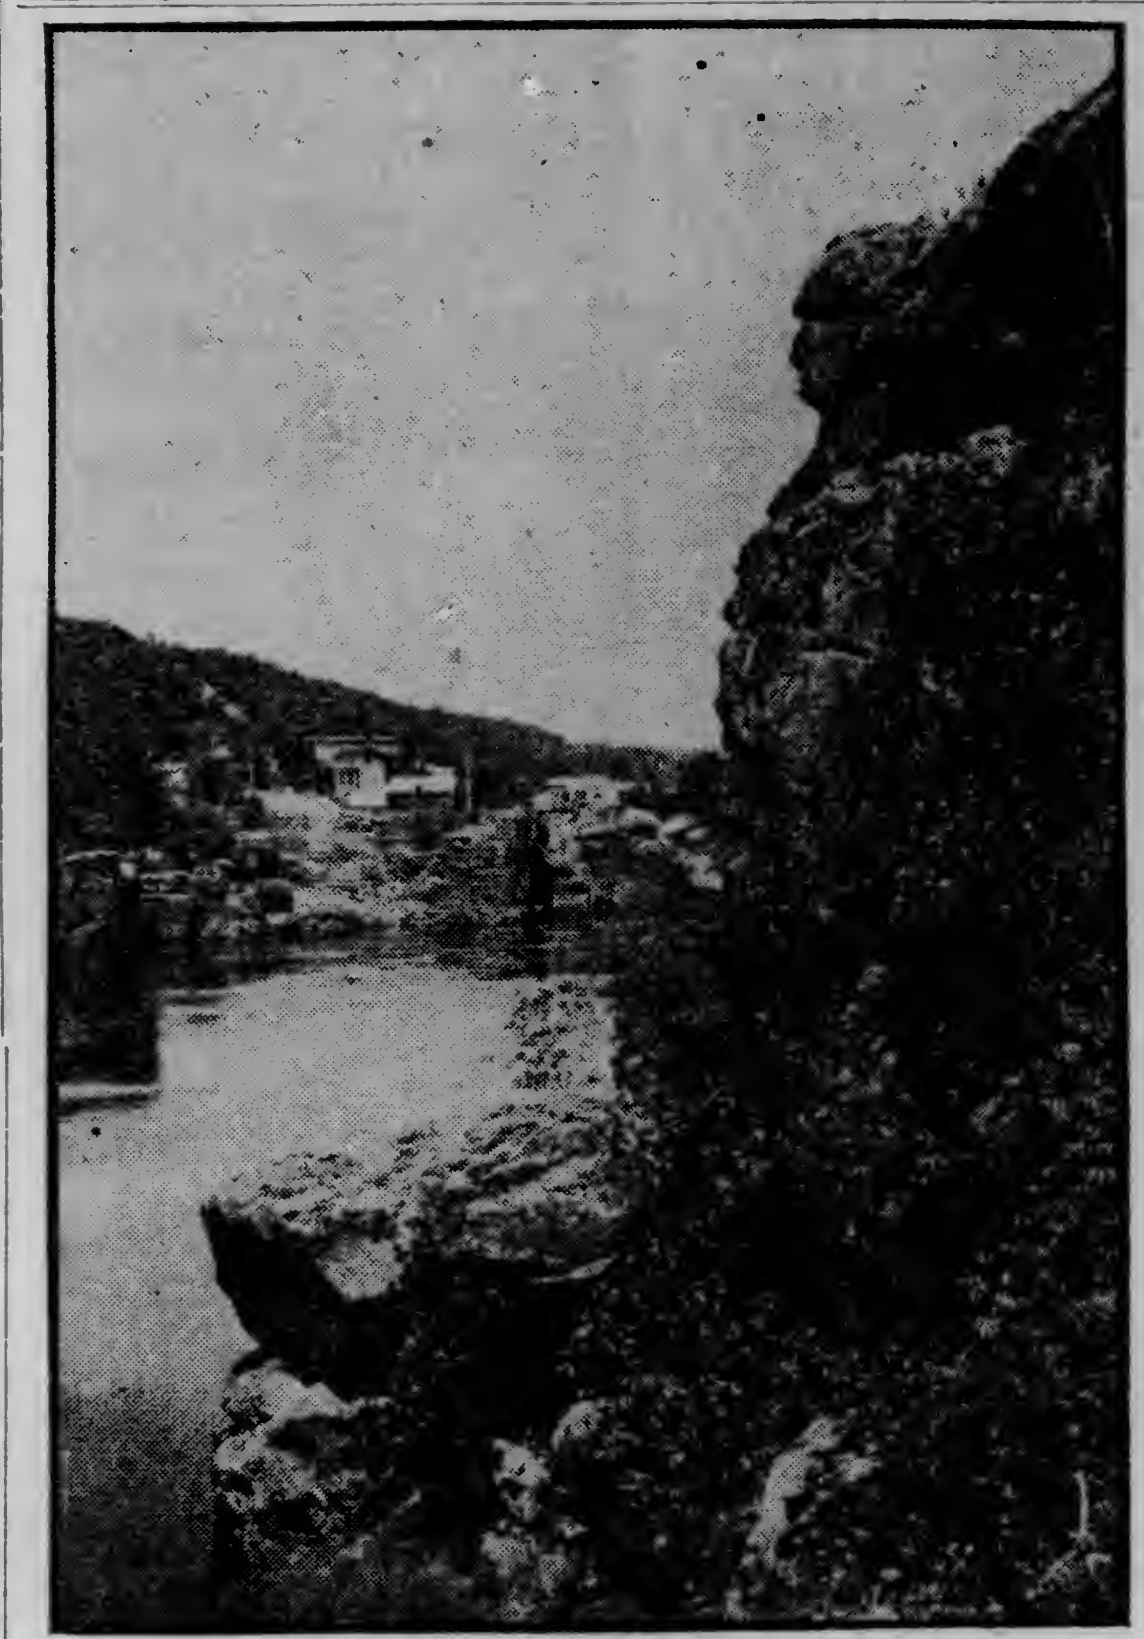

CENTER CITY.

This is the judicial seat of Chisago county, and was first settled in 1853. It has grown to be a sprightly town of 300 population, one of the chief summer resorts on the Northern Pacific railroad system in Minnesota. Its future is bright, as it has a class of pushing, progressive business men. This has been the county seat for the past thirty years, and it was in these bygone days that the present courthouse was built, a two-story frame building, that cost $7,000. The officials who fill the various offices

THE CENTRAL CITY HOTEL, Center City.

This hotel is located on the picturesque shores of Chisago lake, one of the best fishing grounds in the state. The Central City is owned and managed by W. E. Vaughn, who came here in May, 1905. It is a thirty-five-room house with cottages, well furnished and conducted. There is a boat livery in connection and service is of an attractive nature. Mr. Vaughn was born in Knoxville, Tenn., in 1856 and came West in 1882, locating in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where he followed farming and CHISAGO LAKE GRANITE AND MARBLE WORKS, CENTER CITY.

The history of Chisago county would not be complete without a mention of the Chisago Lake Granite and Marble Works, at Center City, founded in 1893 by its present owner, J. N. Westlund. From a small beginning it has grown until at present it compares favorably with any monumental works in the large cities in the state, and doing practically all the work in its line of business in Chisago and surrounding counties. It also ships its work to all points in the Northwest. The main reason for Mr. Westlund's success is his close attention to every detail of work. Buying the granite and marble in large lots direct from the quarries always for spot cash, has enabled him to sell at a much lower price than what other dealers are selling for.

are: Auditor, A. B. Slattergren; treasurer, John Johnston; register of deeds, Alfred P. Stoberg; sheriff, Charles Andrews; judge of probate, Edward W. Stark; clerk of court, P. G. Sansen; superintendent of schools, J. E. Modin; county attorney, Charles Elmquist; county surveyor, H. A. Swenson.

Hon. Charles E. Elmquist, county attorney, was first elected in 1900 and is now serving his fourth term. He started his career as a printer at Rush City, his present home, in 1889, on the Rush City Post, and afterward became its publisher. Then he attended the law department of the state university and graduated, class 1898. He is an able attorney and an orator of note. In state politics he has a high standing, being a member of the Republican state central committee.

H. A. Swenson, county surveyor, is now serving his first term. He was educated in the public school of Taylor Falls, and is a graduate of Carlton college, class 1881. He took the scientific course, and after leaving college, took up civil engineering, his first position being with the St. Paul & Duluth railroad, now the "Short Line," where he was employed for ten years on re-construction work, making his home in St. Paul down to 1902, when he located in Lindstrom, where he still where he still owns a farm of 104 acres. When Uncle Sam was looking for men to preserve the Union Mr. Vaughn came forward and enlisted in Company I, of the Twentieth Iowa Infantry, in 1862 and was mustered out on April 10, 1865. He was on the firing line and saw his comrades mowed down by rebel bullets like grass before the scythe. Mr. Vaughn is one of nature's noblemen, always with an outstretched hand of friendship for those who are worthy.

RUSH CITY.

This is the big city of Chisago county, and a busy mart of elevators, population it has 1,200, and is growing fast. It is located on the Northern Pacific railroad, twenty-three miles north of Center City, the judicial seat, and fifty-four miles north of St. Paul. It is in the very heart of a rich and fertile farming country with soil that grows 200 to 300 bushels of potatoes to the acre and which is making the farmers wealthy. Rush City in business blocks is second to none in the state, population considered, while the residence portion is in keeping. It has six churches covering all denominations; has a state high school, two banking houses; a large roller flouring mill; a brick yard, grain elevators, creamery, starch works and an electric lighting plant, making it one of the most pushing cities of the Northland.

HON. SAMUEL C. JOHNSON.

This gentleman came here in 1872, starting a drug store, which he conducted, in connection with an agricultural implement business down to 1884, at which time he sold the drug store, devoting all his time to the conduct of the latter enterprise. Mr. Johnson was appointed postmaster in 1888 and again in 1892, which position he still holds, having been first re-appointed for another four years, in 1902. He served as a member of the legislature from the Thirty-second district, with marked distinction. Samuel C. Johnson has many interests in Rush City. He is president of the Rush City Electric Light company; vice president of the First National bank; the head of the S. C. Johnson & Son hardware store, besides owning the leading two-story brick business block and office building. Hon. Samuel C. Johnson is a native of Sweden from there in 1851. He came to the United States, locating in Taylor Falls in 1867, and later to Rush City.

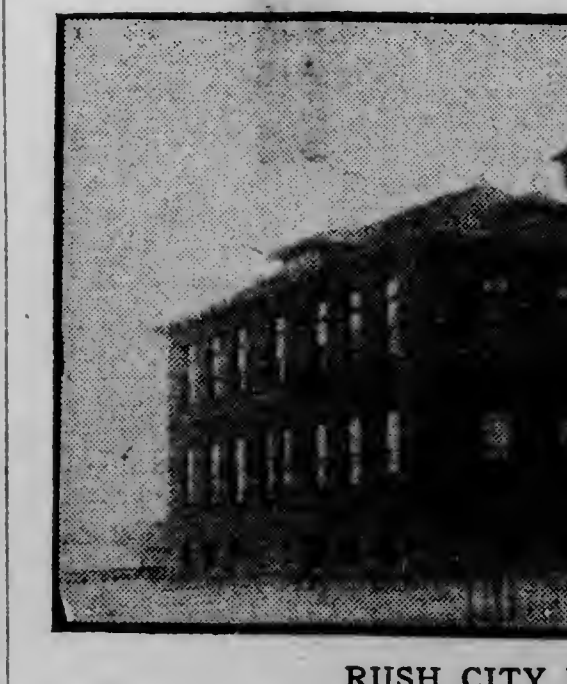

RUSH CITY ROLLER MILLS.

These mills were established in 1883, and are today rated as the best equipped in the interior of the state, having all the latest machinery known to the art of flour making. It is a 150 barrel mill, turning out the famous "Gold Dust," "Rush City Best" and "Standard" brands, made from No. 1 northern wheat. They also grind rye and feed. The elevator capacity is 30,000 bushels, but they handle 250,000 bushels a season. The product of these mills finds a ready market in Duluth and other sections of the Northland. The active business heads of the Rush City roller mills are J. F. Hamberg, president, and H. Meyer, manager.

IMPROVED FARMS AND WILD LAND.

The agricultural resources of Chisago county are far in advance of other sections of the state for diversified farming, dairying and stock-raising. Especially is this true of the portion tributary to Rush City, where the soil varies from a black and dark loam, with clay subsoil, to a rich, sandy loam that has been vitalized for ages by the crops of vegetation, making it an almost inexhaustible crop-producer. This land originally was covered with hard wood timber, and is an exceedingly rich soil for the growing of all kinds of crops. The sun never shone upon a better dairy or stock country, as timothy and red clover yield from two to three tons to the acre, two crops a season--no failure. Nor is this all. There is 18 per cent more nutrition in the soil than in that of the prairie states of Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska or Illinois. You who want a piece of this land, improved or wild, will do well to write to Theo. E. Lindstrom, Rush City, Minn., who has a few choice improved-farms, with splendid buildings, near the best of schools, on good roads, within two to five miles of Rush City, from $25 to $50 an acre, on easy terms and long time, and wild lands from $3 to $15 per acre. This is a chance of a lifetime, as these farms and lands will be sure to double in value the next two years, as the "Soo line" will be in the territory."

BANKING HOUSES.

Rush City is up and doing in the banking business and there is none in the state as to capital and financial responsibility, the peer of her banks, and this is saying much.

BANK OF RUSH CITY.

This is the oldest bank in the county, and one of the strongest financially, having a capital of $10,000 and surplus of $4,000. It pays interest on deposits, loans money on farm mortgages, and does a general insurance business, having twelve of the best Minnesota companies. The president, John C. Carlson is one of the old pioneers, having lived here thirty-three years, while Hjalmar Anderson, the cashier, has been with this bank since he was 18 years old, working his way up from office boy. The Bank of Rush City is one of the live factors in the upbuilding and expansion of the city and county.

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK.

The officers are P. H. Welcomme, president, S. C. Johnson, vice president and G. M. Erickson, cashier. The bank also does an insurance business, having eleven union companies.

Of course, a store ad may be a "pulling" one, but if it is not placed in The Herald, before enough of the right kind of people, "what's the use?"

CHISAGO CITY.

This is a village of 300 population, situated on the sulphur waters of Chisago lake and the Northern Pacific railroad. It is a live town with a growing future as the country round about is more thickly settled, as the soil is very fertile and produces the best of crops. The big industry is the Chisago City Co-operative Creamery company, that manufactures 154,650 pounds of gilt

THE NEW BRANDT SPRAYER, CHISAGO CITY.

One of the newest and most valuable inventions is that of the above name, first put upon the market in 1904. The new Brandt Sprayer is manufactured by Brandt Bros. Manufacturing company of Chisago City, Minnesota. The business increased so rapidly that they decided to manufacture them on a larger scale, and to this end projected a plant of their own. After investigating several places they concluded to locate at Chisago City as offering superior advantages over other towns they had investigated. The growth of their business compelled them soon to increase the capacity of their plant, and they have recently built an addition and doubled their force. Mr. George Brandt, in speaking of their venture, says: "The Brandt Sprayer, like all other new inventions, was at first deficient in some points, but with skilled work and willingness, they soon had it perfected." The sprayer is listed in all the leading catalogues, and their sale runs into thousands annually. The outlook for the future is very prosperous.

Martin Peterson came here in 1895 and established the Chicago Meat market, and has built up a flourishing business. He was born in Sweden in 1870 and came to Stillwater, Minn., in 1887, where he worked in the woods and saw mills down to the time of his coming here.

LINDSTROM.

This is one of the favorite all-outdoor playgrounds of our beautiful Northland. It is situated on the shores of Chicago lake, where tourists and fishermen will away the mid-summer hours in boating, swimming, fishing, and other sports. This charming spot is located on the Northern Pacific, two miles west of Center City, and is about five miles northeast of St. Paul. It is a well built city of 600 population, with many attractive business blocks, the best of schools and churches, a creamery, flour mill, grain elevator, cannery, factory, wagon and cigar factories, and other growing industries, that make Lindstrom an ideal home city and an unequalled summer resort.

FIRST STATE BANK OF LINDSTROM.

In 1900 this bank was established as a private institution. On Jan. 1, 1901, it was reorganized as a state bank, and the following statement certainly reflects the financial standing and condition of the bank, which is men better than we can write it:

Assets:
Loans and discounts	$2,215.25
Other bonds, stocks and securities	214.08
Overdrafts	1,265.92
Real estate, furniture and fixtures	6,086.49
Cash on hand and due from banks	44,362.88
Total	$52,144.61
Liabilities:
Capital stock	$10,000.00
Undivided profits	1,235.81
Deposits	118,908.30
Total	$129,144.11

The bank occupies a fine pressed brick building, 34x40, and has all modern appliances known to up-to-date banking. They pay 4 per cent interest on time deposits, and have farm mortgages at 6 per cent and other rates. The officers are: M. W. Tuttle, president; W. H. Rowell, first vice president; O. F. Lindstrom, cashier.

LINDSTROM MILLING COMPANY.

The Lindstrom Roller mill was built in the summer of 1905, and put in operation in October of the same year. The firm, James Kay & Son, comprised of James Kay Sr., and Thomas H. Kay, who ran the business until 1897, when the firm was changed to James Kay & Son, selling out to James E. Kay, his brother. The mill produced 150 barrels per day and was the largest business both at home and abroad, up to the year 1901, when it had the misfortune to be closed.

It was then purchased by C. A. Victor and Thomas H. Kay, under the firm name of Victor & Kay. Mr. Victor owned the largest interest in the business. Two years later the firm was incorporated under the Minnesota state laws and the name changed to Lindstrom Mill company.

At this time the name of the brands were changed to V. & K. Best, Arlie's Gold Dust and Royal Crown. These were made good brands from the very beginning, and have kept their standard and quality ever since. The mill is one of the excellent quality of the Lindstrom flour was obtained last month, when the company received a gold medal from the world's fair in St. Louis for these three grades.

The firm has had a good market for these grades from the first start, and the business has been constantly increasing ever since, until they now have a local trade for all the V. & K. Best and Arlie's Gold Dust they can make and a greater demand from across the water for the Royal Crown than they can supply.

Another feature which has made the Lindstrom mill famous in this overwhelming Swedish section is the fact that it makes a good healthy, delicious and nutritious bread, that cannot be excelled even by the best patent flour made.

IMPROVED AND WILD LANDS. Those who have made substantial wealth in the Northland are those who have invested in improved or wild lands, and there are no better investments to be made than in Chicago, Pine or Carlton county, Minnesota, and Polk county, Wisconsin lands. You can buy improved farms at $25 an acre, and are located in the very heart of the best agricultural zone in the land, with schools, churches, creameries, and other facilities of good roads and unequalled rail-road facilities, with more roads surveyed to be built. This is where the choice of wild land is being offered at $5 to $15 per acre, on long time and small cash payments down. There will not be a spot of this land on the market at the close of 1907, so if you desire to make a new start in life you had better write to E. A. Akerson of Lindstrom, Minn., as he owns and controls some 20,000 acres in Pine and Carlton counties, Minnesota and 30,000

PENINSULA HOTEL, Lindstrom.

There are no better fishing grounds for pickerel, bass and crappies in season. If you desire to combine with nature as nature is, do not overlook Lindstrom or the Peninsula hotel.

A. RICHNER FEED MILL, Wyoming.

One of the very flourishing towns of 300 population on the Northern Pacific railroad is Wyoming, situated ten miles from Center City, the county seat, and twenty miles from St. Paul. The five promoters of this village is A. Richner, dealer in general merchandise and produce, who located here in 1894, after leaving everything in the fire at Hinkley, where he conducted the Eastern hotel. Mr. Richner, in addition to his general store, owns and operates the above feed mill, which has capacity of fifteen tons per day, and a lumber yard, carrying a acres in Polk county, Wisconsin. Mr. Akerson, has some real live bargains that will treble in value during the next year. Do not wait another day, but get on the road to prosperity by buying a farm in this most fertile region for mixed farming, dairying and stock.

ELIA NORDGREN'S BIG STORE, Sunrise.

Elia Nordgren located at Sunrise in 1892 and in 1895 embarked in the general merchandise business, where we find him today at the head of the Nordgren Big Store, that draws trade from all sections of the county. He owns one of the largest property owners of Sunrise, owning a 50-acre farm east of town, a portion of which he has sold to the late J. A. Rystrom. He is certainly one of the live men of Sunrise and Chicago county, one who has paid his party well in county development.

You didn't know, of course, that your neighbor up the street owned some suburban lots—but you know, of course, that he had a new automobile. Well, he traded those lots for it—and a Herald want ad, made it possible for him to do it.

M. A. TANGEN, DRUGGIST, TAYLOR'S FALLS.

This gentleman established the present drug business in 1902 and from the first has had a growing business. There is no better stocked drug store in Taylor's Falls, than the one at M. A. Tange's. He carries all the latest views of the dolls of St. Croix falls and makes a specialty of carrying everything in the fishing tackle line. Mr. Tange is a live, up-to-date man, who gives to every tourist who enters his door, the right hand of friendship, which has made him a long list of warm friends and patrons.

The above gentleman is one of the very active business men and a leader in the political affairs of Taylor's Falls, being mayor, which position he has filled for ten years. He settled here in 1888 and today we find him in the farm implement, wholesale and retail meat, livestock and farm produce business. Besides all these he puts up 500 tons of ice. Frank Fredeen does everything on a large scale. He owns his store building, three warehouses and an improved farm of 100 acres one mile west of town. He is a large grower of hay, poultry, veal, cattle and hogs to Duluth and other markets. If Taylor's Falls only had a half dozen Fredens it would be one of the large cities of the state.

DEAD AT THE THROTTLE.

Engineer on the Pennsylvania Road Killed in His Cab. Philadelphia, Feb. 7.—The congressional limited train on the Pennsylvania railroad which leaves Washington for New York at 4 o'clock, ran through this city last night at terrific speed, with the engineer, Joseph Toms, dead at the throttle. The train, which was made up of seven buffet, dining and parlor cars, makes two stops in this city, one at West Philadelphia and the other at North Philadelphia. Shortly after the train left West Philadelphia the fireman, Harry Michener, noticed the speed of the train was unusual, and he showed that he had sensed the feeling in the legislature toward Duluth. He told how it would only take an average of less than one and a half votes to each precinct in the state to defeat the tax amendment and carry the good roads amendment. He said that all that was desired was the truth. If the people voted something into the constitution that didn't get there, it should go there in spite of the official returns; if they voted down something that got into the constitution in spite of their rejection of it, it should be cut out. DEAD AT THE THROTTLE.

Engineer on the Pennsylvania Road Killed in His Cab. Philadelphia, Feb. 7.—The congressional limited train on the Pennsylvania railroad which leaves Washington for New York at 4 o'clock, ran through this city last night at terrific speed, with the engineer, Joseph Toms, dead at the throttle. The train, which was made up of seven buffet, dining and parlor cars, makes two stops in this city, one at West Philadelphia and the other at North Philadelphia. Shortly after the train left West Philadelphia the fireman, Harry Michener, noticed the speed of the train was unusual, and he showed that he had sensed the feeling in the legislature toward Duluth. He told how it would only take an average of less than one and a half votes to each precinct in the state to defeat the tax amendment and carry the good roads amendment. He said that all that was desired was the truth. If the people voted something into the constitution that didn't get there, it should go there in spite of the official returns; if they voted down something that got into the constitution in spite of their rejection of it, it should be cut out. He did not believe, as some have charged, that there was a plot back of the alteration of the tally sheets. It was, in his opinion, a simple mistake; a mistake made by the state, which the state should correct. The attorney general of the state had held him not long ago that Minnesota could not afford to let a stain remain on the integrity of the constitution, and that the truth should be found.

LADY KATHLEEN

CLEVER ACTRESS

Writes and Produces
"Robin Hood" at Her English Home.

London, Feb. 7.—Thirteen-year-old Lady Kathleen Hastings, eldest daughter of the earl of Huntingdon, is an accomplished playwright, actress and producer of plays. At her father's Storrshire home, a lady's manor, she has entertained a distinguished house party with a dramatic version of "Robin Hood" written by herself, in which she played the part of the bold outlaw of Sherwood forest. She chose the story of Robin Hood for her play probably because in the legend Robin is created earl of Huntingdon, although there is no connection between the outlaw and the present family.

The little play was performed on a stage arranged in the large drawing room of Maudley manor. Lady Kathleen was supported by a company of child actors, including her two younger sisters, her brother, Viscount Hastings, aged 6, and little Count Michael Torby, son of the Grand Duke Michael of Russia, who was among the audience, with his morganatic wife, Countess Torby. Several plays by Lady Kathleen have been successfully produced by her at the Theatre Royal, Maudley manor.

DIVORCES SENSATIONAL.

Two Cases, With Unusual Features, Shock Denver Society.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 7.—Two of the most sensational divorce suits ever filed in a court of law recently ended by decrees being secretly granted in Denver to Susan Smith, wife of Milton Smith, a native of New York state and for many years the chairman of the Democratic state committee of Colorado, and to Almie Hargrove, daughter of A. R. Norechimer, former diamond merchant of New York city and a member of the American Development & Investment company, of which concern the divorcee's father is president.

The Smith and Hargrove divorces were granted on Dec. 15, the trials being held behind closed doors in the district court, Judge John I. Mullins, Smith's intimate friend, presiding. On Jan. 15 the appeals were argued before Judge Matt S. Hughes of the Grand Avenue Methodist Episcopal church of Kansas City. Almie Hargrove, 24 years of age, claims never having been married, and Milton Smith, accompanied by an aged man, the girl's father, who kept the minister from asking unpleasant questions. "Thoroughly aroused by the trick that she says has been played on him, Ernest Hargrove, student, dreamer and osteopathist, has ordered his attorneys to petition the court to set aside the decree of divorce granted to Almie Hargrove, on the ground that it was obtained by conspiracy on the part of both the woman and the

DISREGARD OF RIGHTS

Misceants Wantonly Destroying Summer Homes of Duluth People.

Scene of Depredations Is in Vicinity of Spirit Lake.

Depredations committed at the summer homes of several of the Duluth people who have erected cottages on the shores of Spirit Lake are the grounds for serious complaint. Several cases are known where cottages on the lake have been broken into and the contents destroyed.

One of those who have suffered most by reason of the wanton act of rowdies is L. A. Marvin, deputy county auditor, who has a comfortable little summer home on the shore of Spirit Lake. A year ago this winter Mr. Marvin left the place, as he supposed, securely barricaded at the windows and doors, but some person or persons, intent on getting in, not only destroyed the lock on the door, but smashed the windows and ruined some of the furniture that had been left by the family for the winter.

Thinking to avoid such depredations this winter, and to arouse no antagonism on the part of rowdies, who might try to gain in this way, Marvin did not lock his cottage, but left it in good order, with the simple request that persons using it would please leave it as they found it. In spite of the kindly intentions of Mr. Marvin, however, the cottage, not long ago, broke out the windows, and practically wrecked the interior of the place, their actions seeming to have been actuated by a motive to see just how much they could possibly injure a person who had never done anything to incur such contemptible treatment.

It is just such acts as these which are causing the property owners along the river and the lake to become incensed, and they are fast reaching the stage where, if they get any clue to the perpetrators, they will push the matter to the extreme limit of the law.

Some cases are known where the owner, if he were satisfied as to the guilt of another person, might not wait for the law, but would visit summary justice on the offender that would be very effective.

Duluth residents who own summer homes, either along the St. Louis river or elsewhere, are getting weary of the utter disregard that seems to be shown by the rowdies to the rights of responsible persons. It is believed that a few examples would have a beneficial effect.

AITKIN PROJECT IS NOT FAVORED

River and Harbor Committee Declined to Consider It.

Washington, Feb. 7.—Further consideration of the proposition relative to the Aitkin, Minn., channel, proposed by members of the Minnesota delegation has convinced them that under the terms of the resolution presented here by Warren Potter of Aitkin, it will be impossible to secure any consideration of the subject, although it admittedly contains many features of advantage to Upper Mississippi navigation.

The river and harbor committee has declined to consider the proposition, notwithstanding urgent requests made by Representative Bode, who is a member of the committee, and by Burton and his colleagues holding that the advantage to navigation is not presented in such form as to warrant action by the committee.

Attention also is called to the fact that the large body of swamp lands which would be reclaimed by the project are lands that were originally granted to Minnesota by the federal government, with the understanding that they were to be reclaimed.

It is suggested here that if the project would be considered in different form, with action by the state legislature, providing an appropriation covering the reclamation of the lands, some help may be obtained from the federal government for such part of the work as will naturally contribute to the flow of water in the Mississippi river, thereby aiding navigation.

Mr. Potter presented to the delegation copies of a statement made to him by William De La Barre, a hydraulic engineer of Minneapolis, pointing out how, in addition to the protection which land owners would be greatly improved.

Under the provision of the omnibus bill relating to aids for navigation, an item is included for a new light-house tender for the Upper Mississippi, and will be employed in the lighting service along the upper reaches of the Mississippi.

HORNED RABBIT SHOT.
Hunters Kill Animal on Bar in Mississippi River.

Sidney, Iowa, Feb. 7.—Herbert Johnson and John Greenwood, living at McPaul, while hunting on a bar in the Mississippi river shot a horned rabbit. The rabbit had the appearance of an ordinary "cottontail," but in the middle of its head it had a horn five inches in length. The horn was about as big around at its base as a dime and tapered down to a sharp point. In color and substance the horn resembled the horn of a sheep.

SCANDALS IN RUSSIA

New York Tailor Charged With Getting Graft of $400,000.

Was Advanced for Grain That Had Never Been Shipped.

New York, Feb. 7.—From a humble cutter in a New York furrier's establishment to the central figure in the great grain-purchase scandals that are just now agitating official circles in the Russian empire is the history of Eric Lidval, as disclosed by recent private advice from St. Petersburg, supplementing stories which have appeared in the Russian newspapers for the last month or six weeks. The rise of Lidval means an advance in four years from a weekly earning capacity of perhaps $50 per year to the successful bidder on a $500,000 contract; his downfall is recorded in the brief story of a disappearance from the scene of his operations with $400,000 of Russian government money in his pocket.

In his wake is a train of blasted reputations, constituting a scandal that involves Gen. Gurko, until recently the assistant minister of the interior in Russia; they concern the least one province, and subordinate officials without number. Nor is this all, for the government is just now beginning to purchase grain from other sources for the starving thousands in five other provinces, whose suffer from famine was delayed more than two months by the Lidval episode and its direct consequences.

There was a good many Russians now in New York who remember Eric Lidval eight or ten years ago, when he was employed as a cutter. He was free to leave easily, and used a gambler from the stories he told of himself, and was looked upon as an "wanderlust," and thought no more about it. He used to make occasional journeys back to his home country by way of vacation, and when he left New York in the summer of 1906, nobody thought that the trip had more than the usual significance. But it happened that the Russian minister of the interior, who goes abroad every summer, was on the same steamer with Lidval, and to that the Russian talked of his ambition to make the Russian American sanitary fixtures into Russia, and it developed that Lidval had obtained a contract for the largest manufacturing plumbing concerns in this country to represent it in St. Petersburg.

Soon began an advertising campaign in the newspapers of the Russian capital, the like of which the city had never seen. Lidval had been studying American methods, and improved on them until he seemed to be a fair way to convince the Russians that they were away behind the times in the matter of sanitation. His business was to have a real investigation to the firm here, and they went through satisfactorily for a year or so, and then he was called back to St. Petersburg to carry out line of surgical instruments.

But not even this measure of success was enough to convince the Russian newspapers that have come to this country since the grain scandal. Lidval had apparently been accepted by the Russians as a chain of gambling houses and resorts, and in outlying provinces, and that by filling the pockets of the Russian officials with money, he was to be able to carry out his plan.

The more radical St. Petersburg met Gen. Gurko in one of his gambling houses; that he first got the assistant minister of the interior into his debt, and then offered him a "release from his obligations and the bonus of $100,000," as well, if he would supply the six famine-stricken provinces of Southeastern Russia with grain.

At any rate, when the bids were announced last November, St. Petersburg was astounded by the terms of the bid put in by Lidval, the Russo-American importing agent, whose reputation as a capitalist was not of the best and with whom the American consul general in St. Petersburg had been in several unsatisfactory interviews on behalf of American shippers.

It was astonishing the Russians that he should have been able to furnish 180,000 tons of grain—the amount the contract called for—within a few months, and that he should have been able to do so without the aid of the government. The unsuccessful bidders lost no time in calling attention to the fact.

They claimed that he had not shipped, but that Lidval had no apparent backing, but he answered this criticism by talking darkly about a syndicate of Americans to whom the undertaking was but a trifle compared with their ordinary commitments.

Now came the most astounding thing of all. The government, without a dollar of security, advanced $500,000 rubles, or $100,000, to Lidval in part payment for the grain, none of which had been shipped. That was enough to start all the opposition newspapers into action, and as the weeks passed and still no grain reached the starving people in the southeastern provinces, they opened a campaign of exposure that eventually led to the charge that Gen. Gurko had been deceived, and that Lidval had come through a member of his family, he got his contract, and the worst was "demoted."

The pursuit of Lidval in the radical newspapers did not stop with the grain contract, and late in December he disappeared. The government sought to ascertain his whereabouts and was informed that he was in the south of Russia, buying grain, and too busy to bother with such little matters as official investigations into the circumstances under which he got his contract. Portwith the radical newspapers charged that there were many Russians in high official positions who would rather see the government a $400,000 loser and the people in the southeastern provinces starve, than to have a real investigation. One of these papers, the Russ, charged that Baron Frederik, governor of Nij-Novgorod, had accepted $25,000 as a bribe to permit Lidval to open a gambling house, and that he had been caught in the act. The Russ put in an answer asserting its charges, and declaring that he had the document to prove that the baron drew the money through a Paris bank.

The matter stands, according to the most recent St. Petersburg advices, with the government making new contracts for the purchase of grain for the starving provinces.

SLEUTHS SEEK LYNCHERS.
Many Detectives in Many Disguises Work for Reward.

Charles City, Iowa, Feb. 7.—Detective bureaus all over the country, stimulated by the offers made by Governor Cummins of $500 reward for each member of the mob which recently lynched James Cullen, have men at work on the case. During the last week men of mystery have been reported in Floyd county, and it is rumored that they are there to discover the fact it is said that the county is fairly overrun with detectives disguised as tramps, peddlers, farm hands, life insurance agents and egg buyers, who are bent on establishing the identity of the mob if possible. Pending further investigation they are trying to get the mob into a trap, and it will meet again next month, when it is hoped that enough evidence will have been uncovered by the detectives to indict some of the lynchers.

WANT DIVORCE ANNULLED.
Aged Couple, After Decade of Separation, to Try It Again.

Franklin, Pa., Feb. 7.—George and Elizabeth Myers, who have been divorced for nearly a decade, have applied to Judge Criswell for an annulment of their divorce.

The couple, both of whom are over 60 years of age, had not been on speaking terms until a few days ago, when the wife offered to bury past differences. The husband agreed, and they came here and had a lawyer prepare the papers for applications. They set forth that they were convinced they could live happily together. The judge took the papers under advisement.

from New York, and had become sick in New Orleans and was only reluctantly discharged from a hospital there. He gave his name as Perry Martin, and his charming manner enlisted sympathy. Employment was secured at the Oaks hotel as bellboy, where he remained until last Friday. Then came a surprise.

The manager saw the boy without his coat and noticed that the contour was not masculine. Charged with masquerading in false attire, the young woman burst into tears, confessed her sex and was bawled. She declared she had been compelled by force of circumstances to do man's apparel. As a boy she was popular among a circle of friends and on occasions would go to theaters and elsewhere with parties of young men. A strange feature of her story is her affection for a young woman in New York city, to whom she said she was engaged to be married.

Neglected Colds Throaten Life.
(From the Chicago Tribune.)
"Don't trifle with a cold," is good advice for prudent men and women. It may be vital in the case of a child. Proper food, good ventilation, and dry, warm clothing are the proper safeguards against colds. If they are maintained through the changeable weather of autumn, winter and spring, the chances of a surprise raid for colds will be slight. But the ordinary light cold will become severe if neglected, and a well established ripe cold is to the germ of diphtheria what honey is to the bee. The greatest menace to child life at this season of the year is the neglected cold. Whether it is a child or adult, the cold slight or severe, the very best treatment that can be adopted is to give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is safe and sure. The greatest popularity and immense sale of this preparation has been attained by its remarkable cures of this ailment. A cold never results in pneumonia unless it is given. For sale by all druggists.

TRULY LADY SLAVEY.
Daughter of Danish Minister of State Working as a Cook.

London, Feb. 7.—The Stittstend of Aalborg has made the discovery that Ole Hansen, the popular, democratic Danish minister of agriculture, has a daughter who acts as the "cook general" in a Berlin family.

It was the father's wish as well as the daughter's own inclination that she should thoroughly learn practical housekeeping, so it was determined that she should start right at the bottom of the ladder. Therefore, instead of attending cookery school lectures Miss Hansen took a situation in the house of a small government employe in Berlin, where at the same time she is learning German.

Her employer has not the faintest idea that it is the daughter of a minister of state who cooks the dinners and washes the dishes for the modest stipend of $1.25 per week.

TENNESSEE GOES DRY.
House Passes Prohibition Bill Already Passed by Senate.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 7.—By a vote of 71 to 24 the house passes the senate bill placing Tennessee in the list of prohibition states. The signature of the governor is practically certain.

This action is the culmination of a temperance fight of fourteen years and is the law providing that no intoxicants should be sold within four miles of public schools. The bill just passed extends the provisions of this law to all cities of 150,000 and less according to the census of 1900, which means the entire state.

The Memphis delegation made a desperate fight against the bill. Representative Starnback of Memphis said Memphis did not want to be reformed and would not be reformed, and that if the bill became a law 1,000 blind pigs would be started in Memphis.

THE HOUSE VOTES $50,000 FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL TO FIGHT RAILROADS

Half Is Available Now and the Balance
Next Year.

Bill is Rushed Through Under Suspension of Rules.

No More Mining Leases to be Issued for the Present.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

St. Paul, Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The house this morning rushed through a bill under suspension of the rules giving the attorney general a fighting fund of $50,000 to use in meeting the railroads in their attack upon the Minnesota freight rate reductions. Half of it is available now and the balance next year. Representative Dorsey of Glencoe, Democrat, made a protest against this hasty consideration, and said that nobody had been given a chance to discuss it until the roll call began. "We have had experiences like this before," he said, "when we appropriated $50,000 for railroad fight and did not get a dollar's worth of good out of it. It is a mistake to take money out of the treasury with so little consideration, and give it to the attorney general to enable him to give somebody a job, perhaps a member of this house. People are talking now about this being a use of state money for peanut politics, to let somebody advertise his governorship ambitions, and it should be considered carefully. However, there was but one other negative vote. The bill was introduced by Eugene St. Paul, as a substitute for the Spooner bill, the only change being to make part of the money immediately available.

The house also passed the Adams bill

PUBLIC LANDS

May Be Leased to Cattle Men for Grazing Purposes.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The senate committee on agriculture is preparing to consider a proposition looking to the leasing of the public lands for grazing purposes. A large delegation of cattlemen are already here to support the measure. The effort will be to have a provision covering the point incorporated in the agricultural appropriation bill as an amendment, the text of which has already been proposed by Senator Burkett.

The amendment authorizes the president to form from time to time establish grazing districts on the unreserved and unappropriated public lands by proclamation.

The question will be made the subject of a hearing by the committee next Monday. The measure will be opposed on the ground that it becomes a law it will give the big cattle men a monopoly of the range to the exclusion of the small holders.

INDIGNATION MEETING

Of Winnipeg Men Asks Government to Run the Railroads.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 8.—An indignation meeting of the Winnipeg board of trade was held Wednesday afternoon when Mayor Ashdown asked that the federal government be required to take over all western railway lines. The mayor said the time had passed for dealing with the railroads. They had handled three business of grain less this season than they did the previous year, and should have prepared for the increase in business by charging the transportation companies with filling their own coffers while neglecting the country.

The board eventually moved a strong resolution to the effect that the Dominion government be urged to take immediate steps to investigate the car and motive power shortage.

The Canadian Northern is refusing freight for the West is just reported, and of thirty cars ordered by the city from the Canadian Northern Jan. 26, not one has yet been delivered.

D. W. Hole, member of parliament for Winnipeg, asked if the stories in the press regarding the fuel shortage were correct, and the mayor replied that Winnipeg was living from hand to mouth so far as coal is concerned.

COIN WILL DECIDE.

Ties in Pittsburg Election to be Settled by "Flipping."

Pittsburg, Feb. 8.—In canvassing the vote cast ten days ago under the new universal primary election law, the county commissioners have discovered over forty cases in which there are ties for various positions and these will be settled by the toss of a coin.

The commissioners have notified all such candidates to come to the office of the commissioners and decide the matter by tossing a coin. Candidates who do not accept this invitation, the commissioners will do the flipping themselves and thereby determine the names that are to go on the ballot.

ANOTHER ELECTION

To be Held at Aurora on Waterworks Bonds.

Aurora, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—At a special meeting of the council, held last evening, arrangements were made for the holding of another special election for the voting of waterworks bonds. This step was made necessary by the fact that the notice of the former election was not published a sufficient length of time in advance of election day, and the bond buyers objected to the irregularity.

THROW OUT THE LORDS

Will be the Object of British Liberals in Near Future.

Crown Will Combine With People to Defeat the Aristocracy.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

London, Feb. 8.—The attorney general, Sir John L. Walton, who presumably spoke with the full knowledge of the intentions of the government, made an important declaration in a speech at Leeds last night, foreshadowing the government program for a reform of the house of lords. In the course of his remarks the attorney general said that the "grim and serious work" upon which the Liberals were entering "would mean a revolution and involve two or three dissolutions." He added that the house of lords was entirely out of harmony with modern Democratic institutions and must go. The government would endeavor to give effect to the will of the people by bills, which the peers would probably throw out, leading to a combination of the crown and people to defeat the aristocracy.

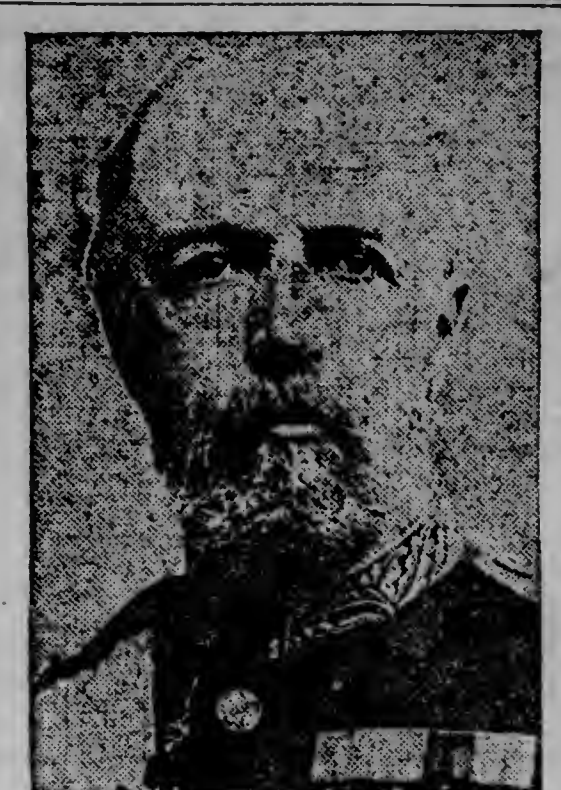

Attorney General Walton recognized that the struggle would be prolonged and exciting and would mean a complete rearrangement of the constitutional and political forces.

TERRORISTS SCORE AGAIN

Governor Alexandrovsky of Penza Shot and Killed.

Two Others Killed and One Wounded by Assassin.

Penza, Russia, Feb. 8.—S. A. Alexandrovsky, governor of Penza, was shot and killed by a young man as he was leaving the theater last night. In a desperate attempt to escape, the assassin also killed the assistant chief of police and a policeman and wounded the manager of the theater. Before the terrorist could be captured, he shot himself, and, during the night, died in a hospital. The assassin was not identified. The bullets which he used in his revolver were subsequently discovered to be poisoned.

M. Alexandrovsky, who was well known as chief commissioner of the Red Cross in the field, during the war between Russia and Japan, had just stepped out of the door of the theater when a youth pushed his way through the crowd and shot him through the neck. He fell dead on the spot. The assistant chief of police, who was standing near the door of the theater, tried to draw his revolver, but was shot dead by the terrorist before he could do so. Seeing that it was impossible to get through the crowds outside the building, the murderer dashed into the theater, firing wildly. The manager attempted to grapple with the murderer, who fired at him but missed and killed a policeman who was in the line of fire. In a second attempt to capture the assassin the manager was severely wounded. The terrorist fled through what he believed to be one of the exits, but was found by a patrol of the police and taken to the hospital. The land has already been surveyed and the two docks that the company already has in operation, and the work will be rushed to a speedy completion. It is understood that the work has been undertaken with the encouragement of the navy department, which is also said to have expressed a wish that it be carried to an early completion. It is said that the new dock will be 1,000 feet in length, 170 feet longer than the famous dock at Glasgow and 25 feet longer than the Alexandra dock in Belfast harbor.

Told Her Dreadful Stories About Conduct of Harry.

Cross-Examination of Witness May Not Begin Until Monday.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

New York, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw continued on the witness stand today at the trial of Harry K. Thaw, her husband, carrying forward the narrative of her life from the point where she left it off yesterday afternoon.

The story today began with the period immediately following her return from Europe in October, 1905, and was brought down to the return of the girl and her husband to New York after their honeymoon trip in 1905, when she said Stanford White had called to her on the street and attempted to speak to her.

Mrs. Thaw was still on the stand when luncheon recess was taken and the indications then were that her direct examination would occupy all the afternoon session. In that case District Attorney Jerome's cross-examination cannot be begun before Monday morning, as the court does not sit on Saturday.

Mrs. Thaw added interest to her vital story today, she declared Harry Thaw had accused her once of having improper relations with Stanford White after her return to the United States, but she told him "it is a lie, I have not."

She said Stanford White had tried to kiss her and he begged her to come and see him alone, but she would not. He cried and said she was not a human being and she told him she did not wish to have anything more to do with him. He had visited her after her return from Europe on the pretext that it was a matter of life and death and had to do with her family. He told her "the dreadful news about Harry and that to protect myself we must get him out of New York. He then took me to Abraham Hummel and they dictated a lot of things to a scribe, rather about Harry that were not true and when I started to interrupt they would not let me and said that I must help get Thaw out of New York and keep him out."

Mrs. Thaw said she signed nothing at the time, but did sign a paper she knew nothing about. At Mr. White's office, in response to his repeated demands, she later asked for this paper, was taken to Hummel's office, where they showed her a paper with her name to it, and agreed to burn it up.

Mr. Thomas tried to question her about some event in her life which finally induced her to accept Thaw, (Continued on page 13, first column.)

THE LARGEST DRY DOCK IN WORLD

Is About to be Constructed by a San Francisco Firm.

San Francisco, Feb. 8.—The largest dry dock in the world, with a stone and concrete basin big enough to hold any two of the battleships of the United States navy at one time, is about to be constructed at Hunters Point by the San Francisco Drydock company at a cost of $1,000,000. The land has already been surveyed and the two docks that the company already has in operation, and the work will be rushed to a speedy completion. It is understood that the work has been undertaken with the encouragement of the navy department, which is also said to have expressed a wish that it be carried to an early completion. It is said that the new dock will be 1,000 feet in length, 170 feet longer than the famous dock at Glasgow and 25 feet longer than the Alexandra dock in Belfast harbor.

SAVED PICTURE FIRST.

Then Trotter Entered Burning House and Rescued Family.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 8.—Leaving his wife and seven children surrounded by flames in his home at 1 a. m. yesterday, Taylor Trotter grabbed an expensive oil painting of his mother and rushed out into the snow. The cold upon his bare feet awoke him, and he rescued his family with great difficulty. He was badly burned on the hands and head.

SOULE TO BE TRIED.

Bank Wrecker Who Served One Term Is Confronted by Another.

Wabasha, Iowa, Feb. 8.—Despite the open charges of an Iowa Falls paper that "funny things are going on behind the scenes" in the case upon the second indictment against E. O. Soule, a banker of Iowa Falls, who embezzled $50,000 from the Home Savings bank of that city, he will be brought to trial in that city yesterday, Feb. 18. Soule is now in Chicago, where he has been since his release from the penitentiary at Anamosa.

REPORTS ARE NOT CREDITED

French Officials Do Not Believe Vatican Will Reject Offers.

Paris, Feb. 8.—Government officials are not inclined to credit the report from Rome that the Vatican authorities have decided to reject outright Education Minister Briand's circular on the subject of extracts for the use of the churches. The government would interpret such a rejection as conclusive proof that the Vatican is not sincere in the professed offers to reach an understanding with the French government on the question of the separation of church and state.

SLAYER PRONOUNCED SANE.

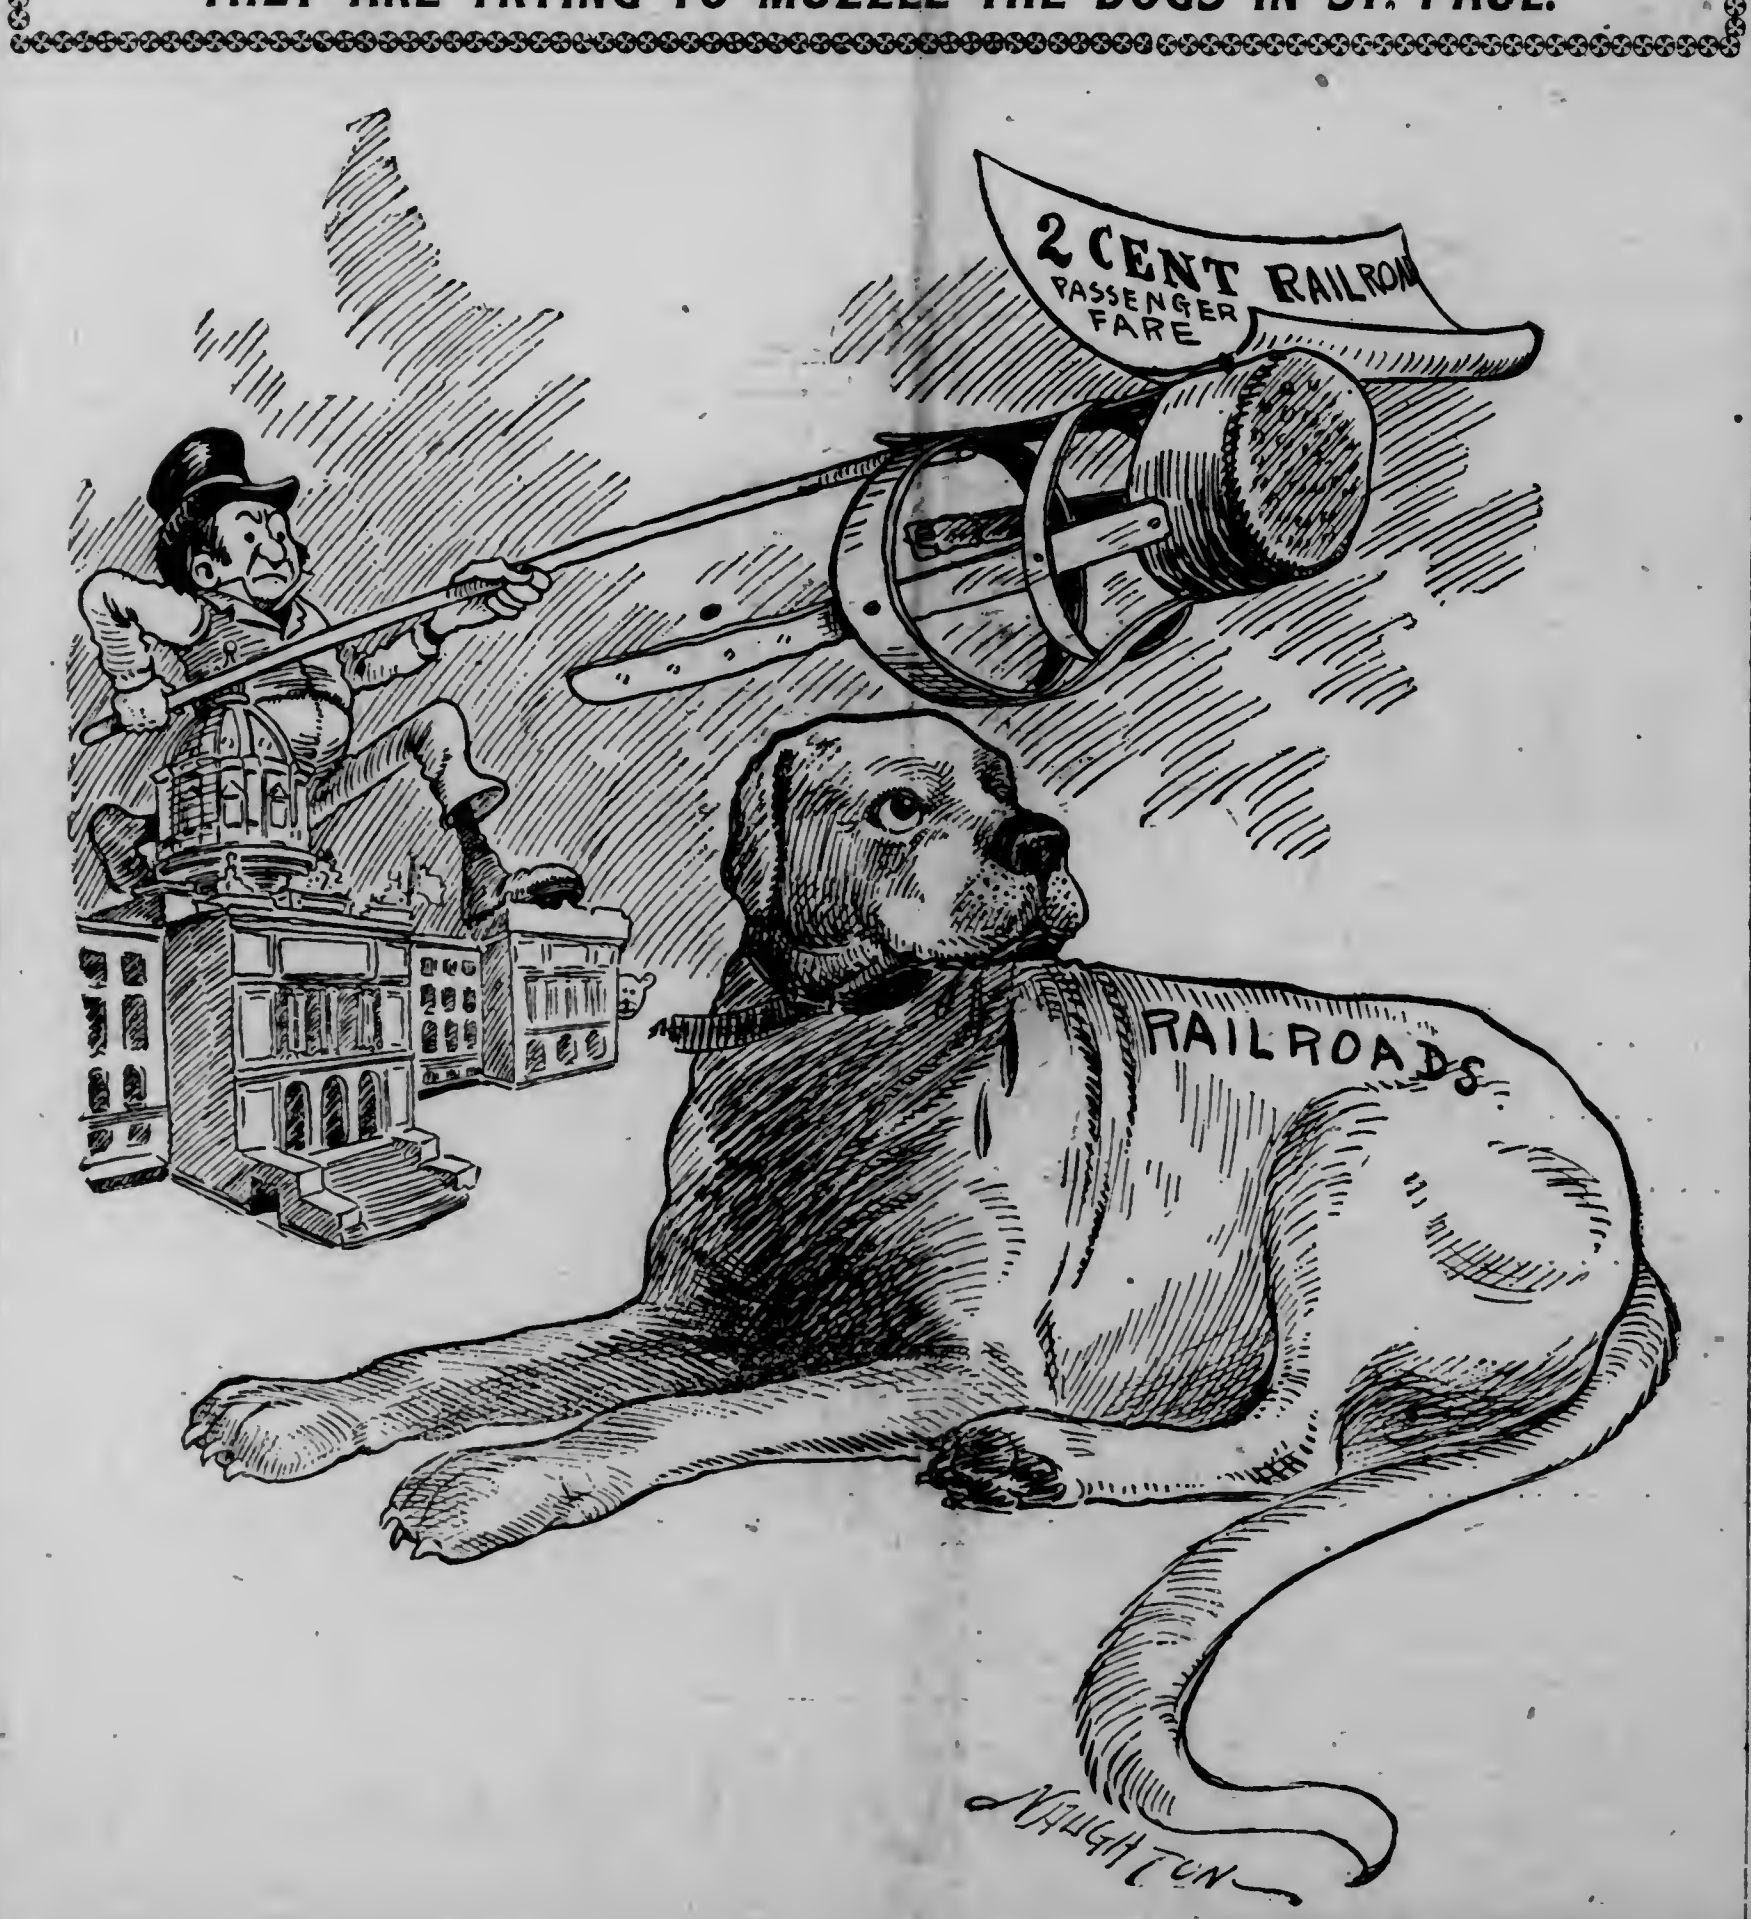

McMahon of Waukesha Will Now be Tried on Murder Charge.

Waukesha, Wis., Feb. 8.—Edward McMahon, accused of the murder of Thomas Connors, and who has been on trial for his sanity, was pronounced sane by a jury in the circuit court here and the trial on the murder charge will now be proceeded with. McMahon is charged with having shot and killed Connors last fall, the killing, it is alleged, being the result of a long-standing feud.

CONDUCTOR DROPS DEAD.

St. Cloud, Minn., Feb. 8.—David B. Henderson, a well known Great Northern conductor, dropped dead in this city yesterday. For the past fifteen years he has been employed on this road. Heart failure is the cause of his death.

Mr. Moe states that they are bound to point of view, anything ever attempted

The interior of the store will be

LESSON NO. 5.

Everybody wears shirts.

At least in this country of America it is considered the proper thing for people to wear shirts. There are 75,000 people in Duluth who wear this necessary article of clothing.

Needless to say shirts are not given away, and therefore the owners of them must buy them at some time in the course of their lives.

There are shirt factories in Duluth, but if everybody in Duluth who buys shirts would ask
"Was it made in Duluth?" when making the purchase, there would be more shirt factories, and more men and women employed making shirts, and more names in the city directory.

SHORTAGE IN DULUTH

Car Situation Results in Temporary Local Coal Famine.

Delivery Slow Because of Long Haul From the Docks.

The car shortage has caused a temporary coal famine in Duluth. People thought it rather strange when they heard there was a scarcity of fuel at points so near the Head of the Lakes as Minneapolis. The new situation is stranger still. Because there are not enough cars to answer the demands of the docks, many Zenith City families are sadly in need of coal.

In the past it has been the custom of companies to make their local deliveries in quick time, by switching cars of coal from the docks to tracks in the East and West ends. The shortage means that no cars can be used for this purpose, and consequently the teams have to go clear to the docks to get loads on the sleighs they are hauling. Result—a longer haul and smaller loads.

City offices were flooded with orders from local consumers during the recent cold spell. Extra teams and men were hired. Still the orders came pouring in. In a few days the deliveries began to fall behind. People called at the offices in person, and used the telephone liberally. That didn't help matters any, for all the companies were exerting themselves to accommodate their customers. Some of the consumers tried switching their orders to other offices, but found all the companies were in the same predicament. Every one was behind in filling the orders.

At present the deliveries are three, four and five days behind, but with the moderate weather the demand has fallen off somewhat, and the dealers expect to catch up with their orders within a very few days. Then such families as have been depending upon the supply of their neighbors to keep coal for their furnaces and stoves will have an opportunity to pay their debts. The fact that coal for local delivery has to be hauled so far makes the coal business more expensive for the dealers, but the price has not been affected.

Train Kills Livery Team.
The Great Northern passenger train coming in from the Twin Cities ran down and killed a runaway team belonging to the Stewart Livery company at 11:30 last night on the railroad tracks at Eleventh avenue west. The horses broke away from the hitching post on Michigan street back of the Metropolitan theater, turned down the hill at Fifth avenue and then ran down the railroad tracks. The engineer did not see them until it was too late, and the train was delayed about fifteen minutes by the accident. The team was valued at about $400.

Masquerade a Success.
Decked out in fancy and comical costumes of every imaginable description, over 150 couples of young people enjoyed a frolic at the masquerade dance given by Flanten's Third Regiment band at the Armory last evening. The masquerade party was the first in a series that the band expects to give, and the affair was a most successful one in every way. The music, which was especially selected for the occasion, was furnished by the entire band.

Work of Great Artists.
An interesting exhibit of etchings has been arranged by the Duluth Art club to be given at the public library Feb. 10. The club has gone to considerable expense to secure this collection which includes such names as Whistler, Millet, and Meryon and the club hopes that the Duluth public will appreciate the opportunity to view the work of these famous painters.

HOTBEDS OF SNOBBERY

What Fashionable English Public Schools Are Declared to be.

Necessary Elementary Subjects Pushed Aside for Dead Languages.

London, Feb. 5.—It is the truth that hurts most, Sidney Lee, the great English Shakespearean scholar, has brought a hornet's nest about his ears by telling the English people some plain truths about themselves. The occasion was the first public meeting of the recently formed English association, instituted to promote the correct use of English and to secure for English subjects a foremost place in the curriculum of every school and college throughout the British empire. Mr. Lee said that the rank and file of the American people spoke and wrote better English than the average Englishman. Furthermore, English was better taught in both the low and high grade schools in America than in similar English schools. As proof of the great thoroughness with which English is taught in America he instanced the fact that at Harvard university there were twenty professors of English studies, while at Oxford, there was practically only one. In advance English scholarship, America, he said, was outstripping England.

There is no man better qualified to make the comparison than Mr. Lee. He is a master of English literature. He is well acquainted with the educational systems of both countries. He has filled lecturerships at Lowell institute, Johns Hopkins and Princeton universities in America. But that does not make what he says any the more palatable for English folk. Some of the attempts made here to refute his statements are ludicrous. A great London two-cent daily has recourse to an anonymous interview and an obviously faked interview at that. It quotes "an American gentleman staying at the Savoy hotel," as saying: "I guess we know considerable more about your language than you do yourselves. Sidney Lee's got right there and I reckon he's sized you up O. K. We have real live professors in our seminaries and what they don't know about the British language ain't worth knowing. Shucks, any guy who says contrary don't know enough to keep out of the rain. And that's a fact."

This is the sort of stuff which a dignified English journal sets before its readers as a fair specimen of English as she is spoken by American gentlemen. As well might one quote the language of a courtier as typical of that of the swells of Mayfair and Belgrave. The neglect of English studies at the much-vaunted English public schools—Eton, Harrow, Rugby and similar famous institutions—has frequently been denounced by Englishmen of weight and prominence, as scandalous. The classics—dead languages—take their place in the curriculum. At the close of the Boer war, with its numerous regrettable incidents, various learned commissions held inquiries into the mental status of the British officer, who, in nine cases out of ten, is a product of these same public schools. The result was a sweeping condemnation of their educational methods. And that condemnation has been going on ever since. Consider this, for instance. Soon after Lord Kitchener went to India, a memorandum was issued stating that many of the officers who had recently joined, were "so wanting in elementary education that they are unable to cope intelligently with the professional subjects, a knowledge of which is essential for the officers of the army, and, therefore, time and labor would be only wasted in subjecting them to a course of garrison instruction." Most of the young men thus scathingly referred to were public school graduates. Yet they were hopelessly deficient in elementary education—the sort of education that the average American boy is well grounded in before he enters his teens.

Not long ago Gen. Hutchinson issued a report in which he complained that a large number of the officers who submitted themselves to examinations for promotions had been so imperfectly educated that their spelling was wretched and they were unable to express themselves clearly. Dr. T. Miller McGuire, the famous army coach, has among his pupils many rich men's sons from these costly public schools, who have come to him to have their conductive education remedied. "Our fashionable English public schools," he said to me, "are about the worst in the world. Useful studies are neglected for Latin and Greek and even these are ill taught. The schools are hotbeds of snobbishness. They kindle no desire for intellectual life. Compared with the graduates of American colleges and universities, their graduates are simply not in it."

TOWN HALL AS GIFT.

Thayers Offer It to Lancaster, Mass., as Memorial to Father.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 8.—Nathaniel, Eugene V. R., John P., and Bayard Thayers sons of the late Nathaniel Thayer of the town of Lancaster, are to lay before the town an offer to erect a new town hall, their idea being to have the building a memorial to their father, who, with his father before him, occupied the Thayer estate in that town for 125 years. The old homestead is at present occupied by Nathaniel Thayer, the first of the four sons mentioned.

When word about the matter the other day, Nathaniel Thayer said it was true that he and his brothers planned to make such an offer to Lancaster, but that beyond that the matter is in the wind. He said they had consulted Mr. Charles, fellow architect of the city hall in Cambridge, and had asked him to make plans to be submitted to the town. The architect was seen about one week ago and he promised to submit sketches to the town, but he could not do so much more until the show is off the ground.

The four brothers desire to present the town a modern and handsome town hall, and while they have as yet named no figure, Mr. Thayer said he expected it would cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $100,000, and if the offer is accepted by the town, it will be erected on the town lot south of the present town hall, at that site it will centralize and group the town buildings and make them more impressive to persons passing through Lancaster.

Mr. Thayer said that at present he had no idea when the architect will be able to submit the promised sketches of the proposed structure, and that the really only definite thing about the proposition is that the four brothers have agreed to make such an offer to the town.

LIMIT TO WOMEN'S HATS.

Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 8.—Representative Norflet of Morgan county, who will introduce on the day the legislature adjourns a bill "to prohibit any woman from purchasing more than two hats during any one calendar year, to regulate the price to be paid for such hats, and to prevent the wearing of any plumage thereon."

GIRL ELOPED

As the Result of Reading Play of Romeo and Juliet.

Oakland, Cal., Feb. 8.—In the hope of changing their daughter's course of reading yellow-back novels to something more refined and substantial, B. E. Oppenheim and wife sent to New York for a set of Shakespeare's works. The girl selected "Romeo and Juliet" as her favorite, and now she has eloped with a young man known by the parents only as "Harry."

The missing girl is Mabel Oppenheim, aged 15 years, and her strange disappearance was reported to the police yesterday morning. A hasty inquiry disclosed the fact that a young girl answering her description, accompanied by a young man, who fairly answers the details of the description of "Harry," left for Bakersfield on the overland train from Sixteenth street depot at 8:03 Thursday night.

The police have already communicated with the authorities at Bakersfield and other interior towns, with a hope of intercepting the eloping pair.

The Oppenheims reside at 252 Third street. For the past three weeks Mrs. Oppenheim has been visiting her sister in Portland, Or., and a rather strange coincidence is the fact that shortly after the train on which Miss Oppenheim left Oakland, the train conveying the mother home again pulled into the depot.

"So far as we know," said Oppenheim, "Mabel has never kept company with any young men. She did read novels to a great extent, and seemed deeply interested in this kind of reading, but I sent to New York for a set of Shakespeare's works, and she seemed to delight in them even more. She thought that 'Romeo and Juliet' was about the finest in the set. I understand that a young man named Harry, who works in a Broadway cigar store, has spoken to her several times on the street, and since he is going to elope with her, she says that he believes he saw my daughter and Harry leave on Thursday night's train. I am more than ever convinced that this young man has lured my daughter away."

Confronted by Beauty Specialist, He Quits Paris Suddenly.

Paris, Feb. 8.—An extraordinary character has just disappeared suddenly from the scenes of gay life in Paris. This was a handsome man of 38 years, who was known in his circle as the Marquis de St. Aubin.

The Marquis de St. Aubin had a handsome, well-proportioned figure, and was among the smartest in the French capital. He was tall, of athletic build and of very distinguished appearance. He was supposed to be a bachelor, Belgian, Armandine Van Gelder, a beauty specialist, aged 15 years, of Brussels, had filed a complaint against the marquis, charging him with having swindled her out of $600 and various articles of jewelry.

The marquis was astounded! What! He, a man of wealth and title, accused of swindling! He pointed out to the magistrate that he was an ex-embassy attaché; that he was on the best of terms with some of the foremost politicians of the day; and pulled out a pocketbook containing notes to the value of

MUNIFICENT DONATION

Made by John D. Rockefeller to General Education Board.

Oil King Hands Out $32,000,000 in Paying Securities.

New York, Feb. 8.—Thirty-two million dollars' worth of income-bearing securities was the gift which John D. Rockefeller, through his son, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., announced to the general education board when it assembled for a special meeting in this city late yesterday afternoon.

For general educational purposes throughout the country is given as the purpose of this donation—the largest single prize ever handed out for such purposes.

Mr. Rockefeller previously had given the board $11,000,000 for the same work, his contributions now amounting to $23,000,000.

The general education board apparently was not prepared for this gift, which was announced simply in this letter:

Gentlemen: My father authorizes me to say that on or before April 1, 1907, he will give to the general board income-bearing securities, the present market value of which is about thirty-two million dollars ($32,000,000), one-third to be added to the permanent endowment of the board, two-thirds to be applied to such specific objects within the corporate purposes of the board as either he or I may from time to time direct, any remainder not so designated at the death of the survivor to be added also to the permanent endowment of the board.

"JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER, JR." Most of the members were surprised at the size of the gift. Dr. Buttrick, the secretary, said he did not know the gift was to be made until he received the letter. Other members did not know of the donation until the letter was received.

A special meeting of the board was called for yesterday to consider a communication from Mr. Rockefeller, the purport of which was not known. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., acting for his father, appeared shortly after the meeting was called to order and handed the letter to the secretary, Dr. Wallace Buttrick.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., remained throughout the session of the board. Asked if he had anything to add to his letter, he replied he did not believe he could add anything of importance to it, as the letter explained itself.

Members of the board, when asked what the "specific purposes" referred to in Mr. Rockefeller's letter meant, said that it was the use of the educational work and was intended, in their opinion, to give Mr. Rockefeller the right to direct the disposition of the fund to such institutions, within the province of the board, as he may deem proper. The elder Mr. Rockefeller is not a member of the board, but his son is a member, and the active direction doubtless will come from him.

The board voted to accept the gift and, in appreciation, drafted a letter to the elder Mr. Rockefeller, as follows:

"The general education board acknowledges the receipt of the communication of Feb. 6, 1907, from John D. Rockefeller, Jr., a member of this body, announcing your decision to give the board, for the purpose of its organization, securities of the current value of thirty-two million dollars ($32,000,000). The general education board accepts this gift with a deep sense of gratitude to you and of responsibility to society. The sum added to the eleven millions ($11,000,000) which you have formerly given to the board, makes the general education board the guardian and administrator of a total trust fund of forty-three million dollars ($43,000,000).

"This is the largest sum ever given by a man in the history of the race for any social or philanthropic purposes. The board congratulates you upon the high and wise impulse which has moved you to this deed and desires to thank you, in behalf of all educational interests whose development it will advance, in behalf of our country, whose civilization for all time it should be made to strengthen and elevate, and in behalf of mankind everywhere in whose interests it has been given and for whose use it is dedicated.

"The administration of this fund entails upon the general education board the most far-reaching responsibilities ever placed upon any educational organization in the world. As members of the board we accept this responsibility, conscious alike of its difficulties and its opportunities. We will use our best wisdom to transmute your gift into intellectual and moral power, counting it a supreme privilege to dedicate whatever strength we have to its just use in the service of men.

"Very respectfully yours, Frederick T. Gates, chairman; George Foster Peabody, treasurer; Dr. Wallace Buttrick, secretary; Robert C. Ogden, J. D. Rockefeller, Jr., Albert Shaw, Starr J. Murphy, Edward A. Alderman, Harry Pratt Judson."

The absent members of the board whose names were affixed to the letter to Mr. Rockefeller by their associates were: D. Benjamin Andrews, Hollis B. Prissell, Daniel C. Gilman, Hugh H. Hanna, Morris K. Jesup, Walter H. Page.

A copy of this letter will be enclosed on parchment and sent to each member of the board for his autograph signature and will then be formally presented to Mr. Rockefeller.

While the board was in session gifts to five colleges were ordered, amounting in all to $400,000, as follows: Beloit college, Beloit, Wis.; Morristown college, Morristown, Tenn.; Lafayette college, Easton, Pa.; $50,000 each; Walsh college, Crawfordville, Ind.; and the University of Wooster, Wooster, Ohio, each $125,000.

Rising From the Grave. A prominent manufacturer, William A. Fentwell of Lancaster, N. C., relates a remarkable experience. He says: "After taking less than ten bottles of Electric Bitters, I feel like one rising from the grave. My trouble is Bright's disease, in the urinary stage. I fully believe Electric Bitters will cure me permanently, for it has already stopped the liver and bladder complications which have troubled me for years." Guaranteed by all druggists. Price only 60c.

WEST DULUTH

BANQUET
NEXT MONTH

Members of Dynamite Club Are Planning Big Affair.

Committee Will Arrange Big Spread and Interesting Program.

With the usual time for holding the annual banquet of the Dynamite club only about a month and a half away, the club members have already commenced to plan for the affair, and it is expected to be one of the most elaborate ever given. The banquet is usually given on St. Patrick's day, but as this holiday comes on Sunday this year, the affair will probably be held on either the evening before or the following one.

The standing banquet committee of the club, composed of L. R. Clark, I. Deatheridge and Charles Sliger, has commenced the preliminary preparations for the spread, and will receive bids for furnishing it within a few weeks. Several of the West Duluth church societies are anxious to secure the contract for preparing the supper, and as in years past all will be considered.

A fine program of speeches and toasts will be prepared by the committee, and some of the most prominent citizens of this end of the city and of Duluth proper will be asked to have their names placed on the list. The committee will aim to make this year's banquet better and bigger than all those preceding it.

Good Curling Contest.

One of the most interesting games of the season was played last evening at the Western Curling rink, between rinks skippered by Boutin and Scott. The game was closely contested from start to finish, Scott winning out by a score of 6 to 10. The line-up of the rinks was as follows:

—skip, 6. —skip, 10.

Monthly Meeting.

The monthly meeting of the Young Ladies' Guild of the Holy Apostles Episcopal church was held last evening at the home of Miss Flossie Ohlke, 603 South Sixty-eighth avenue west, and there was a good attendance. The young ladies were entertained after the business of the meeting was completed by a moving picture program given by G. N. Leader.

Kept Marriage a Secret.

A marriage ceremony which was performed in Superior last fall and which has been kept a secret until yesterday by all persons concerned, came to light yesterday when the bride confided to a friend, Miss Marie A. Mackey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Mackey, 24 North Fifty-seventh avenue west, was married to Leo Murphy of Duluth during the second week of last November. Father Parady of the Sacred Heart church, Superior, performed the ceremony. The young couple will make their home at Fourth street and First avenue west.

Longshoremen to Meet.

The Duluth Longshoremen's union No. 12 will hold a special meeting this evening at 7:30 to make arrangements for the funeral of Edward LaFiere, who died at Hibbing yesterday afternoon. LaFiere was a resident of Duluth and a member of the Longshoremen's union, and his funeral will be in charge of the union. The meeting this evening will be held at Gilley's hall.

West Duluth Briefs.

The poverty social, which has been planned by the Royal Neighbors, will be given at Great Eastern hall this evening.

George Randall, who holds a position at the state capital in St. Paul, will return to West Duluth tonight to remain over Sunday.

STARTS SUIT FOR DAMAGES
Felix Goscita, Assaulted Last November, Wants $335 for Injuries.

Felix Goscita today instituted a suit in municipal court for damages in an alleged assault by Anton and Felix Matel, committed last November, as a result of which Goscita claims to be out $10 in doctors' fees, $25 in wages during the time he was laid up, and $300 in insulted dignity and general damages to his face and person.

Goscita says that Anton Matel called him a vile name and he told Anton he was "another." The latter then battered him up and finally got Felix to throw him outdoors.

Matel admits the assault, but says that Goscita was the primary offender and that he had to get his brother Felix into it to help him out. Miller and Clapp are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

SUES FOR DAMAGES.
Frank Doby Demands $4,100 From Railroad for Broken Leg.

Frank Doby, a brakeman on the Mesaba Southern railroad, has started suit against the company to recover $4,100 damages claimed for personal injuries received in a wreck said to be caused by spreading rails.

According to the complaint, Doby was working on a gravel train near Virginia, Nov. 6 last when the train was derailed and he jumped when he saw the caboose was about to hit the telephone pole. It is claimed that a broken rail struck and broke his leg.

Doby claims that the track was not properly ballasted and that the rails were rotten. He alleges that the rails were too light for the heavy engines and carsloads of gravel.

Johnson & Moe
The West End Big Department Store

THE EMPHATIC WAY Duluthians, in general, responded to our last year's sale, has prompted us to out do ourselves at this one. Wholesalers and jobbers, both East and West, knowing of our ambitions to forge ahead have come to our aid with the most timely values ever offered to a department store; one of the leading Northwestern concerns turned over to us their entire sample line at a figure that enables us to sell them at about half regular price; in early December another big house gave us the first chance on their surplus stock, we snapped it up quickly and the goods are here as below. For ourselves, we enjoyed a patronage in 1906 away above any previous year, and to further show our appreciation of your confidence we have placed our entire stock on sale at prices that will amaze you.

Oyster Economy

When you buy tub oysters, how much water of doubtful purity do you suppose you are paying for? Just drain the next quart you buy and see how much water was included in the bill.

Now then—when you buy Sealship oysters, you buy solid meats, which have been washed and drained before packing in the air-tight, white enameled case of a Sealship Carrier. One pint of Sealship will go almost as far as a quart of any tub oysters. The price is a little higher than you pay for a pint of other oysters, that's true—but the point is, that when you buy a pint of Sealships, you get a full pint of oysters and nothing else.

SMITH LOSES TO GRAHAM

Myron and Smith Both on Deck in Tetley Contest.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—In an interesting game at the Thielink rink this morning, Smith of Duluth was defeated by Graham of Manitoba by a final score of 12 to 8. The Duluth men held the score about even until the latter ends when the Canucks placed a bunch of stones and established a lead.

Both Myron and Smith are still in the Tetley trophy event, and Smith, who is playing this afternoon, is looked upon as likely to break into the jewelry class in the event.

The Canadians are feeling very good over their defeat of the Americans in the international last night by a big score, as the result was much more advantageous for the Canucks than was expected.

would be enforced was issued early in the week, and practically every dog in the city has his nose encased in a neat wire cage by this time, and mad or sane, is practically harmless.

It St. Paul the health department has no such means to work, as there is no muzzling ordinance, and the only steps which they can take to suppress the epidemic is the keeping a strict watch on all cases where persons have been bitten by dogs, and watching for indications of rabies.

The ordinance will come up before the city council at St. Paul at its next meeting.

Should a mad dog epidemic strike this city, however, the passage of an ordinance would be necessary before muzzling could be enforced, as the city ordinance provides only for the muzzling of dogs during the warm months, between June 15 and Sept. 15.

COL. J. P. TAYLOR DEAD.

Well Known and Respected Resident of Bemidji Passes Away.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—J. P. Taylor, a well known and respected resident of Bemidji, died Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at St. Anthony's hospital, death resulting from Bright's disease. But few were aware of the fact that Col. Taylor was ill; and his death was a shock to his many friends in this city. He was born at Augusta, Maine, in 1841. He came to Minnesota in 1861 and lived at Anoka, later at Elk River and Brainerd until seven years ago, when he moved to Bemidji. Mr. Taylor is survived by his wife and a daughter and a son. The daughter is Mrs. John Goss of Cass Lake, who is in the city, and the son is Bert Taylor, who is on the road as advance man for a show. O. M. Olson, ex-postmaster of Northome and deputy sheriff of Itasca county, arrived in the city yesterday from Grand Rapids, where he has been confined in a hospital battling for his life with a very serious attack of typhoid fever that kept him in bed for two months past. He left for his home at Northome, where he will recuperate and take a much needed rest before resuming active business operations. Hereafter the smallpox patients of Beltrami county will be cared for at the pest house which is located on the poor farm. For some time past, the smallpox cases have been quarantined at the pest house belonging to Dr. Blackie.

Thaw's insanity should be introduced before further testimony along today's line was taken. "We are ready to submit proof," said Mr. Dolmas.

The line of examination was changed more letters. One of the papers she was asked to identify was the will of Harry Thaw made on the day of his wedding, April 4, 1888. Miss Frances Pierce was then called to the stand to identify her signature as witness and Mrs. Thaw was temporarily excused.

The most dramatic moment of the day occurred when Jerome objected to the further defamations of the dead. This was when Mr. Dolmas asked Mrs. Thaw, "After you told Thaw what happened between White and you in 1881, did you ever have any conversation with him in which he told you what happened to other girls who had met a similar fate at the hands of that man?"

"What man?" interrupted Mr. Jerome. "Why, Stanford White," replied Mr. Dolmas in a loud voice. "Who else?"

"I appeal to your honor," said the district attorney, "that this has gone far enough. Are there no limits to which the prosecution has no chance to controvert one word of this testimony, and Stanford White is dead?"

INDIAN BILL PASSES.
Washington, Feb. 8.—The senate today passed by his wife and a daughter and a son. COURT FILES ITS FINDINGS

Judge Dibel has decided that in the foreclosure suit instituted by Fred A. Browning company that the company is the owner in fee of the premises mentioned in the complaint and that Mr. Brown has no right or title to the property.

In the case of R. R. Bailey against D. C. Woodcock, the court holds that Mr. Woodcock is the fee owner of lot 20, block 23, Virginia, and that the only interest Mr. Bailey has in the property is a tax deed on which the time for redemption has not yet expired.

In the tax title case of H. B. Fryberger against W. H. Holmes, Judge Dibel has decided that Mr. Fryberger is the owner of the fee. The question involved was the validity of the defendant's tax title.

The court sustains the demurrer of R. B. Knox, who was made one of the defendants in a civil action brought against himself and I. A. Caulkins, by Mary Lelohic.

The motion of H. H. Hoyt for a new trial of his action against the Duluth & Iron Range Railway company is denied. The court grants a stay of

THE WISSNER PIANO SUPREME

An upright with the principle of grand piano construction fully carried out.

(Patented May 11, 1897.)

MR. JOHN KORBY.

Mr. John Korby, the well known piano dealer of our city recently returned from New York and the East.

Mr. Korby's trip East was primarily one of business, and to place a large order for WISSNER PIANOS—but through pressure of the genial companionship of his New York business acquaintances and friends a portion of his time was spent in pleasure and sightseeing.

Mr. Korby returns in the best of health and spirits and reports that the outlook in the East gives him the promise of a very successful year, especially in the piano business.

While in New York, Mr. Korby spent much of his time with Mr. Otto Wissner, founder of the extensive Wissner business and manufacturer of the Wissner piano. Although Mr. Korby has represented the Wissner piano in our city for some time, he returns with greater faith than ever in the merits of this celebrated instrument.

Mr. Korby was very fortunate to secure the agency of so popular a piano and yet this turn of good fortune is only in keeping with his energy, shrewdness and far-sightedness.

MR. OTTO WISSNER.

Inventor and manufacturer of the Wissner Grand Piano in Upright form.

For the creation of this one instrument alone Mr. Wissner should be entitled to great honor and distinction, and his name should be placed high among those manufacturers who have immortalized themselves in this realm of art and science.

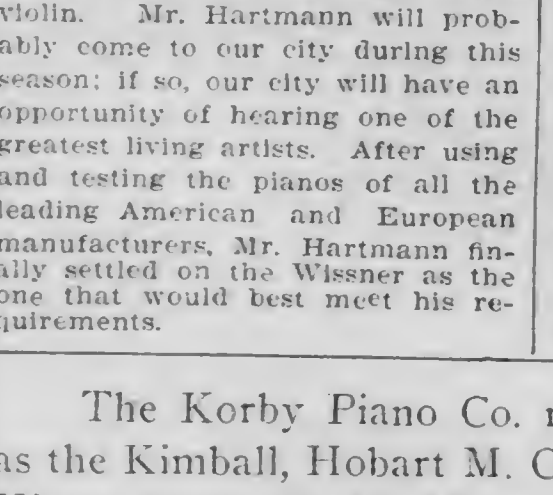

Think of sitting down to an upright piano resembling in outward appearance an ordinary upright, but striking a single chord, and let us see what your impression is.

You are bewildered—astounded. It seems almost incredible to you. You are looking at an upright, but you are listening to the tone of a full concert grand, with all its volume, sonority, purity and sympathy.

But go a little farther. Remove the top frame or front of the piano and you will see the "works" of a grand, the principle of grand piano construction being fully carried out throughout the entire instrument.

This instrument was completed after many years of exhaustive study and a series of scientific experiments involving large capital and much labor.

All music loving people should call and inspect this wonderful instrument which has elicited the wonderment and admiration of musicians throughout the world.

MR. LEOPOLD WINKLER.

Leopold Winkler, the distinguished pianist, whom the people of Duluth will have the pleasure of hearing this season. Mr. Winkler is a great pianist. Wherever he plays he has a most enthusiastic reception. A celebrated critic says of Mr. Winkler: "Under his magnetic touch the piano sings, appeals, walls, rejoices and triumphs."

The Korby Piano Co. represents, besides the Wissner, such celebrated makes as the Kimball, Hobart M. Cable, Becker Bros., Whitney, Dunbar, Hinze, Reinhard, Hackley and the Kimball Pipe and Reed Organs and Piano Players.

And we offer you the very best plan upon which to buy a piano. A plan that makes piano buying easy; a plan that protects you in case of sickness or adversity; a plan that positively saves you money.

Adolph Borsheke, the young and wonderfully gifted artist, who is the solo pianist on the Hartmann tour.

Mr. Borsheke has astonished all who have heard of his wonderful performance. His conception of the great masters, his highly wrought imagination and temperament, and his remarkable technique places him in the front rank of the great pianists of our times.

Mr. Korby is doing all in his power to give the Duluth public an opportunity of hearing these great artists, and it is to be hoped that success will crown his efforts.

MR. J. G. HOSSFELD.

Mr. Wissner is aided very materially in the management of his vast enterprise in the person of Mr. J. G. Hossfeld, who has for many years been connected with the house.

Although comparatively young in years, Mr. Hossfeld has displayed the sagacity, good judgment and the wisdom that are not always found in men of greater age and experience.

The Wissner piano is very popular with musicians, its remarkable tone and absolute reliability under extreme use making it a very desirable instrument for concert work and for untroubled artistic engagements. The Wissner piano is being used during the present season on several important tours, among them being the Winkler recital tour and the Hartmann tour extending through the United States to British Columbia.

SNOW WAS TOO SOFT

Warm Spell Prevents Any Records Being Broken at Ashland.

Five Duluth Men Gain Places on the Prize List.

Ashland, Wis., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—The third national tournament of the National Ski association brought out a record breaking crowd, and Ashland was taxed to her utmost capacity in caring for them last night. Owing to the warm weather, the snow on the hill was in very bad condition and the results of the jumps were very disappointing, 97 feet being the longest jump made in the regular contest by Ole Mangseth of Red Wing, present holder of the American record. A number of exhibition jumps were made after the sun had set and it had grown colder, and much more satisfactory results were obtained, jumps of 100 and 105 feet being recorded. Ole Jannum of Bovey, Minn., carried off the first prize in the tournament with 24 points to his credit and John Evanson of Duluth was second with 204.

Holter of Ashland, secretary of the association and regarded as the most expert ski judge in the country, disagreed with the decisions of the other two judges at the tournament, claiming that an allowance should be made for proper form in making the jumps, which was not done yesterday. Mr. Holter will issue a list of his decisions as to the results of the tournament in the near future which is likely to be given almost no consideration as that of the other two men on the judges' committee.

The results of the long distance race held Thursday afternoon were also wrong from Ashland, and in reality Asutias Auto, a Finnish runner, who is the present holder of the world record for long distance runs, came in first. Auto will make another appearance on the track in Duluth on Washington's birthday and, as he showed that he was in perfect form here Thursday, his performance there will be eagerly watched with a view to a possibility of still lowering the world's record.

The team contest in which the riders went over the big bump hand in hand was won by Holland brothers of Canada, who took the jump in perfect form.

As predicted, no decision was reached in regard to the giving of cash prizes next year, but it was decided to leave the matter to Duluth, which is considering the decided stand taken in favor of professionalism, practically a move in favor of the money prize idea. It was decided to double the tax imposed on every club in the association also.

The White River hill, where the contest was held, was in the middle of the longest hill in the country, the riders getting a 500 foot start from the top of the big frame work to the bottom.

Five Duluth men gained places on the list of prize winners, Evanson, taking 24 points, Jannum, 20, Mangseth, 18, Holm, 12, and Feiring, 10.

The complete list of prize winners, with the amount received and points made, is as follows:

RAILROADS MOVEMENT VERY SLOW

Car Shortage Results in Small Shipments of Pulpwood.

Twin Cities Get All the Coal They Need.

The fact that the railroads centering in Duluth have thrown practically all their equipment into the coal business has caused consternation in the ranks of the pulpwood cutters through Northern Minnesota. Shipments of the wood were to have been in full swing in January, but, owing to the car shortage and general congestion of traffic, the movement was barely started last month, and since the first of February comparatively few cars have been moved.

Now that all the cars are being devoted to the coal trade, the shipments of pulpwood have stopped altogether, and the would-be shippers can do nothing but sick and sit around and look glum. They are wondering just how long it will be before they are able to load the wood on cars and have it transported to its destination in Wisconsin. The movement of pulpwood will be exceptionally heavy this winter, or at least it would be if sufficient cars were obtainable. The fact that there is a car shortage will mean that shipments will probably drag well along into the spring and summer.

St. Paul and Minneapolis are no longer in danger of a coal famine, as a result of the order to the effect that coal be given preference over all other kinds of freight. The Omaha road alone yesterday shipped 30 carloads of the commodity into the Twin Cities. The Northern Pacific and Great Northern shipped about 250 cars each, and as all three roads will be sending the fuel forward right along now, the chances are that St. Paul and Minneapolis will not even be bothered by a shortage.

The present warm weather is working wonders in relieving the winter conditions on the railroads. All the trains are running at top speed, and it is today than at any time within the past month. The tracks in the west are rapidly being cleared of snow and the warm weather will continue a week or two more, everything will be back almost to normal, so far as the railroads are concerned.

Officials of the several lines most seriously affected are currently hoping that there will not be another blizzard for two or three weeks, as the winter is a doubtful month, however, and one can never tell just what turn the weather will take. Frequently it is the coldest month in the year, and for this reason the roads are not relying too much from the present warm spell.

Has Secured Connection With the Copper Range Railroad.

Houghton, Mich., Feb. 9.—The Wisconsin Central is to secure entrance into the Copper country in the near future by connecting with the Copper Range railroad at Mass City, Mich. Twenty-seven miles of new road will be in operation by March 1, and the new line will connect the Wisconsin Central with the Copper Range railroad at Mass City, Mich. At Menasha the Wisconsin Central for Chicago and thus the Copper Range gets the direct route to Chicago. This will give the Copper district three routes, the Northwestern, the St. Paul and the Copper Range.

The deals now planned for by the Copper Range with the Northwestern and the St. Paul for Chicago connections have fallen through, hence the new deal.

BEMIDJI WAS VICTORIOUS

Over Park Rapids in Two Games of Basketball.

Bemidji, Minn., Feb. 9.—(Special to The Herald.)—A crowd of enthusiasts that filled the city opera house so that there was hardly room in which to play last night watched the Bemidji high school girls defeat the high school girls of Park Rapids by a score of 19 to 4, in a basketball game that was full of vim and friendly rivalry, and also saw the Bemidji men win from the pick of players at Park Rapids, score 21 to 5.

The first game was between the high school girls of the two cities, and the players lined up as follows:

Bemidji. Position. Bemidji.
H. Gell.....forward.....Roy Petrie
H. Hedron.....forward.....Earl Rossmann
P. Brown.....center.....Perce Ressler
R. Lindsay.....guard.....Harry Rossler
A. White.....center.....Edna Getchell
E. Arnold.....guard.....B. Pendergast
The officials of the game were: Referee, The Arnold.

The game proved very fast from the start, but the local team was in better condition than the visitors and were very much more accurate in throwing baskets, the Park Rapids missing baskets many times by very narrow margins. There were many mix-ups, but the players were not anxious to foul, so that there were very few penalties inflicted by the referee.

The game was just as spirited in the second half. The local girls were also better than their guests, and before the half ended had added a total of 10 points to their score, while the best of the Park Rapids girls could do so make one additional point, that from a free throw, the game ending with a score of 19 to 4 in favor of Bemidji.

The Bemidji male teams was the most stubbornly contested affair ever seen in this part of the state. The score at the close was 21 to 5 in favor of Bemidji, but the contest was by no means one-sided as the score would indicate. The line-up was as follows:

John Shoemaker, umpire, F. W. Hines. It was agreed to play two halves of fifteen minutes each, and from the time the referee's whistle was blown calling the game until the finish of the first half, the play was fast and hotly contested.

The Bemidji girls were more accurate in their attempts to throw baskets, and successful throws were made by Ben Knox and Eva Getchell in rapid succession, which only spurred the visiting girls to double their efforts, but despite their best efforts, the half ended with the score 19 to 4 in favor of the local girls.

TO WED MRS. OELRICHS.
Rumor of Engagement of Millionaire's Widow to Contractor.

New York, Feb. 9.—New York society is discussing the well-defined report that Harry S. Black, one of the chief figures in the so-called sky-scraper trust, is engaged to Mrs. Theresa Oelrichs, the widow of Herman Oelrichs and a daughter of Senator Fair of California.

Mrs. Oelrichs would neither confirm nor deny their engagement when seen today. "I do not see that there is any occasion for me to say anything," said she.

Mr. Black was married several years ago to Miss Fuller, a daughter of the late Chicago contractor, who was known as "the inventor of skyscrapers." Mrs. Black entered business with his father-in-law and superintended the construction of the Flatiron building in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Black were subsequently divorced, and shortly after the divorce had been signed by the court, Mrs. Black married again.

NEWS OF THE WEEK AT CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL

Work on the Zenith is Making Good Progress.

Debating Club Holds Animated Discussion on Chinese Labor.

The high school Zenith board held a meeting the early part of this week and awarded the contract for publishing the Zenith to the printing firm of Twigg & Stewart, which got out the book last year.

Their bid was $125. This includes the cost of the printing, binding and cover. The cost of the cuts for the pictures is not included in the bid, and this is the chief additional expense.

The board has already planned many schemes for increasing the attractiveness of the book, but these will be kept secret until its publication. The advance sale slips will be ready in a short time. They will be sold for 40 cents apiece this year. The Zenith board went in the hole last year, and it was thought best to increase the price of the slips 5 cents this year. All those who get their slips now will save money, as the book will cost more at the end of the year.

Debating Club Meets.
A big meeting of the Debating club was held last Monday, and the first debate of the year was held. There were a good many boys present who had not attended any previous meeting, and President Helm explained to them the plan which the club has formed, and asked them all to add their names to the membership roll. Elmer McDewitt gave a talk on the central canal proposition, a subject which has been agitated recently, and is now before congress. His remarks were in favor of the plan.

Richard Holmson argued effectively for placing a breakwater out in the lake, in such a position that it would protect the canal from the heavy seas. His course of reasoning tended to show that this would be unpracticable and ineffective than a canal cut through the center of the Point. The main debate, which was the feature of the evening, was taken up. The question under consideration was: "Resolved, that the exclusion of the Chinese from America is expedient." Ray Phillips and Robert Wombacher upheld the affirmative, endeavoring to prove that the Chinaman should be banished from the country, while Wayland Sanford and Roger Woodbridge attempted to prove that the yellow men should be admitted.

The affirmative called attention to the vices and bad habits of the Orientals, and to the influence of the opium dens of the Chinese upon many Americans and other white people. They also urged the point that Chinese labor would be a menace if their immigration were unrestricted. Furthermore, they bring their own religion with them, and in time this might corrupt Christianity if allowed to spread. The point was made that they do not make good citizens, and that their votes might be bought easily, but Prof. Lambert corrected this argument by the explanation that the Chinese cannot become citizens, and, therefore, have no vote.

The negative, in its opening speech, refuted the policy of the United States to allow absolute freedom of worship, and that therefore this point could have no bearing on the case. Further they urged that the United States should not discriminate between the admission of the Chinese and other aliens. As for the labor question, they said that they could not see why the other foreigners should be allowed to compete with the American workmen, and not the Chinese. They also argued that the American commerce with China suffered from the Chinese resented the exclusion and boycotted the American goods. The argument was advanced that the great continental railroads in America were built by means of cheap Chinese labor, and that if this had not been available they would not have been constructed until many years later perhaps. As to the vices of the Chinaman they said that it is not fair to judge the whole race from those who live in the dens of Chinatown. They asserted that there are practically no Chinese confined in American jails while there are thousands of other foreigners. Each speaker was allowed five minutes for his preliminary speech and two minutes for rebuttal.

Clarence Turning, with Prof. Lambert and Neal acted as judges. After retiring for a few minutes they returned a unanimous verdict in favor of the affirmative.

Prof. Neal criticized the debate. He said that the real question was at times lost sight of, and ambiguous issues taken up.

Prof. Lambert, who is the director of the club, commented upon the individual speakers. He criticized the attitude of all of them and particularly their standing positions. He said that a poor position detracts largely from conveying the thought. The delivery was also somewhat rambling, he said, but this was excusable on account of the short time which the students had in which to prepare the debate.

He congratulated the debaters upon the spirit which they showed. He expressed dissatisfaction with the position of the audience and the way in which the seats are arranged, as the speaker cannot face all of his audience at once.

Unless this can be remedied, it is likely that some room downstairs will be chosen in which to hold the meetings in the future. A good program will be arranged for the Monday after next, and each member is requested to bring a friend along.

Athletic Association.
The athletic association of the high school held its first meeting of the year last Tuesday. The treasurer reported $26.39 in the treasury. The officers of the association for this semester were elected.

Elmer McDewitt was unanimously re-elected to the office of president. The other elections resulted as follows: Vice president, Fred Ryan; secretary, Siebel Harris; treasurer, Edward Cole; sergeants at arms, Peterson and Crawford. Leon Cooley was unanimously chosen to fill the office of mascot.

It was thought it is rather early in the season it was decided to elect the captains for the track and baseball teams. Fred Ryan, who filled the position of track captain last year, was again chosen for this job. Edward Cole was the choice for baseball captain. Cole is a good baseball player, and has been chosen as captain, but himself, having had several years of experience, and he is a man who can run the players. It is his last year in school, and the vote stood almost unanimously in his favor.

It was thought best to select managers for both the track and baseball teams. William Burris was elected manager of the track team and William Hicken was chosen to manage the baseball team. Hicken has had some valuable experience in this line, as he was manager of the football team last fall.

The association has not enough money in the treasury to buy sweaters for the football team, as expected, but some of the business men in the city who are interested in the school athletics are raising the necessary funds, and they expect to receive them before long.

Charles Bradley, a member of the association, and of the football team, who has been ill for some time, was at the meeting. He thanked the members for the flowers which they sent him when he was sick and said he deeply appreciated them. Bradley is about to leave the high school, and President McDewitt assured him that he would have the good wishes of the association wherever he went.

Freshmen Meeting.
The freshmen held their monthly class meeting last Wednesday. As the president was not present, Ruth Erickson took charge and conducted the meeting.

The treasurer reported that dues to the amount of $17.85 had been collected during the month and no money has been paid out. There is a balance in the treasury of $59.70.

Miss Salter, chairman of the motto committee reported that the motto selected for the class is "Always Ready." This, she thought, was a good selection, and one which the class ought always to live up to. Miss Wells announced that owing to unavoidable delays the class pins have not yet been procured, but that the local jeweler who is having them made promises to have the merrily not later than Feb. 21, and possibly sooner. As soon as the first pin arrives it will be passed around the freshmen session rooms in order that all the members of the class may decide whether they want to buy one or not. Those who desire to purchase them are requested to hand in the money to the session room teachers so that it will all be ready when the pins are delivered.

Charles Arbogast, captain of the hockey team said that only four or five men have turned out for practice up to the present, and he thinks that unless he can get more support from the class the prospects for winning the annual game are pretty poor. He said that he would like to hold the

WEAK MEN MADE VIGOROUS

To be well, strong, healthy and vigorous should be every man's aim. It is a duty every man owes to himself and his country. A man should be able to withstand almost any ordinary fatigue. If you are run down physically or mentally through nervous debility, male weakness and lost vitality, you show it only too plainly. You are tired, listless, unambitious, and as long as you let it go, you will get worse. You should place yourself in the hands of a competent specialist. The Progressive Medical Association, by reason of its large practice in such cases is more thoroughly equipped in the knowledge of these cases than could be expected of physicians who get these cases occasionally. We treat and cure hundreds of men every year. We are resident here—are to be seen every day in the week and have the resources to back our claims.

IMPORTANT PAPERS LOST

Evidence in Office of New York's Attorney General Disappears.

New York, Feb. 9.—All the evidence on which was based the complaint of Attorney General Julius Mayer against the American Ice company for dissolution of an alleged monopoly of the ice business, served on Dec. 20, has disappeared from the attorney general's office and cannot be found. This announcement was made last night by Attorney General Jackson. Mr. Jackson also made public affidavits of employees of the attorney general's office which show that a part at least of the papers were known to be missing late in December before the retirement of his predecessor, Mr. Mayer, but that the disappearance of the evidence was not known to Mr. Jackson until early in January when after he had assumed office he took up the case with a view of further proceedings.

Mr. Jackson said that he had served a demand upon the American Ice company for access to its books and records for the purpose of replacing the lost evidence and that the company had asked until Monday in which to make answer. Mr. Jackson said that if the company refused he would apply for a court order compelling the corporation to give him the desired access.

THE JUDGE AND THE FIDDLE.
Atlanta Constitution: Judge Joel Bramham of Rome has a fiddle, hallow, doesn't call it a fiddle. The other day Col. D. B. Hamilton called at the judge's office and said: "Judge this bright January weather makes me feel young again. Play me one of the merry old-time tunes on your fiddle."

The judge closed the door and said solemnly: "Hamilton, if you love me don't call this work of art and music a 'fiddle' any more. To even the friends of my youth—to say nothing of the public—it is a 'vio-len,' with the accent on the 'leen.' Now, what was you have—'Old Dan Tucker,' or 'Nelly Gray?'"

SECULAR SHOTS AT PULPIT.

Washington Post: Bishop J. W. Hamilton of the Methodist church was in the San Francisco earthquake and also in that at Kingston. Having been called upon to settle a number of church rows, he doesn't mind a little thing like an earthquake.

Chicago Chronicle: It is disagreeable to say anything complimentary of this spring. There are thousands of tons of ore lying in the creek bottoms, a part of a rock-side, which may have occurred from $350 to $500 a ton in value, and SHIP IT TO THE SMELTERS.

Boston Transcript: The minister of the Highland Congregational church of Lowell has introduced a substitute for the prayer meeting, known as "church night." "We have had a large attendance than the traditional weekly evening service. For three-quarters of an hour each Friday evening devotional exercises are held, somewhat specialized in form. The next three-quarters of an hour is given to the committee work of the church, to the choir rehearsal and other business that needs attention. Persons not thus employed in any of these ways are known as the social fellowship committee, and they set in readiness for the third of the periods into which the evening is divided, which arrives at 9:15. It is said that the attendance has increased materially under this new plan, as devised by Rev. A. S. Dunneal, and that both young and old look forward to "church night" with pleasant anticipation.

This Copper Mine Should Earn Millions—An Opportunity of a Lifetime Is Here Offered Investors to Share in the Great Copper Boom.

Tom Lawson is not the only copper magnate who predicts that great fortunes will be made in the next few years in this metal. Every newspaper in this country which pays any attention to the mining industry predicts that 1907 will witness a copper boom such as the world has never before known.

In a recent issue of the Boston Commercial, Walker, the famous copper expert, in his daily letter, says:

"There is no surplus of copper in this country, and no effort is being made by any interest to maintain prices artificially around 35c per pound. It is improbable that any one could be found who is sufficiently shortsighted to undertake so foolhardy a task. If copper is ever cornered again it will be when the selling price is very much lower than it is at the present time."

"Electrical construction and equipment is increasing steadily in all quarters of the globe. Steam railroads are being converted to electrical traction. Water powers are being harnessed, and local manufacturing plants are converting their power into electricity, for more convenient distribution to the various departments. There is hardly a steam railroad in the country that is not giving more or less attention to the question of electrical equipment."

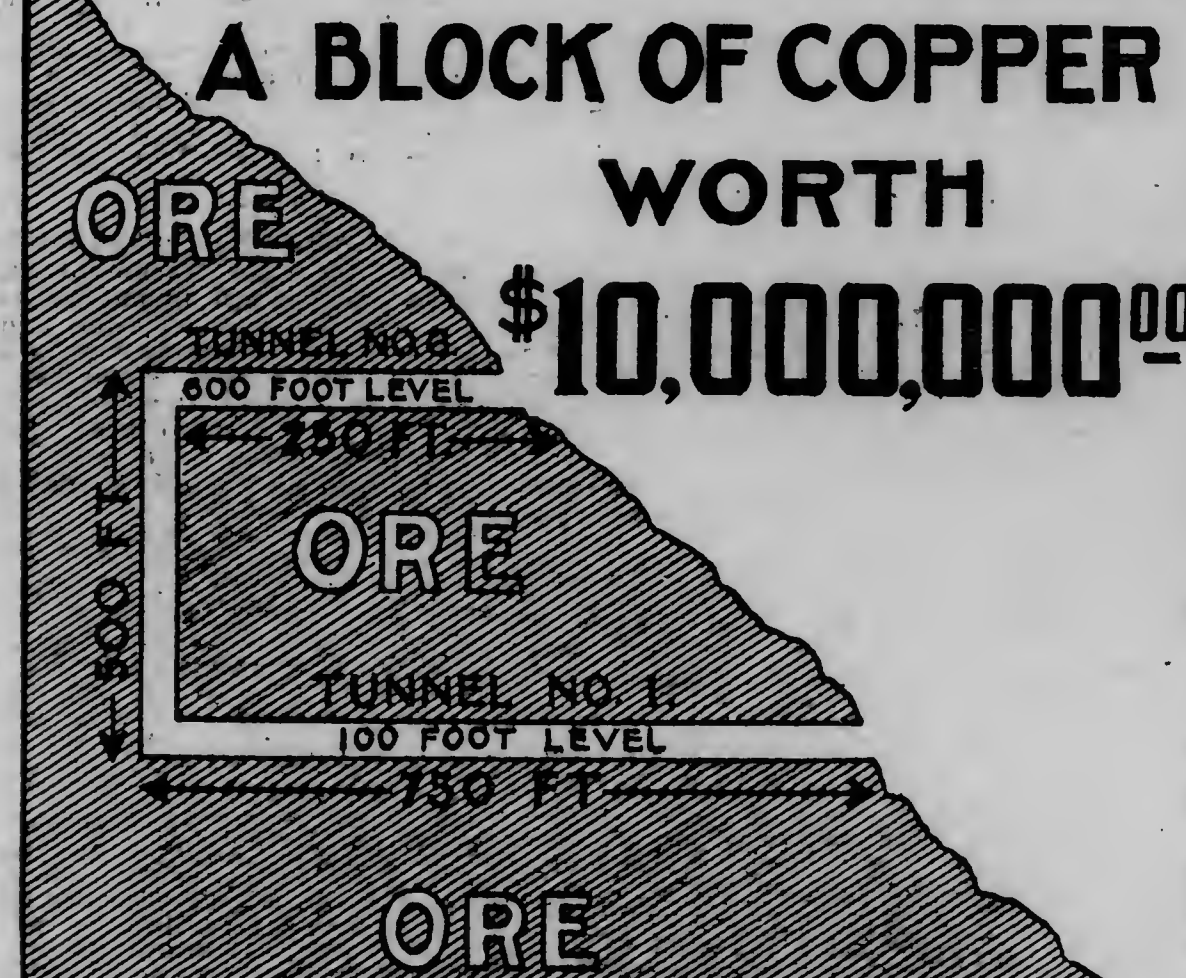

"One of the leading copper men in the United States is quoted as predicting that copper will go to 25c per pound. It is known that others expect to see the metal sell above 30c. The consensus of opinion, however, is that the average price throughout the present year will be at least 35c, and that several years may elapse before the price goes back for any length of time to a level as low as 25c. CONSUMPTION OF COPPER STILL EXCEEDS PRODUCTION, AND THIS CONDITION OF THINGS IS LIKELY TO CONTINUE FOR TEN YEARS TO COME."

A COMPARISON OF PERCENTAGES.

Many mines in British Columbia and in other sections of this country are paying millions in dividends to their stockholders on low grade copper. The famous Granby, a near neighbor of ours in British Columbia, is paying 24 per cent yearly on a capitalization of $15,000,000. The Granby one body of ore, less than 2 per cent copper. We have just and some assays made by the well known firm of Crowell & Peck of Cleveland, and we reproduce one of these assays here to show the enormous copper values on some of these claims of ours. If the Granby can pay 24 per cent on a capitalization of $15,000,000, or less than 2 per cent, what can our company, the British-American Copper Mines & Smelter Co., pay on a capitalization of $3,000,000 with 21 per cent copper?

TO BEGIN SHIPPING AT ONCE.

There are no difficulties ahead of this company, and nothing to prevent us beginning the shipment of ore this spring. There are thousands of tons of ore lying in the creek bottoms, a part of a rock-side, which may have occurred from $350 to $500 a ton in value, and SHIP IT TO THE SMELTERS.

$10,000,000.00 WORTH OF COPPER.

WARNING—Price Advances Tuesday.

Contracts have been let and work has been started on the tunnels shown in above illustration. The price of this stock advances to 25c per share on Tuesday, Feb. 12th. All orders for shares in letters postmarked Feb. 12th will be accepted at the 20c price. The safest plan to follow is to wire your reservation at our expense, and let your remittance follow. This stock should be selling at par, $1.00 per share, by August 1st. There is no better or safer investment offered today, and investors are invited to make any investigation of the company and its holdings that they may deem necessary. The entire proposition is an open book. The officers are men of wide experience and high standing in the business world.

GUIDES CHILDREN.

Experience and a Mother's Love Make Advice Valuable.

An ill mother writes about feeding children:
"If mothers would use Grape-Nuts more for their little ones, there would be less need for medicines and fewer doctor bills."

"If those suffering from indigestion and stomach troubles would live on Grape-Nuts, toast and good milk for a short period they would experience more than they otherwise would believe."

"Our children have all learned to know the benefit of Grape-Nuts as an appetizing, strengthening food. It is every evening, with few variations, like this: 'Mama, let's have toast and Grape-Nuts for breakfast,' or 'let's have eggs and Grape-Nuts'—never forgetting the latter."

"One of our boys in school and in years of age repeatedly tells me his mind is so much brighter and in every way he feels so much better after having Grape-Nuts as a part of not all his breakfast." Vagabond Thoughts.
The men who hire chorus girls for the big theatrical companies have to be good at figures.

When a man owns more than one pair of serviceable suspenders, he feels almost as rich as John D. Rockefeller. Some people get a good deal of enjoyment out of grand opera by listening to the clothes the other folks are wearing.

The money you save for a rainy day does not always keep you dry.

When a man is broke it is encouraging to have even a bad penny turn up.

As a result of the grand opera triumph of Irena Vivienne Smith, half of the girls in Duluth want to give up wiping the dishes for mother and go abroad to study music.

Hamlet Was Mad.
Steve O'Grady, the sunny romanticist who travels seven years ahead of Henry W. Savage's "Madman Buttery," told the Northland Nothings man a new one during his stay in our city. You really possibly have heard it before, but it is good anyway.

"A popular Shakespearean actor was playing in Milwaukee when I was there a while ago," narrates O'Grady, "and among others of the old-line theater he gave the people who had helped to make Milwaukee famous, was Hamlet. "After the first performance, I met a friend of mine who saw the actor as the melancholy Dane, and I asked him if he thought that Hamlet was mad. "Mad?" said my friend, "I should say he was mad. There weren't more than seventy-five dollars in the house."

About 300 Delegates Are Expected to be Present.

Duluth's first important convention for the present year will be that of the Minnesota Retail Grocers and General Merchants' association, to be held here next week. It will begin Tuesday morning and come to a close Thursday afternoon. The program of addresses is an especially fine one, and will include a talk by Governor John A. Johnson on "The Mail Order Business."

The association was formed for mutual benefit, and during the eleven years it has been in existence, has accomplished much for everybody concerned, including the buying public. The objects of the organization are to further a more social feeling among members of the trade; to patrolize such wholesale houses as do an exclusive wholesale business; to establish collection bureaus for the benefit of members, giving reliable information concerning persons unworthy of credit; and assisting in collecting accounts; to regulate peddling; to provide protection against adulteration of foods; to discourage gift schemes of every nature; to secure protection against unjust laws affecting the trade; and to encourage and aid every honest dealer in resisting fraud and trickery in every form and by united action, to secure for members and customers all benefits which are due to tradersmen and customers.

From this it will be seen that the association is not in any respect a trust. It is not the intention to regulate prices. Every member is free to act as he chooses in saying what his stock of goods shall be sold for. But by being thus associated with other members of the trade throughout the state, he is in a position to secure justice for himself, and his customers in matters of legislation, etc. The present officers, selected at an eye to their executive ability, are as follows:

President, John W. Lux; first vice president, H. W. Kingsbury, Winona; second vice president, George H. Filbert, Minneapolis; treasurer, J. T. Williams, Minneapolis; secretary, J. T. Williams, Minneapolis; district directors—First, Henry Hess, Winona; Second, F. H. Behne, New Ulm; Third, E. F. Kelly, Fairbault; Fourth, J. J. Peterson, Boyds; Fifth, John Powell, Minneapolis; Sixth, A. S. Strauss, Long Prairie; Seventh, J. J. Peterson, Boyds; Eighth, George H. Schulenburg, Duluth; Ninth, Thomas Guinness, Barnesville.

The visitors will be well taken care of in Duluth. At this season of the year hotel accommodations are particularly good, for there is no tourist business to take up the space. Every member of the Duluth Retail Grocers' association is a volunteer member of the reception committee, and the out-of-town people will be made to feel at home at once. Everything possible will be done for their comfort and entertainment. The executive committee is an able one, with Simon Clark acting as chairman, which is sufficient guarantee that work coming under the supervision of its members will be taken care of in good shape. The other men acting with Mr. Clark, who are George H. Schulenburg and H. H. O'Neil, are well fitted to exercise a general supervision over the convention arrangements and affairs.

The wholesalers also have a reception committee with Frank X. Gravel as chairman. John Gilman is chairman of the retailers reception committee. The state association members will arrive in Duluth on the afternoon and evening trains the same day, not get here until the following morning. Between 300 and 400 men are expected. Great interest has been shown in the coming event, and all over the state a strong desire to visit Duluth.

The "Convention City" has been manifested. The business session will be held in Flaten's hall, Fourth avenue west and First street. There will also be a dance there for the visitors Thursday evening.

Tuesday evening the Duluth Wholesalers' association members will act as hosts at a smoker. E. F. Kelley will be master of ceremonies, with Hon. W. I. Nolan as official funmaker. Flaten's orchestra will furnish music for the occasion.

The first business session will begin Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev.

Miss McCourt had hosts of friends in Duluth. She was active in the Bishop's club and was secretary of that organization at the time she left the city. The funeral will be held Monday morning at 9 o'clock at the family residence, 519 Tenth street south, Minneapolis, and services will also be held in the Church of the Immaculate Conception in that city.

STEADY HAND.
A Surgeon's Hand Should be the Firmest of All.

"For fifteen years I have suffered from insomnia, indigestion and nervousness as a result of coffee drinking," said a surgeon the other day.

"The dyspepsia became so bad that I had to limit myself to one cup at breakfast. Even this caused me to lose my food soon after I ate it."

"All the attendant symptoms of indigestion, such as heart burn, palpitation, water brash, wakefulness or disturbed sleep, had taken in the mouth, nervousness, etc., were present to such a degree as to incapacitate me for my practice as a surgeon."

"The result of leaving off coffee and drinking Postum, was simply marvelous. The change was wrought forthwith, my hand steadied and my normal condition of health restored."

"I am finally becoming better and am now able to take up a special course at the state

SAD CASE REPORTED.
Experience of Young Mother Alone in Cold Log Shanty.

Tenstrike, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald).—A report reaches here of a very bad case that happened in Taylor township last week.

Tom Mohler lives with his wife about three miles east of W. D. Bright's place. One day last week Mr. Mohler went to Bemidji, to try and get a nurse to come and look after his wife.

He drove to Turtle River and took the train from there to Bemidji, where business detained him for three days. On his return to Turtle River, word had just reached that place that his wife, while alone in the house, which was only a log shanty, had given birth to a child. She had been confined eighteen hours without the assistance of anyone, and the child was dead and the mother in a very critical condition. The house being thoroughly chilled, as there was no fire.

As soon as this was discovered by a neighbor, Mrs. Gray, Mrs. Mohler and the child were immediately removed to the home, where everything possible was done for her. Mr. Mohler, upon hearing the very sad news, started his team for home on the dead road, being almost prostrated with grief. After reaching his home, one of the horses was taken sick and died, undoubtedly from overexertion.

LABOR MOVEMENT FOR TEMPLE

Duluth Trades May Establish Central Labor Headquarters.

Alderman-Elect Shartel Gives Address to Union Men.

UNION MEETINGS.

Tonight—Longshoremen at Gilley's hall.

West Duluth.

Monday—Retail Clerks at Labor World hall; Teamsters at Labor World hall; Steamfitters at Axa hall; Tug Firemen at Axa hall.

Tuesday—Carpenters at Bowley hall; Machinists at Axa hall; Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers at Labor World hall; Sheet Metal Workers at Labor World hall.

Wednesday—Marine Engineers at Lyceum building; Meat Cutters at Labor World hall; Steamfitters at Labor World hall; Plasterers at Kalamazoo hall; Freighthandlers at Kalamazoo hall; L. T. A. at Labor World hall.

Friday—Leatherworkers at Labor World hall; Iron Molders at Axa hall; Bricklayers at Axa hall; Ship Carpenters at Axa hall.

It is the opinion of the members of the Duluth Trades and Labor assembly that Duluth is now a strong enough union town to be able to support a union temple or headquarters and a committee was appointed, at the meeting held last night, to investigate the matter and see if a new hall could be procured and enough of the unions persuaded to use it.

Some dissatisfaction has been expressed by the unions for several months relative to the hall in which the assembly meets, which can be used as smoking or lounging rooms. The committee in charge will see what can be done toward the selection of new and more commodious quarters.

The hall matter was first brought up by a communication from W. E. McEwen, manager of the Labor World hall, in answer to a request from the assembly that a telephone should be installed in the hall, and that the hall be made up very comfortably for the use of the unions.

Several other members of the assembly gave their views upon the subject and it seemed to be the general opinion that Mr. McEwen's suggestion should be followed. The committee was organized from the Superior trades assembly told of the new union headquarters which labor is about to move into in the city across the bay, and stated that the Duluth ought to be able to do as well as Superior in this matter.

The committee appointed will work in conjunction with Mr. McEwen for the present and will report at the next meeting of the assembly. The committee has appointed Henry DeRoche, John Hunt and J. J. McConwell to serve on the committee.

Joseph Shartel, one of labor's successful candidates for alderman at this week's city election, was present and was called upon by Delegate Ernest Peters for a speech. Mr. Shartel delivered a fine address, in which he stated that he had won out over Mr. Lyle because the latter had one time turned down his constituents in the municipal ownership question and consequently he no longer had the strength with them that he could formerly.

"If it were not for the fact that Lyle stood out boldly for the corporations, instead of for the people," said the speaker, "I would never have entered the race against him, a fellow union man. I pledge myself to do all that I can for the best interests of union labor people as well as for the public in general when I take my seat in the city council, and to put these statistics in any complaint I want to hear from you."

In a communication W. E. McEwen enthusiastically attended the allegations made by a delegate at the meeting of the assembly two weeks ago that there had at one time been a telephone in the lobby of the Labor World hall. There had been a very recently been a "fair" phone there but never one of the "phones of the non-union company."

Several of the members who had been conducting for the last several weeks ago to investigate this matter corroborated this statement of Mr. McEwen.

The union label was the subject of several communications from the American Federation of Labor, read at the meeting, and President Gompers urged the members of the Duluth unions to take great care in selecting articles of any kind to be sure that the union label is affixed to it.

At the Minneapolis convention last fall it was recommended that all central labor bodies obtain a list of all union labels and articles handled in their cities and at the present time. Mr. Olmen has secured a booklet to be distributed to the members of union labor.

According to the estimate of Martin Olmen, trades assembly statistician who reported last night, there are about 6,000 members of union labor in Duluth at the present time. Mr. Olmen has secured reports from nineteen of the local secretaries who report 2,400 unionists enrolled and Mr. Olmen estimates that as none of the larger organizations have yet reported this number is only a little over one-third of the total number.

Eight new delegates were enrolled at the meeting last evening, three from the brewery workers' union and one each from the painters, dock and ship carpenters, team drivers, bakers and confectioners and tailors. The new delegates are the names of the new delegates: Alfred L. Jutin, tailors; Anton Hagen, bakers and confectioners; John McKersie, team drivers; John Nolan, dock and ship carpenters; John Chuter, painters; and Frank Nowack, brewery workers.

Delegate Jacob Patschowski wanted to know what the organization committee was doing to bring the Duluth surveyors into line with the labor movement. He said that there were about fifteen or sixteen in this city at present and several of whom he had conversed with seemed favorable to organization. The organization committee was directed to take up

Charcoal Stops Gas On Your Stomach.

Wonderful Absorbing Power of Charcoal When Taken in the Form of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges.

Trial Package Sent Free.

Charcoal, pure, simple charcoal, absorbs 100 times its own volume of gas. Where does the gas go to? It is just absorbed by the charcoal—the gas disappears and there is left a pure, fresh, sweet atmosphere, free from all impurities and germs.

That's what happens in your stomach when you take one or two of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. The most powerful purifiers science has yet discovered.

You belch gas in company, sometimes, by accident, greatly to your own humiliation. That is because there is a great amount of gas being formed in your stomach by fermenting food. Your stomach is not digesting your food properly. Gas is inevitable. When ever this happens just take one or two of Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. Right after eating, and you will be surprised how quickly they will act. No more belching; no more sour risings; eat all you want and what you want, and then, if there is any gas going to be formed, one of these wonderful little absorbers, a Stuart Charcoal Lozenge, will take care of all the gas.

And it will do more than that. Every particle of impurity in your stomach and intestines is going to be carried away by the charcoal. No one seems to know why it does this, but it does, and does it wonderfully. You notice the difference in your appetite, general good feeling and in the purity of your blood, right away.

You'll have no more bad taste in your mouth or bad breath, either from drinking, eating or smoking. Other people will notice your bad breath quicker than you will yourself. Make your breath pure, fresh and sweet, when you talk to others you won't disgust them. Just one or two Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges will make your breath sweet, and you feel better all over for it. You can eat all the onions and odorous foods you want, and no one can tell the difference.

Besides, charcoal is the best relaxative known. You can take a whole box full and no harm will result. It is a wonderfully easy regulator.

And then, too, it drives your blood—every particle of poison or impurity in your blood is destroyed, and you begin to notice the difference in your face first thing—your complexion.

Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges are made from purely willow charcoal, and just a little honey is put in to make them palatable, but not too sweet.

They will work wonders in your stomach and make you feel fine and fresh. Your blood and breath will be purified.

If you want to prove all this to you, so just send for a free sample today. Then after you get it and use it, you will like them so well that you will go to your druggist and get a 25 box of these Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package free. Address F. W. Eugler & Co., 64 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

The matter and a report will be ready by next meeting.

Martin Olmen, the assembly statistician, is preparing a very handy union labor directory, which will be ready when completed will contain the name of each union and the date and place of meeting besides a list of the officers. The directory will be completed by the end of the month and will be a handy guide for the union labor man to have.

HOCKEY TEAM ARRIVES.

Game Will be Called at 9:30—Ice is Soft.

In order that the skaters at the curling rink may have their full hours of music, the program will commence this evening at 7:30 sharp instead of 8 o'clock, and the Northern-Houghton hockey game will go on at 9:30.

The hockey enthusiasts are praying for a little colder weather in order that the ice will be in a presentable condition when the game starts, as no postponement of the game will be a hardship for the union labor man to have.

The Houghton team got in at 9 o'clock this morning and are a husky looking bunch. The line-up of this evening will be as follows:

Duluth.....	Houghton.....
Fenton.....	Haug.....
Furn.....	Trach.....
Cummings.....	Smith.....
Winters.....	Penberthy.....

Orrine Treatment is to be Used at Home Without Publicity, or Loss of Time from Business.

Thousands of persons who really want to quit the use of whiskey or beer, realize that they cannot do so without medical help, yet they can not afford the time or perhaps the money to go to a sanatorium. Happily a new cure for drunkenness has been discovered which is to be taken at home and costs less than the average drinker will spend in a day for drink.

In using Orrine there is absolutely no publicity, as the remedy is sold by the leading druggists in nearly every city and town, or it can be sent by mail. Sure relief is positive when Orrine is used. So uniformly successful is this treatment that in every box is a registered guarantee which entitles you to a refund of your money if Orrine fails to effect a cure.

Orrine is in two forms, No. 1, a secret remedy, absolutely tasteless and odorless, which can be given in food or drink without the patient's knowledge; No. 2 in pill form for those who wish to be cured. The price of either form is $1 a box. Send to the Orrine Co., Washington, D. C. for free booklet and consultation blank.

The desire for liquor is soon destroyed after Orrine treatment is commenced, and before long the patient is freed from the terrible drink craving, and the drink will not be missed.

HETTY GREEN

Says That Lawyer's Bill. of $10,000 Is Exorbitant.

Boston, Feb. 8.—To fight the claim of $10,000 which has been brought against her by Attorney Sherman L. Whipple for professional services. Mrs. Hetty Green is in Boston "and with fire in her eye, for she says, she is determined to fight the case," says a source. Whipple's suit against Mrs. Green is for conducting a lawsuit against Whipple for legal fees. Mrs. Green, 74 years ago when she brought action concerning the income of an estate in voting rights.

Mrs. Green says that she understood that she was to pay the lawyer according to the services he rendered and she thought it was a fair arrangement. Whipple wasn't of the same opinion, however, and when he sent his bill for $100,000 she refused to pay for battle, which Mrs. Green eagerly took up.

"Some people think that because I am a woman I can be imposed upon; but after they have done with me they find out they are different," Mrs. Green said. "I don't."

PAIR WED FOUR TIMES
In Three Years and Now Wife Wants Fourth Divorce.

This time Mrs. Fagan says she will never again marry Pat if she gets a divorce. After the first marriage they lived together three months. A vacation of three months ended in another wedding. After three months a divorce was obtained by Mrs. Fagan, and a month after that the again succumbed to Fagan's ardent wooing. Another six months after that their divorce suit, and they lived apart for seven months before seeking a minister.

The "hundred-times-a-day-question" — how to make a little more money, will not down. But, to the store man, advertising in The Herald always fig-success in baseball as in other lines of business, and the aggressive, struggling player is the one who is of vastly more value to his team than the merely smooth, mechanical artist. Hard losers don't lose as often as easy ones. Such managers as Billy Murray and George Stallings are the hardest kind of losers, and they always have their teams up and around the top of the race. In a game at Jersey City last season one of the home pitchers, in a close, come-and-try game, was delivery in the fifth inning. Murray was sweating blood on the bench when the round was over. But the easy-going twirler walked calmly in, took a drink of water, sat down on the bench and began to hum "The Good Old Summer time." Murray was furious.

"You may think it's the good old summer time," he growled, "but if I were you big, lazy stuff, I'd be shivering all ready. It's going to be a cold day for you if you don't take a sudden brace and stop these fellows."

Bill can never stand seeing anybody cheerful when the game is going against his team. Fred Clarke is said to have released Chick Fraser when he had him at Louisville because the Chicken didn't grieve hard enough over a close game gone wrong. Fred's a hard loser and a three-time pennant winner. Many American league fans, even outside of New York, would pick Elberfeld over Terry Turner for the shortstop position because the kid is a hustling fighter. Turner is a better batter and smoother fielder, but much more easy-going than Elberfeld, in his team. Fred Clarke is said to have released Chick Fraser, when he had him on a double play. The kid did not grieve hard enough over a close game gone wrong. Fred's a hard loser and a three-time pennant winner. Many American league players are afraid of him. Yerk would pick Elberfeld over Terry Turner for the shortstop position because the kid is a hustling fighter. Turner is a cocky, the general proprietor of the worst losing streak in the American league. Yerk is much more easy-going than Elberfeld, in fact, not so hard a loser. Charley Comiskey, the genial proprietor of the worst losing streak in the National league, is not in the business. Twenty years ago, when he was handling American association pennants for St. Louis, any member of the team who had up a bad record in a particular rotten game and caused a defeat was not allowed to ride home from the grounds in the bus with the rest of the players. They wouldn't speak to him, and he had to get away from the yard as best he could. He was ostracized until he had redeemed himself.

Titled English Son-in-Law.
 London, Feb. 8.—The trouble between the duke and duchess of Marlborough is settled, outwardly at least. That King Edward had a large part in effecting the arrangement is rumored on all sides.
 W. K. Vanderbilt, father of the duchess, has settled $50,000 a year more on the duke. Mr. Vanderbilt offered to do this voluntarily. His offer was then increased to $100,000 a year on the duke and provision for the duke's children are not affected by the duke's acceptance.
 One condition of the arrangement believed to have been insisted upon is that they shall not meet for some time.

After a while they will resume their residence under one roof, but really as the new system has been found to be very satisfactory by the duke and the duchess of Sutherland and several other aristocratic detached couples.

Lady Greffy, the duke's sister, is in charge of Blenheim, where Lord Ivor and Lady Greffy are living from time to time. In her husband's absence from Blenheim, the duchess motored there a few days ago to visit her son. She was shown to the child's bedroom by the butler as if she were a distant acquaintance of the child, and she was shown to the two boys, and did not meet Lady Greffy. For the last ten days little Lord Blandford has been passing half the time with his mother at Sunderland house, her town resi-

SENATOR LODGE BROKE.
The Senate's Anti-Smoking Rule During Open Session.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Most of all the rules of the United States senate that against smoking is strictly observed. If a senator were to smoke in the senate when that body is in session an awful tale would befall him, and if he should smoke in the lobby or corridors he would be immediately detained by a doorkeeper or messenger that he might not be seen. But when the senate goes into executive session and the public are excluded smoking is permitted.

Saturday, after a brief executive session, the senate held an equally brief open session. As soon as the doors were opened the senators were met by a throng, and when the public was again admitted every senator quickly disposed of his cigar with only one exception; that exception was Mr. Lodge.

Evidently preoccupied, forgetting for the moment how flagrantly he was violating the rules of the august body, Mr. C. H. ... his cigar during the minute or two that was necessary for the senate to meet in open session and then adjourn.

Frantic efforts were made by the assistant sergeant-at-arms to make Mr. ... lodge understand that smoking was against the rules, but he was oblivious, and when the senate adjourned he marched out of the chamber with his cigar still between his lips.

Ignorance may be bliss, but it's not prosperity. To prosper you must read Herald ads—and then you are no longer ignorant.

LAKESIDE LAND CO. HAS A NEW GENERAL AGENT

C. P. Craig Assumes Control in Place of Waldo E. Knapp, Who Is Associated With Red Cliff Lumber Company—No Change in Company's Aggressive Business Policy—William White Trades Residence Property.

Announcement of the change in general management of the Lakeside Land company was made this morning. Charles P. Craig of this city has assumed the control, locally, of the Lakeside Land company in place of Waldo E. Knapp, who has resigned, to become associated with the Red Cliff Lumber company. Mr. Knapp will leave shortly for British Columbia, where he will look after the interests of the lumber concern.
That a change in the general management of the land company was imminent, because of Mr. Knapp's resignation, has been known to several of the prominent real estate men and for a few days past, there has been much interest manifested as to the appointment of his successor.
The Lakeside Land company is one of the oldest and best known real estate corporations in the city, the company having practically owned the old city of Lakeside. The company is controlled by the Charlemagne Tower estate, a fact that gives it a splendid financial backing.
Mr. Knapp has for many years been connected with the interests of the estate, looking after its immense timber holdings in various parts of the country. Nearly two years ago he came to Duluth to assume control of the affairs of the local realty corporation and now leaves it to again enter his former line of business in handling timber and lumber.

The decision of the Charlemagne Tower estate to select Mr. Craig as the successor to Mr. Knapp has been made after careful deliberation. In view of the company's large interests here, and the desire to place them in strong hands.

Mr. Craig is one of the city's best known real estate men. He has been in the business here for many years and is regarded as one of the best qualified men in the city in the judgment of local real estate circles.

Although the change will make necessary the removal of the company's offices in the Lonsdale building to the office of C. P. Craig & Co. in the Duluth Savings bank building, the change is one merely of convenience. It is announced that the same aggressive policy pursued by Mr. Knapp will be pursued under the new management.

Mr. Craig simply taking up the work where Mr. Knapp left off. Those who have watched the substantial growth of the Lakeside residence district in the past few years, backed by the ample resources of the Lakeside Land company has had reason to believe that the company's policy was sound. The company has had a long and successful record in the real estate business in Duluth, and it is without a rival in the home-building business on the partial payment plan. It has made it possible for scores of Duluth people to get homes of their own within the range of their income and salaries.

Last year the amount of improvement accomplished by the company in the eastern end of the city was greater than for all the ten years preceding years. Including the street improvements and house construction, the Lakeside Land company spent about $75,000 last year in that part of the city. All the new homes have been sold. Besides the street improvement already accomplished a great deal more is planned for the coming year and, from present indications, it is certain that the gas service will be extended to Lakeside this year.

The Lakeside Land company has recently issued a handsome and attractive booklet setting forth the opportunities offered and there has been a large demand for the same by local people who are interested in prospective home buying.

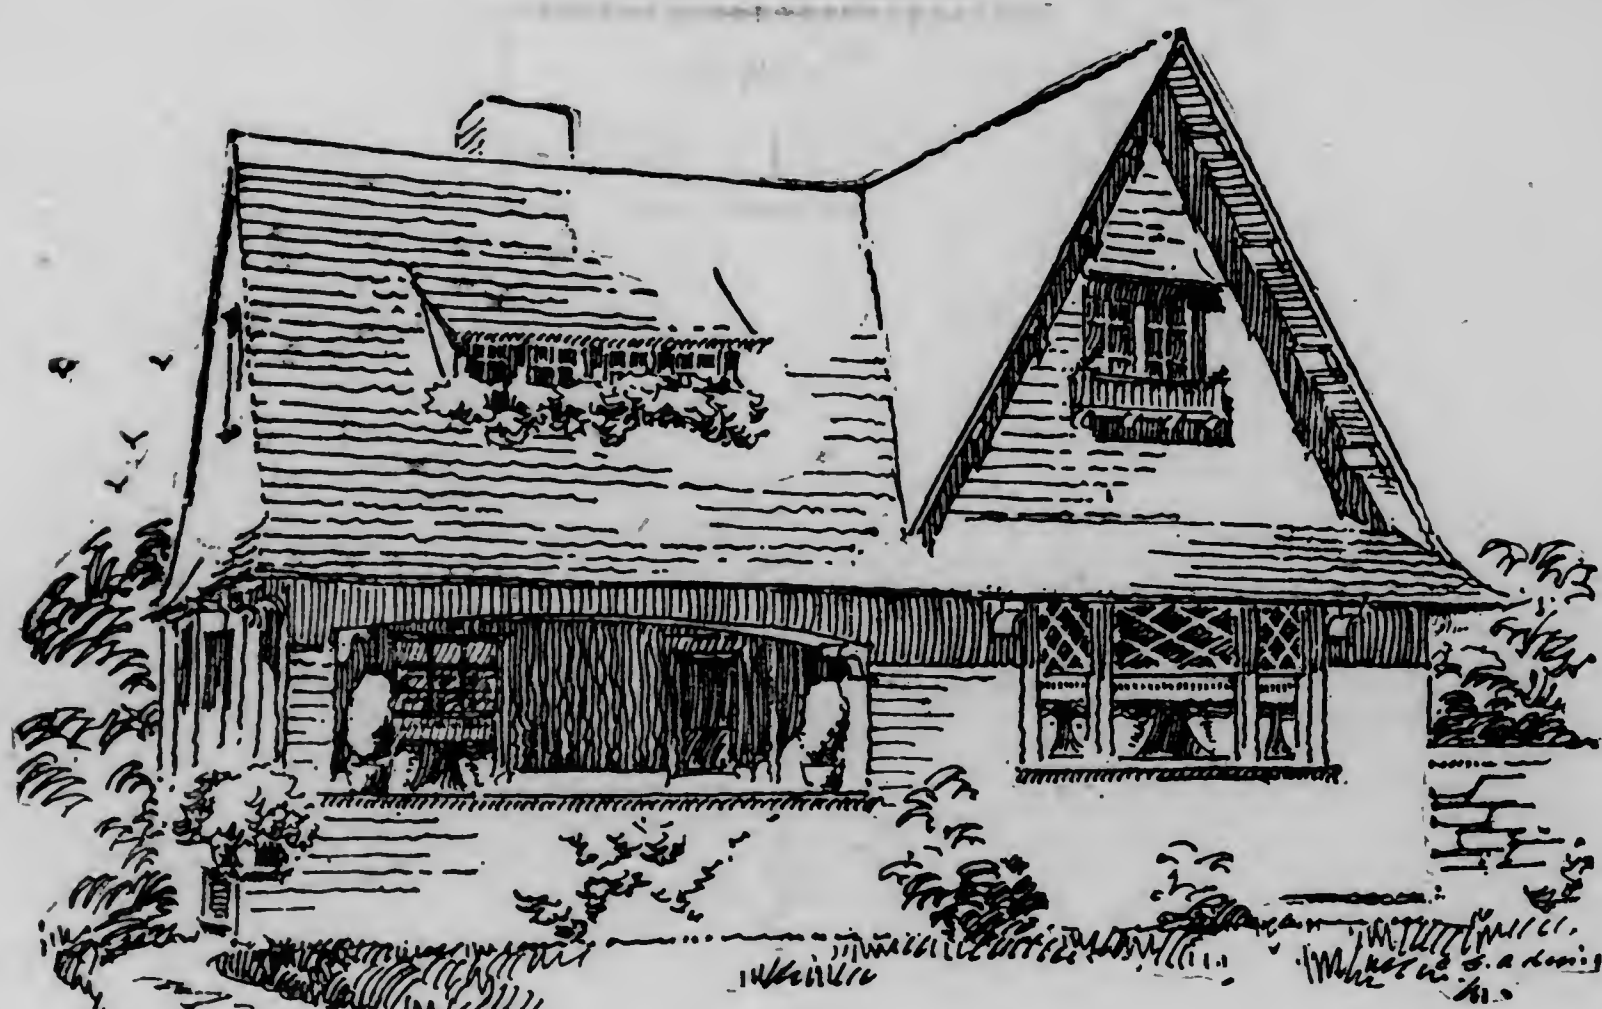

One of the principal real estate deals of this week was the trade effected yesterday between William White of Panton & White and Charles P. Craig of the real estate firm of C. P. Craig & Co. Mr. White has exchanged his East end residence, the house on the upper side of Superior street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth avenues east, formerly owned by George C. Howe, to Mr. Craig for a 200 foot property at the northeast corner of Twenty-fourth avenue east and First street. The property comprises four unimproved lots, all fronting on First street. It is regarded as one of the best residence sites remaining in that part of the city.

Mr. White, it is understood, will continue to occupy his home he has just exchanged, until he has erected on his new purchase a handsome residence.

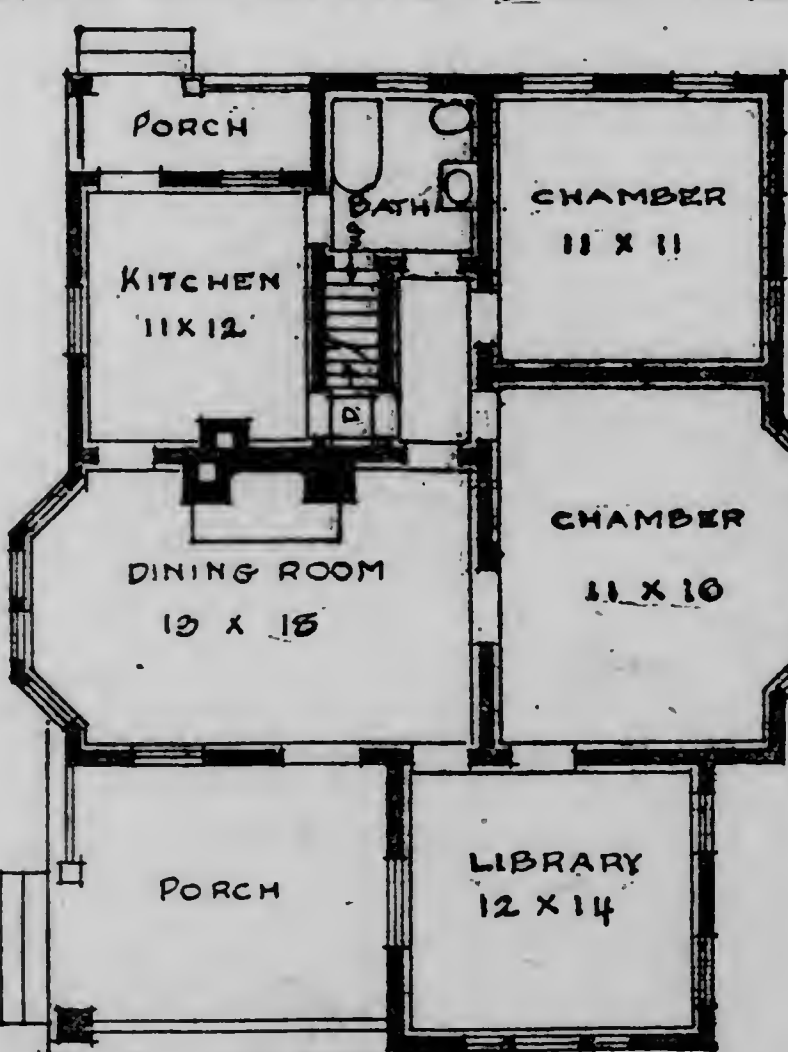

Both of the properties involved in the transaction are well known in local realty circles. No such consideration is mentioned in view of the terms of the exchange which is practically "even up," but the exchange is regarded as a favorable one for both parties.

The lots at Twenty-fourth avenue east have a quite a history. Mr. Craig bought them in January, 1891 and sold them in October of the same year for $2,000. It is understood that the purchaser later mortgaged them. The mortgage was foreclosed a few years afterward and Mr. Nichols, for $2,000, it is understood, secured the property in possession through purchase from the mortgagee.

A Fine Cottage For $2,200.

—CLYDE S. ADAMS—ARCHITECT—

This one and a half story bungalow makes a fine cottage. The living-room is entered directly from the porch and the dining-room is larger than the ordinary living-room, and adjoins the kitchen. There is a broad fireplace in the living-room. Two chambers and a bath-room complete the first floor.

At additional cost the second story could be made into two chambers, which would be well-lighted and ventilated.

The first story is cladboarded and the half story has a shingle roof. Size over all is 33 feet by 44 feet 6 inches. Story height is 9 feet 6 inches.

The estimated cost given below includes hardwood for the principal rooms, balance pine. The hardwood gives a splendid opportunity for interior decoration.

WILL BUILD ON RIVER

Duluth Boat Club Will Have House at Spirit Lake.

Will be a Great Convenience to Picnic Parties.

The Duluth Boat club will this summer have a clubhouse on the St. Louis river.

The club has selected a beautiful site for the building on some high ground just beyond Spirit lake, and an attractive little clubhouse will be constructed there.

The plans for the building are now being made by A. W. Puck, the architect who designed the present clubhouse on Park street.

The building will contain a storage room for launches and canoes, a dining pavilion, a dining room, kitchen and sleeping quarters.

Such a building will add materially to the pleasure and comfort of the members, and it opens the way for countless little outings and picnic parties up the river which were formerly attended with no little inconvenience.

Meals can be secured at the clubhouse, and the club has a fine coffee cooked there. If a storm should come up, it will be possible to put in the clubhouse and spend the night there, communicating with friends by telephone. It will also be possible to plan outings lasting over night.

Work on the plans for the building is now well under way, and it will be constructed early this spring, in time for use during the coming summer.

HAPPENINGS IN THE DAKOTAS

One Hundred Russian Farmers Tried to Raid Coal Cars.

NORTH DAKOTA.

Bismarck—About 100 Russian farmers tried to hold up a coal train at Lehr, yesterday afternoon and confiscated a car. They uncoupled the car, while the train was in the yards, but the trainmen caught them and ran out of the town at full speed.

There were no trains on that branch of the Soo line for sixteen days last week. The fire snow was packed by the railroads almost all day, and in some places it was too much for the snow plows.

be locked up. As the police have no information as to where the man is, they must be looking for him. He is believed to be in Minnesota.

Minot—John Schaefer, a home-stay living near Stanley, is in the hospital here in a serious condition as the result of injuries received by being struck by a snow plow and the exposure following.

Schaefer was walking from Palermo to Stanley when a Great Northern rotary plow came along at a fifty-miles-an-hour clip. The day was stormy and Schaefer did not see or hear the plow. It struck him fairly and sent him spinning into the air and landed him in a snow bank.

The engineer of the plow was not aware of the accident, and Schaefer lay in the snow for several hours until a freight train passed, when he was discovered and brought to the hospital here. He was terribly bruised and several bones were broken, but it is believed that he will recover.

SOUTH DAKOTA.

Huron—Railway men have had some interesting as well as thrilling experiences during the late winter and early spring.

A train crew was held at Ordway Friday night by the storm.

They were out of provisions and almost out of fuel.

The train was held for several days, but the parties declined to either give or sell their train, and they therefore called it a "train of the future."

His supply was very limited, but he made his visitors feel perfectly at home. Knowledge of the situation was spread, and he was called on for several days.

NEWS FROM WEST DULUTH MAY BUILD TOGETHER MEW CHURCH

Members of Finish Baptist Church Are Planning One.

Trustees Will Decide Question at Meeting on Feb. 26.

A call has been issued for a special meeting of the board of trustees of the Finnish Ebenezer Baptist church of West Duluth, to be held on Feb. 26, to make plans for the building of a church this spring. The church has been very prosperous for some time, and the membership has grown so that now the congregation thinks that it can afford to put up a suitable church building.

For the last two years the church has been holding meetings at Wassa hall, on Ramsey street, and the Finnish inhabitants have attended very regularly. The money for the new church, if the board of trustees decides that it shall be built, will be raised by subscription, and an active campaign will be started early in the spring for the fund-raising.

Instead of building a separate church building, the members of this church have an unique plan, and will build a business block, with spacious auditorium upstairs, and the lower floor fixed up for storerooms. In this way the building will pay for itself in time.

BIG SKI TOURNAMENT.

West Duluth Club Will Have Contest at New Hill.

The West Duluth ski club members expect that there will be a big turnout of ski enthusiasts at their hill tomorrow afternoon, and some fine ski riding is expected. The hill, which is situated between Fifty-ninth and Sixtieth avenues, is in the very best shape, a crew of men having been at work upon it for several days.

The club asked the permission, this week, of the owner of the property to clear away the underbrush in the vicinity of the hill, and this work has been done. The runway has also been greatly improved, and the members of the club are looking for some record-breaking jumps tomorrow. The record for last Sunday was seventy-nine feet.

Several Duluth ski riders will probably come out to jump against the West Duluthians, West Duluth now thinks that it has as good ski riders as there are in the city among the amateurs, and these riders will be willing to go against any of the Duluthians.

All persons attending the tournament are requested to leave their dogs at home, as one of the canines was the cause of the accident at the hill last Sunday.

PUSHING STORE PROJECT.

Swedish-Finns Will Hold Special Meet Monday Night.

Another meeting of those interested in the proposed Swedish-Finnish co-operative store will be held next Monday evening at Wassa hall, and the plans for organizing a company will be discussed. Those behind the project are very confident that they know the store is a sure thing.

Among the prominent Swedish-Finns who are pushing the matter are John Erickson, Anton Gronlund, Gust Mattson and Emil Norlund, who say that the Finns are very anxious to establish a co-operative store. A well-known citizen of West Duluth stated this morning that as the Wrenshall farmers are expecting to establish a co-operative store in West Duluth this spring it would be a good idea for them to consult with the Finns, and the two projects might be merged.

After you have once tried Eastetter's Bismuths for any ailment of the stomach, liver, kidneys or bowels, you know you will never again turn back to any other medicine. The 2-Cent Fare to Stay.

It was inevitable that the movement for a 2-cent fare should turn out so successful, and while it may for a time be limited to mileage books and to restricted territory, it is one of those commercial revolutions that will never turn back. After you have once tried Eastetter's Bismuths for any ailment of the stomach, liver, kidneys or bowels, you know you will never again turn back to any other medicine. You won't need to, for it will convince you beyond all doubt that it can cure you, the same as it has done for thousands of other sickly people during the past 3 years. Try it and be convinced. It restores the appetite, strengthens the digestive organs and thus cures dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation, biliousness, colds, fevers, chills and malaria. We guarantee its purity.

ASPHYXIATED BY GAS.

HISTORICAL BIG DEALS IN UTAH MINES

Prospects of Large Merger of Properties in the Park City Camp---Problem That Confronts the Big Smelting Corporations.

[illegible]

Not far from $400,000 in dividends, and the property of the company, the mines and properties are just beginning to shine as money makers.

One of the big smelting corporations which is doing business in Utah is at the very end of its nose to get a new company started, and from conducting their business in this way they have lost a great deal of money. The company has closed the deal for a mine just over the divide from its mines in the south of the state, and now it is at the mouth of Pine canon and when the new plant is ready to blow in its turn it will be the largest in the world. It is a long time to get a plant to start to the works. Later a tunnel will be completed through the hill, which, in the winter, is covered with snow. The depth will allow of the ores going down to the bottom of the hill, and the smelter will be able to smelt the ores. The other smelters are still

Since it became evident that the big smelting companies were not going to make the wishes of the farmers of this valley, would have to vote, the sentiment was that the farmers would do some damage due to vegetation through the operation of their plants has understood that the farmers of this valley have reached the conclusion that the smelting companies and the farmers have killed each other, and they are all willing to be bothered and to be killed. The farmers are now inducing the smelting companies to establish works in their various neighbor-

The new "sky line" of the Rio Grande railroad into Bingham camp has been completed. The new line will connect the works of the Utah Copper company and the freight trains were placed in commission.

Options have been secured by the Bingham Consolidated and United States companies' managers on numerous possible sites, but they are apparently as far away from making a selection as ever. Samuel Newhouse owns the 100-acre site on the shore of Utah lake, which he purchased in order to force satisfactory terms from the Consolidated can now easily get to market with 600 tons of sulphide copper per year from the Bingham mill. The Utah Copper company has a capacity of 1,000 tons a day can be supplied without trouble. The completion of the line will also permit the Utah Copper company to place its 3,000-ton mill at Garfield in commission on March 1.

CALUMET & ARIZONA EXPANDS

Enlargement of Smelting Capacity Being Rushed--- Outlook at the Denn-Arizona Continues Favorable ---Wolverine & Arizona Attracts Attention.

Blaise, Ariz., Feb. 24.—At the Calumet & Arizona smelter at Douglas the plan of expansion is now clear. A new engine and blower are now on the foundation, and the new type of engine formerly installed in the power house. The inability to get material for constructing an extension to the power house leaves the new improvements

In order to extend a power house, the shop must be removed, situated as it is, on the site of the old main power house. The new extension will cover the ground now occupied by the shops and something more. Across the new extension the ground now occupied by the assay and other offices they are clearing away for the new assay building and the shops. The scope of these improvements of course, contemplates a material addition to the capacity of the shops and furnishes an approximate index to the practical observer as to the magnitude of the improvements and the magnitude of the expenditure.

The work in evidence includes boxes or pillars to support the structural steel work along with other preliminary details of the general construction would indicate that the company intends to double the capacity of the shops during the first stage of expansion.

The strike on the 1,100-foot level of the Houston shaft of the Calumet & Pittsburg mines continues to show no signs of abatement. The new mine has recently begun shipments so that all four properties of the Superior group are now forwarding ore to the smelter. For the past week the function shaft has been taking out some very fine material from the 1,100, 1,200, 500 and 1,000-foot levels. There seems to be large bodies of it. The material is about 15 to 20 per cent, five tons of 16 per cent ore to the Douglas smelter, and could do better if the railroad track near the mine were completed. The mine is in process of construction, and in a few days several more cars can be shipped.

The shaft is down 1,230 feet, with drifts on the 770 and 900-foot levels. At the 770 level they have a 500-gallon pump working. The

At the Copper Queen smelter, the latest improvement observable consists in an extension of the feed ore tracks on the west end of the mill, where the material is crushed for something like 100 feet to accommodate the charge train. In the Copper Queen power house, the mill is anchored to the foundation. The machinery of the mine is among the best in the Bisbee district. A mighty hoist, capable of lifting 1,000 tons, occupies a room, 60x70 feet, and over thirty feet high. They have in use five marine 240-horse power boilers, and two 100-horse power steam boilers. Two Prescott 2,500 gallon pumps are now on the ground ready likely to Be Leading Copper Camp Soon---Thousands of Men Flocking to It and Shelter is Scarce.

ELY, NEVADA, HAS HUGE BOOM

ELY, Nev., Feb. 9.—In this district, already the largest copper camp in Nevada, is destined to become, within the next few months one of the most important on the continent. The most recent mineral ore is miles in extent, and is already shown to be hundreds of feet in thickness in some of the going mines. While it has been known for years that copper existed in considerable quantities in this district, it has not been known until recently that any systematic attempt has been made to properly open up the deposits. Today some of the largest and richest mines in the copper world are in control of the Cum-

There are many thousands of tons of crude ore on the dumps ready for shipment. Dozens of miners, carpenters and other artisans are flocking to the district, and the employment of these newcomers is fast becoming a serious problem.

The workings of the new mine are just being started. Yesterday the head frame of the shaft is just now being erected over the main shaft, which has reached a depth of 400 feet. The shaft is 40 feet in diameter, this shaft cuts the main tunnel, the face of which is now 1,100 feet in from the mountain side. For hundreds of feet the face of the main copper porphyry ore, which shows an assay of from 7 to 9 per cent.

Cuba-Ely, the Nevada Consolidated Copper Co., has recently completed the construction of the new shaft at its mines adjacent to Ely with the Southern Pacific at Cobro, 140 miles distant. At this mine, which is being worked by smelter is being erected, with capacity in its first unit of 5,000 tons per day, a large concentrating mill will be of equal capacity.

At all the going mines the working conditions are improving and development is going forward on a much larger scale than ever before. The cost of production is being reduced by the shortness of fuel and the heavy snows throughout the winter.

The most modern method used is employed in underground work.

Chiffon and Silk Boas for the Evening

BOA OF CHIFFON AND SILK LEAVES

The smart new chiffon and silk boas that have become such favorites for evening and afternoon wear this winter are made in white and all the pastel shades appropriate for dress occasions. These scarfs, though essentially for use around the neck are often worn instead of hats, because they are duffy and tight and incidentally are not only becoming to the average woman, but do not disarrange the coiffure.

Like the lace and chiffon cloth scarfs, these boas are long enough to twist twice around the neck and drop gracefully in back and front, or they may be entwined about the head, would round the neck and tied so that the ends will hang prettily about the shoulders.

Patterned after the fashionable fur stoles these delicate boas are made wide in the center to make a comfortable covering for the neck and shoulders or for the head, and then taper gradually to the ends. The body is of chiffon, with a series of rows of tiny silk leaves, put on about two or three inches apart.

Cloth Coat With Cape for Afternoon Wear

BLACK CLOTH AFTERNOON COAT.

Main cloth coats for afternoon wear they are so serviceable and at the same time appropriate for both formal and informal occasions. In black, brown or dark blue broadcloth a wrap like this have been popular all winter and will be worn again next spring, because an experienced sewer, for, with the exception of a short shoulder cape, the coat is absolutely without trimming. It is full in both back and front, with a box pleat down the opening. The sleeves are full length, ending in a back cuff at the wrist.

Sailor Hats in Odd Shapes

LEGHORN TRIMMED WITH LEAVES.

SMART SPRING SAILOR

Sailor hats will be smart next spring. They are to be worn in a variety of shapes, with upturned, downturned, curved and dented brims, and are much in evidence in all of the earliest showings. By their general becomingness, too, an uninterrupted vogue during the spring and coming summer seasons is predicted, so that a woman who invests in one at this early date may feel convinced that she has a shape that will be used throughout the summer.

The irregular models that will be stylish, offer to the business girl of limited means an unusual opportunity for practicing a bit of clever economy on her spring headgear, for flowers of every form, size and color are given prominence in trimmings, and there are few women who do not possess a discarded mass of foliage from which they can in all probability extract for present use a bunch or two of blossoms and leaves that have done duty in a bygone season. With the proper freshening processes applied, these flowers will come forth quite fresh and new again and will serve admirably for the decoration of one's first hat.

A becoming shape in one of the new delicately tinted straws or brails may be ornamented with a few yards of malinette and ribbon for rosettes and bandeau trimming, a wreath or bunch of flowers and foliage and one has a bonnet for Easter that is a bit of fashionable millinery which would do credit to any exclusive modiste's shop.

Wherever the flowers are most becoming they should be worn, for in the coming season there is no definite place best on the front of the hat—the latter twisted up in an attractive fashion, then the blossoms should be put on at the desired angle, and incidentally if leaves, etc., show to advantage at the side or in the back, they should be sewed in place where they best become the wearer.

While the flowers in light and dark shades will be the most pronounced feature of hat trimmings, tulle and sheer chiffon silk will be used as twist bows, pompons, large fluffy loops and occasionally as plain bands.

Mannish Clothes Smart Now for the Small Boy.

By ELIZABETH LEE.

Boys' clothing shows very little change from year to year, mannish conventional lines now being almost always preferred to the "pretty" effects so popular a few years ago. Still, each year has its favorite material or some change of detail which proclaims suit or overcoat as being strictly up to date.

This year the broken plaids and shadows checks in dark colors are seen for the first time as a material for boys' spring overcoats for the heavier weights and ulsters. A good model of the latter description is made quite long, the body and sleeves lined with satin, and arranged to close double breasted quite up to the throat, the wide collar to be turned up or down as weather conditions call for. Large flap pockets will be found a great convenience and the loose belt will be of the material. Golden brown chevrot serge was responsible for another smart overcoat. This closed double breasted also, and was finished at the neck with a shawl collar of glossy black astrachan, with deep cuffs of the same trimming, the coat sleeves Black frogs appeared down the front, and the hat going with this handsome coat on the hussar order, with stiff algrette held with cords, the whole effect being Russian. I fancy the small man venturing with this suit tan walking shoes and tan leather gaiters, the hand encased in tan dogskin gloves. Such a street costume would not only be smart, but unusual and in strictly good taste.

Quaint little belted overcoats for quite small boys are made from heavy storm serge and broadcloths. A navy blue coat made up in single breasted style, buttoning up to the throat, is attractive with double shoulder capes below the rolling collar of black velvet. The sleeves are coat shaped, ending in double turn back flaring cuffs, and the loose belt is of black patent leather. Altogether boyish looking, this little coat is sure to be popular for boys under eight, and is, in fact, a model that might be safely attempted by the home dress-maker. Setting in pockets neatly, is, I know, most puzzling to amateurs, but patch pockets are always in good taste, and this kind is sure to delight the small boy.

Coats are quite expensive bought ready to wear, and then they are so quickly outgrown, too, so for that reason many thrifty mothers make a point of attempting coats at home. Suits get more wear than overcoats, and will not be outgrown during their life of service, so that they may be bought ready for wear. And, in fact, it will be false economy not to do so, as home dress-makers cannot possibly compete with those whose business it is to furnish the smart, natty little suits seen in the stores. With an overcoat this is a different matter. They are generally loose and the shawl collar problem is not to be compared with the intricacies of the rolling collar or revers finishing the neck of the coat belonging to a suit.

Besides, if collar or pockets are beyond one's skill, a tailor is always to be found who will attend to such details for small expense, also the pressing or buttonhole making if requested, so that, in this way, cost making may lose more than half its terrors, and the cost of the garment amount to possibly not more than one-third of the price for the same thing ready to wear.

The regulation sailor suits are worn the whole year round, both in serge and wash materials, smaller boys affecting the Russian blouse or Bushy Brown styles. Few of the kilt models are seen nowadays, although there is a modified revival of this suit in the shape of a combination of kilt and Russian blouse, not unlike a girl's frock, save for the boyish belt loosely confining the waist line. The front is a plastron from neck to hem, tapering in its descent and outlined with box pleats. The sides and back are in long body, semi-fitting effect, meeting a very short kilted skirt. The sleeves are coat shaped and the emblem of the rolling collar or revers finishing the neck of the coat belonging to a suit.

Polo Hat of White Skin for Small Child

WHITE FUR POLO

White fur polo hats that are so popular for small boys and girls wear the cold weather is about half over, and will still be serviceable, though in either real ermine or imitation skin these little hats are pretty and become the average child.

Continental Hat With Ear Flaps is Serviceable

A BECOMING CHAPEAU.

A fur chapeau in a continental shape is particularly serviceable for a child during the winter, because it has flaps that may be pulled down over the ears and tied under the chin, and will thus keep the head and throat warm in most extreme weather. Such a hat in chinilla or imitation ermine, though expensive at the beginning of the winter, has been reduced to one-third of the first cost.

WALTZING ON SKATES.

Kansas City Post: I see that we have another winter sport from our Canadian brothers and sisters, waltzing on skates and I will say the American girl takes to it beautifully. Skate waltzing is a diversion belonging to the rinks, for it is at its best, of course, when performed with the aid of a band. But it is not wholly dependent on music.

In Montreal skate waltzing is one of the most beautiful sights of the place.

Any afternoon dozens of couples may be seen twirling in the center of the rink, the outer ring being reserved for ordinary skaters. Many of the girls have engagement cards, such as they would carry for ordinary dances, and few are the card-dancers that are no filled every day. In London this skating dance has the support of what is known as the "King's set." The American wives of many titled men are foremost in the amusement.

PLAYS and PLAYS of the WEEK

AT THE LYCEUM

Lawrence Evart, in the Whiteside Comedy "We Are King," Will be Seen Next Week, Appearing Thursday Night--Florence Gale on Saturday Night.

Lawrence Evart, who is starring this season in the Walker Whiteside romantic comedy "We Are King," will be at the Lyceum theater Thursday evening. Mr. Evart is making many friends throughout the country and his work is compared favorably with that of Walker Whiteside.

LYCEUM NOTES.

News of the Theatrical Attractions Coming to Duluth.

Florence Gale, who is appearing in a repertoire of Shakespearean plays, will be at the Lyceum theater next Saturday.

"The Sultan of Sulu," one of the greatest musical successes of the past decade, and which greatly added to the fame of George Ade, is among the attractions soon to be presented at the Lyceum.

At every appearance of Ellen Beach Yaw during the past season, there has been not only a renewal of the old time enthusiasm, but a greater intensity in the public desire to listen to the wondrous notes of this artist, who will be heard at the Lyceum this month.

Although Countess Olga von Hatzfeldt, who is starring for the second season in "The Little Duchess," is one of the youngest of the footlight favorites heading their own companies, her rise to steller prominence has been very rapid. She will be seen at the Lyceum.

AT THE METROPOLITAN

Williams' Ideal Burlesquers, With a Two Act Musical Comedy, Will Open a Week's Engagement in Duluth--Company Has a Strong Vaudeville Olio.

Williams' Ideal Burlesquers will open a week's engagement at the Metropolitan tomorrow afternoon. They will give matinees as well on Tuesday, Thursday (ladies' day), and Saturday. Word comes from different points along the Empire circuit to the effect that the organization is one of the best that is abroad this year. The merits of the company have been shown by the big receipts at all the towns played this season.

Some management take out burlesque shows with downy scenery and costumes, cheap performers, and a small chorus of indifferent looking girls, but the owners of the Ideal company have altogether different notions. They are said to favor generosity, not extravagance, in fitting out their organizations. The company will present a new two act comedy entitled "The Other Fellow," that was written around the players themselves and which is full of mirthful scenes and funny situations, and which, in the hands of such clever comedians as Frank O'Brien and Clayton Frys, is sure to be pleasing. The olio includes Miss Katherine Kline, the Misses Hilton and Zeff, in a clever little sister act; All and Peyer, acrobatic comedians, in some funny stunts; Frank O'Brien, in his original tramp monologue; and the International Trio, in a musical act of skill and harmony. The chorus, which consists of twenty pretty girls, is claimed to be the best dressed and best drilled chorus on the road.

AT THE BIJOU

J. Benard Dylln, Latest Recruit From Musical Comedy Stage, Will Head Vaudeville Bill--List Includes Original Comedy Sketches and Other Novel Features.

Those attending the Bijou next week will hear J. Benard Dylln, one of America's most noted singers, song writers and actors.

Mr. Dylln has played Duluth before, having been starred in such companies as "The Earl and the Girl," Ray's original "Hot Old Time" company and others. Last season Mr. Dylln was a big success in George M. Cohan's "Little Johnnie Jones."

Vaudeville has secured this clever artist, however, and he has been one of the successes of the season, having been featured over the Keith, Proctor and International circuits.

The management has secured as a special attraction Capt. Henry, who will demonstrate the wonderful possibilities of wireless telegraphy, an act that is new to the vaudeville field and has proven a great drawing card in vaudeville since it was first produced. Capt. Henry will give his exhibitions at every performance during the week.

Rose and Rosslin, a duo of polka vaudeville stars, will be seen in an original and up-to-date sketch.

A glowing musical treat will be offered by May Melbane, a singer with a wonderful range of voice. Her selection tion are picked hits from all the latest musical combinations and comic operas.

Clifford and Orth, two comedians, singers and dancers, will be seen in an original act of stories, cross fire hits and new parodies composed by themselves.

A special feature and attraction will be the Charles B. Carter and Gusie Taylor company, presenting a comedy sketch, entitled "At Camp Rest," which is said to be one of the funniest skits ever presented at the Bijou.

Special attention is called to the

GOSSIP OF THE RIALTO

Camille D'Arville in "The Belle of London Town"--- Percy Mackaye's "Jeanne d'Arc" Favorably Compared With Schiller's Drama.

New York, Feb. 9.—Judging from the reception that Miss Camille D'Arville received last week in the Lincoln Square theater, where she appeared as the star of "The Belle of London Town," after a long absence from the New York stage, she still has a warm place in the affections of metropolitan theatergoers. The audience almost rose to its feet in greeting when she first came on. The actress seemed almost overpowered for the moment at the cordiality of her reception, but she soon recovered herself and sang with all her old-time fire and dash. She looked even better than when she was last seen here.

The play is a musical comedy by Messrs. Stange and Edwards, and is based on Mr. Stange's comedy "The School for Scandal." It is the twelfth musical play that Stange and Edwards have written together. Miss D'Arville has been playing Lady Belinda, wife of Sir John Manners, whom she married for his money in order to save her father from ruin. John took her for her beauty, and they have been wedded five years when the story opens.

St. John likes a gay life and "sporty" companions, while his wife is intelligent and refined as well as beautiful. While a party of friends, including officers of the British army and noblemen, are singing in an old Scotch drinking chorus at the end of an act, the Scotch lord, who is the husband of the lady, expresses his indignation. The husband tells her that he is tired of the society of women who laugh and flirt.

Lady Belinda resolves to become one of the "sporty" set. She is seen in a scene with her father, who is a Scotch lord, and she is seen in a scene with her husband, who is a Scotch lord.

In the second act, which shows spring gardens, she is seen in a scene with her father, who is a Scotch lord, and she is seen in a scene with her husband, who is a Scotch lord.

Miss D'Arville sang numerous songs and was encored after every number. She received such glowing notices that she was given a special encore. Percy Mackaye's "Jeanne d'Arc" was favorably compared with Schiller's drama.

In comparing himself to Shakespeare Bernard Shaw (of whom also there is to be question this week) may have been a little over the top, but he has been a very timely use of an interrogation point.

In comparing Percy Mackaye's "Jeanne d'Arc," which has brought him forward as the protagonist of the poetical drama, with Schiller's "Jeanne d'Arc," it is not the better of the two that is done, but the younger man's play is a better poetic dramatist than the classical German. Yet in practice Mackaye's play is a masterpiece of dramatic art.

Mr. Mackaye's play is a masterpiece of dramatic art. It is a play that is a masterpiece of dramatic art. It is a play that is a masterpiece of dramatic art.

In part his good fortune is due to the fact that he has been a very timely use of an interrogation point.

Mr. Mackaye's play is a masterpiece of dramatic art. It is a play that is a masterpiece of dramatic art. It is a play that is a masterpiece of dramatic art.

The distinction is not merely academic. It lies at the root of the superlative charm of truthfulness, which entitles this American poetic drama to be regarded as a work of original genius. Whether it is better than Schiller for all time, it is least of all for us to say; but we do know that it is better for us.

What Mackaye has done in the drama. Here for the first time on the stage we have a play that is a masterpiece of dramatic art. It is a play that is a masterpiece of dramatic art.

Mr. Mackaye has then, quite obviously, taken an honorable place in the front rank of modern poetic dramatists. His play has little of the brilliancy of Schiller's "Jeanne d'Arc," but it has the quality of its own which to me, at least, is no less momentous an unfulfilling task.

Stephen Phillips' "Herod." But it has a quality of its own which to me, at least, is no less momentous an unfulfilling task.

In one element of success it seems to me he is conspicuously lacking. His gift is not essentially dramatic. He is the word advisedly. For the external

This is the one great weakness of "Jeanne d'Arc." Fine, true and moving as the character of Jeanne is, the play is a masterpiece of dramatic art.

The play is a masterpiece of dramatic art. It is a play that is a masterpiece of dramatic art. It is a play that is a masterpiece of dramatic art.

Miss D'Arville sang numerous songs and was encored after every number. She received such glowing notices that she was given a special encore.

Percy Mackaye's "Jeanne d'Arc" was favorably compared with Schiller's drama.

In comparing himself to Shakespeare Bernard Shaw (of whom also there is to be question this week) may have been a little over the top, but he has been a very timely use of an interrogation point.

In comparing Percy Mackaye's "Jeanne d'Arc," which has brought him forward as the protagonist of the poetical drama, with Schiller's "Jeanne d'Arc," it is not the better of the two that is done, but the younger man's play is a better poetic dramatist than the classical German. Yet in practice Mackaye's play is a masterpiece of dramatic art.

Mr. Mackaye's play is a masterpiece of dramatic art. It is a play that is a masterpiece of dramatic art. It is a play that is a masterpiece of dramatic art.

The distinction is not merely academic. It lies at the root of the superlative charm of truthfulness, which entitles this American poetic drama to be regarded as a work of original genius. Whether it is better than Schiller for all time, it is least of all for us to say; but we do know that it is better for us.

What Mackaye has done in the drama. Here for the first time on the stage we have a play that is a masterpiece of dramatic art. It is a play that is a masterpiece of dramatic art.

Mr. Mackaye has then, quite obviously, taken an honorable place in the front rank of modern poetic dramatists. His play has little of the brilliancy of Schiller's "Jeanne d'Arc," but it has the quality of its own which to me, at least, is no less momentous an unfulfilling task.

Stephen Phillips' "Herod." But it has a quality of its own which to me, at least, is no less momentous an unfulfilling task.

In one element of success it seems to me he is conspicuously lacking. His gift is not essentially dramatic. He is the word advisedly. For the external

NEWSPAPER MEN PROMINENT IN PUBLIC LIFE

Lawyers Beat Them Out by a Big Majority---No Editor or Writer Has Been President, But Three Have Been Candidates, and One Has Made a Good Deal of Money at the Editorial Desk Since His Candidacy---Newspaper Men in Congress.

By DEXTER MARSHALL.

(Copyright, 1907, by Dexter Marshall.)

There are many more lawyers than men of any other calling in public life today. This always has been the case in this country, and any young man desirous of entering either house of congress would do well to remember it.

Among men of other professions, newspaper men are relatively successful in getting a chance at public life. No president of the United States ever was graduated into that high office from a newspaper shop, but a pretty good sized list might be made of the governors, senators, representatives, cabinet ministers, diplomats and others who have been newspaper writers and editors, both before and after winning public distinction.

Two newspaper editors, Horace Greeley and James G. Blaine, have been presidential candidates, and one candidate, W. J. Bryan, has turned to political journalism as an occupation after defeat, and made money at it, though the commoner isn't exactly a newspaper. Mr. Bryan wrote a good or of the Utica Observer, then owned by Bailey's father. Newspaper men, as it happens, have been rather partial to the postmaster generalship. Amos Kendall, head of the postoffice under Andrew Jackson, was editor of the Washington Globe. It was left to Kendall of all the prominent men of his day to back Morse when he was pushing the telegraph. Without Kendall's influence the adoption of the invention would have been delayed some years. Charles Emory Smith, postmaster general under both McKinley and Roosevelt, is a well known editor.

The only cabinet minister now in office who comes anywhere near being a newspaper man is James B. Wilson, secretary of agriculture, soon to retire, who was editor of a "syndicated" farm departments for weekly papers before he was secretary. William E. Chandler of New Hampshire, former senator and secretary of the navy, who was so intimately connected with the row between Roosevelt and Tillman last year, is a newspaper man by profession. Many of Uncle Sam's diplomatic representatives have been editors. Whitelaw Reid being the most conspicuous just now. Robert J. Wynne, briefly Washington general editor during the last presidential campaign, and now consul in New York. Both Schurz and Villard began as writers on German papers, not venturing into English until they had thoroughly studied the language, the politics and the national life of the republic.

Any number of multi-millionaires have backed newspapers, some for political purposes, but not often with any great success. Jay Gould was the financial power behind the New York World for a number of years before the paper was purchased and rehabilitated by Joseph Pulitzer. Collis P. Huntington put up much money for a once well known but now defunct New York newspaper. James J. Hill owned his own newspaper organ at St. Paul for several years. Senator Dryden of New Jersey, insurance king, was part owner of a Newark newspaper for some time. The only multi-millionaire who has openly directed a newspaper, however, is William Waldorf Astor, and his Pall Mall Gazette is published in England, not in America.

Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, his relative, now lieutenant governor of New York, owns a country weekly, which he bought for political purposes, a few years ago. Mr. Chanler did not edit the paper, however, he hired an editor, and then, when the paper had been driven over the top of the nearest fire hydrant, so that the water was turned on only after much delay. The proprietor seemed to prove an alibi by arriving from out of town on a local train while the ruins were still smoking. This threw the police completely off the scent, but not young Wilkie. He probed about in the ruins until he turned up a tintype of the proprietor, on the back of which was written another name than his own and a Philadelphia address.

It, a paying property, to him.

Big Banker, Chief Detective.
Frank H. Vanderlip, vice president of the City National bank, New York, chief of the Rockefeller financial institutions, didn't begin as a newspaper man, but this training he got on the Chicago Tribune has been of great benefit to him in his financial career. He was helped while on the Tribune by John E. Wilkie, now chief of the United States secret service, but then the Tribune's assistant city editor.

Wilkie's father was Frank B. Wilkie, for many years the power next to the throne when W. F. Story's Chicago Times was at its best. As "Polluto," the elder Wilkie wrote a contribution for the paper nearly every day, and his fame was spread wherever the Times was known. Young Wilkie started in on newspaper life under the most favorable conditions, and might have reached any journalistic level he chose to work for. However, his natural bent was in the direction of crime detection, and he showed his ability in that line in 1878, when he had been working twelve months on the paper, but was still two years less than 20.

A grocery store in Chicago was burned. Incendiarism was suspected from the fact that a metal ring had been driven over the top of the nearest fire hydrant, so that the water was turned on only after much delay. The proprietor seemed to prove an alibi by arriving from out of town on a local train while the ruins were still smoking. This threw the police completely off the scent, but not young Wilkie. He probed about in the ruins until he turned up a tintype of the proprietor, on the back of which was written another name than his own and a Philadelphia address.

The telltale tintype was sent to Philadelphia, where it was recognized as that of a man who had left the city some years earlier, leaving many obligations behind him. A warrant for his arrest was sent to Chicago, and when he was taken in, believing that the truth with regard to the burning of his store was known, he confessed that he had set fire to it in order to go the insurance money, had hurried away from the city secretly by beating his way on a freight train, which he had left at Joliet to take a passenger train back to town. All this read well in the paper, gave Wilkie a reputation as one who knew how to get a "coop," and sent the groceryman to the Joliet penitentiary, to remain for a term of years.

Wilkie is now 37. Vanderlip is four years younger. He was a farmer's son and lived near Aurora, Ill. He wanted to be a machinist and got a place as an apprentice in the railroad shops near that town, beginning at $2 a week. Before he had risen very high he decided that a machinist's life was not for him, and somehow saved enough out of his earnings to pay his way at the university of Illinois for a year. Going back to the university, he studied shorthand, practicing with chalk on the bench of a lathe. He was rapidly becoming a first-class machinist, and one day the foreman had his wages raised.

The young man threw up his job at once, on the ground, he explained, that he was afraid that he would not have the necessary courage to do so later, after he had been raised another notch or two. In this way entering a calling which would be more interesting to him than the machinist's trade.

Wilkie helped Vanderlip. Vanderlip's first adventure in Chicago, where he went from Aurora, was as stenographer for a business house, but he soon became a reporter on the Tribune. He first met Wilkie in the office of that paper. Wilkie liked him and he liked Wilkie. One day Vanderlip became despondent over his work and told Wilkie that he was going to try something else. Wilkie wouldn't have it; he assured his friend that he was all right and helped him over the hard spots.

A little time afterward Vanderlip interviewed Lyman L. Gage, then a bank president, and got all the facts straight in the paper next day. This made Gage his friend and led to the young man's financial career, first as editor of the Economist of Chicago, then as Gage's private secretary at Washington, where the latter was placed at the head of the treasury department, and next as assistant secretary of the treasury, from which place he was graduated into his present job as one of Mr. Rockefeller's bankers.

When Wilkie got ready to leave the Chicago Tribune and take charge of a steamship and banking agency in London, Vanderlip gave him a dinner, at which he told how Wilkie had tided him over his period of discouragement.

Nelson Dingley, Author of the Tariff Bill Now in Force, Was an Editor---Head of Secret Service and Big Financier Who Were Chums Together on a Chicago Newspaper---Reporter Who Became a Banker and Brought J. P. Morgan to Terms.

Later, when Chief Hazen of the secret service got out, and Wilkie wanted the job, Vanderlip got it for him through Secretary Gage.

Both Vanderlip and Wilkie are above the middle size, both are of striking appearance and each has often been spoken of as brilliantly successful in his chosen calling. Wilkie and his men rendered the country most signal service while the Spanish war was on in the way they baffled the Spanish spies.

Wilkie is said to regard an article he prepared for the Chicago Tribune on the jugglers of India as the most remarkable miscarriage of effort. When it was written, the newspapers had been printing many extravagant stories about the jugglers. Wilkie didn't believe them, and, as a take off, got up a yarn in which he asserted that the wonderful things the jugglers were believed to do were not done at all.

The spectators, Wilkie said, were simply hypnotized, and believed they saw a plant grow in ten minutes, or a boy climb a rope away up into the clouds, draw the rope up and then disappear, when in reality they saw no plants, no rope, being simply under an illusion. To illustrate the story job to the presidency of the old Bank of Commerce in New York, and made a powerful group of capitalists come to terms when that financial institution was consolidated with the Western National bank, was a Missourian by birth and a brother of Bishop E. R. Hendrix of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Hendrix began on the Sun in 1873. He never had much money, but he had worked his way partly through Cornell university, and his manner of reporting pleased "Doc" Wood, the night city editor, known as the Great American Condenser, in the days when the Sun was only a four-page paper. During Wood's latter years in that job, when his eyes were failing, he used to have Hendrix read city copy to him. As Hendrix read, Wood suggested changes, thus editing the news by proxy.

It is not remembered that Hendrix was ever first class reporter--though he helped on the Beecher trial--and no one was surprised when he left the newspaper shop and went into politics. As candidate for Brooklyn's mayoralty, he came near beating Seth Low. Low put him into the board of education, and Cleveland made him postmaster of Wilkie had half tone illustrations purported to be from photographs and drawings, showing what the jugglers really saw and what they supposed they saw.

I don't know whether it was printed before or after Rudyard Kipling's short fictitious production, based upon the same idea, but the Wilkie "feature" yarn certainly made a stir, although written merely to amuse, and, as Wilkie often said, with the idea that no one would be deceived by it. It is said that a certain credulous Scottish university professor took it all in and incorporated it in a profound work on the occult, although no one of real acuteness could fail to recognize the true nature of the yarn by reading it carefully.

Then he went into banking--he came of a banking family, by the way--was president of the National Association of Bankers in 1897, and in 1903 when it was proposed to form the present great National Bank of Commerce out of his bank--the Bank of Commerce--and the Western National, leaving him out of the new combination, he turned a trick that surprised all Wall Street.

The scheme had been got under way during his absence in Europe. He didn't like it, of course, but he made no fuss. Instead, he took stock of his friends among the financiers. Then he told the promoters of the proposed merger that he would make no opposition to their little plan if they would give him a little bonus of $250,000 for retiring. They laughed at him, but a few days later, worked himself up from a reporter's finding out that they couldn't make

Twice a newspaper man has been secretary of state; Blaine after he was defeated for the presidency and John Hay after his diplomatic service at the Court of St. James's. Daniel Manning, Cleveland's secretary of war during his first term, was owner and publisher of the Albany Argus many years. Daniel S. Lamont, secretary of war during Cleveland's second administration, was a reporter on the same newspaper when Cleveland first knew him.

Thomas L. James, now one of the best known bankers in the country, who was postmaster general under Arthur, began practical life as a printer's devil. Gen. James worked alongside E. P. Bailey, now for half a century editgeneral in London, was Washington correspondent of The New York Press for years.

The late Carl Schurz, United States minister to Spain and senator at Washington, was an editor, both before and after his period of greatest activity in public life. Henry Villard, who employed Schurz as editor of the New York Evening Post, for a number of years, and, like him, a German who came here because of the revolution of 1848, began life in America as a newspaper writer. He abandoned the calling after nearly twenty years to go into Northern Pacific, in which, operating with imperial audacity, he won and lost several great fortunes; luckily he was able to hold on to his last one--and he died owning a famous paper

The capitalists objected, but finally gave in because they had to, so that when the merger took place $400,000 in was paid to Hendrix and his friends in business, besides which Hendrix kept the president's job for some time after the merger took place. When it is understood that the chief of the financial center against which Hendrix stood out, the quality of his services will be apparent.

Baer began as printer's devil. You would hardly suspect the truth from the left-handed compliments that sometimes, clean-lightening-like play back and forth between George F. Baer, the coal king, and the newspaper, that he began active life in a newspaper shop, but he did, and apparently with the idea of remaining in the newspaper business permanently. Baer is as much in "public life" and as powerful a factor in the affairs of the Republic as he would be were he a senator or a cabinet minister.

Baer's father was a Pennsylvania farmer of German extraction if the name means anything. George F. went to district school, and while yet in his teens got a chance to serve as a printer's apprentice in the Somerset Democrat office. He served there full three years, and his work included the building of fires in the morning, sweeping out the office and keeping things generally in order, as well as handling pieces of type. He was as faithful and dogged when merely a printer's devil as he has been since arriving so signally as a great lawyer and in the coal and transportation lines and, beyond doubt, was a good compositor at his apprenticeship's end.

His education was still below the ideal he had set before him, however, and as soon as the apprenticeship was over he left "the case" and entered, first, the Somerset Democrat, and then, after a year, and then Franklin and Marshall college, at Lancaster, Pa., as a sophomore, remaining there also a year. Then, in 1891, when the opportunity came, he bought the newspaper on which he had learned to set type. George F. Baer always has been a hard worker, and is a hard worker today, as most self-made millionaires are; but he never has worked harder than when part owner of that newspaper. For on the breaking out of the Civil War Henry Baer enlisted and George F. was left to run the paper alone.

Now, the Somerset Democrat was not a modern metropolitan daily, requiring the service of as many men as would fill a company or two of the military machine the other days. Perhaps they had a printer, with possibly a helper or two. Perhaps they had a man to turn the crank or to pull the lever of the newspaper press when printing day came around and to operate the smaller job machine the other days. Perhaps they had a "devil," tradition is silent on that point, and nobody dares to ask Baer about it; but it is well authenticated that the Baer boys used to gather the news, write the copy and set the type for their own sheet.

When Henry went away to the wars, George F. had to do as much as possible of the work formerly done by both. He devoted the daytime to news gathering and typesetting and the night to writing copy. He did that for a year, somehow managing to study law in odd moments. But in 1892 he raised a volunteer company and followed his brother to the front. That was the end of his newspaper life. He joined the Army of the Potomac and took part in the battles of the second Bull Run, Antietam, Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville.

After the close of the war he continued his law studies in the office of the late Judge William Baer, one of George F.'s first cases after being admitted, was a damage suit against the Philadelphia & Reading road, which he won. This led to his being made attorney of the road in 1870, when only 25. Now he is not only president of the road, but is also president of the Pennsylvania railroad, and his subsidiary companies, but is famous throughout the land because of his strong attitude in the matter of capital whenever it is involved in a dispute with labor.

Two Antipodal Types.
The late Nelson Dingley, author of the present tariff law, adopted by some and so admired by others, was a newspaper man to the day of his death. He was a printer's devil, not yet a reporter, and he went into the newspaper business mainly because he thought it would help him in the political career which he mapped out for himself when only a boy.

Dingley's paper was the Lewiston, Me., Journal. His father had a farm, and kept a general store and tavern at Auburn, Me. Nelson worked in the store and on the farm, and in the evenings, walked three miles to the district school, where it was in session, taught school at night, and worked his way through Dartmouth before buying the paper. He never practiced his profession, but—which was remarkable for one who had not learned the newspaper business, he was a political pundit, career throughout his entire public career, and when he died, in 1899, left a very large fortune behind him which the paper had earned.

No two men were of more diverse type than the late Representative Dingley and the late Representative Clark of Pike county, Mo. The two opposed the Dingley tariff with all his might, and it came before congress, and is still a member of the legislature. Mr. Clark is one of the few members of either house who, like the late Amos Cummings, has been a "syndicate" Washington correspondent.

Clark's official biography lays little stress upon his journalistic career, limiting the reference thereto to little more than a line or two, and is probably because he had so many other things to mention. He has been engaged in more occupations than most men; among other things, working "clerked" in a country store, worked as farmer's "hired man," practiced law, for one year served as president of Marshall college at West Virginia. That was in 1873-74, when he was less than 25; for more than a score of years he held the record as the youngest college president in the world.

Clark's life was done upon a small country weekly. He is undistinguished, earnest, sanguine and glum, and since the passing of John Allen "of Tupelo," is perhaps the most entertaining of his members.

OFFICE MAKES MONEY FOR ST. LOUIS COUNTY

Register of Deeds Makes Good Showing in Annual Report.

Office Eclipses Those of St. Paul and Minneapolis.

In the past four years the business of the office of register of deeds for St. Louis county has increased 40 per cent.

One of the best indications of the growth and prosperity of any county is the amount of business that is transacted through the office of the register of deeds and registrar of titles, both of which titles are held in St. Louis county by one official.

Whenever any county enjoys a period of growth and prosperity there is bound to be a heavy movement in the transfer of real estate, and when transfers are made they are, as a rule, placed on record with the register of deeds. This, however, is only a part of the duty of that official, who also records mortgages and various other papers, representing often times properties of great value, and which must be preserved in some safe place for future reference.

The fact that the office of the register of deeds for St. Louis county has, within the past four years, earned a total of $21,162.79 is one of the best evidences that this county is progressing with big strides.

The gross receipts of the office for 1903, 1904, 1905 and 1906, during the management of M. C. Palmer of Virginia, were $11,162.79. The total amount paid out in salaries for the same time was $22,066.24. This leaves a net profit to the county of $10,906.55 for Mr. Palmer's first term, a showing that has not been exceeded, or even equaled, by another register of deeds' office within the state of Minnesota.

The business for the four years mentioned was largely in excess of the business transacted by the same office for the previous four-year term of Mr. Palmer's predecessor.

So far as can be ascertained from the reports of other registers of deeds in the state, the business of the St. Louis county office is increasing in a larger proportion than that of the same office in any other county.

When Mr. Palmer assumed the office four years ago the work was being handled with a force of four clerks, in one general office and one small vault room. So rapidly has the business increased that the county has not only built an additional room for the clerical force, but last year was compelled to enlarge the vault for the records. The clerical force has increased from four to eleven persons, and it is only a question of a little time, probably, before the demands of the business will make it necessary to add still another clerk.

The reason for this big increase in business is the fact that the increasing population of the county and the consequent larger number of transfers as the titles to real property pass from one owner to another. There are instances where the title of certain properties has changed hands several times in a year, each transfer requiring a record of the deed.

One of the main features about the work of the register of deeds of St. Louis county is the fact that it has been so systematized and arranged that every instrument sent there for filing is returned to the sender with the proper certificates of record thereon, the next day after it has been filed. This fact alone has been commented on with astonishment by attorneys and others who have had papers to record with the register of deeds in other offices of the state and when, in some instances, they have had to wait for as long as three weeks for the return of papers.

When Mr. Palmer assumed the office one of the first things he did was to systematize the work so that papers should go back to the senders in the shortest possible time. Being an attorney himself, Mr. Palmer has a keen appreciation of the annoyance and inconvenience that delay in the record of valuable papers sometimes means, and he has been able to keep up the pace he set, without a single break, although there has been a heavy volume of business. The office force has gone back and forth to the vault room, and it is one of the unwritten rules of the office that every paper must be returned the day it is filed and the clerks comprising the corps that Mr. Palmer has for his assistants, have never yet failed to meet the situation willingly and cheerfully, although the county allows no overtime.

St. Louis county is probably the only county in the state where the office of register of deeds is not permitted pay for extra or overtime work.

The register of deeds has already been stated, is the registrar of titles. For the first office he gives a bond of $5,000, and for the second a bond of $2,000, but no salary covers both offices.

The registrar of titles looks after the Torrens business of this county. This business has been increasing so rapidly within the past few years that the office has been largely taken up by the Torrens business, and the registrar, William A. Anderson, who devotes his whole time to the work, in that it was looked after by the clerks in addition to their other duties.

The Torrens business of St. Louis county is said to be larger than either Hennepin or Ramsey counties. It is, so far as can be learned, larger than any other office in the state, and the law requiring registration of titles is in force.

In Ramsey county the registrar of deeds office is an office and statistics showing the amount of business are not available. Judging from what the attorneys from St. Paul have said, St. Louis county is doing quite as much if not more, business through its registrar of deeds office.

Statistics are available showing several years' business of the Hennepin county office of register of deeds. In that office there was a deficit for the years of 1897, 1898, 1899, 1900, of $13,131.54. That is, the expense exceeded the receipts to that amount. For the years 1901 to 1902 inclusive, the same office showed a profit aggregating $7,349.66, while the profits for the years 1903 and 1904 were $1,000.00 and $1,000.00, respectively, but judging from the year 1905 as well as the profits for 1905 and 1906 would probably amount to about $2,000.00.

During the same two years the profits of the office of register of deeds of St. Louis county aggregated $20,906.55, a very creditable showing as compared with other large offices.

Mr. Palmer's present plans the register of deeds will have a separate vault room for the general transaction of business, and the vault room in the new courthouse. The taxpayers will have a room by themselves, as will the commissioners and the office machinery will be located to the highest possible point.

It is a matter of no small credit to the county that the past two years' officers from many other two years' officers in the state have visited the county and have been impressed with the manner in which the office is handling the business of the state, and have been so much interested in the inauguration of something like it.

they pay their tax on the ore in the ground or a tonnage tax of 5 cents a ton in the car.

Another thing that can be done is this. Delegations from every city and village on the range should get together and wait upon the legislature in St. Paul in a body and plainly state the range citizens' side of the question. Such a delegation would make a showing that could not be ignored.

They could present the injustice of the whole scheme. We are not asking the farmers of Southern Minnesota to put a tonnage tax on their wheat, their corn, their butter, hogs and cattle to help build up this part of the state or to relieve us from our share of taxation. We could do this with as much justice as they practice when they attempt to pass the tonnage bill.

There is but one crop on one acre. When once harvested it is gone, and gone forever. There are thousands upon thousands of crops of wheat, corn, cattle and hogs. Why should they pass an iniquitous law forcing us to depart from the regular methods of taxation precisely throughout the country, and divide with them when they will be unwilling later to divide with us after the crop is gone. No other state where iron is mined has such a tax nor do their people advocate such a tax.

The citizens of the range are doing organized and determined to develop it into a Lincoln National park that should stand forever as a shrine of patriotism and peace, a fitting memorial to a great man or with great deeds. So people make pilgrimages to the town whose streets were once trodden by Shakespeare, and Hartford, guarded her Charter Oak for centuries because there had once been a hole in it that helped to save the liberties of a colony. But in most cases the connection between the great men and the great events and the relic we revere is accidental. Shakespeare might have lived in any other town as well as in Stratford, and Connecticut's charter might have been hidden in a woodchuck hole as well as in the Charter Oak. But it was the accident that placed Lincoln on a Kentucky farm, half way between the lakes and the gulf. The association of the name of Lincoln with the great struggle for freedom is a thing that should be saved, it had to be saved, it was an origin that should be saved. Biwabik, Minn., Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The remains of Barney Heath, the woodsman who lost his life by being run over by a Duluth & Iron Range train at Hornly last week were buried in the Biwabik cemetery Wednesday. OUR YOUNG FOLKS CORNER Building a City.

Indoor Amusement for Children.

When it is cold and rainy and the little ones are tired of playing nursery games let them try their hands at building a city. Yes, building a CITY. Now, don't look incredulous, for it can be done, and in one day, too.

Supply yourself with all the empty pasteboard boxes you can find about the house, a pair of scissors that your mother has thrown out of her work basket (they'll do to cut pasteboard and paper), a tube of library paste, your box of watercolors and a soft leadpencil. Then set to work.

The architectural designs should be first drawn on scrap paper, then follow them on the pasteboard box sides, cutting out carefully and putting together with thin paper and paste. All doors and windows must be cut and completed before joining the four sides of a building. The roof goes on last. After the paste has dried thoroughly begin tinting with the water colors. Some of the buildings should be made to resemble brick, others stone and still others frame. As soon as the tint dries the bricks, stones, boards and shingles may be brought into shape with the leadpencil.

A large table in the center of the room will answer for the city's site. If the builders do not like a level site, they may have as many hills as desired by laying small pillows about the table and covering with a bed spread, smoothing it over the up and down made by the pillows to give a good surface on which to place the houses.

A public square, such as stores, a church, a courthouse, a schoolhouse and a public library, grouped about it. Arrange the residences along streets opening into the public square. On account of the uncertainty of "pillow ground," it would be more satisfactory to keep the table surface flat and hard for the city site, then there will be no danger from a careless little hand or arm resting against the pillows to tumble the houses into the hollows below.

An illustration accompanies which will give an idea of a pasteboard city that was "built" by little hands.

"Oh, dear, oh dear, what shall I do? I know that dog will bite; He's waiting for me with all his eyes, And killing for a light!"

"If I could only get away And hide myself somewhere, I could hide myself in the chair, Or underneath the chair."

"I'd just once and never come back, I'm so afraid I'm sure afraid, They are such horrid, horrid things! I wonder why they're made?"

(The Toy Dog)

"Oh, look at that awful kid! How dare he stare at me! He's staring and he's scowling, Most terrible to see!"

"I wonder if he'll kick me? What would I better do? I've seemed to death at sight of him, For he looks me thru and thru!"

"Perhaps I'd better bluff him: Make 'em I mean to say: But if he comes much nearer I'll knock him, run away."

Bricktop and the Twins Give a Valentine Party.

BY HELENA DAVIS.

Bricktop and the Twins were to have a St. Valentine's party. Many young friends were invited, and a splendid time was anticipated by all. For many days the dear mother of Bricktop and the Twins was busy with the preparations, the children lending their assistance each day after school.

The hour named for the party was eight, and before the big clock in the hall had finished striking that hour the door bell pealed, and in came the guests in a merry and laughing crowd. They were met in the hall by St. Valentine, or someone who answered the description of him. This personage was none other than Bricktop, in wig and gown and "make-up." The Twins, dressed in valentine frocks (made by pasting paper valentines over old cotton frocks) were the assisting hostesses, standing beside St. Valentine to receive the arriving guests. The guests were led to a spacious Tommy's Troubles On Valentine's Day.

BY MAUD WALKER.

For several days before St. Valentine's Day Tommy was about the busiest boy in town. In a way Tommy was an artist, often making sketches of his friends, which, according to his fond mother, were "speaking likenesses." To be sure, some of these friends declared the portraits drawn by Tommy were not true to life, pointing out that oftentimes the eyes in a picture did not exactly fit, or that other features were "out on the bangs." But these small errors were due to a nervous hand or a badly sharpened pencil, as Tommy would explain after listening to a criticism of his work.

But the week before grand old St. Valentine's Day found Tommy up to his chin in work—that was to mean something, if one were to be guided by the many remarks made by Tommy to himself. They sounded something like this: "Ah, ha! now I've got old Jim's legs just right! He's low-legged and has very large feet. I'll not make his face, for his nose and mouth are too ugly for an artist to draw and do himself justice. I'll just have the back of his head show." Then again he muttered, smiling to himself, "I'm getting Annie Bell's portrait just out of sight; her eyes match beautifully and her white frock has the correct number of tucks, for I counted them last Sunday at Sunday school."

Tommy was doing the portraits of his family, friends and the old family servants, Jim and Nancy. These portraits, done in pencil, were to serve as valentines, little appropriate verses, composed by Tommy, to go with them. The list was a long one, consisting of Tommy's parents, his aged aunt, his young uncle, his schoolteacher, his best girl (Annie Bell), their cook (Nancy) and their man of all work (old Jim). It was the boys' legs of the last named that had caused Tommy so much trouble in the drawing and so much at times when at last the outlines were finished to his own satisfaction.

The matter was to be kept a secret, even his own mother not having been taken into his confidence. Then on St. Valentine's day should be the surprise! Tommy worked and smiled, happy in anticipation.

The valentine of his "best girl," Annie Bell, required the greatest pains. After it was completed Tommy conceived the idea of making a caricature sketch of a little miss who had "snubbed" him on a certain occasion. To this piece of distorted outline Tommy bent all his skill, giving the tip-titled nose a terrible end, pointing heavenward; the eyes he twisted; the mouth he made quite hideous by showing crooked teeth and a protruding tongue. Oh, it was quite terrible to see, this caricature of the little miss who had dared to snub Tommy. Now he would get even, EVEN!

The verses proved to be a very difficult piece of work, far more difficult than had been the portraits and one caricature. Till 10 o'clock at night did Tommy fume and sweat over the rhymes which seemed bent on not coming to mind. He would write one line elegant and expressive, but to fit a second or a third line with good sense and rhyming end proved to be a problem. However, Tommy was not the boy to give up. The more difficult the task the closer did Tommy stick and the harder did he fight to master it. This splendid determination helped him over many stumbling blocks, particularly the verse-writing one, and when at last he laid his pen aside on the night of the verse-writing agony he felt fully repaid for the labor of mind and body. A few minutes later he was in bed, slumbering sweetly and dreaming not once of the several valentines that lay spread about on his writing desk.

The next day (the last one before St. Valentine's) Tommy went over his work of drawing and verifying very carefully, retouching here and there wherever a bit of finish was needed. Then he read aloud the verses, one by one, placing them with the pictures to which they belonged. The verses to his parents were

(To his "best girl.")
"I admire a dear little girl,
Whose yellow hair stays so in curl;
Whose frock is so neat,
Who has such small feet,
Who is most awfully, awfully sweet,
And who sets my poor heart a-whirl."

(To his aged aunt.)
"A lady I know who is stately;
And I have seen her just lately.
She's prim and she's neat
From her head to her feet,
And she smiles on her Tommy so sweetly."

(To his young uncle.)
"Just look at your very fine finger!
I'm sure you don't want to be bigger;
For you're just about right;

sweet and full of dutiful love of a good little son. The one to his school-teacher spoke flatteringly of her great intellect and learning. Annie Bell had drawn from him a confession of deepest admiration and love in rhyme. The aged aunt was assured of his esteem. The youthful uncle was told of his charming personality and fine form.

The verses ran as follows:
(To his mother.)
"Dearest mamma, here's from Tom
A loving valentine;
I worked a long, long time on it
And hope I think it fine."
(To his father.)
"Well, papa, you good old chap,
You're my bestest chum,
I send you here a valentine;
But fear it's on the bum."

Girls say "Out of sight!"
When they see you, as neat as a trigger."
(To his school-teacher.)
"You're very, very brilliant;
Your intellect is great!
And did you tell all that you know
A lifetime it would take."
(To their cook, Nancy.)
"You were most surely, surely born
Our family kitchen to adorn.
A woman strong and good to see;
I'll make a jelly cake for you."

(To the little miss who snubbed him.)
"My, but you think you're beautiful!
Well, look at this and see
The way you look to others
And the way you look to me."
(To their working man, Jim.)
"You may not be so handsome;
uncle received the valentine intended for Jim, and grew red in the face when he viewed the bowed legs and stooping shoulders. The verse only added fuel to the fire of his indignation. He declared he'd get even yet with that "smart young kinsman." "Poke fun at his figure! Bah! And, on the other hand, poor, crooked, shape Jim was hurt when he received the valentine which should have gone to old Jim's common dirt without young Tom trying to hurt me feelin' by sendin' me a fine picture what don't show a bit like me and by contrast, makes me know I must be a awful object," he moaned. "An' he knows no girl would say at I was 'out o' sight'—meanin' 'hearty,' of course."

But you are all-fired good,
And everybody likes you,
Just as everybody should."

Then Tommy addressed some envelopes and folded the valentines and verses very carefully, putting them inside the addressed envelopes. But this finishing piece of work—thoughtless as it was—was the thing that caused all the trouble on the precious valentine into the wrong envelopes. Only two—his dear parents'—were sent right. The school-teacher received the aged aunt's valentine and verse, and being anything but "stately, prim and neat," she resented what she thought to be presumption, not to say impertinence, on the part of her young pupil, for Tommy took great care to sign his name to his work. The gay young uncle received the valentine intended for Jim, and grew red in the face when he viewed the bowed legs and stooping shoulders. The verse only added fuel to the fire of his indignation. He declared he'd get even yet with that "smart young kinsman." "Poke fun at his figure! Bah! And, on the other hand, poor, crooked, shape Jim was hurt when he received the valentine which should have gone to old Jim's common dirt without young Tom trying to hurt me feelin' by sendin' me a fine picture what don't show a bit like me and by contrast, makes me know I must be a awful object," he moaned. "An' he knows no girl would say at I was 'out o' sight'—meanin' 'hearty,' of course."

Little insult! And the picture! She threw it into the fire and had her carriage ordered at once. She would go to Tom's parents and lay the matter before them. She was too dignified—too advanced in years to be made a joke of by a youngster. But the most indignant of all was Annie Bell, into whose home came the valentine intended for the little miss who had snubbed Tom. Annie, all expectation, had opened the envelope and—tears came into her pretty eyes and she stamped her foot angrily. "Oh, the mean, mean-a-thing!" she screamed out. "I'll never speak to him again! Oh!"

At the same minute the little miss who had snubbed Tom was opening the valentine intended for the little miss who she glanced at the flattering picture and read the loving verse she tossed her head high and sneered: "The i-d-e-a! He has no pride—to try to make up with me, and after the way I treated him, too. I was too good enough to freeze him; and here he sends me this—THASH. The simple!"

In the kitchen of Tommy's home Nancy got an envelope containing the valentine and verse meant for the school-teacher. Nancy was dazed. Why should her Tommy—for whom she always made special jelly cakes—ridicule her poor ignorance, her lack of education, by this verse, which dwelt upon that which she did not possess? Tears stood in the honest eyes of Nancy, and she hid the valentine under the cakebox, not wishing to see it again. Just then Jim came into the kitchen, and, still suffering from the hurt Tommy had so unwittingly inflicted, told his trouble to Nancy, who, in turn, became confident. Then it was that Tommy came running in to receive his thanks for the pretty valentines and appropriate verses. It took some minutes for him to get the tangle straightened out, having to ask Nancy and Jim to produce their envelopes that he might better understand the reason of their tears and sighs. Then Tom vest?"

My drew a long face, exclaiming: "Hully gee! Wonder if I—?" But he did not wait to finish his question. Away he flew to the home of Annie Bell, and that little lady met him with her nose in the air and a very haughty manner. But Tommy soon made an explanation, begging her for the valentine that he might take it in person to the little miss who had snubbed him and get in exchange the beautiful one intended for "his best girl."

And most of that day—good, old St. Valentine's—was spent by Tommy in undoing the carelessness of mailing the wrong valentines to his friends.

Tears came into her pretty eyes.

Dear little dolly-doll,
Kind all day,
Why do you always have Nothing to say?
Why don't you ever grow
Angry and cry?
Why don't you laugh a bit
When I am sigh?
Why don't you run and leap
Over the door?
Why don't you hide yourself
Behind the door?
Why don't you eat a bit?
And drink some, too?
I'm sure that I would
If I were you.

ANNIE JAMES.

In fact, everywhere and in every way were artistic or humorous decorations befitting the gay occasion.

St. Valentine started the loving cup—filled with orange-juice—round the table, making a fitting speech as he passed. The guests sipped from it. Then followed responses; not such speeches as our elders make at the banquet board, but boyish and girlish speeches full of frolic and fun, wholesome, innocent and sweet, bespeaking the happiness of all who participated.

A joyous toast was drunk to "Good old St. Valentine," and Bricktop, always equal to the occasion, rose and responded with true feeling of deep appreciation. After the supper the guests again assembled in the parlors to enjoy games till the hour for departure, which arrived all too soon, as each one declared. In fact, it was always so in case of a party he greatly resembled of the hour by Mrs. Perkins, who would say sweetly:

"I'm sorry the clock will persist in making time; but he does so in spite of our wishes to restrain him. See, it's—our—time—tomorrow is school day. And my boys and girls, God bless them all, must not forget the hours of sleep and rest."

And as they were bowed out of the hall by St. Valentine and the Misses Valentine, the guests declared they had never, never enjoyed an evening so much—since the last party given by Bricktop and the Twins.

Mr. and Mrs. Angle-wing Katydid.

Mr. and Mrs. Angle-wing Katydid live among the sort sheltering leaves of trees and bushes. Their name, doubtless, comes from the queer little hump which grows in the middle of their backs and which holds their wings out for all the world like the old-fashioned bustle used to hold out my ears, being like: The lady could lay aside her bustle, while Mr. and Mrs. Katydid wear theirs day and night, for these little humps are a part of them. And Mr. and Mrs. Katydid dress exactly alike in brilliant green, so near the color of their surroundings that one may pass quite close to them and never detect them from the leaves on which they sit.

They seem a lazy little folk, for they will often get comfortably seated on a cozy leaf and not budge wing or leg for an hour at a time. Sometimes Mrs. Katydid chooses to sit on some leaf that may perchance be hidden from her husband's eye. After Mr. Katydid waits for her a reasonable time he begins to feel lonely. Then he raises up his hind legs and rubs the top of his little wings, making a funny grating noise, which you may have heard before now. This is Mr. Katydid's way of calling or singing, or, perhaps, scolding. Who can tell what feelings he expresses through means of that grating voice which is not made by vocal organs, but by means of his legs and wings?

When Mrs. Katydid gets ready to lay her eggs she prepares as nest a large, firm leaf. She roughens its surface with her jaws. As she lays her eggs she fastens them securely to the edge of the leaf by means of a gluey substance furnished from a little body which grows at the end of her body. The eggs remain there till the warm spring sunshine makes them burst open, when out pops the baby Katydid, "as lively as crickets" on their slim but sprightly little legs. Their wings do not grow till they are half grown.

Hidden Name Puzzle.

Each of the following proverbs contains a one-syllable word, the initial letters of said words—if written in the order in which they come—will spell the name of a once-great man. Judge not, lest ye be judged. If you would find life worth the living, eat your daily bread. Look for truth and beauty and you will surely find them. A friend in need is a friend indeed. Eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow ye die. The fool will risk his hard-earned money on games of chance. Sing from your heart and the angels will walk to the melody. Go over the hills—not round them—if you would see the world beautiful. Do not put off till tomorrow that which should be done today.

CONNECTICUT BANKER DISAPPEARS FROM VIEW IN CITY OF NEW YORK

Relatives at New Britain Receive Message Announcing Death.

Son at Same Time is Searching Metropolis for Father.

Police Appealed to But Know Nothing of Mystery.

New Britain, Conn., Feb. 11.—A telegram received here yesterday from New York, announced the death of William F. Walker, president of the New Britain Savings bank and one of the best known men in this city.

New York, Feb. 11.—William F.
Walker, 57 years of age, of New Britain,
Conn., treasurer of the New Britain Savings bank, was last night reported at police headquarters as missing, and the police were asked to institute search for him. The request was made by his son, Arthur S., who came to this city when his father failed to return home when expected.

A peculiar feature of the case is that a telegram saying that Walker was dead was sent from this city to acquaintances in New Britain. Members of the family then communicated with the police here, but the latter had no record of the death of Walker. Further investigation revealed the presence in town of Walker's son who later told the police that he had been unable to find his father and requested that a general alarm for him be sent out. According to the son, the elder Walker came to this city on Friday for medical treatment. He had for some time suffered from severe headaches.

The telegram received at New Britain announcing Mr. Walker's death was sent to his brother-in-law and was signed "E. R. Morrison." It stated that Walker had been "killed by cars."

Washington, Feb. 11.—The secretary of the treasury has modified his offer of Dec. 10 and will now accept $25,000-000 of United States fours of 1907, at $101.5 for both registered and coupon.

The official notice regarding the attitude of the treasury department is as follows:
"The secretary of the treasury hereby gives public notice that he will purchase United States registered and coupon 4 per cent bonds of the public loan of 1907 to an amount not exceeding $25,000,000 and will pay therefor 101½ flat. Holders of the bonds desiring to avail themselves of this opportunity to sell their bonds to the government, should forward them to the secretary of the treasury, division of loans and currency."

Registered bonds must be assigned in due form to the secretary of the treasury for purchase and the assignment must be dated and witnessed by one of the directors indicated in the note printed on the back of the bond.
Where payment is to be made to any person other than the payee, the assignment should be made to the secretary of the treasury for purchase for account (here insert the name of the person to whom payment is to be made.)"

Washington, Feb. 11.—The following dispatch has been received from President Zelaya of Nicaragua:
"To the Associated Press, New York.—Nicaragua is being provoked by Honduras, which is preparing to repeat her recent aggression."
"SANTOS J. ZELAYA."

Panama, Feb. 11.—The American steamer Barracouta left here three days ago loaded with war material for President Zelaya of Nicaragua.
The Nicaragua refugees here are happy, believing that their president's discovery is doubtless the army of Honduras and Salvador will give all the aid possible to the revolutionists in Nicaragua, who aim to overthrow Zelaya for the help he recently gave the Honduran revolutionists. Generals Hertz, Godoy and Chamorro, and many other important Nicaraguans are among the officers of the army of President Bonilla of Honduras, and they have with them hundreds of the Eastern departments of Nicaragua.

CASS LAKE STANDS PAT

Refuses to Go Into Combination on Sixth Normal School.

The Sub-Committees on Trust Busting Have Been Selected.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

St. Paul, Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the most interesting incidents of the session, aside from the more prominent matters that are occupying the center of the stage, is the fight for the location of a new normal school in Northern Minnesota.

First came Cass Lake with a bill to establish a normal school there. No appropriation is provided for this legislature being asked only to declare the need of a new school, leaving to subsequent legislatures the task of providing funds for building it.

After Cass Lake had been on the floor a week or two, working busily for the creation of sentiment favorable to the new school, came Bemidji with a bill locating the school there.
Next came Thief River Falls, and last

PRESIDENT IS OPPOSED

To Printing of Disgusting Details of Thaw Trial.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The following statement was given out at the White House today:
"The president has communicated with Postmaster General Cortelyou to know whether it is feasible to bar from the mails the papers that give the full, disgusting particulars of the Thaw case. He does not know whether it is feasible, but if it is, he wishes it done."
Postmaster General Cortelyou has received a letter from President Roosevelt, but he declines to discuss the matter, or to indicate what, if any action, will be taken by the department. The president's letter will be referred to Assistant Attorney General Goodwin of the postoffice department for a legal opinion. It is expected that the legal division of the postoffice department will examine the matter, and that if action is to be taken by the department it will be done soon.

UNITED STATES LOSES ITS SUIT

To Secure Possession of Two Islands in St.
Mary's River.

Cincinnati, Feb. 11.—The attempt of the United States to secure possession of islands No. 1 and 2 in the St. Mary's river by suit to quiet title has failed, by a decision of the circuit court of appeals, announced today, sustaining the district court of the Western Michigan district in favor of the Chandler-Dunbar Water company. The islands are on the boundary line between the United States and Canada, and combined have an area of only two acres, but improvements, valued at $100,000, have been made by the water company, which claimed to have a good title from the government since 1883. The court held that the government had given the good title in the first place and further it was wrong to attempt to regain possession after so many years.

Because of the location of the islands on the boundary line and the treaty requirement, the United States must keep that line clear. It is understood that internal complications may arise as a result of this decision.

INDIANS OPPOSE BILL.

Red Lake Chippewas Want Change Made in Measure.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The Little Rock band of Chippewas on the Red Lake reservation object to some of the provisions of the Stearnson bill providing for the sale of timber at Red Lake. The measure provides for the disposal of several million feet of pine in one township. The Little Rock band insists that two or three townships shall be sold. The Indians are dissatisfied also with the plan proposed in the Stearnson bill for the disbursment of the proceeds from the sale of the timber. They want the money paid out as fast as it is received.

TREMENDOUS EXPLOSION AT THE WOOLWICH ARSENAL CAUSES A SERIOUS PANIC

People For Forty Miles Around are Badly Startled.

Buildings Wrecked and Glass Shattered at Great Distance.

No Night Shift Was Working and No One Killed.

Woolwich, Eng., Feb. 11.—A huge hole in the ground is all that marks the site of the chemical research department of the Woolwich arsenal and the cordite magazine, which exploded early this morning with such terrific force that the concussion was felt in towns forty miles away and the whole countryside was thrown into a panic, owing to the belief that a violent earthquake occurred. There was no loss of life, but buildings for miles around were wrecked to a greater or lesser degree by the explosion.

Within a few minutes after the explosion thousands of terror-stricken people, many of them half clad, thronged toward the arsenal. There were large holes in the walls of neighboring houses and on all sides shattered doors and windows and wrecked roofs testified to the appalling force of the explosion of cordite and chemicals with which the arsenal and magazine were stocked. The buildings were practically swept away, the big blocks of stone of which they were constructed being scattered for hundreds of yards on all sides.

Yesterday being Sunday there was no night shift working, hence the absence of casualties.
The people of Baintree, forty miles away, were thrown into a panic by the explosion, while in nearer towns windows were shattered and chimneys demolished.
The cause of the disaster has not yet been ascertained.

SUICIDE IN A CAVE.

Alleged Wisconsin Embezzler Faced Death Rather Than His Accusers.

Mayville, Wis., Feb. 11.—Gustav Lenke's body was found strung up in a cave near Theresa on Saturday. He was to have been tried next week on a charge of embezzling thousands of dollars from scores of Dodge county farmers, many of whom failed since his crash two years ago. He was out on bail. He carefully concealed himself, but was found by accident.

THE MODEST MEN OF MADISON.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 8.—A bill was introduced today in the state assembly to prohibit actresses appearing in tights unless wearing skirts reaching four inches below the knees.

CONFESSES TO MURDER.

Edward Land Says He Killed Madeline Lake at Essen.

Essen, Germany, Feb. 11.—The mystery of the murder of Miss Madeline Lake, daughter of a British army officer, whose mutilated body was found at dusk Oct.
1 last in the city park, has been solved.
Edward Land, 20 years old, surrendered himself at the police station here Saturday, charging himself with being the murderer of Miss Lake. He informed the police that he formerly was an employee of the Rhine-Westphalian coal syndicate and fled to Belgium after the murder. His conscience tormenting him and being without any money Land returned to Essen, determined to confess and take the punishment for his crime.

SMITH WINS EARLY GAME

Defeats Parker of Pipe-stone in the Royal Caledonia.

Lost Out in Empire
Event in Very Close Game.

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Events in the bonspiel are nearing the end and the Duluth rinks are well in the running. In the future six draws will be held daily to bring the bonspiel to an early end.
At 8 o'clock this morning Smith met Parker of Pipestone in the Royal Caledonia event, defeating him by the large score of 15 to 14. From the first end Parker never had a look-in for his money. Myron does not play till this afternoon, when he and Smith represent the Lake Superior district in the Tuckett trophy.

The best game of the bonspiel was seen Saturday night in the Empire event when Smith of Duluth was defeated by McIntyre of Mather. The game was close. In the first five ends McIntyre was one down, but the next putting him two to the good. The eleventh saw McIntyre one up, but coming home Smith scored, tying the game. On the thirteenth Smith looked like a winner. Laying a shot Smith went to play his last stone to a guard shot, but his guard was long and Mc-Intyre drew behind it, coming in for a shot and winning by one point.
The banquet of the curlers will be held tonight in Manitoba hall.

COMPLAINT BY PRINCESS

Of Heartless Fashion in Which Father Abandoned Her.

Paris, Feb. 11.—Princess Louise of Belgium, the divorced wife of Prince Philip of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, in an open letter published in the Matin today, complains bitterly of the heartless fashion in which her father, King Leopold, has abandoned her, even allowing the heritage which she derived from the late queen-mother to be seized for debt.

It was announced from Paris Feb. 6, that the trunks of Princess Louise had been attached for $15,000, the amount of a jeweler's bill.

BLACKMAIL CHARGED.

extortion.

Finally Agreed That She

Jerome Demands Better Foundation for Insanity of Defendant.

Two Witnesses Testify
as to Will of Harry Thaw.

New York, Feb. 11.—After an interesting but not sensational morning session of less than two hours duration it was agreed by counsel engaged in the trial of Harry K. Thaw today that Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, the wife of the defendant, should definitelly step aside for the time being to permit of the introduction of competent testimony tending to show that alleged unsound condition of the prisoner's mind.

This action was taken after repeated objections by District Attorney Jerome to further questioning of the witness as to conversations between her and the defendant concerning Stanford White had been sustained by the court and Justice Fitzgerald had intimated that counsel should follow the spirit of his rulings as laid down in specific instances.

Mr. Jerome objected on the broad ground that the testimony of Mrs.
Thaw had gone far enough without a better foundation of insanity on the part of the defendant being laid. Mr.
Delmas then asked for an early luncheon recess be taken in order that he might prepare for the introduction of evidence desired by the district attorney and the court. His request was granted at 12:20 p. m., the recess to continue till 2:30 o'clock.

The recall of Mrs. Thaw to the stand this morning, following the testimony of J. D. Lyon, vice president of the Union National bank of Pittsburgh, who declare that he had had possession of Harry Thaw's will until late in November, 1906, and the testimony of John B. Gleason of Thaw's counsel, who when sworn as a witness, said that he received by mail from Pittsburg on Dec. 11, 1906, the will in question. Mr. Jerome at first objected to the interruption of the testimony of Mrs. Evelyn Thaw, who was on the stand when court adjourned Friday, but he finally consented, and in the end said he would admit that the will received by Mr. Lyon prior to April 1, 1906, and held by him till November last passed directly to Mr. Gleason, who testified that there had been no changes made in it. The offer of the will as evidence, however, was withheld to the jury by the defendant's counsel. Mrs. Thaw was permitted to tell but little today because of objections of Mr. Jerome. She did, however, declare that Thaw only carried a revolver while in New York city.

One of the few bits of testimony Mrs. Thaw was allowed to give was regarding the note she passed to her husband at the Cafe Martin the night of the tragedy. Mr. Jerome agreed to day to produce the slip the paper which has been held by him. It was identified by Mrs. Thaw and read by Mr.
Delmas as follows:
"The b— was here a minute ago
but went out again."
The "b—" meant the "blackguard"
Mrs. Thaw said, and she referred to Stanford White.
The exact contents of this note had been much discussed since the killing of Mr. White.
Mrs. Thaw was asked to detail a conversation she and Thaw had in 1904 as to the fate of the girl known as "The Pie Girl," but she was not allowed to do so. Mr. Jerome continued to block all questions of this character and said he would pursue such a course

FIGHTING IN THE STREETS

Anti-Government Bands Seize Ammunition Stores
at Tabriz.

London, Feb. 11.—It was announced in a special dispatch from Teheran this afternoon that anti-government bands had seized the ammunition stores at Tabriz and that factional fighting was proceeding in the streets.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 11.—A dispatch received here from Teheran says that the revolutionary movement is spreading at Teheran, Shiraz, Tabriz and Hesh, where local leagues, known as Medjem, have been formed. The leagues do not acknowledge the authority of parliament or the shah. At Tabriz the governor is said to have been arrested and bastinadoed by order of the Medjem, which is supported by armed bands which have been crossing the frontier from the Caucasus. A counter league, called Fedan, is being organized, the dispatch adds, to defend parliament, which, though not in sympathy with the revolutionary movement, is classed as lacking in backbone. The only minister exempt from attack is Sadrazan, whose two sons are radical. Many meetings are being held in the mosques, fiery speeches are being delivered and proclamations are being issued denouncing the ministers.

THE POLICE COURT GRIST

Father Wants $500 Damages for Lashing Given His Son.

Charging Thomas Doyle with having, without provocation, struck his son across the face with a rawhide whip, so as to cause considerable loss of blood, and making a wound which required medical attendance, Joseph Lanther of West Duluth today brought suit in municipal court against Doyle for $500 damages as a result of injuries to his son's health and welfare which resulted from the blow.

Doyle in his answer says that he admits striking the boy, but says that he was hanging on the back of his cutter when he struck him and that only after repeated warnings and threats did he use the whip, and then he struck the boy over the shoulder. Up to 3 o'clock today no verdict has been returned by the jury. Baldwin, Baldwin & Dancer represent the defendant and Joseph De La Motte the plaintiff.

John Dambeak, the West end youth accused of assault and grand larceny, was this morning fined $20 and costs with a sixty-day alternative on the larceny charge.

Dambeak last summer went out to the West Duluth pound to get some cows out which had been impounded by Officer Shanahan, and, after some words with the pound master, he knocked the old man down with a blow on the jaw. A number of children who were in the neighborhood at the time, saw the assault and were put on the stand to testify. Dambeak claimed that Shanahan threatened to strike him with his cane first, but the court could see no necessity for the younger man knocking the poundmaster down and he collected the fine.

The larceny charge upon which Dambeak got the longer sentence, consisted of the theft of some harness, rings and straps from Joseph Taylor, a teamster in the West end, which he sold to Johnson, the West Duluth liverman for 75 cents.

On the occasion of both these offenses, Dambeak left town and was not arrested, but when he came into the police station, Friday afternoon, with a friend, he was spotted at once and locked up.

William Bigsby, carrying a heavy load, got excited in a West Superior street restaurant last evening, and, after refusing to pay for the meal ordered, hurled the plate, with the accompanying load of refreshments, at the cook and took his departure. He was fined $15 and costs, which he paid.

Brandishing knives and revolvers in the air, and threatening death and destruction to each other and to any who might interfere, Frank Virgilio, Pasquale Manelle and James Mercello were arrested, last evening, at 1221 West Michigan street, charged with being drunk and disorderly, and with carrying concealed weapons. They pleaded not guilty, and their hearing was set for Wednesday afternoon.

Mico Biga, the Italian, who was so badly cut in the riot on Second street, in West Duluth, Friday night, was brought to the station this morning and locked up on an assault charge. Biga is said to have been the one who started the scrap which resulted in his own defeat, but as he did not use any weapons, so far as known, the charge against him is not so serious as against the knifewielder.

WILL OBSERVE THE HOLIDAY

Schools and Banks to Close on Lincoln's Birthday.

The anniversary of Abraham Lincoln's birth will be generally observed tomorrow by Duluth citizens, although only a few of the business institutions and stores will be closed in honor of the day. The postoffice will be kept open only during the forenoon, and all the banks in the city will be closed. Duluth schools will not open at all tomorrow, and the pupils and teachers will have a chance to observe the day as a holiday or as a day for resting up after strenuous labors since the first of the year.

In several of the rooms special Lincoln birthday exercises were given this afternoon and last week. The schools will also have a holiday on Washington's birthday on the twenty-second of the month.

Abraham Lincoln was born Feb. 12, 1809, so that this is the ninety-eighth anniversary of his birth. The day is not a national legal holiday, although in several states laws have been passed making it a legal holiday. It is not a legal holiday in Minnesota.

Washington, Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—Louis Nelson has been appointed postmaster at Irons, Altamont county, vice Peter Anderson, resigned.

SUDDEN DEATH

Of Turkish Admiral Causes Much Comment at Constantinople.

Constantinople, Feb. 11.—The recent mysteriously sudden death of Vice Admiral Halil Pasha is occasioning much comment. He had just been appointed by an Imperial decree, as chairman of the commission which is to examine the battleship Assar-I-Tewfik (built in France and launched in 1870) after her modernization and rearmament at the Germania works, Kiel. Three days later an official visited Halil Pasha and said it was desired to cancel the trade. The admiral, however, refused to comply and four days later he was dead. At the time of his death Halil Pasha was about 60 years old and apparently had been enjoying the best of health.

A RECOUNT NECESSARY.

The bill providing for a recount of the vote on the tax amendment to the constitution, as well as of that on the good roads amendment, is now before the house committee on elections, and that committee is expected to act upon it shortly.

It is difficult to conceive of any manner in which the members of the committee could reconcile with their consciences any other action than a favorable report on the bill. Possibly the machinery provided might not satisfy all the members of the committee, in which event it would be at full liberty to prepare other machinery. But the need of a recount has been conclusively proved to the committee in the several hearings last week, and with the integrity of the constitution at stake it seems impossible that the committee can do otherwise than provide for a recount of the vote on these amendments, in order to determine whether or not the official count is correct.

It was shown to the committee that a mistake had occurred in the arrangement of the several propositions on the ballot and tally sheet, whereby, in a large number of precincts, the vote cast for the good roads amendment was counted for the tax amendment, and vice versa. It was shown that it would take an average change of less than one and a half votes per precinct to defeat the tax amendment, and to carry the good roads amendment overwhelmingly. It was shown also that in the Duluth recount, a change of between 34 and 35 votes per precinct was made.

There is no reason to believe that the result would be very much different in other parts of the state. The Duluth judges of election are as intelligent as the average, and it mistakes occurred in Duluth they occurred elsewhere.

There is not the slightest doubt that the good roads amendment, declared lost by the official count, was adopted by the people overwhelmingly. There is no more doubt that the tax amendment, declared adopted as a part of the fundamental law of the state in the official count, was defeated by the popular vote.

It is up to the legislature to say whether something shall go into the constitution over the negative votes of the people, and whether something shall be left out that the people have approved. If the situation is left as it is, there will always be a blot upon the constitution. A result accomplished, perhaps, by accident this time, may be repeated in the future by fraud, if the legislature establishes the precedent that would be created by a failure to get at the truth.

FATHERS AND MOTHERS.

President Roosevelt's letter to the council of New York mothers contains nothing either striking or novel, but its discussion of the old, yet ever new, relations of the father and, more especially, of the mother, to the children will bear careful reading and earnest consideration.

To the honor and highest credit of the American man, it must be acknowledged that he is, as Mr. Roosevelt would have him, "a good husband and father, a successful bread-winner, tender and considerate with his wife and both loving and wise in dealing with the children." There are exceptions among the classes of men who count the pursuit of wealth the highest pleasure and the attainment of riches the greatest good, but these exceptions are comparatively rare even among the so-called "upper ten."

On the contrary, the average American man is criticized daily by the self-centered European because he is "too good to the women of his household" and "too generous to the boys." As to the former charge, the men of this nation are proud of the indictment and regret only that they cannot do even more. As to the latter charge, they are probably at fault to a degree and, if the boys have weak places in their natures, parental generosity emphasizes these defects and brings heart-burnings, if not disaster. It must be said, however, that the vast majority of the American boys are built on right lines and do not suffer material harm as the result of that generosity.

As for the women—the mothers of the nation—those who merit even one word of criticism are so infinitesimal in proportion to the glorious majority who are doing their full duty, that words of advice from even so high an authority as President Roosevelt seem superfluous and out of place. We hear of the handful who are recalcitrant to their sacred trusts but never hear of the vast millions who are safeguarding the American home. So long as these millions shall continue, there need be no fear for the future of the United States.

PEANUT DAYS LOOM DARKLY.

Dark days are ahead for the small boy. Woe is in store for the baseball fans of next summer. Gloom is beginning even now to cast its shadow over the gallery gods. Half the pleasures of the coming summer excursions—and they will come, even if the thermometers these days refuse to register above zero for any time—will be lacking. The resorts will be robbed of a great portion of their pleasures.

In a few words, disaster for a season at least hangs grimly over the simple pleasure-loving people of East and West, of Duluth and San Antonio, of Coney Island and the White city, of the ball park and the popular-priced theater. And all because the American and Spanish peanut yields of 1906 were less than half the average crop while the Japanese and African products are also light.

The peanut crop of this country in 1905 was the largest on record. The consequence was that baseball, summer excursions, resorts and popular theaters prospered as never before, while the thrifty Greek and Italian "lords of the goober" literally sent millions of good American nickels and dimes, or their equivalents in dollars, to their Old World homes to which they hoped to return in a few short years as magnates. But now all is changed. The measly little bags of peanuts, that the thrifty foreign merchants will endeavor at first to foist on the fans, the excursionists, the summer resort patrons and the gallery gods, will be rejected with scorn. If the vendors return to the usual sized sacks of succulent "goobers" they will lose money if they refuse to yield to popular clamor, all sorts of amusements will suffer and they will suffer equally in the end.

Verily "parlous times" are looming up ahead for many lines of American summer industries. And all because the peanut crop was laid out by rains and storms last year.

PUSH DULUTH TO FRONT.

The Duluth Real Estate exchange could not make a wiser move than to have a new booklet on Duluth prepared for immediate distribution by all of its members, by all business men and by all friends of the city. It should be sent broadcast through all parts of America and Canada and should go in liberal numbers to Europe.

Such a booklet need not be more than a dozen or two pages in size, but it should contain the summary of the glorious harbor business of the last shipping season; the health statistics of the city with comparisons with other centers of population; a statement of the transportation facilities; a condensed but complete showing of the surrounding region and of the natural resources tributary to Duluth; a comparison of the extremely moderate real estate values of this city with those of places of the same population class but with nothing like the same advantages; the remarkably low prices of gas and water; the magnificent building record of last year when this place was fourth in percentage of increase among all the cities of the nation; a succinct statement of the manufacturing, dairying and other advantages of the city.

Such a booklet may cost a few hundred dollars if it is issued in ample numbers, but it would, if one should be enclosed to every correspondent of a Duluth business man and citizen, pay for itself many times over in the course of a year in increased demands for Duluth real estate and in the consequent growth of the city in every way. Further, the booklet should be revised and reissued about the first of each year just as religiously as are the annual reports of the various city officials and of the corporations centered here.

Duluth has been altogether too modest in recent years in setting forth its preeminent advantages. It ought to be one of the great cities of the Northwest and it will be if the people will set themselves resolutely to work to "do things." The sooner the new movement shall be set going, the better.

MULTIMILLIONAIRE TYPES.

Americans do not hate millionaires simply because they are rich. They do not condemn the honorable acquisition of wealth, no matter how great may be the accumulation. They would never countenance the taking away, by legislative enactment, of the right of the business man to secure to himself as much as he possibly can, if he does it in a legitimate, above-board manner. They do not exorcise or condemn the "captains of industry," who build up great concerns by fair means and then do not follow this by gouging the public.

But the multi-millionaires of the Rockefeller type, who have made their colossal fortunes by the most reputable methods of literally choking competitors to death and then gouging the public, while sanctimoniously pretending to lower prices, of the Harriman type, who have made their vast riches by open and notorious cut-throat stock gambling; and of the William Waldorf Astor type who expatriate themselves rather than associate with the people from whom they derive their wealth—these are all hated with righteous hate and there would be anything but mourning, if all such should meet with summary justice.

In the old days, the public was inclined to look on the possession of wealth as prima facie evidence of superior ability and the methods by which this wealth might have been acquired were seldom inquired into closely. The consequence was that the Jay Goulds, the Jim Fiskes, the Russell Sages were applauded for their sharp practices and John D. Rockefeller, H. H. Rogers, and the others of the Standard Oil crowd were held up as models of astuteness to be patterned after by all Americans.

Since, however, the laboratories of the gold-makers have been thrown open to public view and it has become evident that greed, cruelty, dishonesty, law-breaking and bold conspiracy have been used even more than genius and organizing ability to build up many of these vast fortunes, the people of America have been engaged in "sitting out the goats from the sheep in the folds of the wealthy." The searchlight of publicity will not end the accumulation of great fortunes but it will result in more honesty hereafter in the acquisition of wealth and David Harman's "Do others first" will no longer be the business motto.

THE PASSING SHOW.

Japan and the United States both refuse to get ready for war at the fiery calls of Hobson and Hearst.

Joel P. Heatwole, in his role of editor-reformer, manages to say some right lively things in his Northfield News.

Women's hats may be cheaper in the spring, but the chances are that the men who pay the bills will not discover the difference.

The descriptions of Harry Thaw's behavior during his trial are only a few degrees less varied than the pictures of him in the papers nowadays.

John D. Rockefeller must be saving up to pay those $500,000 prospective fines. He has left a high-priced Florida hotel for one patronized by tourists of modest means.

Up to latest cable advice, Count Boni Castellani had not gone through even the first motion in the direction of suicide. Nor had Mme. Gould relented and opened up her pocketbook.

A big wolf ran a-muck on Fifth avenue, New York, recently. It is needless to say it did not come from Wall street, for all the wolves there are too busy catching lambs to stray so far away.

Only about three weeks more of this congress, and not one sign of any attempt to adopt even one of Roosevelt's scores of suggestions. If the appropriation bills get through they will be in luck.

The weather in Washington has been unusually chilly with an almost record fall of snow. President Roosevelt has not minded it in the least for he has become used to congressional "cold shoulders" and "cold feet."

HOTEL GOSSIP.

"Poultry associations all through the country will be holding their annual shows about the same time as the Duluth exhibition, which opens Tuesday, I understand," said A. R. Burrows of Indianapolis, Ind., at the McKay. "A good many have already held them, but most of the shows occur during the month of February. I know the one in Indianapolis came to a close last week. In our city dogs were also exhibited with the chickens."

"I am something of a fancier myself, although what little I do with the birds is for pleasure alone. I will say, however, that the eggs I get from them, and the birds I sell, bring in sufficient revenue to pay all expenses of maintaining my little poultry farm, and from the experience I have had I am convinced that a man could make a fair living by devoting all his attention to poultry."

"I make a specialty of game birds. While I never allow them to be entered in fairs, I am often rather hard to convince not to behave well, and it has been decided that I am to set up a new government shall be made into conditions improve. North Butte---A Western Champion

NORTH BUTTE

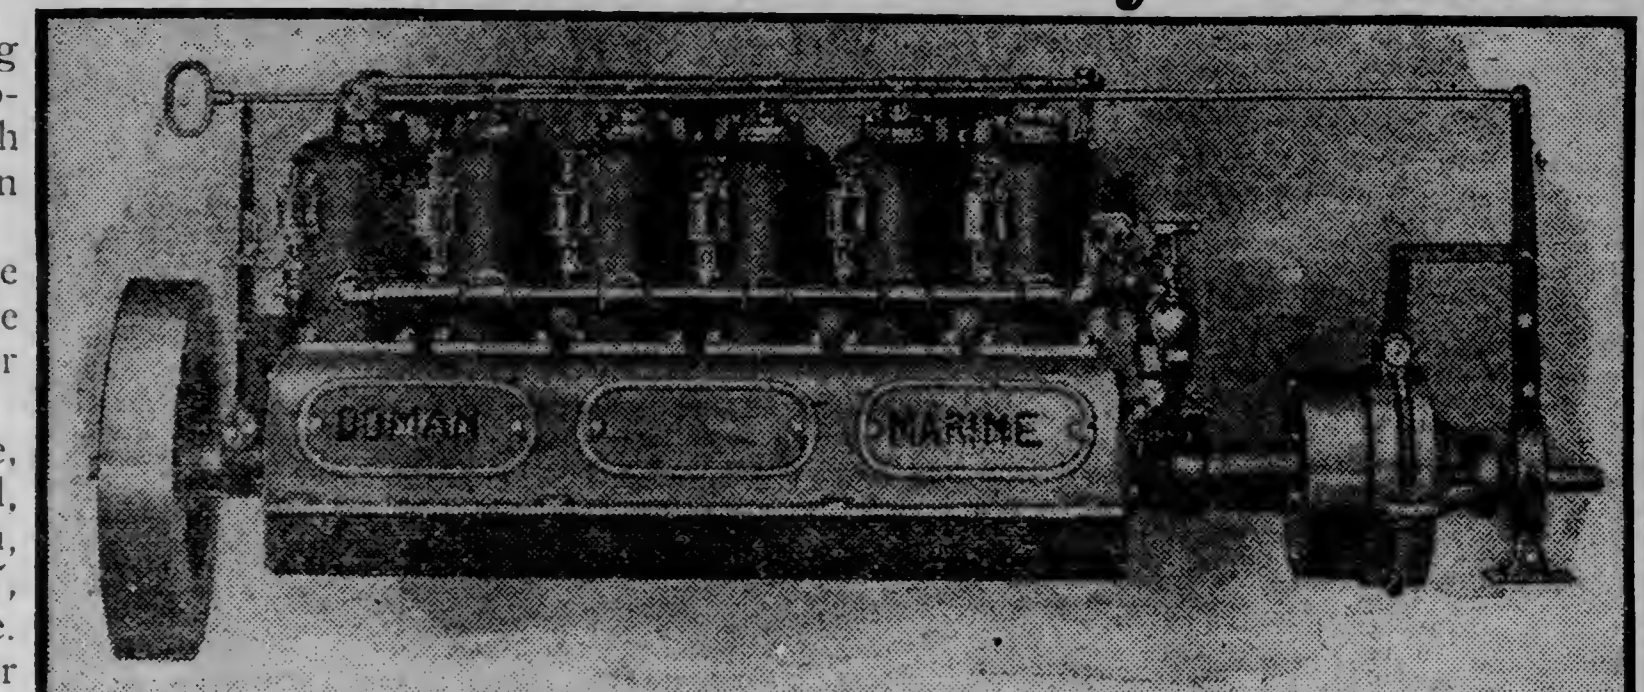

Winner of the Interlake Yachting Championship at Oshkosh, Wis., August 25, 1906, on Lake Winnebago, over a field of seven contestants, viz.: Cito, Skiddo, Steinway, Fantana, Seemego and Sazanami—over a course of twelve nautical miles, also defeated Fantana, an Eastern-built boat, in a scratch race September 6, 1906, for a stake of $1,000.

The contest between the North Butte and Fantana was especially interesting from the fact that the North Butte was entirely a Western product, while Fantana was built entirely in the East, and was guaranteed to make twenty-two miles per hour.

North Butte is equipped with a 30-H. P. "Doman" six cylinder, four cycle, marine motor. In the above races North Butte attained a speed of 20 1/2 miles per hour. She is owned by Mr. Richard Schell, Duluth, Minn.

BUFFALO CATHOLICS CABLE THE POPE.

Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 11.—Prior to the adjournment of the meeting of Catholic citizens last night to protest against the action of the French government towards their church, the following cablegram was ordered sent to the pope:

"Five thousand Catholic men in Buffalo at a mass meeting held on the evening of Quinquagesima Sunday, protesting against the violation by the French government of the most sacred rights of the church, and express their admiration for the brave conduct of the bishops and of the people of France. WOMAN KILLED BY UNKNOWN ASSAILANT.

Memphis, Tenn., Feb. 11.—Mrs. Mercedes Donovan, wife of Eugene Y. Donovan, an officer of the Memphis fire department, was killed by an unknown assailant Saturday night with a blow that broke her neck while she was returning from a shopping trip accompanied by her 2-year-old daughter and several other children. SCOTT-GRAFF COMPANY Preparing to Ship Logs to Duluth From Embarras Camps.

Two Harbors, Minn., Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Scott-Graff company which closed its camps on account of the snow, and moved the men and outfits to new camps near Embarras, expects to start its shipments of logs from there to Duluth this week. The lumber is now about five miles in length and is now half completed, and loads per day, which will be increased to thirty carloads when the tracks are completed. They will ship about 900 to 1,000 feet of logs from that point.

The southwest winds of Saturday night were the heaviest of the winter, and blew all the ice from this part of the lake and money of the ice from the harbor. It was strong enough and lasted long enough to carry the ice a great distance and probably broke the fields all up or piled the ice on the shores.

Conductor and Mrs. J. M. Elliott have returned from Monmouth, Ill., where they have been visiting for several weeks.

PITTSBURG LAUGHING.

Dr. Wiley Is Unpopular and His Discomfiture Is Enjoyed.

Pittsburg, Feb. 11.—All Pittsburg is laughing over the unceremonious gruelings of Dr. Charles C. Wiley of this city received at the hands of District Attorney Jerome.

Dr. Wiley is well known in Pittsburg. He figures prominently in every public undertaking and his name frequently appears in the newspapers. He became unpopular when he was serving as surgeon of the Eighteenth regiment of the National Guard. He was in the guard fifteen years, and had the title of major. He resigned about eight years ago.

During his service he was in continual conflict with the junior surgeons. Dr. Wiley was connected with Dixie's insane asylum for a number of years as an expert on insanity. He retired from that institution some time ago, however, and has since devoted his time to the treatment of nervous diseases and mild insanity cases.

ATE 3,500 EGGS, DRANK 273 GALLONS OF MILK.

Marion, Ind., Feb. 11.—After eating more than 3,500 raw eggs and drinking 273 gallons of fresh milk in a year, in an effort to cure himself of tuberculosis, Amos Bell, a citizen of Fairmont, Indiana, died, which became nauseating, and declined rapidly until his death occurred. His experience with the use of raw eggs and milk in an effort to cure consumption was a year ago. He adopted a diet of three raw eggs and three quarts of milk for the first and finally reached his normal weight of 150 pounds.

He kept account of the eggs he had eaten and after eating more than 3,500 the diet became nauseating and he was compelled to discontinue the use of it. He was feeling very well at the time he quit eating the raw eggs, although he still had a cough. That was three months ago. He then began to lose weight rapidly. Mr. Bell was 55 years old and is survived by his widow and one child.

CHURCHES LINCOLN AS THE TOPIC

Of Sermons Preached in Many Duluth Houses of Worship.

Rev. K. S. Miller Gives Strong Discourse on Great President.

Abraham Lincoln and his life formed the basis of several sermons heard in Duluth churches yesterday. Tomorrow will be the martyred president's birthday and the nation will reverence his memory by observing it as a holiday. Yesterday, many local pastors referred to him and his place among men, either during their morning or their evening discourses. The subject of the sermon preached in the First Unitarian church yesterday by Rev. Kirby S. Miller was "Abraham Lincoln: An Appreciation."

"I do not attempt to account for Abraham Lincoln by his ancestry, his surroundings, his privileges or his deprivations," said Rev. Mr. Miller. "It is enough to know that he was one of us, from our soil, from our homes, our country. What he inherited may have been much or little. What he did was certainly due to what he was. The man growing, excelling his work. He had the stuff in him for a dozen presidents. He is not merely an illustration of the possibilities of a humble boy rising to a great office, for that has happened many times, and the world has neither gained nor lost much by reason of it. But as an example of the possibilities of manhood and the accumulation of manhood's power, from whom great deeds slipped as easily as the little ones from us, as an illustration of a certain spirit, controlled consciously by great thoughts and motives which are in reach of all but cherished and developed by few, Lincoln rears himself from our ranks and calls us all to be bigger men."

"As a politician, he never attempted to disguise his motives. To him right and wrong were certain just as much in the larger relationship of the state and nation as in individual lives. He became our ideal president, simply because when he went to the White House he carried with him his intense convictions and his loyalty to right. It was Lincoln's sense of justice and right among men and sections and nations, his consciousness of the great moving purpose of providence, which set him above most men and kept him true."

"Wherever we start with Lincoln, we always come back to the man—the lawyer, the politician or president. All he did roots back in what he was; he himself went back to the cause of things. His veneration for the true and good grew out of his love for them. 'Don't you hope God is on our side?' said a pious preacher to him one day. 'No,' he replied, 'but I am very anxious we should be on God's side. This is the thought and motive which unlocks this great simple life. He wanted to be on God's side. And he was.'"

LENTEN OBSERVANCE.

Rev. Arthur H. Wurtele Discusses Subject at Sunday Morning Service.

Rev. Arthur H. Wurtele, rector of Trinity chapel, yesterday morning discussed the proper observance of the Lenten season. He said that Lent afforded an opportunity for the freshening of the spiritual life, and called upon men to be brought in closer relationship with the Lord. Christ Himself fasted forty days and forty nights, and advised the people to "Come ye apart and rest awhile." "Wurtele said that Lent was a time to be and would make you what you ought to be, and can if you will rise to the occasion. Opportunities are the hands of the hands of skillful workers, fashioning a noble statue of a blameless Christian character for time and eternity. By faithfulness in Lenten duties we gather faith and strength to go on to better things."

THREE BAD BARGAINS.

Rev. F. W. Hill Speaks of Three Great Biblical Events.

Rev. F. W. Hill, who has been conducting special services at the Luster Park M. E. church during the past week, and who will continue them all of this week except Saturday, preached last evening on the subject, "Three Notoriously Bad Bargains." Summarized they were as follows: "The Selling of Joseph by His Brothers," second, "The Betrayal of Jesus by Judas With a Kiss," and third, "The Temptation of Christ by Satan." Joseph, who practically became King of Egypt, had it in his power to punish his brothers for their unkind action, but instead he saved the family from actual starvation. With regard to the betrayal of Jesus by Judas, Mr. Hill characterized it as the greatest crime of history; and in the temptation of Christ, Mr. Hill asked the question, "What profiteth a man if he gain the whole world and lose his soul? or if he should gain the whole world and be damned?" Mr. Hill is a fluent speaker, and the meetings have been well attended.

WHITE PLAGUE

Its Extermination is Prevention

There are a great many articles now appearing in print on the subject of consumption, whose ravages are on the increase, not only in America, but also in Europe. That there should be a systematic and determined warfare against this terrible disease is now becoming evident to all persons having at heart the welfare of the human race. A well known physician, who has made tuberculosis a study for a number of years, states most emphatically that the majority of cases of consumption originate in a neglected cold or cough. This causes inflammation and weakening of the lungs, and renders them liable to the attacks of the tubercle germ, which at present is very prevalent. He also states that the new soluble form of pine is probably the most powerful, active agent ever known for the quick relief of acute and chronic colds and for healing and stimulating the lungs and bronchial tubes.

DEATH SUMMONS

MRS. FRED BAYHA

End Comes After Two Weeks' Illness Following Apoplectic Stroke.

After an illness of two-weeks duration, Mrs. Fred Bayha, wife of the senior partner of the firm of Bayha & Co., died at the residence of Phil Bayha, 316 Lake avenue, Saturday afternoon. Apoplexy was the cause. Mrs. Bayha was taken sick two weeks ago, while attending services at the English Lutheran church. She walked to the home of Phil Bayha where, after being seated a few minutes, she was stricken with apoplexy. A physician was summoned and it was deemed inadvisable to remove Mrs. Bayha to her own home. Although showing improvement in her condition for several days, Mrs. Bayha suffered a relapse last Monday, and continued to fall up to her death. The members of the family were at her bedside when the end came. The decedent was born in Sebewang, Mich., 42 years ago. She came to Duluth about twenty years ago. Mrs. Bayha was prominent in church and social work and has a wide circle of friends who mourn her demise. She is survived by her husband, two sons, Fred, Jr., aged 18, and George, aged 13 years, also a sister, Mrs. John Lange; mother, Mrs. Bayha, and brother, Oscar Bayha, of Sebewang, Mich. The remains have been removed to the family residence. The funeral will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow, from St. John's English Lutheran church, the service being in charge of Rev. J. L. Murphy. Short services will also be held at the house at 1 o'clock.

IN SYRACUSE HOTEL.

Syracuse, N. Y., Feb. 11.—A careful investigation has failed to reveal any one as a result of the fire which destroyed the Mowry hotel in this city, yesterday morning. Although the hotel register was consumed, and there is no list of the guests to refer to, it is now thought that all have been accounted for. Some uncertainty still exists regarding the fate of some of the help employed in the hotel, and quartered in the rear of the building where the fire was first discovered. The fire was one of the most spectacular in the history of the city. The property loss aggregates $250,000.

NORTHERN LIGHTS VERY BRILLIANT

Were Noticed Saturday Evening by Many Duluth People.

As is generally the case at this time of the year the phenomenon of the aurora borealis, or, as it is more commonly called, the "Northern lights," has been noticeable to Duluth people on several of the clear nights of the past week. At times the lights have been more brilliant than those ordinarily visible.

On Saturday evening, between the hours of 7 and 8, the attention of large numbers of Duluth people were drawn to the beautiful illumination over the city. First in long, narrow streaks, the lights seem to come from the hills back of town, and shoot far out over the buildings and lake. The streaks of light seemed so bright that some thought them the rays from a search light.

Soon, however, the light rays seemed to assemble together until the whole sky was a mass of pale white, green and red lights, which, as the clouds passed slowly between them and the city, seemed continually changing shape and color. At times the lights would appear in one part of the sky and would then disappear and reappear in another.

The aurora borealis, or Northern lights, is a luminous meteoric phenomenon, visible only at night during the winter months, and supposed to be of electrical origin. As on Saturday evening, the lights usually appear in streams, ascending toward the zenith from a line a short distance above the northern horizon. Occasionally the aurora appears as an arch of light across the heavens from east to west. At times the lights assume a variety of colors.

Quarrell Over a Card Game Resulted in a Tragedy.

Hibbing, Minn., Feb. 11.—A game of cards played on Saturday in the rear room of a saloon at 109 Third avenue, run by an Austrian named Klotz, resulted in the killing of Mike Rubovina, an Austrian, by John Bosc, a fellow countryman.

Rubovina, Bosc and the bartender were playing until Bosc, who was $4 winner, announced that he was going to quit. He walked into the bar and invited the others to have a drink with him, and threw a handful of silver on the bar. Rubovina made a grab for the money, and as he did so Bosc pushed him aside. This resulted in a quarrel, during which Rubovina pulled out a knife with a four-inch blade, and stabbed Bosc in the right shoulder. He made another attack on Bosc, stabbing him in the head and cutting a gash in the scalp about five inches long. Bosc fell, and as he struck the floor drew a revolver and fired four shots at Rubovina, three of which took effect. Two of the bullets hit Rubovina on the shoulder causing him to fall backwards and the third went clear through his body, piercing his vital organs. Bosc then turned and escaped. He was later found in another saloon farther down the street, and arrested.

Rubovina was about 22 years old and had lived in the Finn location of Hibbing for several years. Bosc is a new man in the town, having come there only a few days ago from Omaha, it is stated. When seen in the jail, where he is lying, and suffering from the wounds inflicted by Rubovina's knife, he admitted that he had killed Rubovina, but that he had done it in self defense.

TRIPS OF BUS INTERRUPTED

Captain Stevens Found Ice Too Thin for Sleigh Transfer.

Saturday's warm temperature and consequent heavy thaw caused an interruption in the trips of Capt. D. E. Stevens' sleigh transfer between Rice's Point on the Duluth side and Connor's Point on the Superior side.

Capt. Stevens has made careful inspections of the thickness of the ice every day, and on Saturday evening he found that it was so thin that only one stroke of a pick was required to drive the point clear through. On this account he decided to abandon traffic until the temperature lowered.

Yesterday morning there had been such a drop in the temperature that an examination showed the ice was solid enough to support the sleighs, and the service resumed. The thaw caused an interruption of only one night.

SKI GIRL THRILLS CHICAGO.

Society Women Follow Her Lead in the Imported Pastime.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Miss Camille Ahlstrom is the first Chicago girl to appear on skis, and her thrilling descents on the new ski slide in Hunt Park have tempted many young society women and college girl athletes to take part in the fashionable imported winter pastime. Miss Ahlstrom, who lives at No. 32 Beach avenue, is of Scandinavian ancestry, and takes naturally to skis.

She and others are daily making daring leaps down the slide. At first they used a steering rod till they were used to the sport, but now they fly along unaided. Hour after hour the enthusiastic society athletes make the runs until many of them are completely exhausted. The sport is also being patronized by many Swedish women who are now living in Chicago, who are perhaps more daring in their flights than any of the natives, as they are far more accustomed to the sport. The novelty is attracting thousands of spectators.

Hunters Continually Devising New Schemes to Poison Wolves.

Animals Are Killing the Deer in Large Numbers.

Charles Bacon, a resident of Grand Lake township, this county, who brought in a wolf pelt the other day for the $10 bounty, stated that the wolves are killing the deer in large numbers.

Mr. Bacon has been doing a great deal of hunting and trapping his winter and during the course of his travels about he frequently runs across the partially consumed carcass that the wolves have killed.

Practically the only method that the wolf hunters are employing this winter to kill the animals is the use of poison, nine out of every ten animals whose pelts have been exhibited to the county auditor having been killed by that means.

Mr. Bacon says that the wolves are so cautious and suspicious that the hunter must exercise the greatest skill in handling the poisoned meat in order to get the animals to touch it. He has on one instance where his brother found the carcass of a freshly killed deer and proceeded to poison it, thinking that the wolves would soon return to gorge themselves. For a period of three weeks afterward visits to the bait showed that the wolves had visited the carcass, but they had never gone within ten or twelve feet of the poisoned meat. The snow was packed down all around the bait where the wolves had circled, but they smelt the tracks of the hunter leading to the slain deer and they were so suspicious that even their hunger could not force them to touch the bait.

Mr. Bacon relates another instance where his brother found the partially consumed body of a deer one evening and poisoned it. That night two or three inches of snow fell covering the hunter's tracks. Within a short time two wolves visited the carcass and, finding nothing suspicious, they ate the poisoned meat and were killed. The hunters are convinced that had it not been for the convenient snow cover their efforts would have been without result.

Every time a wolf or two out of a pack is poisoned the remainder of the animals are said to become more suspicious than ever and the ingenuity of the hunters is taxed to discover new methods by which the wily creatures can be coaxed into eating "dope."

At first it was decided to take up the three separate branches in this order: First, the land office; second, farm machinery; third, grain markets. The decision to subdivide the work, however, was made by the three committees to work simultaneously.

After making these arrangements, the general committee adjourned until 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

There are less lawmakers in the hotels this year than ever before. This is due to the fact that the principal hotels increased their legislative rates this year all along the line, making an additional expense to those that week a delegation from Bagley came down to protest that there was no town, but Bagley in which the school should be situated.

Attempts to get the field together for a united fight for a new school, the location to be determined later, have failed. The Hermit and Thief River Falls people did get together and drew their bills, substituting one providing for the location of a new school in the Grand North and another line drawn from Duluth to East Grand Forks, which would let in the three principal competitors, but Cass Lake was refused to go into this deal, and will stand pat upon the Cass Lake bill, because it has established itself and accumulated a considerable showing of support, which would have to be abandoned if a combination were made.

The vote from the voters' location, the lobbyists make a pretty good showing for the need of a new school somewhere in the general locality. The main point in their argument is that there is throughout that whole section an embarrassing scarcity of teachers, particularly of those with suitable training. This is said to be due to the fact that the present normal schools are unable to supply the demand.

The normal schools at Winona, Mankato, St. Cloud and Moorhead are filled to overflowing, and these schools will soon ask the legislature for more room. The Duluth school is filling fast, and in another year will probably have all the students it cares to handle. Anyway, these claimants for the new school are convinced that the Duluth school will ever be able to turn out the needed teachers.

"The territory of which Cass Lake is the geographical and commercial center," said Prof. P. M. Larson, superintendent of Lake Superior Normal schools, to the Herald, yesterday, "is about equidistant from the Duluth, St. Cloud and Moorhead normals, the city being about 170 miles from each. That part of the state has doubled its population in the last five years, and this has caused a corresponding increase in the number of teachers needed."

"As an illustration of the difficulties we have to contend with in that section, the recent report of the state superintendent of public instruction may be cited. It shows that Cass county has 112 teachers, fifty of which are graduates from no higher schools, and only six of which are normal graduates. The other northern counties, like Aitkin, Beltrami, Clearwater and Crow Wing had little better conditions, and some of them were worse. From reports issued by the state department of public instruction, it appears that scarcely a third of the entire force of teachers in the state are professionally trained. It is also a fact that the present output from the state normal schools goes almost entirely to the city and village schools of the state, and as this product does not fill the demand there, the county schools are left in bad shape."

"This condition of affairs is more acute in the northern sections than in any other part of the state, as may be seen from reports from the southern counties for instance, Blue Earth, where almost the whole teaching force has attended some school for professional training."

"Those who have looked into it have agreed that the northern part of the state is entitled to more instruction of this kind. The other schools seem to have benefited their respec-

patronize these inns of $5 to $20 a month. This drove many members to the lesser hotels and to private boarding houses. Out of 182 members of both houses only 74 are in five principal hotels. The rest are in minor hotels or boarding houses, though of course a part of the Minneapolis and St. Paul members live at home. Those living in hotels are distributed as follows, according to the legislative machine, which, much delayed, is just out:

Merchants hotel—Twelve senators and seventeen representatives; twenty-nine altogether, against fifty two years ago; Ryan hotel, three senators and six representatives; Aberdeen, six senators and five representatives; Metropolitan hotel, one senator and twelve representatives; Duclie hotel, nine senators and three representatives; outside of these hotels, thirty-two senators and seventy-six representatives.

In recommending for passage the lobby bill against cannon crackers, blank cartridges and toy firearms, on Saturday, the house committee of the whole refused to stand for an amendment proposed by the author, raising the limit of size of crackers allowed from three-quarters of an inch in diameter and from three inches in length to four inches in length. Mr. Libby, in explaining his amendment, said that he was not opposing the bill, but that he might withdraw their opposition if this change was made, but other members said that it might be equally true that they would withdraw their opposition if all the good points of the bill were stricken out. The bill was approved as it stood, and it is likely to pass.

The state dairy and food department is preparing an exhibit of impure foods for the benefit of law-makers who may be interested. Various food products which have been colored with coal tar dyes have been collected. Small pieces of white flannel have been boiled in the solutions made from these products, with the result that the cloth has been colored as highly as though placed directly in the solution. The exhibit has been arranged to show the amount of coal tar coloring that has been used in making candies, cordials and the kind of cherries they put in to certain popular mixed drinks, and to each specimen has been attached a card showing the amount of coloring used. The exhibit also shows a number of labels which are fraudulently used.

The hated automobile owners are certainly receiving the attention of the country members this time. Bills have been introduced surrounding the subject of regulation. Power is given in one or two to permit local authorities to bar autos from any road or street. Another bill also, Speed limited to eight miles above everywhere that anybody is on the road, and one bill makes eighteen miles an hour the maximum speed anywhere in the state. Another bill makes it the duty of stop and assist drivers with unruly horses whenever they meet.

CLAIM LAND IS NOT SWAMP

Twelve Settlers Will Contest State's Right to It.

Claiming that the so-called swamp lands taken over by the state at the government land opening last fall are not swamp lands, twelve settlers have filed contests against the land in the local land office with Register J. C. H. Bagel. About 1,300 acres are involved, and the authorities have been notified and will be given sixty days in which to give notice if they want a hearing. The land was opened last November and is located near Beaver Bay, in which are known as township 32, range 5, township 33, range 5, and township 34, range 5. There was considerable of a rush at the land office at the opening last fall.

The twelve settlers who have filed notices of contest and the number of acres involved in each case are as follows: James B. French, 100 acres; Jerry Cavagin, 120 acres; William H. Forsythe, 40 acres; Carl Zetzel, 40 acres; Peter Dahl, 80 acres; William H. Cloud, 160 acres; Alva S. Pelton, 80 acres; August Peterson, 40 acres; William J. J. Schumann, 160 acres; John Schumann, 120 acres; John J. Steiner, 160 acres.

Notices have been also filed by William O'Brien in several cases relative to swamp lands listed in township 32, range 5, and there are about 500 acres involved which were secured on scrip from the Northern Pacific Railway company.

Under the ruling under which the first cases are brought up the settler going on lands previous to the survey shall be allowed to enter these lands in the United States land office and go to a good faith and that it is a good agricultural land. The settler must go to a good faith and that it is a good agricultural land.

Cruisers will probably be sent out by the state officials to investigate the lands in question and if they report that it is fit for agricultural the cases will undoubtedly be allowed to go by default without a hearing.

MOTHER OF RICHEST BABY DIGS UP SNOW DRIFTS.

Newport, P. I., Feb. 11.—Mrs. John Nicholas Brown, mother of the richest boy in the world, last week had a snow plover at her feet. The bird was found in front of her own and her neighbors' home. Newport was fairly snowed under, but the snow was not deep, and the horses, specially cut a way through all of the residence streets in the vicinity of the Brown mansion.

Not only was the snow cleared from in front of the home of the members of the exclusive social circle in which Mrs. Brown moves, but also the snow was cleared from the paths that lead to the house. Her action has met with universal praise. It was the means of clearing paths that had been made only after many hours of laborious hand work.

MESENAGER ROBBED OF $25,000. Moscow, Feb. 11.—A messenger belonging to the government freight depot here while on his way to the bank today was held up by armed men and robbed of $25,000. The messenger dropped a bag containing $35,000, but got away with the balance.

MOTHERHOOD

The first requisite of a good mother is good health, and the experience of maternity should not be approached without careful physical preparation, as a woman who is in good physical condition transmits to her children the blessings of a good constitution.

Preparation for healthy maternity is accomplished by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from native roots and herbs, more successfully than by any other medicine because it gives tone and strength to the entire feminine organism, curing displacements, ulceration and inflammation, and the result is less suffering and more children healthy at birth. For more than thirty years has been the standby of American mothers in preparing for childbirth. Note what Mrs. James Chester, of 427 W. 35th St., New York says in this letter:—Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I wish every expectant mother knew about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. A neighbor who had learned of its great value at this trying period of a woman's life urged me to try it and I did so, and I cannot say enough in regard to the good it did me. I recovered quickly and am in the best of health now.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly a successful remedy for the peculiar weaknesses and ailments of women. It has cured almost every form of Female Complaints, Dragging Sensations, Weak Back, Falling and Displacements, Inflammation, Ulceration and Organic Diseases of Women and is invaluable in preparing for Childbirth and during the Change of Life.

Mrs. Pinkham's Standing Invitation to Women

Women suffering from any form of female weakness are invited to write Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free.

WARMEST DAY SINCE NOVEMBER

Saturday Holds Record For Mid-Winter High Mark.

The finish has come to the unusual warm spell which made itself noticeable last Friday and continued over Saturday. A cold wave is on the way from Canada, and the forerunner arrived yesterday afternoon in the shape of cold northwest winds.

The cause of the recent warm spell, the area of low barometric pressure which was central over Lake Superior Saturday, has moved eastward and in its stead an area of high pressure is descending from Northern Canada. The weather man would not say just how low the temperature would go, and it will probably not be as severe as it has been during the last few weeks.

Saturday was the warmest day since the early part of last November. Under the warm rays of the sun the temperature reached a mark of 45 degrees above zero, and this record will be likely to hold for some time, as the temperature was falling rapidly yesterday afternoon. Yesterday the weather was still balmy, the thermometer registering 43 degrees above zero. By noon it was still warm. Later in the afternoon, however, the mercury began to take a tumble, and at 7 last evening it registered only 16 above.

EDITOR KILLS GAMBLER.

Pondick, Or., Feb. 11.—John P. McManus, editor of the Pilot Rock Record, shot and killed Robert Estes, gambler, in the Pullman saloon on Main street Saturday afternoon. No motive is known to exist for the shooting, as the men were not acquainted. It is presumed McManus took Estes for another man whom the editor believed had robbed him last week.

In short "Golden Medical Discovery" regulates, purifies and invigorates the whole system and thus cures a very large range of diseases. The reason why it cures such a varied list of diseases is made clear in a little booklet of extracts from the leading medical authorities, compiled by Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., and which he will be pleased to send post-paid and entirely free to any who send him their names and addresses.

You can't afford to accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret medicine of known composition.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two mild cathartics. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." They are the original Little Liver Pills first put up by Dr. Pierce over 40 years ago. Much imitated, but never equaled. They are tiny sugar-coated granules—easy to take as candy.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser (1000 pages) is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps (to cover cost of mailing) for paper-covered, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Through enriching and purifying the blood, the "Discovery" cures scrofulous affections, also blotches, pimples, eruptions, and other ugly affections of the skin. SPORTING NEWS OF THE DAY

HOUGHTON WILL DROP DEFEATED TWO CLUBS

Duluth Hockey Players Continue on Their Victorious Career.

Take an Exciting Slugging Match From the Visitors.

In a fierce slashing match on sticky ice, the Northern Hardware hockey team defeated the Houghton amateurs Saturday evening by the score of 4 to 3.

An extra ten minutes was required to decide the game, as the score at the end of the scheduled hour of play was 2 to 2. Duluth scored first on the play-off, but Houghton evened matters up a minute or two later. With but two minutes more to play the Duluth forwards got together for a pretty dash down the ice, and scored the winning goal.

The condition of the ice marred the game from the spectator's standpoint, although it was an exciting exhibition in spite of this. In the little rink and on the slow ice, the game could hardly help but be a rough one, and the players did not seem to make any special effort to hold themselves back. It was hard to select any one particular offender, although Earl Cummings, who started for Duluth at cover point, was probably responsible for as much of the tripping and body checking as anybody. He mixed things in a lively manner all through the game, and played for the man instead of the puck, with uniform regularity. In spite of this, however, he put up a brilliant game, and was the mainstay of the Duluth team. Deetz acted as the forward line, and played a fast game.

Duluth started off with a rush, and the first seven minutes saw the fastest and cleanest hockey of the evening. The Cummings brothers and Deetz were responsible for the first goal on a pretty combination pass, Deetz doing the scoring.

The second came in about thirty seconds of play, Cummings and Deetz scoring from the face-off. The ice was by this time becoming badly cut up and sticky, and the game was constantly growing rougher. The climax came just before the end of the first half, a goal made by Carrell, was not allowed by the referee, and a long dispute followed. The play hardly resumed when Heughebaert was laid out with a blow over the ear, and had to be carried from the ice. He was able to resume play after a few minutes, and the players were warned by the referee that the management of the club that the rough work would have to stop or the game would be called off. The warning had its effect, and the roughness was kept within bounds for the remainder of the game, although the slugging and cross-checking was frequent.

Houghton went into the game in the second half with a determination that was not to be denied, and scored within but two or three minutes of play. The second goal came about ten minutes later, and the score was tied. The half finished without any further scoring, and it was decided to play an extra ten minutes to decide the game.

In the play-off the Duluth men showed good form, and the game was the best seen during the evening. Winters broke the tie with a pretty goal on a pass from Al Cummings. The goal was made with a goal that again tied the score, in less than two minutes of play. The game was played by Duluth, but was allowed, and the score was still a tie with but four minutes to play.

Winters and Deetz got the puck from a mixup, near the Duluth end of the rink, in which Scoote was heavily checked by the Houghton. Deetz and Winters went scurrying down the ice, and got past the Houghton defense. Winters was scoring on a pretty shot. In the meantime Scoote had fallen to the ice, and Houghton claimed that the goal should not be allowed. Referee Grimes could not see it that way, however, as he had not yet blown his whistle. The goal was counted, and the remaining two minutes of play failed to change conditions.

The rink was packed to its utmost capacity, and the spectators were crowded on to every available standing place. It was impossible to keep them off the corners of the ice, and many who were anxious to witness the game were unable to get in a position where they could even see the players. Fully 600 people must have been packed into the little shed, and they were a wildly enthusiastic crowd.

MORRISON, Tailor,
18 LAKE AVENUE SOUTH.

Hancock and Grand Forks No Longer in N. C. C. League.

Meeting Adjourned to Duluth for Election of Officers.

Calumet Mich., Feb. 11.—The Northern-Copper Country league will be a six-club organization this year, according to the decision reached by the league managers in their annual meeting at Calumet yesterday. Duluth, Winnipeg, Fargo, Calumet, Lake Linden and Houghton will remain in the ring and Grand Forks and Hancock will be dropped permanently.

As President Price of Fargo was detained at home on account of illness in his family, the election of officers and the arrangement of other minor details was postponed one week, and the baseball men will meet in Duluth next Sunday to finish their business.

The salary limit for the league was fixed at $1,100, the same as in 1906, and while no details of the schedule were arranged, it was decided to open the league season May 16. The fact that the election of officers is to be held at Duluth will prove of material advantage to that city in the personal campaigning which the candidates can get in will count heavily in their favor. Will Play THE FINALS

Smith Event Billed For This Evening at Curling Rink.

Rinks from the Superior and Western Clubs are Entered.

With nine rinks entered from the Duluth, Superior and Western curling clubs, the A. H. Smith trophy competition will start this evening on the Duluth Curling rink. There is also a possibility of one or two rinks from the range putting in an appearance in time for play tonight, but it will not be known until this afternoon whether a four can be organized to take the range for the contest.

R. J. MacLeod, C. A. Duncan, W. B. Dunlop and Alex Macrae will skip the four rinks entered from the Duluth club, and make up a formidable lot for the Western and Superior clubs to run up against.

From the Western club at West Duluth, A. H. Smith and Henry Hewitt will skip the two rinks entered, and they have the strongest men in the club in their rinks. From Superior, while A. K. Smith is not in the game, H. I. Russell, H. H. Grace and L. H. Stephenson will skip a strong trio of rinks, and with several weak places in the line, they will be recruited from A. K. Smith's rink. The play will be commenced this evening with four games on the ice, and will be resumed tomorrow night, if possible, with an extra rink which has the good fortune to draw by the first round, and with one of the victors in the morning. The game will be played tomorrow night, if possible, with an extra rink which has the good fortune to draw by the first round, and with one of the victors in the morning.

THIRTY-SEVEN STEAM SHOVELS To be Put in Commission on Mesaba by Oliver Company.

No less than thirty-seven new steam shovels will be placed in commission during the coming ore shipping season by the Oliver Iron Mining company.

Fifteen of them go to Hibbing. Five will be put up at the Adams mine, four at the Hartley, one at the Hull, one at the Chisholm, one at the Meyers and three at the Sells.

Three will be installed at the Virginia mines and five at the Gilbert at Sparta. Extensive operations at the Gilbert are planned by the coming season by the Oliver company. For some time past crews of men have been at work at the Gilbert, preparing for that time when a resumption of mining will be commenced. Tracks are being changed and other work calculated to facilitate the hauling of a large amount of ore is being done.

Six of the new shovels will be in use on the Western Mesaba. Three of them are to be set up at the Adams mine and three at the Holman. Representatives of the Marion factory are now on the range, arranging for the setting up of the new machinery.

The Northern and Copper Country league has once more been dropped down from the ranks, Hancock and Grand Forks having been dropped at the meeting yesterday.

What compromise was effected with the late Linden club is not known, but it is likely that that team will be made a road team almost entirely, and kept playing games on other ranges during the greater part of the season. The Sunday games at Calumet can be transferred there, and it is probably the main reason for keeping the team in the league.

The election of officers was postponed a week and will be held in Duluth next Sunday. This would appear to be a favorable sign to the Duluth club owners who want to see this city made the league headquarters.

The general opinion of fight fans throughout the country seems to be a unit on just one point: That Harry Lewis, the Philadelphia Hebrew, is the only man fit to oppose Gans. Some, however, think that the idea has grown rapidly within the past few weeks. Not long ago Lewis was comparatively obscure, wholly unknown outside of Philadelphia, and even in that city, regarded only as a clever runaway boxer, who had no pushing power, and could never do better than a point decision. Lewis is one of the very few fighters who gained a punch after going down for many battles. He was training up in Michigan with the Chicago boxer, Walker Parker. In their daily bouts Parker noticed that Lewis, though powerfully muscled and apparently fit to sweat anybody, simply jabbed with his left and seldom made any use of the right, except for blocking.

"You are as strong as an ox," said the Chicagoan. "Why don't you try that right? Just cross it over and hit with it. See how it works." Lewis, somewhat uncertainly, swung his right. After Parker had ceased rotating and making pinwheels through the air, he said to Lewis: "You are a fighter. That's the right way the goods, and that he should make it his main weapon in the future."

Lewis took the advice, studied his new thumper, and within a few days found himself possessed of as terrible a right hand drive as any he ever saw. He changed his whole fighting style. From a get-away jabber he became a fighter, and he was driving and irresistible power. He knocked everybody out, his fame grew like a new balloon, and now everybody looks upon him as the one opponent for Joe Gans.

There was also a large field in the junior championship, which was won by Alfred Hankinson of St. Paul, in 4:10. Allen G. Rudstrom of Minneapolis, in 4:57, and James McThompson of St. Paul second, and Leonard heat was won by Thorvald Thomsen of Minneapolis in 4:48.

The first heat in the 80-yard championship was won by F. Martinson of Minneapolis, in 1:57, with James McThompson of St. Paul second, and Leonard heat was won by Thorvald Thomsen of Minneapolis in 1:48.

The Chicago skaters, headed by Adolf G. Anderson arrived this morning and will be entered in the events this evening.

THE WINNIPEG BONSPIEL Smith and Myron in Same Round of Trolley Event.

Winnipeg, Feb. 11.—Smith played Parker of Pipestone in the Blue Ribben trophy event this morning in the early draw.

Myron is not drawn for this morning. Both Duluth rinks are still in the early draw. Three more victories in this event will insure at least fourth place for Smith and Myron, and from the present outlook they will make good.

The Duluth rinks are receiving the stoutest support from the onlookers. Any of the visiting rinks, and the large number of Duluth people now residents in Winnipeg have turned out with regularity and enthusiasm to watch the Zenith City men play. Durbin, Royal Carletonian, Grand Aggregate, and several other events.

Two prospective mills in which local pigs were to have been featured, have been called off and the usual charge of cold feet and forfeited championships, are being made in due order.

Curley Ullrich of Superior has returned from Minneapolis where he had gone to get in shape for a scrap with Jimmy Potts, one of the best fighters in the city. Ullrich is a particularly sore spot in his heart on account of Potts insisting upon a financial arrangement which practically called off the fight. Curley says that the Minneapolis fighter did not get his lower extremities into the ice box until he heard that Curley had got Thunderbolt Smith out of the Mill City man's former trainers, to break him in to the mysteries of the clean break. He hastened to take the "coordinator demand" route to get out of the fight. Bill Moseby, the colored fighter is also howling on account of backdown and the particular set of children that Bill is raising a howl about, are said to be located on the feet of Ben Trimble. Moseby says that Trimble's aversion to colored fighters is a very late development, and in fact has grown like a Mehl's Food baby since Moseby's challenge was made, and that it is simply a dodge to get out of the scrap.

Trimble is said to have received a tempting offer from a nearby club which he turned down, and Moseby's supporters say that the "coordinator demand" route to get out of the fight. RACES WERE A FAILURE

Series for Northwestern Championship Held on Slushy Ice.

Skaters Praying for Cold in Time for Tonight's Event.

St. Paul, Feb. 11.—The Twin City Skating association was up against a streak of hard luck on the weather proposition yesterday. The track at the Downtown rink where the Western championship races were pulled off was slushy and rough as a result of the warm weather and the races, which promised to be the most interesting ever pulled off in St. Paul, took on the appearance of wading contests and the contestants best versed in aquatic sports were always returned the winners.

The races would have been postponed but for the large crowd that had gathered to see the events. While the spectators saw no real skating races, they were highly amused, for the contests savored of ridiculous. None of the skaters were able to keep their feet all the time. The slush was piled up so deep at the corners that the skaters had to plough through it and one place they had to jump over a creek that had formed on the track.

Only four events were pulled off. The 500-yard championship and the 1,000-yard championship were the only races finished while two heats were run in the 800-yard championship and the one mile race. The 1,000-yard race was the most exciting of the day, and the final heat in the 800 and mile races will be run off tonight.

The first heat in the 800-yard championship was won by F. Martinson of Minneapolis, in 1:57, with James McThompson of St. Paul second, and Leonard heat was won by Thorvald Thomsen of Minneapolis in 1:48.

The Chicago skaters, headed by Adolf G. Anderson arrived this morning and will be entered in the events this evening.

THE WINNIPEG BONSPIEL Smith and Myron in Same Round of Trolley Event.

Winnipeg, Feb. 11.—Smith played Parker of Pipestone in the Blue Ribben trophy event this morning in the early draw.

Myron is not drawn for this morning. Both Duluth rinks are still in the early draw. Three more victories in this event will insure at least fourth place for Smith and Myron, and from the present outlook they will make good.

The Duluth rinks are receiving the stoutest support from the onlookers. Any of the visiting rinks, and the large number of Duluth people now residents in Winnipeg have turned out with regularity and enthusiasm to watch the Zenith City men play. Durbin, Royal Carletonian, Grand Aggregate, and several other events.

The storm also did serious damage in the province of Cosenza, numerous villages being flooded.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Driven desperate by the oppression of a tax collector when he was a resident of Warsaw, Poland, Joseph Kowalsky conceived the bold scheme of winning the love of the tax collector's wife and eloping with her half a world away from the world. The remarkable plot of revenge culminated in Judge Glavin's branch of the municipal court in the Thirty-fifth street police station. There Kowalsky was brought face to face with Karl Bogdanski, the tax collector and husband of the woman with whom he had eloped, who had hunted the world over for his wife, determined to meet revenge with revenge.

Three years ago Bogdanski, it is said, was appointed tax collector by the Russian government. With his beautiful wife he began his work, but had been in Warsaw only a short time when he became feared and hated by the Poles. He was exciting and no one escaped from paying the levies made.

Kowalsky was one of the many thousands who were forced to give up their wealth to the coffers of the Russian government. For weeks he studied the situation. Through powerful friends he gained entrance to the home of Bogdanski, working out his scheme of revenge. As the days passed he became the friend of Bogdanski's wife. The friendship ripened into love and he secured her promise to leave her husband and elope with him to America, eventually making their home at Chicago. After he had been in Warsaw only a short time when he became feared and hated by the Poles. He was exciting and no one escaped from paying the levies made.

THE CHICAGO MARKET.

Wheat Opens Quite Strong With a Good General Demand.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—The wheat market today opened strong on a good general demand which was based upon firm cables and small shipments from Russia. Later, the market eased off somewhat on realizing sales, but the tone of the market continued strong. May wheat opened at 80 1/2c, declined to 80c and then advanced to 80 1/2c. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 401 cars against 30 cars last week and a holiday a year ago. The market became weak about the middle of the session, May selling off to 80c. The close was weak with May 1/2c lower at 80 1/2c. The corn market was inclined to be weak on selling by pit traders which was based upon increased local receipts. Late in the market rallied by covering by shorts. May corn opened 1/2c to 1/2c lower at 46 1/2c to 46 3/4c then sold at 46 1/2c. Local receipts were 338 cars with one of contract grade. Sentiment was bearish all day and May declined to 46c. The close was easy with May down 1/2c at 46 1/2c. The oats market was quiet and prices were steady in sympathy with wheat. May oats opened 1/2c to 1/2c higher at 37 1/2c to 37 3/4c and sold at 37 1/2c. Local receipts were 280 cars.
